3 Village Boards—Their Importance to You

by DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

(This is the third in a series of stories about the role of boards and commissions in governing Arlington Heights. Earlier stories have covered the village administration and board of trustees.)

The big three among appointed boards and commissions in Arlington Heights — the ones which come into most frequent contact with you the taxpayer — are the plan commission, the zoning board of appeals and the board of local improvements (BOLI).

The plan commission is where your neighborhood may send a delegation if the fellow down the block wants to build a service station. BOLI, by supervising special assessment work, in effect starts suits against property owners to pay for street, sewer and water system improvement programs. The zoning board hears appeals from citizens who have received an adverse ruling from the village administration on their building plans.

THE THREE boards help the elected village board form and carry out village policy. But they do so in widely different ways:

—The plan commission is strictly a researching and recommending body. It develops information for the board of trustees in the areas of subdivisions, zoning and related ordinances. And it sends its recommendation along with the facts it has collected to the trustees.

—BOLI follows village policy, as it sees it, in preparing improvement programs. The village board has veto power over BOLI projects, but it cannot change the details of a project — like the width of streets — if it disagrees. BOLI is the only board whose members are all appointed by the village manager. The members serve for indefinite periods, and the village board of trustees has no direct power to appoint or remove BOLI members.

—The zoning board of appeals has final authority within the village in the cases it handles — requests for variations in the building and zoning codes. An appeal from the zoning board goes to court, not the village board.

AS WIDELY varied as their duties and methods of operation are, the three boards have several common denominators. By carrying on their specialized functions, they save trustees from an immense amount of work; the village board is thus freed for its most important job — development of general village policy and goals.

At the same time, the "big

PROPOSE 333-ACRE PROJECT

Hefty School Tax Hike Seen

Survey Team Gives Report

Professionals who diagnosed Elementary District 25's financial state of health prescribed the remedy residents feared was inevitable—a tax increase, amounting to 33.5 cents.

This was the most striking of a series of recommendations made in the final report Monday of a school finances study completed by the University of Chicago Midwest Administration Center. The research team, headed by Dr. J. Alan Thomas, concluded that a 33.5 cent (per $100 valuation) tax increase would be necessary to continue the high caliber of education now characterizing District 25.

The citizens advisory committee, which heard an explanation of the report from researchers, apparently was not ready to buy the recommendation. Committee members indicated they wanted to review the proposal before endorsing it. The research team will present the tax increase proposal and other recommendations to the board of education on June 6.

THE REPORT also urges the board:

—To continue "its high quality of education in School District 25;

—To continue emphasis of experienced teachers through "appropriate policy" in recruitment, tenure and salary;

—To attempt to get the most out of each tax dollar through maximum use of space and equipment, selective use of technical innovations and continued emphasis on in-service training;

—To hire a director of research who would evaluate, on a full-time basis, programs and procedures and make recommendations on administrative decision-making;

—To make explicit recommendations on the forthcoming tax rate for retirement of bonds;

—To maintain a comprehensive public information program.

THOMAS SAID the tax increase was necessary primarily to enable District 25 to compete with other districts in hiring teachers. The district's annual per pupil expenditure in 1965 was only $510, compared with a median expenditure by area elementary districts of $535, according to the report.

"It is impossible for a district to compete for teachers and have less than an average expenditure," said Thomas. He urged that great attention be devoted to the teacher salary schedule.

Even with the tax increase, Thomas predicted, the district per-pupil expenditure probably would be only equivalent to the average.

In addition to bolstering teacher salaries, the tax money should go to reduce class size and to expand special education programs, the report stated.

CASTLE OF OUR DREAMS is the title of one of John Pepio's most exacting efforts in marquetry. The 30 by 38 inch scene of a Swiss castle is portrayed entirely with the use of natrual veneers. No paint is used. This piece took Pepio three years of "hobby time" to complete. He has worked at the craft for more than 20 years. (Staff photo)

The Craft of Marquetry

Makes Pictures from Wood

by DAVE CRIPPEN
Assistant News Editor

Marquetry may be a lost craft to the world, but not to John Pepio of 820 S. Vail Ave., Arlington Heights.

For more than 20 years, Pepio has made marquetry his favorite —and undoubtedly most time-consuming — hobby. Marquetry, known in Italy as "tarsia," is a craft in which elaborate pictures are created by cutting and joining various natural woods.

The finished project is so precise that it appears to the beholder as an oil or water color painting. The craft dates back to the 16th century.

Pepio is one of an estimated 200 persons living today who can claim the exacting skills this craft requires.

HE DESCRIBES marquetry as the formation of "pictorial inlays" and stresses its distinction from other wood crafts.

"You are trying to tell a story in wood," explains Pepio. He emphasizes, however, that the story must remain simple because picture highlights are limited to the natural colors and grains of the wood. No paints are used.

So time - consuming is the craft, says Pepio, that it takes from six months to three years to complete one of his works.

"It is the type of work you could never do full time," he jokes, "because it would drive you batty."

PEPIO SPENT three years of what he described as "hobby time" preparing one of his most valued works. The wood creation, entitled "Castle of Our Dreams," is a 30-inch by 38 inch picture of a Swiss scene. The picture had to be made in four parts which later were joined together. Each of the four parts had to be formed with frustrating preciseness.

Pepio outlines four principal steps in creating a work: (1) sketching a picture either on the wood or on a sheet that later will be glued to the wood; (2) cutting from the wood various figures of the picture; (3) gluing the pieces to a three-ply base wood; and (4) finishing the assembled parts.

"After you cut out the pieces, essentially what you have is a jigsaw puzzle," he notes.

Though each step demands utmost patience and skill, the cutting out of pieces probably is the most critical. The task is done with special saws, some of which are extremely fine.

"SOME OF the blades," Pepio says, "are almost as fine as a hair." The blade-size and detail of the work prohibits extensive use of power saws, he adds. Only on large cuts may equipment like a jigsaw be used. Smaller blades would snap instantly from the friction heat produced by a power unit.

Despite the admiration his works have won from persons who have seen them, Pepio plays down the prospect of selling his crafts. The time required to complete a work makes it difficult to find any commercial market. Who would want to wait a minimum of six months for one of the works, he asks?

"I've given away more works than I've sold," he explains.

At the request of the Countryside Gallery, Pepio recently put 15 of his creations on display at The Bank of Arlington Heights. It was the first time he had ever exhibited his works. Bank patrons who saw the display repeatedly mistook the works for paintings. Pepio stresses it is difficult to appreciate marquetry unless one can understand how much skill, time and patience is required.

PEPIO FIRST became interested in the craft through a friend in New York. He later took lessons under a New York craftsman.

Pepio, a sales representative for J. P. Stevens and Co. of Chicago, now is working on another piece to be entitled "Winter Solitude."

Board to View Plans Monday

A plan to develop a massive tract on Arlington Heights' far north side will be presented to the Arlington Heights Village Board by representatives of Chesterfield Builders at a special board meeting Monday.

The 333-acre tract, north of Hintz Road and east of Arlington Heights Road, is currently outside the village. Chesterfield will petition for annexation, provided the village grants favorable zoning.

Requested is 173.9 acres of R3 (single family) zoning, 70.6 acres of R5 (apartment), 46.5 acres of R4a (duplexes) and 6.3 acres of B2 (general retail business).

In addition, 25.7 acres would be dedicated for public use — apparently mainly parks — in an unusual pattern of strips separating clusters of zoning districts.

In requesting the meeting Monday, Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said he would like the board to consider appointments to boards and commissions, the Chesterfield proposal and other "loose ends" of board business.

The board is not expected to act Monday on the Chesterfield proposal. The Rogers Park firm apparently wants to get a tentative reaction from trustees before embarking on the normal pattern for zoning and development approval through the plan commission. Hanson said he had invited plan commission Chm. Harold Carlson and park commissioner Charles Cronin to attend the session.

The plan commission has tentatively set aside a hearing night at 8 p.m. on June 29 to consider the proposal.

Actually, two parcels are involved. One, about 80 acres, is at the southeast corner of Hintz and Buffalo Grove Roads. It is mainly proposed for single family homes but contains small amounts of duplex and business zoning at the intersection of those two roads.

The bulk of the property, however, is north of Hintz Road. A T-shaped parcel, it has a narrow corridor leading east from Arlington Heights Road to a large rectangular piece. The rectangle is bounded on the south by Hintz and the east by Buffalo Grove Road. Western boundary is about 400 feet west of Elm Lane, and it reaches almost to Dun-Lo Avenue on the north. Dun-Lo is just south of Dundee Road.

Annexation of the area would be a giant stride in the village's goal of squaring off its northern boundaries. The village lines extend north of Dundee Road west of Arlington Heights Road but do not even reach Hintz Road east of that main thoroughfare.

The main rectangular parcel is proposed mainly for single-family districts, though there are smaller duplex, apartment and business areas. Separating these areas are the unusual green belts; they appear, almost, to follow drainage beds, though topographical maps of the area do not indicate existence of an actual watercourse system there.

A possible point of discussion among trustees will be the narrow corridor jutting out to Arlington Heights Road. It is proposed for apartment zoning. Normally, the village has required developers to "buffer" multiple family districts with single-family homes so that adjoining property owners may not demand continuation of the multiple family zoning to their land.

Col. Crosson Wins Medal in Viet Nam

An Arlington Heights colonel has been awarded the Legion of Merit Medal in South Viet Nam.

He is William H. Crosson Jr., whose wife Alice and four children live at 300 W. Palatine Road. Crosson received the medal from Gen. W. C. Westmorland, commander of the U. S. military assistance command in South Viet Nam.

THE AWARD is for "exceptionally meritorious conduct" in performance of his duties as chief of the intelligence division at command headquarters from January 1965 to April 1966.

A graduate of West Point, Colonel Crosson was cited for "unique professionalism, insight and astute judgment."

He was also lauded for originating the first comprehensive study of Viet Cong strategy and goals and for developing the first meaningful assessment of North Viet Nam's capability to introduce military units into South Viet Nam.

Prior to his assignment in Viet Nam, Colonel Crosson was stationed in Arlington Heights as executive officer of the 45th Artillery Brigade.

Fr. O'Donnell Moved From Wayside Parish

Our Lady of the Wayside's "second Irishman," the Rev. James P. O'Donnell, has been transferred.

Replacing him at the south side Catholic parish is the Rev. Edmund J. Schreiber, assistant pastor for the past 16 years at St. Bernadine's in Forest Park.

Parish families paid their farewells to the well-liked Father O'Donnell Sunday evening at a reception in the Park School multi-purpose room. The Rev. Harold T. O'Hara, Wayside pastor, had requested use of the multi-purpose room because his parish's large meeting room has been converted into classroom space.

ON MONDAY, Father O'Donnell reported to his new parish at St. Barnabas, 102nd and Longwood Drive, Chicago, and Father Schreiber moved in here.

Ordained as a priest in 1944, the new assistant pastor of Our Lady of the Wayside was educated at Quigley Preparatory Seminary in Chicago and at St. Mary of the Lake Seminary at Mundelein.

He served parishes at St. Peter and Paul in South Chicago and at St. Peter's in Skokie before being assigned to St. Bernadine's in 1950. St. Bernadine's pastor, Msgr. Wagner, was in charge of Arlington Heights' St. James parish from 1931-35.

Village History Worthwhile Cause

by DAN BAUMANN
News Editor

Causes.

There are thousands of them. Too many by far for one individual to get involved in.

But there's one "cause" which really could use some involvement of the citizens of Arlington Heights—right now.

BAUMANN

The reason why it's worth attention "right now" is that Arlington Heights is in danger of losing much of its hard-come-by collection of historical material unless its citizens act—right now.

Arlington Heights has a long and interesting historical tradition. It should be a source of community pride. One reason it isn't, particularly, is the village is growing so rapidly and there is such a large turnover of people that many residents have not sunk their roots too deeply as yet. Another reason: many newer residents simply aren't aware of the town's history.

The Arlington Heights Historical Society was formed by a small group of older residents nine years ago to collect and preserve local historical memorabilia. It has succeeded admirably in that job.

A large amount of material has been gathered. The item with longest tenure in Arlington Heights is a wooden trunk pioneer settlers used in moving here in 1838. Among the hundreds of other items: a spinning wheel that was antique when its owners brought it here following the German revolution of 1848, the original map of Arlington drawn by the town's founder in 1854, the table originally used at village board meetings.

You get the idea.

Right now, the collection is basically housed in two places: in the basement of Mrs. Daisy Daniels, curator, and in the basement of the Wheeling Township Hall. The public may see it by appointment. And that may have been a satisfactory arrangement when the town was small, the collection small and the historical boosters relatively young.

But—rightnow—the people who helped found the society and began the collection are no spring chickens, as they will readily tell you. Dedicated as they are, they won't be around to preserve it forever.

Right now, they're convinced, if the collection isn't housed properly, catalogued properly and displayed properly, it never may be. The people who are familiar with it, who could catalogue it and display it are with us right now. Their fondest hope is to leave it to the community.

They're looking for a permanent home for the society. The village and township have given them nonfinancial assistance. Probably, they will have to be relied on for some financial help in getting a permanent historical museum established.

But you can help; a spontaneous expression of support by private citizens, businessmen and civic groups should help convince public officials you are really interested in preserving the village's history.

Right now, why not make out a small check? Write it out to Arlington Heights Historical Society. Send it to Mrs. Daisy Daniels, curator, 805 N. Dunton Ave. Tell her it's for a historical museum.

You can help in this worthwhile effort—right now.

RACE TRACK OPENED MONDAY, in case you wondered about the traffic. Scene is at Wilke and Kirchoff Roads. A record crowd of 19,075 attended the opening. To commemorate event, the village board—at the urging of Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson—banned parking on east side of Wilke between Northwest Highway and Oakton, from 1 to 6 p.m. except Sunday. Hanson said thrift-conscious race fans were parking there to avoid being dunned at the track. (Staff photo)

Expect Stonegate Protest On Railway Crossing Plan

Hearing on Arlington Heights' proposed thoroughfare plan will be resumed by the plan commission June 8, when Stonegate subdivision residents are expected to protest a grade crossing of the railway at Arthur Avenue.

Euclid Street residents gained at least a partial victory last Wednesday in their efforts to block widening — and loss of trees — on that main village artery.

The plan commission, considering revisions to the village's master thoroughfare plan, okayed designation of Euclid as a "major arterial" but struck a requirement that the street be paved at a 44-foot width.

EUCLID NOW is only 21 feet wide through the central portion of the village, between Northwest Highway and Arlington Heights Road. In the master thoroughfare plan, a "major arterial" street has a pavement width range from 24 to 48 feet.

Oliver Thelander, engineer who has spearheaded Euclid residents' opposition to any village designation that might lead to a wider street, called the plan commission's action "satisfying." "I would have preferred they lean more toward a 24-foot width," he added.

Thelander delivered petitions in which an additional 720 village residents stated their opposition to a wider Euclid. A homeowner himself at 14 W. Euclid, he had previously given the plan commission similar petitions signed by all but three of 153 Euclid residents. The current batch of petitions, he told the board, was from persons living off Euclid and collected, he added, entirely by volunteers.

SOLE OPPOSITION to Thelander came from T. Darcy Sullivan, 923 S. Evergreen. A traffic engineer now employed at Northwestern's Traffic Institute, Sullivan noted that since Euclid has been built with a 44-foot-width both east and west it would be "consistent" to have it be that width in Arlington Heights, too.

Retorting to Thelander's assertion that a widened Euclid would become a speedway, Sullivan added, "I think any road properly built and properly controlled can be safe."

Other plan commission action on the master thoroughfare plan revisions included, — Acceptance as a planning term of an "intermediate collector" street, with a designated width in built-up neighborhoods of 28 feet.

— RECOMMENDATION that N. Dunton be designated a collector from Northwest Highway to Euclid and an intermediate collector from Euclid to Thomas.

— Designation of Walnut as a collector from Northwest Highway to Thomas.

Plan Commission Chairman Harold Carlson, who had urged adoption of single standard "collector" with a width of 32 feet in built-up areas and 36 feet in new subdivision, expressed some disappointment after the meeting at commission members' decisions.

Actions taken by the plan commission on the thoroughfare plan revisions are advisory only, going into force as planning guidelines with the approval of trustees. (A

Cronin Elected Park Board Head

The Arlington Heights Park Board Tuesday night elected Charles B. Cronin president and George Schaefer vice president for the coming year.

Outgoing president was John C. Edwards. Cronin was vice president last year.

After taking office and reconvening the commissioners as a new board, Cronin announced the reappointment of Tom Thornton as director of parks and recreation, Carl Scheske as treasurer and Charles Bobinette as board attorney for another year.

CRONIN MADE his committee appointments for the year as follows (first name listed is chairman):

Buildings and Grounds — George Schaefer and E. E. Ormsbee;

Finance — John C. Edwards and Douglas L. Thomson;

Recreation — Ormsbee and Schaefer;

Public Relations — Edwards and Thomson;

Personnel — Thomson and Edwards.

Following the committee assignments, the park board approved revised personnel rules and a new employe classification and pay plan.

THE PERSONNEL rules approved are essentially those previously in effect except for policy changes on vacations and leaves, and insurance and retirement benefits.

In other action, the park board formally annexed to the park district the 38-acre new high school site on Willow Road. The land has already been annexed to the Village of Arlington Heights and the park board action brings park district boundaries in line with those of the village. (A

Spanking Plea Has Local Application

65 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, May 18, 1901

A resident of McHenry wisely says: "Some of the girls of this town who are being sparked by the boys had better be spanked by their mothers and sent to bed at sundown." This is also true in Arlington Heights.

50 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, May 19, 1901

Henry H. Weinrich, oldest resident of the village, celebrated his 75th birthday Tuesday. He and Mrs. Weinrich came to Arlington Heights in 1864 when it was only a small cluster of houses. He served as trustee when the village was newly incorporated and at different times was elected township collector and constable.

25 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

Heroic firefighting by members of the Arlington Heights fire department last Friday saved one of the village's major brick blocks in which are housed 20 families, one professional office, eight business firms and the post office.

With the exception of smoke damage, the conflagration was confined to the basement of the A & P store.

Mayor Al Goedke publicly congratulated the fire department on "their handling of this fire. They got away fast . . . and in spite of dense smoke they handled themselves like veterans."

10 YEARS AGO THIS WEEK

The Herald, May 17, 1956

The question of whether Arlington Heights police chief C. H. Skoog and Treasurer William Meyer should be appointed was quietly shelved Tuesday night. The board voted to postpone reappointing village officials until the new village manager ordinance goes into effect.

Officials have usually been appointed May 1, the start of the fiscal year.

Savings & Loan to Raise Dividend Rate

An anticipated annual dividend rate of 4½ per cent effective July 1 has been announced by Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association.

The proposed increase from the association's present 4¼ per cent rate was approved by the federal savings board of directors at its regular monthly meeting last Thursday at the association offices, 25 E. Campbell St.

The 4½ per cent is the highest rate ever paid by the local institution. It has been the prevailing rate among Cook County savings and loan groups since April. Last rate increase for the Arlington association was from 4 to 4¼ per cent in July, 1962.

THE NEW RATE will apply to all accounts, regardless of amount, and will be payable at the regular semi-annual dividend periods, according to Paul E. Collins, association president.

"The directors favored a uniform, across-the-board dividend increase as most consistent with our conception of this association as a thrift-encourafing institution that serves the entire community," Collins said.

"The increase is prompted by two principal factors," he added. "One is that we have enjoyed a gradual increase in earnings which, as a mutual institution, belong to our savers."

"The other is that the new rate will act as a further inducement to savings and thus will help to curb inflation."

COLLINS noted that American consumers in the past 10 years have been spending an increasing percentage of their income after taxes. This has been particularly characteristic of the years since 1962. It has been most striking in the first three months of 1966, when Americans reduced their savings rate to 4.8 per cent of their after-tax income, a sharp drop from the 5.6 per cent rate of the last three months of 1965.

"As a result, an extra $3 billion spent on purchases, in January, February, and March has boosted prices and caused a shortage of money from which all financial institutions are now suffering as they strive to meet borrowing demands," Collins said.

Increased savings at this time, he said would help to put a brake on inflationary pressures. (A

Grand Opening Set For KC Clubhouse

The Arlington Heights Holy Rosary Council No. 4483, Knights of Columbus, will hold grand opening festivities Saturday for its new clubhouse at 15 N. Hickory Ave., Arlington Heights.

Festivities will begin at 7:30 p.m. with a social hour, followed by dinner at 8:30 and dancing at 9:30. Dinner reservations are required and may be obtained by calling Marty Alterini, CL 9-3378, or Don Nicholson, CL 3-4432. All proceeds from the grand opening will go to the St. Viator scholarship fund.

The Holy Rosary Council purchased the clubhouse building, formerly a Schneller Furniture store, on April 1, 1965. Through the ensuing year, members worked evenings and weekends remodeling it.

"THEIR EFFORTS have been very successful," said Grand Knight Al Klein. "We have had nothing but compliments from those who have used it."

The hall has provided a place for teen dances, weddings, barbershop singing, anniversaries, Boy Scout functions, square dancing and council affairs. (A

Contract to Pave Kaspar Is Approved

A contract to pave Kaspar Avenue between Oakton and Northwest Highway for $40,016 was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said residents along the strip who have deposited money for the paving work will receive a partial refund because the bid was $1,000 less than the amount they deposited. All but 12 property owners along the street deposited money for the paving program; Hanson said the board of local improvements will conduct a hearing at 8:55 p.m. next Thursday to complete the paving by assessments against those property owners.

Hanson recommended use of Portland cement pavement even though it was about $1,000 above the lowest bid for another type of construction. He said the cement would permit blending in of pavement at the 12 non-participating properties.

Proceeds from the nation-wide campaign will go to help disabled veterans and their families. Poppies will be on sale Friday and Saturday.

Buddy Poppies on Sale for Two Days

The annual Buddy Poppy Sale, sponsored by the VFW, will begin tomorrow (Friday) in Arlington Heights.

The sale will be held from 5 to 9 p.m. Friday and all day Saturday. Proceeds from the poppy drive will go to aid disabled veterans and their families throughout the country.

Financial help is given to all needy veterans regardless of whether they are affiliated with the VFW, according to Thomas Fegan, commander of Arlington VFW Post 981.

"THIS YEAR the Veterans of Foreign Wars expects to sell 15 million poppies throughout the nation," Fegan said. "Countless thousands of needy veterans will benefit. They will receive aid in filing GI claims, the destitute will receive financial assistance, and deserving orphans and widows of the deceased will be taken care of."

"We hope the citizens of Arlington Heights will be as generous on Buddy Poppy Day as in the past," he concluded. (A

Headquarters Opened for Schlickman

Supporters of Rep. Eugene F. Schlickman for Wheeling Township Republican committeeman this week announced the opening of a campaign headquarters at 204 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights. The telephone is 255-5100.

Precinct captains of the Wheeling Township Republican Organization, which has endorsed Schlickman's candidacy, and members of Schlickman's Citizens' Advisory Committee, headed by Arlington Heights Village Pres. John G. Woods, will officially open the headquarters at a reception Sunday afternoon, from 2 to 5 p.m.

The "opening" will be an open house, according to Schlickman's aides. "We'll serve coffee and the atmosphere will be informal," campaign manager Richard Cowen said. "We'd like all interested residents to join us and meet our candidate."

SCHLICKMAN expressed his appreciation for the new headquarters, which will serve as a center for distribution of campaign literature.

"I have been overwhelmed by the number of people who have indicated a willingness to help in my campaign. The headquarters will provide a location for much of this work. I am most appreciative of the Republicans who made this possible."

The new headquarters will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Saturday, prior to the June 14 primary. (ACM

Rev. Keys To Address Churchmen

The Rev. Samuel N. Keys, vicar of St. Simon's Episcopal Church, 717 Kirchoff Road, Arlington Heights, will be among several other Episcopal clergymen May 20 who will address the annual dinner meeting of Episcopal churchmen.

Key address will be given by the Rt. Rev. Gerald Francis Burrill, bishop of the Chicago Episcopal diocese. The meeting will begin at 6 p.m. in the Continuing Education Center of the University of Chicago.

Officers for the coming year also will be elected at the meeting. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Mrs. Burton Soderberg, 436 S. Phelps, in performing a civic duty, reports that she found the experience unexpectedly fascinating and rewarding. As a member of a jury panel, Lorraine spent the last two weeks in the new Civic Center in Chicago, sitting on civil cases in petit court.

Doug Soderberg, a guitarist with a combo known as "The Lords," played with the group at Goodrich House on the Northwestern campus Saturday evening. Doug, whose home is the headquarters for countless boys, all musically inclined, is a senior at Prospect High School.

Best wishes of their friends and neighbors go with the Ron Rold family, 433 S. Gibbons, who moved from the area over the weekend. Ron and Joanne, with Jeff and Roni Jo, have moved into temporary quarters while looking for a larger home.

SPEEDY GET well wishes are sent to Michael Longenecker, 505 S. Gibbons, who underwent an emergency appendectomy over the weekend.

Mrs. Andy Lucas, 419 S. Phelps, was a member of the committee that planned the Newcomers excursion to Milwaukee last week. Area members taking advantage of the luxury sightseeing trip to points of interest including a tour of the Miller High Life Brewery, were Mrs. Carl May of S. Prindle, Mrs. Craig Thompson of S. Phelps, and Fran Lucas'es sister, Mrs. Stanley Wojcik of Chicago.

Mrs. Frank Marshall, 432 S. Forrest, was hostess at a bridal shower Sunday for Judy Greenacre of Arlington Heights. Eighteen guests were on hand to help the bride-to-be get a start on a well-furnished home. Judy is a close friend of the former Susan Marshall, now Mrs. Stanley Koy, and was in Susan's wedding party last June.

A BRIDAL shower Thursday evening in the Mount Prospect home of Mrs. Walter Presperin was in honor of Gail Miner, 421 S. Gibbons, who will become the bride of William Golson June 11. After the gifts were opened and displayed, a late supper was served to the two dozen guests present. Mrs. Presperin and Gail's mother are close friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ahrens were hosts Saturday evening at a get-acquainted get-together for the Dan Switzers and the Charles Miners, neighbors on both sides of their home at 417 S. Gibbons. The Ahrenses and the Switzers are comparative newcomers to the neighborhood.

The Frank Jenkoes, 440 S. Prindle, a family which never lets a birthday or anniversary pass uncelebrated, looked forward to their 17th wedding anniversary Sunday, because plans had been made in advance. With their good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schmidt, 515 S. Gibbons, they had dinner at Erne's Bavarian Lodge in Wheeling Saturday evening and a nightcap at Uncle Andy's Cow Palace in Palatine.

On Sunday, the foursome and another couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Orr, attended their Square Dance Club Jamboree at Flick-Reedy in Bensenville and returned to the Jenko home for supper.

MR. AND MRS. James Dwyer, 516 S. Forrest, celebrated their silver wedding anniversary May 10 at a dinner in their honor given by their daughter and son-in-law, the Carl Schmidts of Wheeling.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Siebold, 429 S. Gibbons, who were married three years May 11, celebrated on the previous Sunday to mark Mother's Day and their anniversary, by having dinner at the Black Steer in Chicago with another couple.

On their anniversary, they invited Ron's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Siebold if Itasca to share a festive dinner with them at their home.

Frankie Beem, son of the senior Frank Beems, 412 S. Waterman, was a member of the First Communion class at St. James Church Saturday, and his cousin, Lisa Melchior, was a First Communicant at St. Raymond's in Mount Prospect the same day. Following the church ceremonies, the two families spent the day together at the Beem home, and with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rue of Mount Prospect, and Maureen Beem, a junior at St. Dominick's College in St. Charles, enjoyed a barbeque supper.

Another area First Communicant was Kitty Thorstad, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Thorstad, 412 S. Phelps. The Thorstads were hosts at a dinner that evening which included Kitty's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Reily of Des Plaines.

Patty Thorstad's fourth birthday May 12 was duly celebrated at a party that afternoon for Gail Brunsfeld, Bonnie Lucas, Carol Waxlax, Becki Shure and cousins Laurie and Kevin Kindelin, Chris Connery and later Robbie, Davey and Danny Leist of Chicago.

A HAPPY FIFTH birthday was wished to Susan Butkus at a small dinner party Saturday for two school friends and a cousin, Leslie Pinney. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Butkus, 429 S. Phelps.

Many happy returns of the day are wished to Dennis Curtin, May 13; Jim Glynn, May 14; and Tim Whetstine, May 5. All celebrated with family dinners at home.

Carl Ehlen, a freshman at Marquette University at Milwaukee, came home to celebrate her May 15 birthday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ehlen, 437 S. Gibbons. Eleven-year-old Kathy's contribution to the happy day was the cake which she baked.

The Robert Novys and the Burton Soderbergs of the 400 block South Phelps were guests at the banquet given Saturday evening by the St. James Men's Bowling League at Old Orchard Country Club. (A

Naturalist Slated for Tri-M Talk

A vacation preview will be offered members of Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, Arlington Heights, at a meeting of Tri-M, the adult fellowship, Saturday at 6:30 p.m. at the church.

Guest speaker will be Ray Schwarz, aquatic biologist, who is director of River Trail Nature Center, Wheeling. Schwarz worked with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare on the Des Plaines River pollution problem and is concerned with the conservation of natural resources as carried out through the Forest Preserve District of Cook County.

Officers of Tri-M for this year are Mr. and Mrs. John Southard, president, and Mr. and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Neas, secretary-treasurer. Committee members for the May program are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Oppenheimer and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Morgan. (A

Camp for Retarded To Operate Again

The second annual community day camp for mentally retarded children, sponsored jointly by the Arlington Heights Park District and Clearbrook School, begins soon. The camp won state-wide recognition last summer when a Paddock Publications story about it was reprinted in a state park association magazine.

It is open to any mentally retarded area child between ages six and 15 who is ambulatory and can take care of his basic needs. Camp activities include arts and crafts, swimming, music, organized games and nature study.

THERE WILL be three two-week sessions, beginning June 27, July 11 and July 25. The camp will operate at Arlington Heights' Recreation Park.

High school students who wish to volunteer to work in the day camp should contact the park district office, CL 3-0620, by May 30. Parents may register their children for the camp before June 6. (A

Guest Speaker on Human Relations

Albert Thrasher, field representative for the Illinois Human Relations Commission, will be speaker at the Arlington Heights Human Relations Committee meeting next Thursday.

The human relations group, organized 16 months ago, will elect new officers at the meeting, which will take place at 8 p.m. in St. John United Church of Christ on N. Evergreen Avenue.

Retiring president of the organization, which has 100 members, is Nicholas Shuman of 1001 W. Clarendon St.

OTHER CURRENT officers are Nathaniel Leighton, vice president; Mrs. R. J. Schlott, secretary, and Mrs. George Sully, treasurer. The board of directors includes the Rev. Robert Strzelecki, the Rev. W. Rowland Koch, Stanford Gass, Will Gallagher, Phillip C. Gorman, Mrs. Charles H. Baker and Mrs. Robert Powell.

Al-Anon Phone Service Reports a Call a Day

by JOAN LORENSON
Staff Writer

A telephone answering service in Arlington Heights to help the husband or wife of an alcoholic is producing an average of one call per day.

The telephone service puts a person in touch with Al-Anon, an organization for non-alcoholic members of an alcoholic's family.

The answering service, created two months ago, extends to the caller an invitation to attend a weekly local meeting.

Al-Anon started the service because it found too few people knew there was help for an alcoholic's often confused and bewildered spouse. It can provide help through personal contact in meetings of 15 to 20 people, or through literature.

The group guards its anonymity. But it has not had to screen calls. "This is too serious and tragic a problem for someone to attend a meeting out of curiosity," one woman explained.

AL-ANON STRESSES that a wife should forget the gimmicks she has been using to "make" her husband stop drinking. The group bluntly tells her that threatening, demanding, scolding, weeping, pouring liquor down the drain, or hiding the car keys will result in failure.

The woman is forced to recognize alcoholism as a sickness over which the victim has no control. She also finds she does not have to blame herself. As a result of group therapy, the woman tends to lose her bitterness and "mad at the world" attitude.

Al-Anon describes the typical behavior of a new member.

All her energies and schemes have revolved around sobering up her spouse. Her life is dictated by "the bottle:" what bills will get paid, whether they go out or stay home, who their friends are.

She invents lies, covers up bum checks, bails him out of jail, lies awake nights waiting for him to show up and when he does she wishes he would go away. She is torn between love and hate, loyalty and guilt. She lives in a topsy-turvy, unreal world.

ALTHOUGH SHE is a nervous wreck, she keeps on trying to conquer this cunning, baffling, insidious enemy.

But, like thousands of wives who had never heard of Al-Anon, she follows the long, devious route that may or may not lead to effective help.

This path usually takes her first to her clergyman, then her doctor, family counseling service, police department and, finally, divorce lawyer. Before that it was well-meaning but often misinformed relatives.

She might be lucky and meet someone who can guide her to Al-Anon for the help she needs. And then again, she may not be lucky and follow the path to the tragic, sometimes needless end: divorce.

TODAY, MORE and more women who live with a serious drinking problem are making a direct contact with Al-Anon by dialing 848-2707.

When a woman attends an Al-Anon meeting, she experiences a sense of fellowship. Learning she is "not the only person in the world" who has this problem, she can talk to these people without shame or guilt. She can ask questions and listen to their stories. They do not give advice, only understanding and accurate information.

The only person she can change is herself—and often this is a big help when she discovers she's not the same sweet girl she was when she married.

Men and women are welcomed at Al-Anon whether their mate is drinking or abstaining from liquor.

Al-Anon likes to say it won't sober up husbands or wives, but make better people out of their spouses. That in itself, in a number of cases, leads the partner to reach out for happiness and contentment.

AL-ANON HAS A New York City headquarters and is financed by contributions from members. It tries not to build a large treasury. Its organizational structure is minimal.

The group grew out of wives' needs to have a group to attend when their husbands were at Alcoholic Anonymous meetings. The group has no formal affiliation with AA. (A-15

Outline Salt Creek Flood Control Need

The Salt Creek Watershed Steering Committee, headed by co-chairmen Tom Hamilton and Frank Wollney, met last Thursday night in Elk Grove Village to compile committee reports to be sent to the Illinois Soil Conservation office in Urbana for use in a survey of the Salt Creek basin.

Recent heavy rains have brought into clear focus the dire need for flood control, according to Hamilton, who stressed that the simple purposes of the project is "to hold as much water as possible at the point where it falls as rain for as long as possible, to prevent flooding downstream.

"Small reservoirs and other control structures will be planned and brought into the program to provide not only flood control, but also recreation for the people living in the west and northwest suburbs. This will also insure sufficient flow through Salt Creek the year around."

CHARLES JOHNSON, superintendent of the DuPage County Forest Preserves, presented the recreation report as prepared by Roland Eisenbeis, superintendent of the Cook County Forest Preserves and chairman of the recreation committee. He observed that there is a need for immediate action, and said that while the recreational aspects under Federal Public Law 566 at first imply that but one recreational-water development is to be instituted in a 75,000 acre watershed, impounding lakes located at strategic points may be a part of an overall plan.

Upon closer study, this P.L. 566 appears to have a broader interpretation in its "cooperative" features than hitherto disclosed, Johnson observed.

Jack Sheaffer, of the Northeastern Illinois Planning Commission and chairman of the water resource committee, urged speed and insistence on immediate action, now that the steering committee has brought together the information desired by Soil Conservation Service. Sheaffer stated that immediate work on the Salt Creek watershed project should have highest priority from soil conservation officials in the state.

Clifton Wishaw, soil conservationist, said the land treatment committee had done a good job on outlining built-up areas in a general geographical section that is continually changing in use and character.

He further stated that more than 75 per cent of the land is under treatment in the watershed project, which already exceeds the 50 per cent requirement of P.L. 566.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of the League of Women Voters were present at the meeting and expressed confidence in the progress of this important community project.

Mrs. J. W. Larson of Elmhurst was elected Secretary-Treasurer for the Salt Creek watershed steering committee.

Anyone interested in further details may contact Elmer Offerman at the Soil Conservation office for North Cook County, 438-6319; or L. L. Benson at the DuPage County office, CE 2-0820. (A15

Guilfoil Chosen 'Veteran of Year'

A northwest suburban man has been named "1966 Veteran of the Year" by the Veterans Poppy Day Association.

He is Dwight D. Guilfoil Jr. of 633 S. Burton Place, Arlington Heights. Guilfoil is president and general manager of the Paraplegics Manufacturing Co. of Bensenville, where 100 physically handicapped workers are employed. A member of numerous organizations, Guilfoil is married and the father of eight.

HE WAS BORN in Evanston in 1922, entered military service in 1942 and became a staff sergeant. He was assigned duties as an aerial photographer with the tactical reconnaissance squadron in the zone of the interior. In September 1943, he was stricken with spinal meningitis and infantile paralysis. After two years in the Army and Navy General Hospital at Hot Springs, Ark., he was discharged in 1945.

Last August, he was named to the manpower training committee of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, and in February he was appointed vice chairman of the employer committee of President Johnson's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. (A15

FOR THE FAMILY MANAGER

ITEM: When buying area or accent rugs, check the underneath as well as the top of the rug. These small size floor coverings need firm anchoring. If the rug is washable, the backing should also be washable. A backing of supple, fine-celled urethane (plastic foam) is both safe and washable.

ITEM: Pine tip blight is a fungus disease that disfigures Scotch, red, Austrian and mugho pine and balsam fir. The casual organism grows through the needles and destroys twig tissues. By midsummer tips of branches begin dying. Tree experts recommend spraying of pine buds as they open, applying a copper fungicide. If spring is wet, a second application 10 days later and a third at equal interval may be necessary. Spray when the new candles of growth are pale green.

Area News Roundup

ROLLING MEADOWS—William Miseska trounced Albin Piekarski in the city's mayor race. Miseska was considered the underdog in the contest against Piekarski who rules the majority of the city council and has been acting mayor since January. The voters also overwhelmingly approved a $255,000 bond issue for a new library.

PALATINE—The zoning board denied a petition for a planned development which would include high rise office and apartment buildings. The zoning board decided high rise buildings could not presently be handled by the fire department without expenditures of many thousands of dollars for special equipment.

ELGIN SCHOOL DISTRICT—A total of 17 candidates will seek seats on the new seven-member junior college board to govern Elgin Community College as a Class I Junior College District. The election is slated for June 4. The district, to be known as Junior College District 509, emcompasses the present boundaries of the Elgin U-46 School District.

WHEELING—Village trustees have agreed to negotiate a contract to buy water facilities which will be built by industrial developers of a 400-acre site south of the village.

ELK GROVE VILLAGE—Residents go to the polls Saturday to determine whether to form an Elk Grove Village Park District with a taxing levy of 15 cents per $100 assessed valuation. No organized opposition is expected to form as it did three years ago when voters overwhelmingly rejected the park district proposal.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS—Plans for a 333-acre development on Arlington Heights' far north side will be reviewed by the village board at a special meeting Monday. Chesterfield Builders proposes to develop a complex of single family homes, apartments, duplexes and businesses with an unusual pattern of green park-like strips separating those zoning uses.

HOFFMAN ESTATES—Hoffman Estates officials have held up zoning on additional land in the Rossmoor Corporation Leisure World complex pending final agreement on sewer and water mains. The village expects oversized facilities installed to enable the village to purchase water at wholesale rates.

MOUNT PROSPECT—Once again Mount Prospect village officials have ordered a stop to building in Salvatore DiMucci's Elk Ridge Villa subdivision. The action came Tuesday night when the village board took the action "until satisfactory plans" are provided by DiMucci for installation of a $35,000 lift station to help alleviate flooding.

ITASCA—Wesley Luehring met with the Itasca Village Board to hack out a dispute of long-standing over his Apple Orchard subdivision. Represented by his attorney, Luehring was faced with a steadfast board still requiring him to meet construction standards and a completion deadline.

BENSENVILLE—Village office help received their first pay raise in two and a half years, and a few new employes went on the payroll. The Bensenville Village Board also granted monthly remuneration to members of the zoning board of appeals.

ROSELLE—The District 12 Grade School Board will work with both the Catholic and Lutheran schools to apply for federal funds to build up their library materials. The schools hope to get the aid next year. The plan marks the first step in cooperation among the schools.

ADDISON—The Addison Police Department gets the biggest raise in the 1966-67 budget approved Monday by the village board. The increased funds will be used to add three men, boosting the department's full-time force to 20, and purchase another squad car.

Two On Cycle Die In Crash

Mount Prospect's 1966 traffic fatality list grew to three with two deaths in an auto-motorcycle accident Saturday afternoon.

Michael Peter Walton, 20, of 11 Lynnbrook Drive, Arlington Heights, and Robert Szafran, 19, of 616 N. Main St., Mount Prospect, were killed when their motorcycle struck an auto at Rand Road and Louis Street. The pair was being chased by Mount Prospect police who had observed them speeding.

WALTON was pronounced dead on arrival at Holy Family Hospital. Szafran was pronounced dead some 17 minutes later.

The motorcycle struck the left front of a car driven by Marshall Kerman, 40, of 1301 Brumell St., Evanston. He was making a left turn onto Rand from Louis and was struck as his car was halfway through the intersection, police said.

Police has chased the motorcycle, which Walton was driving, over a circuitous route covering Emerson Avenue, Highland Street, Gregory, Elm, and then back onto Rand. Speeds of up to 80 m.p.h. were recorded by police.

Funeral services for Walton and Szafran were held Tuesday at the Friedrichs Funeral Home, Mount Prospect, where an inquest had been held Monday morning. Burial was in Mount Olive Cemetery, Chicago.

Police Week

The week of May 15-21 was declared Police Week in a resolution approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

The resolution read in part: "The citizens of our village have been fortunate in having one of the finest police departments in the nation, protecting their rights, their liberties and their happiness."

Cut-Rate Gas

Arlington Heights will be getting its gasoline at 16.22 cents a gallon this year — all 100,000 gallons of it. A low bid in that amount, from Texaco, was accepted by the village board Monday.

Other bidders were: Mobil, 16.34 cents; Standard Oil, 16.50; Citgo, 16.70; Shell, 17, and American-Mexican, 17.93.

Cuts, Bruises Stem From Two Car Accident

A Glenview woman was taken to Northwest Community Hospital Sunday afternoon and treated for lacerations and bruises suffered in a two-car accident at Palatine and Buffalo Grove Roads.

Mrs. William T. Green, 43, was a passenger in a car driven by her husband when it struck an auto driven by Robert L. Yowell, 1935 N. Maple Lane, Arlington Heights.

According to police, Green was driving west on Palatine Road when the Yowell car made a left turn from the frontage road into his path.

Yowell was charged with failure to yield. (A

Contract Given For Stop Lights

A contract for installation of stop lights at Oakton Street and Arlington Heights Road was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

Contract was awarded to G. A. Rafel & Co., lowest of six bidders. The Rafel bid was $21,601. High bidder was Contracting & Material Co., $24,977. Based on past experience, the lights should be operating late this summer or fall.

Tax Hike Seen For Future

research position would enable the district to have some guidance in charting its economic and educational courses, Thomas said. He estimated the director would have to be paid approximately $15,000 annually.

"I know of several cases in which districts have these research directors," said Thomas, "and they are leading school districts to be far more rational in what they are doing."

Several of the recommendations, especially the tax increase proposal, prompted questions from the citizens committee. Committee member George Beacham termed the suggested tax increase a "startling conclusion."

Beacham questioned validity of comparing District 25 per-pupil expenditures with other area districts. He pointed out all of the districts used in the comparison had student enrollments of only half that in District 25.

"In my opinion it is a very surface comparison," said Beacham. He noted that smaller enrollment permitted these other districts higher per-pupil expenditures.

"I AM SURE this committee would like to jump on the bandwagon on some of the recommendations," Beacham told Thomas. But he urged the committee to meet separately with the school board before endorsing the entire study.

Thomas concluded by saying, "I have no evidence of any waste of money in the district."

The bulky report, a culmination of a year-long study, still is not complete. Chapter two of the volume, a report of a poll conducted among district residents to determine their attitudes toward the educational program, will be finished this week. The chapter had been written, but "production difficulties" prevented its distribution, Thomas said.

3 Village Boards-- How They Affect You

three" boards save trustees from an immense amount of heat and pressure. No one likes to be hit directly in the pocketbook. BOLI's assessment hearings are seldom harmonious.

Special interest groups and citizens alike bring frequent pressure on the three boards. They absorb much of the pressure — and acrimony — before the matter reaches the board of trustees.

THE PLAN commission is probably the most loaded with talent, or — as Village Pres. John G. Woods likes to call it — expertise.

Harold Carlson, a former village president, is its chairman. Woods appoints the chairman and 12 other members with the advice and consent of the village board. He includes members of other local taxing bodies — the school and park districts — among plan commission appointments. And the president of BOLI is an ex-officio member.

The sheer size of the commission sometimes makes it awkward: once, the commission reversed itself because business conflicts kept different members from attending two successive meetings.

But on the whole, plan commission recommendations are highly regarded because they have been so thoroughly researched. The village board rarely overrides a plan commission recommendation.

THE ZONING board, usually, is little heard from, since its job is to grant or reject requests from individuals who are faced by unusual problems in building or zoning. Most of its rulings do not affect a large number of people.

Controversy, however, is not unknown to zoning board members. Especially in recent months, the zoning board, whose members are predominantly new to the job, has passed several rulings which attracted village-wide attention. Chairman John Kirkland, in a strong dissent to one of those rulings, flatly told the majority it was wrong.

The zoning board is the only one of the major boards which consistently violates state anti-secrecy laws. Its members "recess" to discuss matters before voting. Although Kirkland has said the press may attend such sessions, other members do not agree with him.

Kirkland's position is that the zoning board has "quasi-judicial" functions because it grants relief in unique circumstances and its decisions are not appealable locally.

BOLI MEETINGS have a character all their own. Because they are, in effect, the beginning of a court proceeding, legal steps are closely adhered to. BOLI has its own attorney, Kenneth Stonesifer, and its own consulting engineers, Consoer, Townsend and Associates. The engineers and Stonesifer regularly sit in on BOLI meetings.

BOLI starts improvement programs at the request of residents, the village board or administration or on its own initiative. It may abandon a project if it appears unnecessary or too costly. Residents who are to be assessed are notified individually that a project is under consideration and the time and place of hearings. BOLI usually holds an informal hearing, to determine residents' reactions, before beginning formal legal steps.

After BOLI has processed an assessment program through a series of legal steps, the program goes to court, if it is contested. The court appoints a special commissioner whose job it is to "spread the the assessment" — to determine how much each abutting property owner must pay for individual benefit and how much the village must kick in for "public benefit." After court approval, the program is turned back to BOLI to administer.

Assistant To Manager Appointed

A 28-year-old Borger, Tex., man has been named administrative assistant to the village manager of Arlington Heights.

He is Fred J. Snider. Snider currently is assistant to the manager of Borger, a town of about 20,000. Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson said Wednesday that Snider will start work June 6.

SNIDER IS married and the father of one. He received his master's degree in public administration in 1963 from West Virginia University at Morgantown. He has held the Borger job for two years. Formerly, he was an administrative intern in the city budgeting office at Phoenix, Ariz., for two years.

The administrative assistant's post has been vacant for several months. Formerly regarded as a beginning position, it was upgraded by the village board during planning sessions on the budget.

The administrative assistant takes assignments from Hanson. He is used in research, public contact and other areas.

Six Burglaries, One Robbery During April

Arlington Heights police handled a total of 431 complaints and made 39 arrrests during April, according to the monthly report of Police Chief L. W. Calderwood.

Six burglaries were reported for the month—three commercial and three residential. In addition, there was a commercial robbery—later cleared by arrest.

The police report listed 20 larceny cases involving amounts over $50 and 23 larcencies under $50.

Twenty-two bicycles were reported stolen in April and five of the cases were cleared by arrest.

Police handled three cases of auto theft and cleared one with an arrest and two by investigation.

Forty-three cases of criminal damage to property (vandalism) brought the year's total of 113, a sharp increase over last year's 79 cases to date.

Juvenile officers handled 40 juveniles during the month—30 males and 10 females. Two were sent on to adult court and 38 were handling by station adjustment.

In accident prevention activity, police made 452 hazardous driving arrests. Speeding tickets accounted for more than half.

A total of 60 accidents occurred in the village during April, seven of them involving injuries.

Four officers—sergeants Leroy Weith and George Ekblad and Officers Paul Buckholz and Jack Weber—were selected to attend the National Institute on Police and Community Relations at Michigan State University. It was held this week.

The department received one scholarship for the prgram from the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Expenses for the other three were paid by the village. (A

Will Man Gas Pumps

High school girls will be manning the gas pumps at Chuck's Pure Oil Service Station, 216 S. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights this Saturday.

They are members of the Coronets Girls Drill Team of Arlington High School who will be working under an arrangement with station owner Charles Randolph: they will man the pumps in return for a percentage of the profits on gas sales for the day.

SATURDAY'S VENTURE is another of the efforts of the 75-member Coronets Girls Drill Team to raise enough money to pay their way to New York this summer to enter the national drill team competition.

The Coronets Girls Drill Team is composed of Arlington High School girls and is sponsored by Arlington Heights VFW Post 981. They appear at high school football and basketball games and in Memorial Day parades.

Last year the Coronets won the state championship drill team title at the Illinois State Fair and they placed seventh in national drill team competition.

During the school year, the Coronets are instructed ty Arlington High teacher Jacquelyn Haas, but in the summer months they work with Mrs. Mrs. Lynn Chapin, now a teacher in Libertyville. (A

Drivers Test On Television Next Tuesday

An hour-long traffic safety program produced in cooperation with the National Safety Council will be televised over the CBS network at 9 p.m. next Tuesday.

Entitled the "New 1966 National Drivers Test," this program is the second in a series of traffic safety specials that began a year ago.

THE FIRST test was instrumental in alerting already licensed drivers to the need for learning new driving skills as well as improving old ones.

The all-new program will cover key areas of traffic fatalities not included in the first show. There will be more questions and more driving situations of a specific nature. (A

Farm Zoning Gets Okay After Talks

Rezoning of the Pingel-Hildebrandt farms southwest of the Nike base was approved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board. The rezoning, to which the developers agreed, followed a series of meetings between the developers and a special committee of the village board.

Under the agreed-to solution, the farms received more apartment and business zoning than at present. But the amount of multiple zoning which developers requested was reduced, and developers agreed to dedicate land for the straightening of Wilke Road through their property.

THE FINAL agreement provides a business zoning strip along Algonquin Road, apartment zoning west of the new Wilke Road and a combination of apartments and single family homes east of the new roadway. The single family zoning will buffer property to the east.

Developers of the property are Bennett P. Trapani and Robert Ryan.

Dignitaries Are Listed For Parade

The Arlington Heights VFW post has announced the names of military and government officials who will be guests at the Memorial Day program.

Military guests scheduled to attend parade and services May 30 include: Col. Truman F. Cook, Col. Robert P. Detwiler, Lt. Col. William C. Van Dyk, Cdr. Wallace Daughtry, Lt. Col. Rodney Leonard Cron, Capt. W. H. McCaughey, Gen. Donald J. Smith and Col. Robert Chapman Buckley.

State Representatives Eugene F. Schlickman and Eugenia S. Chapman, Police Chief L. W. Calderwood, and Bruno W. Waara, principal of Arlington High Schooi, also will be on hand.

PARADE PARTICIPANTS include U. S. Naval Training Band, 45th Artillery Brigade, Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment, Arlington High School Band, Kingsmen Drum and Bugle Corps, Delores Eilers Entertainers, The Top Hatters, Arlington Heights Historical Society and the Doris Val Entertainers in addition to other local and regional organizations.

Three Trucks Cost $9,593

A low bid of $9,593 from International Harvester to supply three replacement trucks for the public works department was accepted Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

George Poole Ford bid $10,802. An $8,066 bid from Lattof Motor sales included only two of the trucks, according to Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson.

High-Rise Rezoning Is Sought

The Arlington Heights Plan Commission will hold hearings Wednesday, June 8, to consider a request for rezoning a lot located at 209 W. Miner St. from R-5 (multiple family) to R-6 (high rise multiple family) classification.

The hearings will be held at 8 p.m. in the Municipal Building at 33 S. Arlington Heights Road.

The property in question lies within the 330 foot "eligibility ring" for R-6 zoning which surrounds the central business district. R-6 zoning permits apartment buildings up to six stories high.

THE REZONING request comes from Barrie G. Fischer, Chicago, who also owns the lot at the southwest corner of Miner and Highland Street. The plan commission last fall approved his request for R-6 zoning for that property.

The village board, however, preferred to see the corner lot combined with adjacent properties and deferred action on that request. (AF

Northwest Highlands

Public hearings on the Northwest Highlands paving and storm sewer drainage project last week were continued to 9:30 p.m. next Thursday, May 26, by the Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI).

While deferring decisions on the extent of paving to be done by private contract and on the width of Walnut Street, BOLI members resolved the fate of Clarendon and Marion Streets in the subdivision.

The board voted to recommend to village trustees that Clarendon Street be vacated between Highland and Ridge Avenues and that Marion be vacated between Chestnut and Ridge.

THE HEARINGS were continued to give property owners in the subdivision more time to get escrow deposits into the village finance director if they opt to have their portion of the street paved by a private contract arrangement.

Cost estimates for the project range from $351,000 to $382,000 and depend on the paving material used. The spread of paving costs has been estimated at $16 per frontage foot if it is done by special assessment.

Property owners have been told to use the $16 figure in computing the amount to put in escrow for a private contract arrangement. If the paving is done by private contract and actual costs are lower, they will get a rebate.

According to the village finance office, many escrow deposits have already been made. BOLI set the resumption of hearings to May 26 as the deadline for getting deposits in. At that time the board will make a tally of deposits received and use it as a basis for deciding what areas will be included in a private contract.

THE WIDTH of Walnut Street in the subdivision has not yet been firmly established, even though the plan commission last Wednesday recommended that it be designated a collector street between Oakton and Thomas Streets.

In the past, a "collector" designation has meant a 36-foot width.

But the plan commission recommendation has not been acted on by the village board.

A motion by Harold Klingner to set the width of Walnut at 30 feet was tabled Thursday when BOLI Pres. Sam Rudder indicated he would pass. He said he felt the width should not be set by BOLI but according to standards set by the village board.

BOLI REASONING in recommending the vacation of Clarendon and the unpaved portion of Marion Street in the subdivision was:

—There is no sense in burdening residents with the expense of paving the two side streets because they are not needed. As presently dedicated they only run four short blocks and would not contribute to the flow of traffic for subdivision residents.

—The neighborhood will look better with the two side streets vacated and lawns planted on the land.

If the village board approves the vacations, the 66-foot right of way will be divided into 33-foot halves which would go to abutting property owners.

Opposition to the vacations had been opposed by several property owners abutting Clarendon and Marion on two grounds:

—They had their garages built facing the side street and its vacation would leave them without convenient access.

—The extra 33-foot frontage they would receive gratis would make their property taxes higher.

WHEN IT was found at Thursday's meeting that only three out of 16 owners along Clarendon and one on Marion opposed their vacation, BOLI went ahead with its recommendation to vacate.

The village board, however, will have the final say.

Hearings Continued On Paving

The Arlington Heights Board of Local Improvements (BOLI) Thursday continued until 9 p.m. May 26 its hearings on the paving of parts of Wing, Ridge and Miner Streets.

The special assessment project includes Wing Street between Ridge and Chestnut Avenues west of the post office, the east half of Ridge Avenue from a point 11 feet south of Wing to 132 feet north of Wing, and the south half of Miner Street from 20 feet west of Highland to 393 feet west of Highland.

Two alternate estimates of cost are $40,000 and $36,000, depending on the type of material used in the road base. The spread of costs to residents, based on the higher estimate, would come to $13.60 per front foot plus $3.50 for curbing where it is needed.

OBJECTION to the assessment was voiced by one Wing Street resident, identified as Bernard Guentner.

He complained that Wing Street had a pavement but that it was torn up when a 72-inch storm sewer was installed in 1963 and was not repaired.

According to Village Eng. Charles Towerk, village street plans dated 1962 show that Wing Street between Chestnut and Ridge had a surface of highly compacted gravel with seal coating and was classified as substandard. The plans showed no permanent concrete pavement.

Guentner also held that Wing Street residents contribute only 10 per cent of the traffic using the street and should not have to bear the major part of the assessments for the improvement. He contended that the remaining 90 per cent of traffic using Wing Street is generated by the Jewel-Osco Store, post office, railroad station and downtown commerce. (A

Threatens Wife

Man Shoots Himself After Police Chase

After threatening his wife in Wheeling, a Glenview man led police on a wild chase through four northwest suburbs last Friday night.

Richard A. Galvan, 19, shot and fatally wounded himself at the end of the chase in Palatine.

Authorities said Galvan, 1144 Milwaukee Ave., Glenview, was reportedly lurking outside his estranged wife's home at 20 Schoenbeck Road, Wheeling. Mrs. Galvan, 21, told police he was carrying a gun and had threatened to kill her.

WHEELING POLICE said Galvan was gone when they arrived. But they then received a report that Galvan was threatening to shoot himself near a friend's house at 180 Wayne Place, Wheeling.

Patrolman Richard Conte blocked an intersection near the home with his squad car. When Galvan reached the intersection he ignored Conte's shouts and tried to run him down. Conte leaped to the hood of the squad car and escaped injury.

Conte then chased Galvan through Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, Arlington Heights, and into Palatine. There a roadblock set up at Palatine and Plum Grove Roads stopped Galvan.

Police said he shot himself in the head as they walked toward him. (A Report Break-in At Residence

A home at 602 S. Reuter Ave., Arlington Heights was reported broken into between Thursday and Sunday last week.

The break-in was reported by Richard O'Reilly, 603 S. Reuter, who told police he saw the door screen and window broken and that the resident, Ralph Jones, was away on vacation.

After his return Sunday, Jones told police nothing was missing. Police speculated the break-in was the work of children.

School Bus Agreement Is Near

Arlington Heights and area school districts apparently are nearing agreement on the village's recently approved school bus ordinance.

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson has told trustees he met with superintendents of Elementary District 25 and High School District 214, as well as Philip H. Marshment, transportation field supervisor for the state superintendent of public instruction. He said that Marshment provided forms and information covering state bus and bus driver licensing and inspection and that state procedures cover all aspects covered in the Arlington code except background checks on drivers.

The schools and bus companies had protested the ordinance, particularly the section requiring fingerprinting and background checks of drivers. The village has not begun to enforce the ordinance but has indicated it will be satisfied with state procedures if they are adequate.

Goebbert Rd. Improvement Plan Told

Arlington Heights will try to get Goebbert Road improved in the area around Forest View High School — that appeared to be the consensus at the village board meeting Monday.

Condition of the street was brought up by Trustee Roy A. Bressler in connection with a development on the east side of Goebbert, from Algonquin Road north to Falcon Drfve.

The developers, the Greta Lederer Development Co., will install a half-street along that stretch. Noting mixed village-township control of the street, Bressler said it was a "crying shame," "full of chuck holes" and a "disgrace."

A SPOKESMAN for the firm said Carl Klehm, whose property is on the west side of Goebbert, has been approached to install his half of the street jointly with the Lederer company, and "he's only waiting to say yes or no for me to tell him how much."

Village Mgr. L. A. Hanson, who said school buses make it difficult to maintain portions of the street that are not hard-paved, said "we can ask him (Klehm) to improve and if not start special assessment proceedings." (A

2 Women Aides Named By Atcher

Two Wheeling Township women were named this week to positions in the campaign of Robert O. Atcher, mayor of Schaumburg and a Republican candidate for state senator from the third senatorial district. Both are from Arlington Heights.

Veva Hembd of 671 E. Clarendon St., an area chairman and precinct captain for the Wheeling Township Regular Republican organization, was named woman's chairman for Atcher in Wheeling Township.

Eunice Behm, 202 N. Lincoln Lane, was named Atcher's coffee chairman for the township.

Mrs. Behm invited township residents interested in having coffees in their homes to call her at CL 3-9171 or 392-7090.

Reels of Copper Wire Are Stolen

Two reels of copper wire containing about 2,000 feet per reel were reported taken from a trailer parked at Robin Hood and Waterman Lane in the Tallyrand subdivision, Arlington Heights.

The trailer belongs to the Rafel Electric Co. of Chicago. The theft was reported Monday by Charles Obokovitz, foreman for the firm, who told police that a lock and clasp had been broken on a door to the trailer.

He told police the trailer hadn't been checked for a week preceding the discovery. (A

Hold Luncheon

President James J. Brice, 603 S. Patton Ave., Arlington Heights, officiated as master of ceremonies Monday at the third annual "Working Together" luncheon of the Mental Health Association held at the Pick Congress Hotel.

A goal to raise $250,000 was announced by members at the luncheon, which served as a kick-off for the 1966 Bell-Ringer Campaign.

Board member O. K. Sensenbrenner, 920 St. James Place, Arlington Heights, was elected treasurer.

Cash Is Stolen

An envelope containing $71 was reportedly stolen from the Arlington Auto Wash, 900 W. Euclid St., Arlington Heights.

The theft was reported to police Saturday by David Baublitz, manager of the car wash.

Baublitz told police the envelope had supposedly been left in a safe where employes deposit their receipts at the end of the day.

Tent Demonstration Given Leader Group

A demonstration on setting up a camping tent was given by Mrs. Lewis Ross, district group camping chairman, at the May meeting of the Arlington Heights Camp Fire Leader's Association.

Other camping equipment and procedures were discussed and demonstrated by Mrs. Ross, Mrs. Robert Rodig, district chairman, Mrs. Harry Johnston, leaders' association chairman, and Miss Barbara Marquard, Chicago Area Council field director.

It was announced that there is still an opportunity for interested families to sign up for family work weekends at Camp Tiyalaka, Westfield, Wisconsin. Weekends are May 20-22; June 3-5; and June 10-12. Interested persons may contact district resident camping chairman, Larry Kunkel, CL 9-2107.

Bus chaperones are needed to ride on buses carrying girls to Camp Tiyalaka for the regular camp sessions. Chaperones will receive lunch in the new dining hall and return on the bus the same day. The Chicago Area Council of Camp Fire Girls office—AN 3-6218—may be called for further information.

An outdoor training session for day camp counselors will be held Wednesday, May 18, from 9:30-2:30 at Iroquois Woods. Counselors will learn procedures for day camp which will be held at the same site June 21-24 and June 28-July 1.

Plans are being made for the Grand Council Fire on Sunday, May 29 at Prospect High School. This will include all Arlington Heights Camp Fire, Junior Hi Camp Fire and Horizon Club girls.

Couples Bridge completed on Friday evening. Hosts for the month of May were the Harold Klingners, the Ted Reissings, the Nick Boys, the Tom Johnsons, the Don Helblings and the George Robys. High scorers for the month were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Klingner with 5560, followed by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kluball, 5090, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Persike, 4560. The group will officially end the year with a banquet in the officers club at Great Lakes Naval Station on Saturday, June 4, when trophies will be awarded for the year's high and low scores.

Returning by air from a two-week vacation in Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. William Page were over-night guests in the North Dryden Avenue home of daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nick Boyd, before beginning their motor trip home to Battle Creek, Mich., on Tuesday.

HOUSEGUESTS in the Don Tyrell home on East Olive Street since mid-April are Dennis and John, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Cook, former village residents. The young men, a senior and sophomore at St. Viators will remain to complete the school year before joining their parents in Miami, Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Brune of North Dryden Avenue celebrated their 20th wedding anniversary last Sunday afternoon with an open house beginning at 2 o'clock. Among the many friends and neighbors invited to the affair were Rev. Mario Dittamio, O. Carmelite from Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kimura, also of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. James Bennie of LaGrange and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Waljasper of Canton. Mrs. Brune's mother, Mrs. G. B. Snaadt, made a surprise visit from West Point, Iowa, with the Don Snaadts. On Monday, the Brune family dined out to celebrate Mrs. B's birthday.

Return to their North Hickory Avenue home on Sunday evening ended a weekend camping trip for the Bud Andrews family. They had visited Holland, Mich. for the tulip festival and toured the famed gardens, the wooden shoe factory and Windmill Island. Just two weeks earlier the family celebrated 2-year - old Billy's birthday. Despite an uninvited guest, chicken pox, Billy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sarno of Melrose Park, Mrs. Marie Andrews of Wilmette and godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Arnashus, were on hand for the birthday cake and ice cream.

A WEEK EARLIER, brother Bobby celebrated his 7th birthday with a Batman - inspired party. A Batmobile cake graced the bat-table, around which gathered Batmen Tracy Wharton, Jerry Lang, Don Labno, Jay Bonner, Scott Evans, David Carson, Brad Larson, Chris Kasnic and Bat-lady, sister Barbie. Highlight of the affair was a backyard shave-cream foam "war."

Saturday morning was First Communion Day at St. James Catholic Church, with the class of more than 200 divided at two masses, one at 8 and the other at 10. Among the earlier Communicants was John Langhenry III of East Olive Street. A dinner party later in honor of the occasion was attended by Uncle Alfred Wendt of McHenry; grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. A. Wolfarth of Hustisford, Wis., and grandmother, Mrs. John Langhenry of Chicago. It was the second Communion party that day for Mrs. Langhenry, who joined the Nelson family of East Oakton Street for grandson Dan's brunch at the Cow Palace, following the early mass. The Nelsons were also celebrating Mr. N's birthday.

A family breakfast out after the 8 o'clock ceremony observed the occasion for Communicant James Kushner of North Haddow Court.

A DINNER party in the Bengal home on North Haddow Court celebrated the event for Communicant Stephen, with grandmother Mrs. Pauline Bengal; and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James Baier, all of Chicago, attending.

Grandmother Mrs. Mabel Row of Chicago and godmother, Miss Margaret Buscher of Wilmette joined the family for brunch after the first mass to honor Communicant Donna Buscher of East Oakton Street.

Among the guests attending the buffet party for Communicant Beth Fox in her East Clarendon Avenue home were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Fox, Mrs. Edwin Wood, and godmother Mrs. Patricia Flynn, all of Chicago.

Communicant Kathy Walberg of East Oakton Street also observed the event with brunch. Guests included grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Richard Raleigh and Uncle Jack of Evanston, Mr. and Mrs. James O'Hare of Oak Park and the Jerry Walbergs of Wood Dale.

A FAMILY party in their East Olive Street home marked the occasion for Communicant Nancy Cooney.

Grandmother Mrs. Margaret Trettenbach of South Chestnut Street was a guest at the family party for Martin Trettenbach in his East Olive Street home after the 10 o'clock ceremony.

An Open House was held for Janet Wilkiewicz another First Communicant, and was attended by more than 50 relatives and friends. Among them were godparents Mrs. Ruth DeGrand of Chicago, Don Schneider of Rockford and grandmother Mrs. Romeo Hereau, also of Chicago.

First Communion was a twin affair in the Tom McCook home on North Douglas. Breakfast after the 10 o'clock mass celebrated the occasion for Catherine and Theresa, the family and their houseguests — grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McCook of Garden City, New York and the Stanley Magill family of Indianapolis.

A family brunch after the later ceremony honored Communicant Paul Weaver of North Beverly Lane.

His grandparents, the senior Emil Metzels of Chicago, were guests at the lunch and dinner party observing the First Communion of Perry Metzel in his North Dryden Avenue home.

FIRST COMMUNICANT Patti Shannon of North Hickory Avenue celebrated with a family brunch at Sweden House after the 10 o'clock ceremony.

Among the 35 relatives attending the First Communion buffet party for Bernadette Zaborowski in her North Hickory Avenue home were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Zaborowski, of Chicago, and her uncle, Rev. Joseph Zaborowski, pastor of St. Hedwig's parish in Chicago.

A family brunch after the later mass celebrated the First Communion of Mary Lou Harrison of North Beverly Lane. Unable to attend was Mrs. Harrison who entered Presbyterian St Luke's Hospital in Chicago earlier last week for surgery. Grandparents, the senior Harrisons of Colorado, were on hand to help observe the occasion, along with the Peter Dahms.

Grandparents, the C. A. Gauthiers and the T. Gerald McShanes, both of Grand Rapids, Michigan, were on hand to attend the First Communion of Tommy McShane at 10 o'clock and the party later to mark the occasion.

An afternoon refreshment party with neighbors at the Damiano family's North Pine Court home observed the First Communion for Henry. Plans for a more elaborate affair were cancelled early last week after the death of grandfather Peter Damiano of Chicago.

HICKORY MEADOWS

Among the First Communicants from Hickory Meadows were Therese Aylward of East Marion. On hand to help celebrate the occasion was 91-year-old great-aunt Mrs. C. S. King of Milwaukee; cousins; the James Aylwards, also of Milwaukee; and grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth Harrigan, who arrived last Tuesday from her Cincinnati, Ohio, home for a visit with her daughter and family.

Another First Communicant was Mary Donna Albanese of East Marion. Attending the dinner party to mark the occasion were her grandmother, Mrs. John Bell of Norwood Park; godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Magine; and the Robert Bell family, all of Chicago.

Also a First Communicant at the 10 o'clock ceremony was James Bianca of East Olive Street.

GODMOTHER. Miss Susan Oliver, joined the family of Communicant Beth Oliver for brunch after mass. Later in the day, grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Oliver of Edison Park and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Husch of Elmhurst attended the afternoon refreshment party in the Olivers' East Jules home. On Wednesday of last week, Beth celebrated her 8th birthday with an after school party. Joining her for cake, ice cream and goodies were ten neighborhood and school friends.

Mary Therese Wendt, also a First Communicant at the 10 o'clock ceremony, observed the occasion with a family party in her East Jules Street home. (A

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Jim and Dorothy Allen, recent Terrace newcomers, hosted an open house Sunday at their new home at 1330 N. Chicago for 35 couples, friends and neighbors from their old neighborhood.

The Jack Martins, 1337 N. Chicago, gave a political coffee on Thursday evening. Seventeen friends gathered to participate in a question and answer session, and to enjoy the evening coffee hour.

John and Inge Schluntz, 1240 N. Chicago, enjoyed the company of Inge's mother, Mrs. Margaret Borchers of Berlin, Germany, during the past seven months. On May 4, Inge and her mother drove to New York, where Mrs. Borchers left for Germany. Inge returned home May 11.

James Michael, son of Al and Rosemary Shellander, 1716 W. Oliv was baptized Sunday at St. Thomas of Villanova Catholic Church, Palatine by Rev. Francis Waldron. Sponsors were his aunt, Mrs. David Flood of Fond du Lac, and uncle, James Schilling of Glenview.

The Shellanders hosted a party after the services. Relatives present were grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Shellander Sr. of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Jonas of Lake Geneva, aunts, uncles, and cousin, the David Floods of Fond du Lac and the James Schillings of Glenview, his brother, Tom, and sisters, Mary, Margaret and Nancy.

TOM AND NANCY Shellander returned home Sunday with their aunt and uncle, the David Floods, after spending three weeks in Fond du Lac visiting them.

Among the First Communicants at St. James Church on Saturday were James Charleston, son of the James Charlestons, 1333 N. Chicago, and Maureen Coleman, daughter of the James Colemans, 1411 Clarendon.

The Charlestons hosted an open house for 100 relatives and friends.

Maureen Coleman was honored at a family breakfast attended by members of the immediate family and her aunt, Kathleen Coleman of Mount Prospect.

Cathy Galloway, daughter of the Jesse Galloways, 1111 W. Wilke, enjoyed an early celebration of her birthday Saturday; Cathy will be 9 May 30. Attending her party were Chris Sadowski, Cindy Kilby, Laurie Bartel, Arlinda Slimmer, Linda Fugate, Carol Carlson, Kathy Boyd, Laurie Baron and two school friends, Vicki and Darlene. The young ladies saw "Cinderella" at Recreation Park and then returned to Galloways' for a balloon party on the patio. Joining the guests were neighbor friends, Babette and Steve Martin.

MAY 10 WAS the second birthday of Tom Kay, son of the Tom Kays, 1248 N. Race. A family party was given in his honor that tevening and helping Tom celebrate were his grandmother, Mrs. Albert Kay, aunt and uncles Evelyn, Bob and Jim Kay, all of Mount Prospect, grandfather, Martin Engelking, and aunt, Lorel Engelking, of Arlington Heights, and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pollard and Paula.

Ricky Koopman, son of the Rich Koopmans, 1216 N. Chicago, was 1 May 12. A family party was given for him that evening. Present were his grandparents, the Arnold Koopmans, and uncle, Scott Koopman, all of Prospect Heights.

In the afternoon, several of Ricky's young friends and their mothers helped him celebrate. Partygoers were Dale Pierce of the Terrace, Steffi and Jenni Peabody of Mount Prospect and Paula Field of Des Plaines.

FOUR TERRACE women traveled to St. Charles last week to see the play, "Ready When You Are C. B." starring Carolyn Jones. Shirle Husted, Phyllis Fluhrer, Kay Roden and Joan Donath were with a party of 12 when they attended the play. The occasion was the yearly outing of their card club.

Ethel Emmons, 1317 N. Race, returned home Saturday after visiting her daughter, Mrs. Robert Peters and family, for a week in their new home in Mahomet.

Returning home Sunday after spending three weeks in Hot Springs, Ark. was Mimi Mabie, 1243 N. Race.

On May 7, Bill and Freya Jones and children, Mara, Matthew and Deirdre, 1227 N. Illinois, were guests of Bill's parents, the George Wilhelms in Chicago. They enjoyed a belated celebration of Bill's sister's birthday and an early celebration of Mother's Day.

On Mother's Day, the Joneses entertained Freya's parents, the Charles Petersons of Lake Forest, and enjoyed another combined celebration as they celebrated the May 12 birthday of Mrs. Peterson and Mother's Day.

On Sunday, Bill and Freya and children traveled to Antioch to attend the dog races. Accompanying them was Mara's friend, Liz Walters.

BRIAN WILLIAM, son of Tom and Audrey Kay, was christened at St. Peter Lutheran Church on Sunday by the Rev. Robert Bartz. Sponsors were his aunt and uncle, Mrs. George Eberle of Chicago and Leroy Engelking of Mount Prospect. Joining the group in a celebration at the Kays after the ceremony were Brian's grandfather, Martin Engelking, and aunt, Lorel Engelking, and his brother, Tom.

Saturday night Bob and Brenda Crawford, 1309 N. Chicago, attended a bowling banquet and dance at the VFW in Park Ridge. Bob is a member of the Northwest Suburban Builders Bowling League.

Enjoying a weekend of fishing in Winnebcone, Wis., were Gene Sharp, 1425 N. Wilke, and several friends. The men were fishing for white bass and northerns; Gene reports a good catch.

YOU ARE NOT OLD WHEN YOU ARE HEALTHY

Only a few generations ago almost everyone was old at 40. People who had a fiftieth birthday were considered fortunate. Many of them had incurable pains and aches. Few enjoyed good health.

Now, with greater medical knowledge, we have medicines that perform seeming miracles. There are few diseases that do not respond favorably to treatment. Drugs can usually be depended upon to produce a desired benefit. People can be immunized against former killers.

We carefully read and study all information about new drugs and add them to our stock as soon as they are available. Your physician can prescribe medicines which will keep you young for a longer time.

For And About Teenagers

THE WEEK'S LETTER: "I am 16 years old and I like a boy who is 20. All of my girlfriends feel the difference in our ages is not too much. Boys and older people think he is to old for me. This boy goes to college, but I see him on weekends and during the summer. My best girlfriend is 15 years old and she likes a boy who is 19 — so their age difference is the same. I saw this boy that I like during the past summer. I still like him, but I don't know what to do. Do you think he is too old? And, how can I get him back?"

OUR REPLY: A difference of four years in age is unimportant where adults are concerned. In the teen years, however, four years can be quite a spread.

Preferably, a teenage girl should stay within her own age group. Advisedly, she should do so until she graduates from high school. A year or two difference in ages becomes less important as one grows older.

In some instances, girls of 17 or 18 are as "mature" as boys three or four years older. But, individual cases differ.

Our best adivce is to remain friends with the boy and not make it a real serious thing. If it is meant to be, time will make things right.

If you have a teenage problem you want to discuss, or an observation to make, address your letter to FOR AND ABOUT TEENAGERS, COMMUNITY AND SUBURBAN PRESS SERVICE, FRANKFORT, KY.

Record Crowd Opens Arlington Park's 103-Day Season

Fans keep a cool eye on the odds, while the horses prance around the paddock before they head for the starting gate. Then they're off, in the first day of racing for Arlington Park's 103-day season. Monday's opener, under mostly bright though sometimes cloudy skies, brought a turnout of 19,075 record for a non-holiday opening. Big winner of the day was Uncle Percy, eight-year-old ridden by Eddie McIvor to victory in the 5½-furlong $17,050 Clang Handicap.

Liberties On Agenda Of League

Representatives of the American Civil Liberties Union and the Flick-Reedy Institute will be speakers at the local League of Women Voters meeting next Wednesday, May 25.

The 8 p.m. meeting in the east room of Pioneer Park Fieldhouse, 500 S. Fernandez, Arlington Heights, will be open to the public.

Both speakers — Edward Levin of the ACLU and James Stewart, head of the Flick-Reedy Speakers Bureau — have been asked to speak on "Protection of the Individual in His Civil Rights and Liberties."

Mrs. Stephen Caruso of Prospect Heights, local civil liberties chairman for the league, says the two men have been asked to cover four areas: loyalty oaths, censorship, school prayers and "stop and frisk" legislation.

The meeting, which will replace three units meetings for the LWV this month, is an introduction to a state LWV study of civil liberties.

Later LWV meetings on the subject will center primarily on whether legislation is needed in the area of equal housing opportunities. (ACME

Recommend Kitchen In New High School

High School District 214 board members must weigh a citizens committee recommendation that a conventional kitchen be put in the new sixth high school when the board meets at 7 p.m. tonight at Slichenmyer Administration Center with Architect Scott Kelley.

Their recommendation was reported to the board Monday by Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer.

Some board members expressed surprise at the recommendation, arrived at last Thursday at a meeting attended by just 13 of an original 50-some district residents who had agreed to help determine food service facilities for the new school.

The vote for the conventional kitchen, in effect an endorsement of food service provided students now, was by an 8 to 5 margin.

ENDORSING THE present arrangement were Robert Amundsen, Mrs. Ralph Komorowski, and Mrs. W. O'Donnell of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Dale Bycroft and Mrs. Merle Slaninka of Rolling Meadows, Mrs. Geraldine Hrbek and Mrs. Joseph Buzzelli of Arlington Heights, and Sanford Tyser of Wheeling.

"No" voters were committee chairman John Auld of Arlington Heights, supporter of the vending industry from which he makes his living; Fred Klink of Elk Grove Village, Richard Vlasak and Gene Wiececk of Prospect Heights, and Mrs. Nat Evans of Arlington Heights.

The committee followed that vote by two unanimous recommendations:

1) That the school district consider making provisions for the sixth school to serve at some future date as a central kitchen serving other "satellite" high school lunch rooms.

2) That if increased building costs make it difficult to keep the sixth school's costs within the authorized $6.5 bond amount, a savings be made by not installing the cafeteria equipment rather than shorting the educational facilities.

Auld added a suggestion that expenditures for cafeteria equipment not be included in the architect's contract, thus saving a six per cent commission on the estimated $90,000 cost of the food service hardware. (ACME

Campaign Manager Comments on Race

"Tired blood" is the major problem of the local GOP, H. F. (Pete) Bunnelle, campaign manager for Wheeling Township committeeman candidate Thomas W. Novotny, charged in a release Monday.

Commenting on a recent news release from Eugene F. Schlickman, Novotny's opponent, covering a four-point program "to involve more Republicans in the local work of the party," Bunnelle said, "We are fascinated to see that the opposition candidate has adopted some old ideas and programs as though they were startlingly new, and his own.

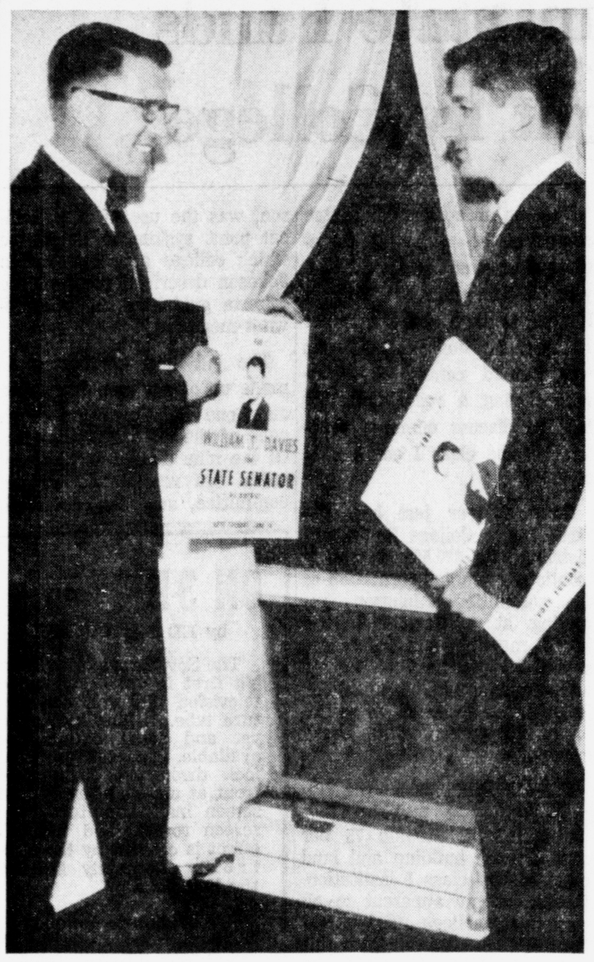
"First," Bunnelle said, "We have already noted that the 'advisory committee' idea was developed by Committeeman Thomas J. Houser in 1962 and was never really effective. This committee met two or three times and thereafter was ignored by Committeeman Houser. It is Novotny's opinion that a Republican precinct captain organization, when it is truly representative of the townships' voters, and the local Republican clubs are already in existence to be 'an effective method of keeping party workers in contact with all township interests.' "

On Schlickman's "Hi Neighbor" program for greeting newcomers to a community, Bunnelle said this had been originally developed and implemented by the Wheeling Township Women's Republican Club in 1960 as the "Girls on Parade (GOP)" program. It was then enlarged and refined and proved effective, notably in the village of Wheeling, Bunnelle said, but never "really fulfilled the original conception of it."

Schlickman's third point, establishing of regular office hours for the township committeman's office, "particularly fascinates us," Bunnelle said. "This was in Tom Novotny's platform distributed to the precinct captains and other Republicans in March. I guess they finally realized this was a good idea."

"Finally, the 'neighborhood seminar' approach cited by our opposition is, of course, the Republican Workshop idea," Bunnelle said. "I would point out that the Wheeling Township Republican Workshop was established in 1961 by Tom and Jeanne Novotny and some other Republican workers and that he was the first president of that group.

Novotny's opponent is attempting on the one hand to retread unworkable ideas that sound good and on the other hand to claim credit for workable ideas that he had little or nothing to do with." (ACM



JOHN PETERS, left, has announced his support for state senatorial candidate William T. Davies of Streamwood. Peters, Wheeling Township's assessor, said Davies "has shown a keen awareness of our problems in the third district and a desire to solve them. His legal training and political background on behalf of Charles Percy and Cong. Donald Rumsfeld make him far and away the most qualified of the three candidates."

High School Name Sought By Board

sixth high school naming prob-

High School District 214's sixth high school naming problem still has no solution.

Winston Churchill, indomitable in person, hit the mat for the second time Monday as a suggested name for the school on Willow Road.

With T. Earl Thompson back from vacation, Dr. Frank J. Smith moved again that the new school be named Winston Churchill High. He, Mrs. Leah Cummins and Richard Bachhuber voted "Yes." Negative votes came from William J. Griffith, Arthur Aronson and Hal Armstrong.

Thompson withheld his vote for a moment and then said "No" too.

"I would prefer to see a name that is acceptable to more than a small majority," he explained. (ACME

Shopping Centers Are Focus of TARS

The newly-organized Teen Age Republicans of Elk Grove Township, (TARS), has scheduled "Operation Shopping Center" as its first political activity.

The group, under the direction of Mrs. Eugene Trandel, 201 S. Kenilworth, Mount Prospect, does not make endorsements, but plans to work actively on behalf of the candidacy of David J. Regner of Elk Grove Township, a Republican candidate for nomination to the Illinois House of Representatives from the 3rd House District.

The group is sponsored by the Republican Women of Elk Grove Township. Members will join Regner in campaigning at several major shopping centers on the two Saturdays preceding the June 14, primary election.

MEMBERS WILL distribute literature and campaign gimmicks. The purpose of the group is to learn, practice and promote the principles of the Republican Party in political activities at the precinct, county, state and national levels.

Regner was a guest speaker at the group's last meeting.

Young people between 13 and 19 who would like to participate in the project or the organization are asked to call Mrs. Trandel at CL 9-2755. (AEM

Influence in State Funds Total Sought by College

William Rainey Harper College has organized a drive aimed at letting class I institutions have some word in determining how much moeny they will receive from the state.

Heading an ad hoc committee composed of members representing most of the class I two-year institutions in Illinois is Harper College board member Richard L. Johnson. Johnson was named committee chairman during a recent meeting held to discuss common problems of the class I community colleges.

Concern over just how the State Junior College Board will distribute its $20,500,000 appropriations prompted formation of the committee. Johnson, reporting at a Harper College board meeting last Thursday, said the committee has viewed with alarm some of guidelines for distributing funds as outlined in the current state board criteria.

A LAW PASSED by the Illinois legislature provides that the state will provide 75 per cent of total building and land costs of any class I institution. It has become apparent to all community college officials that the $20,500,000 appropriated this year was far from adequate to meet the needs of nine institutions bidding for shares.

Just how successful the committee will be remains to be seen. But apparently it has cleared one hurdle. The state board last Friday delayed acceptance of the disputed criteria until next month. The postponement came after Johnson had sent the board a letter explaining concern among class I college officials and asking that the ad hoc committee be given time to make recommendations in establishing criteria.

Commenting on the postponement, Dr. Robert P. Lahti, Harper College president said Monday, "Whether the state board held off in adopting the criteria because of our request, I can't say." Lahti said the committee will meet Friday to further review the criteria.

"We then want to meet with the state staff and board members to discuss our recommendations," he explained. That meeting might come sometime next week, he added.

PRINCIPLE objection to the state board criteria, said Johnson, was the use of a numerical point system to determine which college gets how much. Johnson described some of the criteria guidelines as "s o m e what mediocre."

The ad hoc committee is made up of one board member and one administrator from each of the class I institutions. Of the nine class I institutions, seven are represented on the committee, according to Lahti.

The Soviets are claiming a big first in three dimension television with only one picture tube. It isn't marketed yet and scant details are available. Supposedly, you look through a clear glass front at a double-sided screen inside the tube. The screen rotates and the 3-D effect is created by the electrons alternately striking the two sides.

We'd like to see one of these sets at LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights and compare it with the latest color TV. Some of the color pictures we focus in are pretty near 3-D in appearance. At least they seem so, and we're enjoying them now.

Students Are Invited To 'Meet The Artist'

"Meet the Artist" offers high school students an opportunity to talk with Chicago painters and architects.

This free program is held in the Art Institute of Chicago on Saturday afternoons at 2 p.m. Each Saturday in May, three painters are demonstrating their work; in June four architects will discuss their buildings.

On Saturday John W. Parker, adult lecturer, museum education, at the institute, will discuss the different stages preceding a finished work using slides to compare sketches with a completed painting.

PARKER'S frequent visits to Europe form the basis for many of his paintings. He is a graduate of the School of the Art Institute and has had many one man shows. He received a Fulbright Scholarship to study in Paris and has worked with the Raymond Fund classes at the Art Institute.

On June 4, architect I. W. Colburn will discuss his work in residential architecture. He studied architecture at Yale University and has been associated with the firm of Schweikher and Elting.

Architect John Cordwell will speak June 11. He is a special consultant in urban renewal programs to the Chicago City Council. He is a member of the firm of Solomon and Cordwell which designed the Carl Sandburg Village in Chicago. He is now working with Gordon and Levin developing an urban renewal project on Chicago's South Side to be known as South Commons.

CORDWELL SPENT a year in West Africa supervising the construction of a 1,000 bed teaching hospital and a new university campus.

On June 18 William Dunlap, a partner at Skidmore, Owings and Merrill, will be the speaker on "Meet the Artist." Dunlap is a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology, taught at IIT and worked as a designer with Ludwig Mies Van der Rohe.

In 1965 he was the architectural representative for the United States' Cultural Exchange Program at the "Architecture USA" exhibit in Minsk, Russia.

DUNLAP'S CHICAGO projects include the Hartford Insurance Co. building, the Illinois Space Laboratory at the University of Chicago and the Chestnut-Dewitt apartments.

On June 25 architect James Hammond of Hammond and Roesch will speak. Hammond attended the University of Michigan and graduated from the Illinois Institute of Technology. He was a partner at Skidmore, Owings and Merrill prior to forming of his own firm.

He was the partner-in-charge of building research laboratories for the Atomic Energy Commission in Los Alamos, the Skokie Public Library, and the Mandel Out-Patient Clinic for Michael Reese Hospital.

His current commission includes a building for Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, a resort motel in Baraboo, Wis., and offices for the Episcopal Diocese of Chicago. (15Y

'Major Barbara' Opens Tonight at Arlington

Begin with the granddaughter of an Earl. Clothe her in the red and blue of the Salvation Army, arm her with the flag and the motto, "Blood and Fire," and you have Major Barbara Undershaft, England, 1906.

"Major Barbara," George Bernard Shaw's comedy, opens tonight, 7:30 p.m., and continues Friday and Saturday, 8 p.m. in Arlington High's Little Theatre.

"Man and Superman," Arlington High School's previous Shaw offering, was presented in November, 1960. "Man and Superman" is remembered for its stage and television productions by Maurice Evans and for its dream scene presented separately by Charles Laughton, Agnes Morehead, Tyrone Power and Cedric Hardwicke as "Don Juan in Hell."

"MAJOR BARBARA" was also a Charles Laughton stage vehicle when the play was presented in New York several years ago with Cornelia Otis Skinner, Glynis Johns, Eli Wallach, and Burgess Meredith. A 1941 British motion picture starred Wendy Hiller, Rex Harrison, Robert Newton, playwright Emlyn Williams, Robert Morley, and a newcomer in a small role, Deborah Kerr.

"The film, in my opinion, had excellent, exciting performances," commented Arlington director Douglas K. Murphy. "It was, however, a full hour shorter, and considerably more serious than we hope it will be on the Arlington stage," he added.

Arlington's scenery departs from realism, according to technical director Mrs. Vernell Doyle. The play is realistic, but the Arlington scenery will consist of scenery frames, uncovered, with clothesline rope stretched vertically to suggest the stripes in the wallpaper of a wealthy home or the barren coldness of a run-down Salvation Army shelter.

COSTUMES ARE vintage 1906. "All of them," commented the costume chairman, senior Carol McNeeley, "are either elegant or shabby, reflecting the two extremes of characters in the play."

The company's costumes will come from the school's wardrobe, Chicago's New York Costume Company, and Gingiss Brothers. A New York costume house is furnishing the Salvation Army uniforms.

The comedy is set in motion when Lady Britomart invites her estranged husband to visit her family to discuss financial matters. Her daughter, Barbara Undershaft, invites munitions tycoon Andrew Undershaft to visit her at the West Ham Salvation Army shelter to give Barbara a chance to convert him. He agrees, provided Barbara will visit his "death and destruction factory."

UNDERSHAFT admits to Cusins, Barbara's fiance, that he intends to win Barbara by "buying the Salvation Army." His purchase and his method of accomplishing it disillusion Barbara.

Contrasting to the Undershaft family and friends are the unfortunate rogues who are the visitors to the Salvation Army shelter. Rummy Mitchens and Snobby Price deliver false testimony to get free meals. Peter Shirley is forced to beg for a meal because he is starving. Bill Walker is a ruffian who comes only to look for his converted girl friend.

"The rogues in 'Major Barbara' are irresistible in the manner of Doolittle in "My Fair Lady," commented director Murphy. "Shaw delighted in making his rogues unscrupulous comic, and somehow appealing.

Tickets at $1 are available from cast members, the school's administrative office, and at the door on all nights of performances. (10Y

Prospect Elects Representatives

The students of Prospect High School elected 11 members each from the junior, sophomore and freshman classes to represent them on the student council.

The representatives from the junior class are Jeff Bates, Doug Bober, Larry Clark, Bob Destefanis, Tom Grafton, Charli Kreusch, Bob Tobin and Bonnie Van Riet.

The alternates are Roger Anderson, Vince Curry and Bob Youngquist.

REPRESENTING the sophomore class will be Tom Blomquist, Nancy Gruber, Mike Herod, Ken Nehmzow, Mary Rutigliano, Mike Ryan, Jeff Schneider and Bonnie Wurthmann.

The alternates will be Lucy Barale, Carolyn Merkle and Bonnie Overton.

New freshman reppresentatives are Ginny Anderson, Chris Hagg, Jim Holt, Mary Johnston, Sherry Lee, Tom Passerelli, Bruce Schmidt and Ron Selke.

Alternates are Jan Lobenhofer, Bob Bachhuber and Carol Tenuta.

A NEW METHOD of voting was used this year. Each candidate was assigned a letter and a number.

When it came time to vote, students were issued IBM cards on which they were to punch out the space with the letters and numbers of the candidates for whom they were voting. Votes were then counted using the IBM computer in the counseling office. (10Y

Q. Should a girl who is a houseguest in a friend's home make any outside plans without consulting her hostess?

A. No. While a good hostess will not tie you down to the last second with her own planning, it is only fair and well-bred to discuss any of your own wishes with her before making them definite.

THE PRICE of admission will be 50 cents for students and adults. Those under 12 will be admitted free. Refreshments will be served.

Entertainment will be provided by Karen Reeves on the piano and James P. Grady singing selections from "My Fair Lady."

Commentators will be Panny Scharf, Kathy Murphy and Polly Brothers. (10Y

Q. When a bride-elect has a brother of suitable age, is the bridegroom obligated to ask him to serve as one of the ushers?

A. While he is not exactly obligated, this is a thoughtful and tactful thing to do, and does make for better future family relationship.

Lake Park Seniors Have Their Week

Lake Park High School seniors will have a chance the week of May 23-27 to do many of the things they've wanted to do since the first grade. Those days have been designated "Senior Week."

A series of events planned by student-faculty committees will pit seniors against faculty and against underclassmen — all in good fun.

MONDAY IS "Fun Day," when seniors challenge the faculty to a tug-of-war and a baseball game after school. Two games — men teachers against senior boys and women teachers against the girls — should capture the attention of most of the school. Rumor has it that most bets are placed on the students.

Seniors Donna White of Medinah and Ann Blair of Itasca will referee the girls' game, senior Wesley Struebing of Bloomingdale and biology teacher Leonard Boone the boys' game.

Seniors won't be allowed to rest up much after the games, for Tuesday, "Slave Day," underclassmen will be buying them to do such jobs as carry books between classes and take care of trays and waste paper in the cafeteria. "But they can't buy others to go to class or take a test," faculty members warned.

MONEY FROM THE "slave sale" will go into the Senior Class fund to help meet financial obligations and pay for year-end activities.

"Teacher Satire Day" Thursday is the one all students are looking forward to and the time seniors will have a chance to get back at the faculty if teachers beat them at tug-of-war or baseball.

At all-school assemblies seniors will act out skits satirizing their teachers. Teachers chosen to be satirized are being kept approved by faculty committee members.

Finally, on Friday seniors will be rewarded for their slavery with "Senior Haven Day." The old library will be open to them for socializing during their study halls. (5Y

Q. Is is necessary for a bride-elect to reply to notes she has received expressing good wishes from her friends who have seen the announcement of her engagement in the newspaper?

A. While not necessary to write notes, she may phone them, and most certainly she should thank all those whom she meets.

'Mist' Descends – A Wheeling First

The social highlight for the departing seniors and the culmination of a year's effort for the juniors will become a reality on Friday as Wheeling High School students attend "English Mist," the first annual Junior-Senior Prom at Chevy Chase Country Club.

The upperclassmen and their dates will dance to the music of the Marlowe Orchestra from 9 p.m. to midnight.

A SENIOR GIRL will be crowned prom queen at the intermission. Nominated by the senior class for this honor are Bonnie Acker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Acker, 233 Fletcher Drive, Wheeling; Linda Edwards, daughter of Mrs. Norma Edwards, 420 Meadowbrook, Wheeling; Donna Pancamo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony D. Pancamo, 99 W. Wayne Place, Wheeling.

Also, Kathy Millay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Millay, 2729 N. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights; Ann O'Donnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Donnell, 119 N. Emmerson Lane, Mount Prospect; and Vicki Sauter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Sauter, 202 Kenilworth, Prospect Heights. (10Y

11 Area Students Win National Art Awards

Eleven art students from area high schools have won prizes and awards in a national competition.

The annual Scholastic Art Awards Exhibition, sponsored locally by Wieboldt's and on the national level by Scholastic Magazine, has included a number of entries from this area.

The winning art will be hung in the "National High School Art Exhibition" in the Union Carbide Exhibition Hall, 270 Park Ave., New York, for three weeks May 9-28.

THIS WORK was displayed February 19-March 5 at the Wieboldt store at Randhurst Shopping Center. Presentation of awards will be made by respective high school principals at special award assemblies soon.

Following is the list of local winners:

FROM FOREST VIEW HIGH SCHOOL

Karyn Kozak, 17, Strathmore Award, $50.00, Prints; medal, Pencil Drawing; medal, Print; honorable mention, Pencil Drawing. Roger Schult, 17, scholarship to Illinois Wesleyan University; medal, Print; medal, Sculpture; honorable mention, Pencil Drawing. FROM S. R. PADDOCK JR. HIGH (PALATINE)

Rory Miezio, 14, third award, Scenes and Still Life, Color, Jr. Group.

Each year for the last 38 years National Scholastic Magazine and Wieboldt's has held the Regional Scholastic Art Awards Exhibition.

For this contest, approximate-

For this contest, approximately 3,500 entries were received. Four hundred were selected to be shown. Of the 400 pieces shown, 100 won Gold Key Awards.

FIFTY OF these works considered blue ribbon winners, were selected by the judges to be sent to New York for the national competition.

In addition to the 50 individual pieces, portfolios which had been submitted for scholarship and which the jury felt meritorious also were sent to be judged at the national level.

This year, for the first time, Forest View entered the Art Talent Contest for High School Seniors, sponsored by Hallmark Cards, Inc., and the Illinois Women's Clubs. Here, again, Forest View was prominent, with the following awards presented to art students:

Roger Schult - Honorable Mention

Cherie Workman - 5th Place

Karyn Kozak - 1st Place - $100

As a result of this 1st Place, Karyn's work was entered in the national competition at Kansas City. The judging at Kansas City earned Karyn 3rd Place and a prize of $600.

"We are extremely proud of all of these students, proud of their numerous achievements, and proud of the public recognition they have brought to Forest View," Foust said. (15Y

LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORDS BY LINDA NORRIS

Throughout the years, George Shearing's most popular and sucessful albums have been those recorded live . . . His newest LP recorded live at the Black Hawk in San Francisco almost three years ago, is appropriately titled Rare Form! Due to Shearing albums that were already scheduled, this one was held up until now . . . With Shearing on the LP is his Quintet (Vernel Fournier, drums; Gary Burton, vibes; Gene Cherico, bass; Ronald Anthony, guitar; Armando Peraza, Latin percussion) . . . The songs range from the humorous Bop, Look and Listen to the romantic Over the Rainbow . . . Others include I'll Never Smile Again, Sunny, They All Laughed and Look No Further.

With orchestra arranged and conducted by Jack Fascinato, Tennessee Ernie Ford presents a program of his favorite songs of today in his latest LP, My Favorite Things . . . His selection starts on Broadway (Hello, Dolly, My Favorite Things) and then goes across country to California (I Left My Heart in San Francisco) . . . Also included in Ernie's favorites are L-O-V-E, Today, Turn Around and King of the Road . . . It's bound to happen that Ernie's favorites will be the favorites of many record fans . . . This is a great and inspiring album, one of his best.

Bruning To Attend Teen Driver Parley

John Bruning, a junior at Wheeling High School, will be among more than 1,000 teenagers in Springfield May 13-14 for the Third State Assembly of the Illinois Youth Traffic Safety Conference.

John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Bruning, 15 Wildwood Drive, Prospect Heights. He is a member of the varsity football squad and will serve as sports editor of the 1966-67 Spokesman, student newspaper at WHS.

FEATURED ON the morning program, following the official opening address by Ray Page, superintendent of public instruction, will be Miss Teen-Age America—Colette Daiute of Paramus, N. J.

Miss Daiute will stress the importance of seat belts plus a five-point driver safety program coupled with a film showing.

Sec. of State Paul Powell will address the luncheon meeting and review the recommendations of the teenage conferees.

THE THEME of the conference involves responsibility and centers on the acceptance of an assumption of personal responsibility for behavior in traffic.

During the morning, teenage delegates will break into eight workshop sessions covering these topics: (1) Laws and Ordinances Governing Traffic Behavior (2) Attitude and Knowledge (3) Developing Driver (5) Enforcement (6) Patterns for Action (7) What Can We Do? (8) Telling Our Story. (10Y

Nancy Pontoni Wins Paddock Scholarship

PADDOCK PUBLICATIONS Journalism Scholarship Award for 1966 is presented by Stuart R. Paddock Jr. to Nancy Pontoni of Mount Prospect at second annual High School Highlights staff recognition dinner. At right are Richard E. Carey, Highlights coordinator of Paddock's 17 newspapers and journalism instructor at Forest View High School, and Clayton Kirkpatrick, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune. Kirkpatrick was main speaker at the dinner held Sunday in Carousel Restaurant, Arlington Heights.

A junior at Prospect High School was named Sunday as recipient of Paddock Publications 1966 Journalism Scholarship Award.

The $100 award was made to Nancy Pontoni, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Pontoni, 405 S. George St., Mount Prospect. Paddock Publications makes the award each year to the student who has made the outstanding contribution to the newspaper's High School Highlights section and who shows potential for a career in journalism.

Announcement of the scholarship winner was made by Stuart Paddock Jr., vice president of Paddock Publications, at the second annual High School Highlights staff recognition dinner.

One hundred persons attended the banquet at the Carousel Restaurant, Arlington Heights.

THE 1966 scholarship winner has served two years on the Highlights student staff. A reporter for the school paper, The Prospector, Nancy is active in extra-curricular activities and on the Prospect High School Honor Roll. This summer she will participate in journalism workshops at Northwestern University and Northern Illinois University. She plans to major in newspaper when she enrolls in college in 1967.

Principal speaker at the banquet was Clayton Kirkpatrick, managing editor of the Chicago Tribune, who assured the high school news writers that opportunities in journalism have multiplied in recent years because the newspaper industry is expanding rapidly and the future is promising.

Kirkpatrick described the newspaper field as one marked by growth of the product and of employment.

"The average number of pages in newspapers of 100,000 circulation and over rose from 27 in 1946 to 47 in 1964, a gain of 74 per cent," he said.

"Newspaper employment has increased. From 1947 through 1963 the newspaper work force increased 33 per cent while total employment in the United States increased 19 per cent and employment in manufacturing increased 9 per cent."

Kirkpatrick noted that no newspaper can be strong and satisfy its readers unless it makes a profit.

"On this score the industry measures up well," he said.

"Another new record was achieved in advertising revenue last year. The total was $4.4 billion, an increase of 6.5 per cent over 1964, which also was a record year. Newspapers stood alone in leadership as an advertising medium. The newspaper advertising revenue roughly equals the combined total expenditures for television, magazines, and radio."

He said current practice now and continue work for a Master's degree in journalism before starting work on a newspaper.

"Journalists are active, alert, aware, and concerned," said Kirkpatrick. "They get satisfaction out of their constructive role in society."

THE RAPID growth of Paddock Publications special High School Highlights section, now completing its second year, was outlined by Richard E. Carey, coordinator of the section and journalism instructor at Forest View High School. He said the program has grown fro mseven high schools and 13 students in 1964 to 11 high schools and 30 staff members in 1966. A total of 13 high schools are expected is for journalists to earn undergraduate degrees in liberal arts to participate next year.

Purpose of the Highlights program, explained Carey, is:

—to provide a training program for high school students with journalistic ability and interest in journalism career opportunities;

—to give recognition to exceptional work by student journalists and provide them with valuable experience in newspaper work under the guidance and direction of professional working journalists;

—to expand Paddock Publications coverage of area high school news without adding to the workload of faculty personnel responsible for school publicity; and —to help faculty sponsors in their efforts to raise the standard of reporting and writing in student newspapers.

Certificates of merit were presented to Carey to the following student staff members:

FENTON HIGH SCHOOL—Linda Kutella, Chris Meagher, Vickey DeLude, Colleen Grimm.

ST. VIATOR HIGH SCHOOL—James Moran.

SACRED HEART OF MARY HIGH SCHOOL—Mary O'Leary, Mary Lee Barton, Elizabeth Myers, JoAnn Sajdak, Kathy Simons.

CONANT HIGH SCHOOL—Gerry Boesch, Pat Van Auken.

FOREST VIEW HIGH SCHOOL—James Moroni, Judy Richter, Phyllis Milldrum, Judy Arnold, Kathy Mainzer.

WHEELING HIGH SCHOOL—Jeanne LaBandt, Kathie Barnes, Maryann Keeney, Connie Andrew.

ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL Sara Cummins, Becky Hollmeyer.

PROSPECT HIGH SCHOOL—Nancy Pontoni, Cherie Dornquast, Carole Cameron.

Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications 17 suburban newspapers, acted as master of ceremonies for the banquet program. Other staff members in attendance included Robert Cummins, managing editor; Dan Baumann, editor; Mrs. Mary Schlott, staff writer; and Larry Cameron, photo editor-

Baxter Labs Repeats For Lake Park JETS

Paul Anthony of Baxter Laboratories, which makes artificial hearts, kidneys and other internal organs, will present a program to the Lake Park High School JETS, Junior Engineering Technical Society, Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited.

The program is a repeat of one several years ago which, according to adviser Benjamin Thompson, was one of the most popular ever. Specimens of organs planted in the human body to replace diseased organs were displayed.

THURSDAY THE science group will tour the research division of Borg-Warner Corp., manufacturer of a variety of industrial products.

These two events represent the wide scope of activities included in the four years that JETS has been at Lake Park. The group celebrates its fourth year as a charter member of the national organization.

During this time it has held more than 100 seminars, many with nationally known speakers on such varied topics as aerial survey, explosives, microcircuits, data processing, anesthesia, glass blowing, and unidentified flying objects. All programs are free and open to the public.

THE GROUP is composed of students interested in science. Waiting for a meeting to begin, you will not find them milling around gossiping. They are looking at science experiments in the classroom, studying charts on the wall, leafing through scientific magazines, or arguing about some theory.

In its four years the group has toured such places as the Crime Laboratory at the Chicago Police Headquarters, the Haeger Pottery Co. and the Hyperbaric Oxygen Research Center in Park Ridge.

The Lake Park chapter is one of more than 1,000 in the U.S. and Puerto Rico launched in 1950 as an experimental project by Michigan State University to stimulate greater interest in science and engineering in high school.

IT HAS EVOLVED into a cooperative effort of professional men in technological and engineering fields, and high school instructors. Together they strive to bring out the latent interest and talent of young people and to enrich classroom learning with the practical aspects of science.

In 1957 JETS was established as a non-profit corporation with support from industry. Headquarters are still on the MSU campus, with offices also in the United Engineering Center in New York.

Among its activities, JETS sponsors a two-week program in engineering each summer. And every year for the last three Lake Park has sent a student. This summer Karen Anderson, a junior from Itasca, will represent the school and attend lectures on mathematics and engineering, as well as perform experiments and do individual research.

THE LAKE Park JETS chapter, like all others is autonomous. When a local group affiliates with JETS nationally, however, it does receive help in the way of highlights of other chapters' activities, a film index, scientific publications and the services of the Engineering Society Library.

The national organization also provides state and area coordinators, and for each chapter a local technician or engineer who gives technical assistance and serves as co-adviser. Lake Park's technical assistant is Lester W. Burns of Itasca, Manager of Advanced Engineering at the Elgin Sweeper Company.

Nomenclature of officers is patterned after a flight crew to fit the name JETS. At Lake Park the Pilot, or teacher-adviser, is science department Chairman Benjamin Thompson; the Engineering Adviser, Burns. Thompson and Burns work together on getting speakers and planning tours and other activities for the group.

STUDENT officers are Captain, or president, Wesley Struebing of Bloomingdale; First Officer or vice president, Dale Johnson of Roselle; Communications Officer or secretary, Sharon Daugherty of Roselle; and Navigator or treasurer, Gary Graziadei of Roselle.

A recent national survey shows that 91 per cent of JETS members enter college; 64 per cent of them in engineering.

Three Prospect Juniors Cited As Historians

By CHERI DORNQUAST

The Illinois History Magazine has chosen three Prospect students to receive special recognition awards as "Student Historians of the Year.'

For four consecutive years Prospect has had one student historian. This is the first time that more than one has received the honor.

Throughout the school year, the magazine has published the best articles from high school students in the State of Illinois. At the end of the school year, the 26 judged most outstanding were chosen.

The authors of these articles will receive special awards, four of which will be monetary.

THE THREE Prospect students are Bobbi Butz, Jeff Bates and Roger Meyer, all juniors. Their articles were published in the May, February and March issues respectively.

Bobbi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James T. Butz, 807 Dresser Dr., Mount Prospect, wrote about "A Great Librarian," William Frederick Poole. Poole was the first librarian of the Newberry Library and the Chicago Public Library.

When asked about her reaction to having her article chosen, she replied, "I was completely shocked, and, of course, very excited."

Jeff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Bates, 1317 E. Campbell, Arlington Heights, chose Abraham Lincoln and "Much-Quoted Myths" about the great President. Jeff said, "Everyone hopes that his article will win, but you never really expect it."

ROGER, SON of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton W. Meyer, 115 S. Elm, Mount Prospect, focused his attention on "Atomic Energy," specifically the Dresden Nuclear Power Station, one of the largest all-nuclear plants in the United States.

These three students along with Rodney Jean, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jean, 408 Oak, Mount Prospect; David Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hunter, 214 Dale, Mount Prospect; Diane Siewert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert L. Siewert, 910 N. Stratford, Arlington Heights; Darryl Einhorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Einhorn, 206 N. Eastwood, Mount Prospect; Chris Thorpe, 406 Oak, Mount Prospect, and Alex J. Schmidt, the students' history teacher, will attend the "Student Historians Award Day" to be held today at the Illinois State Fair Grounds in Springfield.

Certificates of achievement will be presented by Governor Otto Kerner.

Afterwards, the students, their teachers and parents will attend a reception at the Governor's Mansion. (10Y

19 Musicians Enter Tri-M

By NANCY PONTONI

The Modern Music Masters (Tri-M) of Prospect High School increased their ranks by 19 Tuesday, in the Little Theater when they held their initiation.

New Tri-M members are Pam Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Baker, 414 S. Emerson, Mount Prospect; Jane Barnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Barnett, 610 S. Louis, Mount Prospect; Stephen Beck, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Beck, 1500 E. Campbell, Arlington Heights.

Sheryl Beiser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Beiser, 135 N. Stratford, Arlington Heights; Leslie Chisholm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Chisholm, 205 N. Forest, Mount Prospect.

MARILYN Frohberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Frohberg, 215 N. Russell, Mount Prospect; Duane Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Davis, 1504 E. Wing, Arlington Heights; Kathleen Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Graham, 205 N. Eastwood, Mount Prospect; Dana Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson, 1504 E. Campbell, Arlington Heights.

Jim Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnson, 312 N. Elmhurst, Mount Prospect; Gail McClellan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McClellan, 517 S. Edward, Mount Prospect.

Barbara McGrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McGrath, 901 Drury Lane, Arlington Heights; Janice Miner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miner, 421 S. Gibbons, Arlington Heights; Jeanne Pollard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Pollard, 624 S. George, Mount Prospect.

MARY WILWERTH, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilwerth, 226 S. Evanston, Arlington Heights; Ken Barr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barr, 518 S. Wille, Mount Prospect; Brand Gustus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Gustus, 633 S. Albert, Mount Prospect.

Roger Willis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Willis, 402 Ioka, Mount Prospect; and Carolyn Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Morris, 101 S. Edward, Mount Prospect.

The basis for selection of new members is an "A" in music, an overall "B" average for the semester previous to their initiation and an audition before the sponsors and the active chapter.

Entertainment at the initiation was provided by seniors Jim Brasic, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brasic, 210 N. Elmhurst, Mount Prospect; Gail Nix, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nix, 215 Wego Trail, Mount Prospect; Mary Hedstrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hedtrom, 213 N. Elmhurst, and Prospect's Mellotones.

Refreshments were served. Principal Alvin Kulieke, who was made an honorary member of Tri-M last year, spoke to the group.

THE SPONSOR of Tri-M is Terry J. Blackley. Sterling Mische and Howard Sandlund are co-sponsors.

The officers are president Lynn Hughson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hughson, 202 E. Council Trail, Mount Prospect; vice-president Karen MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. MacDonald, 604 N. Wilshire Lane, Arlington Heights; secretary Sofia Andoniadis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Andoniadis, 709 N. Fairview, Mount Prospect; and treasurer Dan Nixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Nixon, 501 Go Wando, Mount Prospect. (10Y

Potpourri of High School News

FROM OUR MAIL

Three area high school students have been accepted as students next year at Bryant and Stratton College in Chicago.

Pamela Linton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Linton, 3 S. Maple Street, Mount Prospect, has been accepted for an executive secretarial course.

Sandee Kim Schaerf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schaerf, 1203 N. Walnut, Arlington Heights, has been accepted for a fashion and retail merchandising program.

Carol Ann Schueler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schueler of 21W156 Par Lane, Itasca, has been accepted for a secretarial program.

Miss Schueler is a senior at Lake Park High School.

SHERRY HOROBIK has been accepted for admission to Augustana College, Sioux Falls, S. D. for next year. Sherry will graduate from Palatine High School in June. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward T. Horobik, 2106 Rohlwing Road, Rolling Meadows.

Kathleen Madalinski, 118 Wildwood Road, Elk Grove Village, has been awarded a tuition grant by Millikin University, Decatur, for the 1966-67 academic year. A senior at Forest View High School, she plans to major in physical education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benedict M. Madalinski.

Michael Willow, a senior at St. Viator High School, has been named as one of 84 winners of scholarships in the annual DePaul University scholarship program. The scholarships are awarded on a competitive basis for students planning to attend the college of commerce or the college of liberal arts and sciences. Ranging from honorary to full tuition, the scholarships are renewable over a four-year period.

Robert F. Westfall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis E. Westfall, 620 N. Chicago Ave., Arlington Heights, has been accepted for admission at Indiana Institute of Technology in Fort Wayne, Indiana, for the 1966-67 school year.

LAKE PARK HIGH SCHOOL
Seniors Honored

At the last Lake Park High School student assembly of the year Friday, next year's Student Council officers and representatives were introduced.

Newly elected president Bill Robinson, vice president Susie Vaughn, secretary Sue Hinkin and treasurer Judy Mikes received their oaths of office from Stanley Wheeler, acting superintendent.

This year's president, James Rusche, was then presented with the president's gavel in commemoration of his year of service to the Lake Park student body.

Lance (yearbook) president Ann Blair said that the 1966 yearbook would be dedicated to Mr. and Mrs. William Dexter, both Lake Park teachers.

Supt. Wheeler then praised the outgoing senior class and the seniors were honored by a standing round of applause from fellow students as the assembly closed.

FOREST VIEW HIGH SCHOOL
Supervisors Hosted

A program to provide jobs for students at Forest View High School has worked out so well that the employee-students will be hosting their supervisors at a luncheon at O'Hare Inn on Tuesday to show their appreciation.

Principal L. S. Jenness will present certificates to the firms which have cooperated by working with the students' Office Occupations Club. Linda Dorn is club president.

Harold L. Slichenmyer, superintendent of High School District 214, will be a special guest.

FRED PRETE

Senior Honored

Forest View senior, Fred Prete recently won a first place at the State Science Fair held at the University of Illinois on May 5.

Fred's project, entitled "Amino Acid Content and Distribution as a Determining Factor in the Regeneration of Durgeria Dorotocephala," was chosen from 960 entries.

Previously Fred placed first at the Northern Suburban Science Fair at Lake Forest College.

Upon winning, Fred commented, "I was really surprised. I didn't think I had a chance; some of the projects were really great."

Fred is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Prete, 2703 Cardinal Drive, Rolling Meadows.

Frosh Mixer

This year the freshman class of Forest View High School will sponsor an all-school mixer Saturday. The price of admission is 75 cents, which includes tickets to several different carnival games and dancing to a live band, The Chosen Few.

The carnival games will be set up in booths in the cafeteria. These games include a goldfish bowl, darts and, as a special added attraction, a kissing booth!

The dance will be held in Forest View's courtyard if the weather is nice, and ping-pong and volley-ball will be played in the gym.

Several Shadows albums will be given away as prizes to the winners of the games.

The freshman class is led by Barb Green, president; Jim Brookman, vice-president; and Jane Hester, secretary-treasurer.

This is the last school dance of the year.

Exhibits Shown

The six Forest View High School Industrial Art students, who won honors at the District Industrial Education Exhibit, will be competing in the State Contest this week.

The contest will be held at Illinois State University, Normal, where the winners—Anthony Geanconter, Fred Prete, Steve Spoeth, George Zeek, Kurt Koentopp, and Dwane Hall — will be competing at different levels.

The levels are as follows: Level I—Students in grades seven and eight; Level II—Students in grades nine-twelve who completed their project in their first year of industrial arts; Level III—Students in grades ten through twelve who have had two years of training; Level IV—Students in vocational Industrial Education classes and others not classified elsewhere.

Class Rings

Forest View High School is going to get an official class ring, thanks to the Boosters' Club. The ring will be produced by the Balfour Co.

Details of purchasing and ordering haven't as yet been worked out. This ring will be unique to Forest View because it was designed by a student committee. Prices will be considerably lower than those being paid now to local merchants.

During this month a viewing of the ring display will be available. Orders will be taken late this month for fall delivery.

It is the Boosters' intention to take orders in the fall and winter for delivery around Christmas, spring, and September.

ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL
Miss White Honored

Miss Betty White, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd White of 515 S. Pine, Arlington Heights, has been accepted as a member of the violin section of the Youth Orchestra of Greater Chicago.

This organization is made up of approximately 110 outstanding young musicians of the Greater Chicago area and from as far away as Rockford. The group, under the direction of Dudley Powers of the Northwestern University Music Faculty, rehearses each Saturday morning during the school year.

Betty, a freshman at Arlington High School, is a member of the high school orchestra and studies violin with Frank Pytlik of Arlington Heights.

SACRED HEART OF MARY HIGH SCHOOL
Fashion Show

The sewing classes of Sacred Heart of Mary High School sponsored a Fashion Show Tuesday.

Under the direction of Mrs. Herring, sewing instructor at S.H.M., 39 girls from the junior and senior sewing classes, modeled trendsetting clothes, including sports wear, casuals and school wear.

Nadine O'Brien, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Brien of Hoffman Estates, acted as commentator. All clothes modeled were made in the sewing classes.

Scholarship Awarded

Miss Lynn M. Rosenhauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert E. Rosenhauer, of 2290 N. Circle Drive Palatine, has been awarded a Chicago Archdiocesan Scholarship for undergraduate study at the Catholic University of America, the Most Rev. William J. McDonald, rector of the university announced, recently.

Miss Rosenhauer, a senior at Sacred Heart of Mary High School, will be one of more than 6,200 students at Catholic University, located in the nation's capital.

Students from every state and 68 foreign countries are enrolled in the 12 schools of the University, offering degrees in the entire range of arts, sciences and the professions.

Courses are given in 38 departments by over 700 faculty members, predominantly lay men and women.

Junior Dance

The Sacred Heart of Mary High School junior dance will take place Saturday from 8:30 p.m. to midnight in the school cafeteria and courtyard.

Decoration, purchased in Old Town, will follow the theme of "Lollipops and Roses."

"The Beachcombers" will provide the music for the couples attending the semi-formal dance.

Parent Council Program

The Parents' Council of Sacred Heart of Mary High School presented an informative program to the parents of SHM students Monday.

Sister Bernice, R.S.H.M., acted as chairman on a panel discussion of the 1966-67 curriculum. Participating on the panel were Sister Columba, R.S.H.M., principal of SHM, Sister Bernice, and Robert Batthof, assistant principal at Niles East High School.

The SHM girls' choir, under the direction of Miss Janet Nolting, music instructor, presented two selections, "Try to Remember" and a spiritual "Ride the Chariot."

PALATINE HIGH SCHOOL
Senior Class Gift

"Palatine High School" blocked out in two feet tall metal letters, which will be either aluminum or brass and which will be for the new addition, will be one of Palatine's 1966 senior class gifts.

The other gift, to improve the presently deficient sound system at Palatine, will include restoring tonality in Cutting Hall.

Edgar Trout, senior class adviser, said that the board of education will attend to this matter to a certain extent. Then the senior class will lend its assistance.

Present class funds contain about $700, out of which approximately half of the total will be drawn for each of the two gifts.

English Award Program

Four juniors from accelerated English classes at Palatine are entered in the ninth annual Achievement Awards program sponsored by the National Council of Teachers of English.

Beata Abbs, Pamela Conklin, Ross Parker, and Katherine Phillippe have entered materials showing their writing abilities and literary awareness.

Because the winners' names are sent to every United States college and university director of admissions, most awards finalists are admitted to one of the colleges of their choice, and many have been given direct scholarship assistance.

STEVENSON HIGH SCHOOL
Student Council

Greg Mercier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ludger Mercier of Lincolnshire, was re-elected president of the Student Council at Adlai E. Stevenson High School this week.

Other new officers include Dorn Schuffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schuffman of Lincolnshire, vice president; Pam French, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred French of Long Grove, secretary; and Gary Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Miller of Long Grove, treasurer. (15Y

More Than 100 In 'Fiorello'

THURS., MAY 19, 1966

High School Highlights

More than 100 students will participate in Adlai E. Stevenson High School's first annual musical, "Fiorello," to be presented in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Dorn Schuffman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schuffman of Lincolnshire, is in the title role of the scrappy young lawyer, Fiorello H. LaGuardia, who fights his way through Tammany Hall, civic corruption and personal tragedy to become one of New York's best known leaders.

OTHER SUPPORTING roles are carried by Joe Trexler, Tom Knight, Marilou Isaacson, Lynn Williams, Fred Runyon, Jon Comiskey, Sharon Diggs and Starr Cromartie.

William Misik, head of Stevenson's music department, will direct the production. Harold Ray, band instructor, will handle instrumental music and David DeBoalt, speech and dramatics instructor, is designing sets for the show.

Miss Mary Francis, English department instructor, is in charge of publicity. Costumes have been rented from a New York theatrical house.

Reserved seats are $2. Unreserved seats are $1.50 and may be purchased from music department members or at the

Wheeling Election

Willowbrook Students Offer 'Pajama Game'

The Willowbrook drama department will present the musical comedy, "The Pajama Game" May 26, 27 and 28 in the Willowbrook auditorium at 8 p.m.

The story is based on Richard Bissell's novel "7½ Cents." The author collaborated with George Abbott in making the conversion into a musical. The music and lyrics are by Richard Adler and Jerry Ross.

SOME OF THE song-hits from "The Pajama Game" score are "Once-A-Year Day!" "Hey There," "Steam Heat," "Hernando's Hideaway," and "There Once Was A Man."

The cast is: Hines, Dahl Kanold; Prez, Marty Adams; Joe Jack Hedquist; Hasler, Art Ahrens; Gladys, Linda Newhoff; Sid Sorokin, Clifford Lindhorn; Mabel, Lyn Fischer; 1st Helper, Mike Fleming; 2nd Helper, Ed Cefala; Charlie, Mark Johnson; Babe Williams, Jan Terpstra; Mae, Lauren Skarr; Brenda, Betty Marski; Poopsie, Kate Ruehr; Salesman, Terry Nelms; Pop, Ron Chambers; Worker, Mike Bailey; Chorus members; Carol Scott, Julie Moore, Claire Kraft, Cathi Bertram, Marylou Weber, Jill Owen, Chris Barton, Louise Satino, Kristine Robinson, Bill Kobler, Guy Bergquist, Alan Gaiden, Tom Gassard, Steve Beshekas, John Engstrom, and Mel Crum.

All seats are reserved and the admission price is $1.

To order by mail, make checks payable to Willowbrook High School, and enclose a self-addressed envelope. To order by telephone TE 4-9400 tickets may be picked up at the reception desk. Both orders should be directed to Doris E. White. (5Y

WILLOWBROOK High School's production of the musical comedy "The Pajama Game" will take place May 26, 27 and 28 in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. Shown above (l. to r.) are Lyn Fischer and Dahl Kanold rehearsing their parts of Mabel and Hines.

Musicians Rehearse

by JUDY ARNOLD

Sounds of music will float across the gym at Forest View High School on Thursday, May 26 as the annual spring concert is presented by the school music department.

This concert will include all the major vocal and instrumental groups. Concert Band "B" will play excerpts from the third movement of Symphony No. 3 by Johannes Brahams, "Samba for Flutes," by Eric Osterlings, and "Train in the Night" by Ralph Hermann.

Then the Freshmen Boys Chorus will sing "Bauna," arranged by Dave Guand and "Bells of the Sea" by Alfred Solman. The Freshmen Girls Chorus will sing "In a Monastery Garden" by Albert Ketelly and "Love Look Away" by Richard Rodgers.

The Girls Glee Club will present "Dear Hearts and Gentle People" arranged by Hawley Ades, "Dedication" arranged by Roger Parnwell, and Gavotte for Bach, arranged by Bennett Williams.

Then the graduating seniors will be recognized. After that the choir will perform "Last Words of David" by Randall Thompson, "Elyah Rock" by Jester Hariston, and "Smile, Darn Ya, Smile," arranged by Hawley Ades.

Concert Band "A" will present "Chorale and Capriccio" by Ceasar Giovannini, "Claire de Lune" by Clarle Debussy, and "Zacatecas," a Mexican march by Genardo Codina.

The program will conclude with Concert Band "A" and the choir combining in "Song of Democracy" by Howard Hansen. Harry Swenson, one of the directors, commented that this number was "one of the most challenging combined numbers that we've undertaken."

The "Song of Democracy" was written to commemorate the 100th anniversary of the National Education Association and the 50th anniversary of the Music Educators National Conference.

The words are taken from two of Walt Whitman's poems, "An Old Man's Thoughts of School" and "Thou Mother with Thy Equal Brood."

All three directors — Fred Elliot, Harry Swensen, and Vincent Ahnquist — feel that the program will be a great success and encourage good attendance.

Price of admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

Gary's Project on Gravity Among Best at Science Fair

Fifteen-year-old Gary Grunschel of Fenton High School has an average teenage awareness of current events, but the curiosity to carry this awareness a step farther.

The result of his initiative is an "Outstanding" award from the State Science Fair which was held at Urbana yesterday. Gary was one of 139 high school students honored with this highest award among several thousand entries.

Gary, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Grunschel, 16W740 Red Oak St. in Bensenville, received the award for his experiment on the effect of high gravity on mice. He is the first Fenton student to receive it.

GARY BECAME interested in gravitational force from accounts of the experiments in the astronaut program. "The effects of the experiments on astronauts are not available," Gary said, "and so I decided to find out for myself."

Equipment used in the experiments were constructed by Gary himself with advice from science teachers. Key to the project was a centrifuge containing two wire cages.

Mice were placed in the cages and subjected to varying amounts of gravitational force. Their respiration and heart beat were taken before and immediately after each experiment. Some mice were exposed to a gravity pull varying from 2 to 20 G's.

Among other conclusions, Gary's experiments showed that the heart rate will increase up to 50 per cent under extreme gravitational pull and that the mice will consume up to 25 per cent more air at 20 G's than they do at 1.

"I ALSO found that the more G's a mouse is exposed to, the more sensitive his nervous system becomes," Gary said. "Most mice suffer spasmodic convulsions after they have been exposed to 5 or more G's."

Gary explained that he felt his experiments were not as accurate as he would like them to be because the pulse and respiration could only be taken after the mice were again under normal gravitation rather than during the experiment.

"I have a lot of work still to do on this project," he said. "I hope to continue it again next year.' (5Y

Arlington Rail Plan Echoes Down the Line

Big Des Plaines Project Unveiled

by Dan Baumann
Staff Writer

Arlington Heights' ambitious downtown renewal plan has been echoed several miles down the Chicago & North Western tracks. Both developments have attracted considerable interest in the railroad towns of northwest suburbia.

A proposal to spur downtown renovation was unveiled in Des Plaines last MONTTH. Like the Arlington Heights plan unveiled a year ago, it deals with the community's common asset and common problem: the railroad.

BASICALLY, the Des Plaines proposal is to cap a four-block stretch of the railroad with parking ramps with a 12-floor tower, 180 feet high, stabbing the skyline in a one-block section between Pearson and Lee Streets. The structure would enclose office space for 1,500 people.

The approach is substantially different from that proposed in Arlington Heights. There, it has been suggested that the railway be depressed in a concrete channel through the downtown area with a combined transportation center, parking ramp and office tower built over the station, between Dunton and Evergreen Avenues.

While the two communities face the same problems in differing degrees, there is a basic difference in the approach of the proposals. The Des Plaines idea appears aimed at solving some of the downtown problems at a relatively modest cost; the Arlington approach seems aimed at solving most of the problems at substantially increased costs.

A main ingredient in the Arlington approach, not tackled by the Des Plaines proposal, is cross-town traffic.

THE MAIN problems apparently tackled in the Des Plaines suggestion — cost and timing — loom onerously in the Arlington plan.

Arlington would lower the tracks, at a cost of $16 million create a depression long enough to $22 million. (The smaller figure would create a depression long enough for grade level gridges at the major downtown cross streets; the higher figure would begin the depression at one end of the village and end it at the other).

Des Plaines' plan would not alleviate congestion created by at-grade crossings downtown. Rather, the city has approached that problem by trying to reroute main highway traffic around the downtown area.

Aesthetically, either plan would create additional problems. The Arlington plan would, in effect, create a wide ditch through the center of town. Its effect would be minimized in the downtown area by sale of air rights for construction over the depression. The Des Plaines plan would create huge, covered areas for elevated parking ramps. The view under the 1,500-car parking area could be less than attractive.

A SOLID proposal has been made in Des Plaines, while the Arlington thinking has remained somewhat vague. Advantages cited in Des Plaines are the creation of a huge modern office facility and downtown parking, creation of new jobs, more business and new tax revenues, improvement of neighboring property values, an early possible starting date and a moderate price tag.

Arlington actually has two proposals under consideration.

A downtown planning firm recommended depression of both the railway and Northwest Highway with the development at the key downtown location of a building straddling the wide depression. It would house rail, bus and cab terminal facilities, restaurants, offices and parking. The effect it would have on adjacent properties would be similar to the beneficial qualities cited in Des Plaines.

INDEPENDENTLY of the planning firm, the village has had a feasibility study done on the cost of depressing the railway only, and the figures which have been cited are only for track depression. The job of lowering the tracks would take several years. Temporary rail lines would have to be built, major dislocations could occur during construction, and there is some liklihood of damage suits by adjacent property owners.

But when and if it is completed, the track depression would end forever the congestion caused by lowered railway gates. (A15

SQUARE DANCE CLUB NEWS

Dorothy Meyer CL 3-2298

STATE CONVENTION

"In" square dancers throughout the Chicago and suburban area will be heading for the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago tomorrow evening to attend the second annual Illinois State Square Dance Convention.

According to a report via convention chairman Herb Johnson, do-ci-doings in the Conrad Hilton will include discotheque — and if square dance a-go-go isn't "in" we wonder what is!

Other attractions on schedule for the wonderful weekend of dancing will be such features as a style show, the latest in rounds, sing-alongs and a truly impressive roster of topnotch callers.

The style show, one of last year's most popular "extras," will again be in the fashion-conscious hands of Edna Manson, who caters to the male vanity as well as the female.

Convention publicity also mentions "specialties" and we've heard unofficial rumors that a group of Palatine Squares will be performing — but nobody's talking so the only way to find out what that's all about is to see for yourself. To see all there is, to enjoy the finest in dancing, to have a weekend to remember — join the trek to square dance heaven tomorrow, Saturday or Sunday, or go there tomorrow evening and stay put for the whole weekend.

Reservations and complete convention information are available through your local club or via Bill and Dee Gresens, 25 E. Chestnut St., Chicago. Go, go, go.

BUCKS AND DOES

The Elk Grove dancers are concluding their most successful season with a year-end schedule of special events that will keep everyone in a happy-hectic tizzy through mid-June. On the weekend following the state convention, they'll have their regularly scheduled Saturday night dance, May 28, and then appear Monday, May 30, in the Arlington Heights Memorial Day parade with other neighboring square dance clubs. After a brief breathing spell they'll have their annual Jamboree, June 11, and next day take part in the Elk Grove Village Tencennial celebration.

At the mike for their final regular dance a week from Saturday night will be guest caller, Don Chafa of Iowa, sharing the night's program with round dance leaders, Carl and Marie Peterson. Dancing begins at 8 o'clock in Dempster Junior High School (use the west entrance, please) and continues until 11 o'clock. Everyone's welcome.

Jamboree time means a full roster of callers and this year's lineup includes Bucks and Does' regular, Paul "Foggy" Thompson, co-starring with Pat Braffet of Big Rock, Art Mathews of Chicago, Ralph St. Pierre of Herscher, Earl Thompson of Racine, and Jerry Whitebread of LaGrange. The Petersons will be there, too, leading the rounds between tips. Dempster School's two big gyms are reserved for the event, local high schoolers, The Twirling Teens, will serve refreshments, there are "extras" on the schedule — and you wouldn't miss it for the world, would you? Eight o'clock is square-'em-up time.

The village's tencennial party will include afternoon and evening performances in Forest View High School by WGN's Barn Dance cast, and the Elk Grove club will appear in both shows. Tickets for the performances are available from Danny Hagen, phone 824-3870.

BRONCO SQUARES

Barrington club members invite everyone to help them wind up the 1965-66 season tomorrow night when Paul "Foggy" Thompson takes the mike in Grove Avenue Grade School for the year's grand finale. Round dance workshop with the Sanders starts at 8 o'clock, Foggy squares 'em up at 8:30, and Broncs will be there to welcome guests at either time.

With the club's last invitation of the season goes lots of thanks to everyone who helped make the year a good one for the Broncs — who hope to be able to say, "Thank you," in person tomorrow night. Be there!

ARLINGTON SQUARES

Among conventioneers at the Conrad Hilton this weekend will be some jailbirds who actually brag about being in the clink last Friday night. A five-square crowd of Arlington Square club members visited the local pokey following their Black Cat Dance, set up their record player and danced behind bars!

This earned them a Jailbird badge to pair up with the Black Cat badges available to everyone at the club's Friday the 13th dance; it might also have prompted a jailbreak but the cells were unoccupied at the time. Rumors that the dancers were invited to remain behind bars are unfounded . . . according to one of them who nevertheless wore stripes to work Monday.

The pre-prison portion of the evening was wildly successful, too, with 110 couples turning out for the rare Friday the 13th event. Three banners in the temporary custody of the host club were retrieved, Black Cat badges were distributed, Jim Smith called up a storm — and the refreshment committee went dashing out for more supplies to sustain the unexpected crowd. It was a fitting climax to a wonderfully good year for the club. (A-15

Hypertension Talk for Staff

"Hypertension" will be the topic of Dr. Clifford G. Pilz when he lectures Tuesday to the medical staff of Northwest Community Hospital.

Pilz, associate professor of medicine at the Chicago Medical School and assistant chief of the Medical Service at the West Side Veterans Administration Hospital in Chicago, currently is directing a study as part of nationwide research on hypertension.

His talk will conclude the current lecture series for Northwest Community Hospital's medical staff. (B10

Can't Pull the Load

State Constitution Needs Streamlining

The possibility of a convention to write a new constitution for the state of Illinois has attracted attention, the result of an exchange of letters between State Rep. Marjorie Pebworth and Gov. Kerner.

Mrs. Pebworth is chairman of an interim legislative committee concerned with constitutional reform. When she asked Kerner for his reform suggestions, he proposed that only the governor and lieutenant governor be elected by the people and that all other state officers be appointed by the governor. Naturally, such a proposal made headlines.

Illinois' constitution was adopted in 1870. The fact that it has endured for almost a century with only occasional amendment is a tribute to the good job done by its drafters.

It is self-evident, however, that a rather detailed document drafted for a horse-and-buggy rural society is far from adequate for the needs of today.

Some of the specific flaws of the constitution are its overly detailed and now inappropriate regulation of banking, commerce and transportation, the scattering of fiscal responsibility, the lack of flexibility allowed local governments, a factor stifling that is initiative and achievement at the municipal and county levels, and, of course, the antiquated revenue article, which may be replaced at next November's election.

Adopting a new constitution is not an easy process. First, two-thirds of both houses of the state legislature must vote for a convention. Then the voters must approve in a referendum. All this must be accomplished before the convention delegates can even be chosen and begin work.

The delegates would have to agree on a document and the voters approve it in another referendum. Only then would Illinois have a new constitution.

But it would be worth the trouble. The benefits would be more than the obvious one of having a modern constitution. Illinois badly needs a thorough discussion of state government—its goals, methods, and basic assumptions.

Operation of the legislature has not provided this discussion. Legislative decisions and debates seldom get beyond the level of partisan politics. Basic decisions are often reached privately by agreement between political bigwigs rather than through discussion and debate.

Frequently, important proposals emerge from last-minute chaos, with many legislators not really knowing on what they are voting. This was actually the way the proposed new Revenue Article cleared the legislature last June.

A constitutional convention would also bring new blood to the center of the public affairs stage. New faces are needed in Illinois to take over from some of the tired political has-beens and machine wheel horses. A constitutional convention would provide some new faces, as it did in Michigan a few years ago when it projected men such as George Romney as public figures.

Fortunately, more people realize every day that effective state government is the only real antidote to bigger federal government. This growing realization brightens the chances for calling a state constitutional convention in the not-to-distant future.

Impressive Tributes

Two announcements last week paid special tribute to the memory of Helene Bristol, education editor of Paddock Publications who died December 31, 1965.

The Little Theater at Arlington High School will be renamed in honor of Mrs. Bristol.

The recommendation to so honor the late editor, included in a report by an administration-board-teacher committee, was approved at the High School District 214 board meeting. A memorial plaque will be installed in the theater at a ceremony honoring Mrs. Bristol.

Also announced last week were first recipients of Helene Bristol Memorial Scholarships.

Larry S. Jenness, chairman of the scholarship program's executive committee, said a total of $1,000 would be shared by Christine Wasik of Palatine High School, Linda Meyers of Forest View High School, and Cheryl Lee Dornquast of Prospect High School. The balance in the fund will be held over for 1967 grants.

Since establishment of the scholarship fund earlier this year, more than $1,400 has been contributed by individuals and organizations in northwest suburbs. Renewable on an annual basis are donations of $400 from Northwest Suburban Division, Illinois Education Association; $100 from High School District 214 Teachers Association; and $100 from Paddock Publications. The drama staff at Arlington High School raised $400 for the fund with an unprecedented benefit performance of the school's winter production, "The Fantasticks."

These honors are impressive recognition of the esteem in which Mrs. Bristol was held by newspaper colleagues, school officials, teachers, and civic leaders. We are proud to join in paying tribute, not only to a skilled reporter, but also to a warm and spirited human being.

Man's Last Refuge

Only the ultra-conformist is willing to let government regulate every detail of his life. Most of us let out a yell now and then when it appears the lawmakers are writing too many laws.

Sometimes the yell comes from a lawmaker himself, who feels his colleagues are overextending themselves. Such was the case in Mount Prospect recently when Trustee Robert Teichert led a successful effort to defeat a proposed ordinance that would have made it mandatory for owners of outdoor storage sheds to bolt them to a four-inch masonry floor.

"The less government we have infringing on the citizens of Mount Prospect, the better off we are. This ordinance is not for the health, safety, and welfare of the citizen," Teichert contended. The majority of the other trustees sided with him and defeated the ordinance.

In an age when statistics and computers seem to be taking over, when everything is given a number, when privacy is invaded and individuality blurred, man may seek some refuge in his home, hopeful that there at least he will be master.

Officials should make doubly sure that public welfare is truly involved before interfering with this last refuge.

Critic's Corner

What Might Have Been...

by JACK NEUKOM
Staff Writer

Are you one of the thousands (or millions) of people who secretly wish they were doing something else for a living?

I am.

For the past six years I've been a reporter. My secret ambition? To be a top flight jazz musician or an airlines pilot.

And I'm no different from the thousands who every day yearn to be a major league baseball player, a millionaire oil man, president of General Motors, a college professor, a model, or a truck driver instead of a mailman. You can add your secret ambition to the list.

NEUKOM

One of my desires — to become an airlines pilot — is out of the question. I'm not only too old to begin training, my poor eyesight (nearsightedness coupled with color blindness) would be a stopper.

MY SECOND ambition can still be attained, if only on a part time basis. But it, too, seems far away. I'm too lazy.

In grade school I played the drums. On entering junior high I graduated to the alto sax. Practice was scheduled for a half-hour each day. If I missed a day, or two, Saturday wound up being an all day practice session. That was the stopper. By the time I reached my junior year in high school, the sax was sluggish and in the closet, and the snares had been turned in for a baseball glove.

What if I had continued with the sax? I often wonder. Would I be in a different world entirely? Would I have been a second Vito Musso, or a Stan Getz? The answers will never be known.

I AM LUCKY in one respect. My father's insistence that I take music lessons opened many doors for me as a teenager.

When I wanted to see one of the name band leaders of the 1940s, there was never a hesitation on his part. The money was there for tickets and transportation.

I saw a few of the great ones. Woody Herman, Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey, Harry James, Duke Ellington, Red Norvo, Louis Armstrong, Stan Kenton, Dizzie Gillespie, Gene Krupa, Benny Goodman. Many are still playing today, but not with the same verve. Woody Herman has put his clarinet away for good. Others have died.

The ones I didn't see, I heard on old 78 recordings — recordings that still take up storage space in my home.

AFTER HEARING a Fletcher Henderson or a Johnny Guarniere on the piano; Cootie Williams, Shorty Rogers or Sunny Berman on trumpet; Don Lamond on drums; Boots Mussulli, Georgie Auld or Musso on sax; Eddie Safranski on bass; and Milt Jackson on vibraharp, you would think the urge to play like them would be overwhelming, and practice sessions a cinch.

Now, when I switch on the radio and hear the Amboy Dukes, Shadows of Knight, the Beatles, or other equally noxious group twanging away on year-old guitars and singing nasal tunes, I shudder. I shudder to think that years from now someone will have a secret ambition. An ambition to turn in his milk route and become an overnight recording sensation with an electric guitar and a four-pound crop of hair.

But as I said before — I can still become a musician. Just like you can still become an artist, a head waiter, jewelry store operator, or whatever else your secret ambition wants you to be.

I think I'll try the trumpet this time. Lessons begin next week. No, I'll start next month. Better yet, I'll wait 'till you start.

Man in the News

He Gets 'Involved'

by DAN PRIBILSKI
Staff Writer

"Well, it won't make me any more popular with my wife," Harold B. Smith Jr. kidded when asked to devote some time to an interview on a Saturday.

Smith, a native of Barrington dispelled any fears that arose when he informally chatted with a reporter about his wife.

"That's a standard statement I make," he laughed.

REALLY, SMITH explained, being a company vice president, Barrington Township Republican committeeman, citizens chairman of Scout-O-Rama, and suburban vice chairman of the Metropolitan Crusade of Mercy, does not take all his time.

"Getting involved" is no harder or time-consuming, he stated, than just sitting in front of the television all the time.

Being a politician first and foremost on the local scene, Smith preferred not to be quoted about some other local activities he's been involved in.

"PEOPLE MIGHT misunderstand my motives," he commented about these other activities. He cited a few. They were for general community good; but in practical situations, one could see how his being a "politician" might hurt them.

HAROLD B. SMITH JR.

Smith, 33, is vice president of operations of Illinois Tool Works. He has an engineer's degree from Princeton University.

His wife, Frederica, also is a native of Barrington. They have four daughters, ranging from one to 10-years-old.

"Having all daughters really hasn't gotten me involved with the Boy Scouts," Smith mused. But he was appointed citizens chairman in a similar manner to the way he became vice chairman for the northwest suburbs for the Crusade of Mercy. "I have some good friends who are in these activities so I was appointed."

HIS GREATEST love, however, is not the volunteer work for these various civic organizations. Politics is.

At 33, he is nearly the youngest, and one of the most prominent, of Republican organizational men.

Politics became a second occupation for him in 1957 when he helped start the Young Republicans.

Since the YR beginning, he had held various officer posts in that organization.

In 1962, Smith was elected Barrington GOP committeeman.

THIS MARKED the beginning of the "new look" in Republican politics in Barrington — old guard out, new guard in.

This year, running uncontested, he is devoting his time to the campaign of Republican state senators and particularly that of John A. Graham, incumbent 3rd district senator from Barrington who is battling Robert O. Atcher of Schaumburg and William Davies of Streamwood.

He is chairman of the Illinois state citizens committee for state senate promotion. This is a GOP action group drawing up "white papers" on the issues and positive aspects of Illinois Republican policies.

"For years and years the GOP did no spade work," Smith commented regarding Republicanism in Barrington Township. He has considered it his job to do that spadework and develop an organization.

BUT BEYOND "just getting out the vote," Smith believes a committeeman or organization politician on the local level must concern himself with policies and issues.

"We had been offering the people no programs," he said. "We were just against things. Now through such things as the state senate committee organized programs are being reported to the people."

Smith wishes more people were interested in party organization work.

"They're short on interest in the organization end," he commented.

SMITH IS very indefinite on future plans. He does not have ambitions to gain elective public office and at this moment is not thinking of higher positions in the party.

His wife, he commented, bears with him in his "outside" activities.

"She's interested in politics," he said, "but she's happy when I want to discuss it or not discuss it."

Smith is a man who says he has plenty of time for his family. He said he manages one vacation a year. Among his interests are fishing, golf and photography.

Cummins Comments

'Baby, Baby...Yeah...Yeah'

by BOB CUMMINS
Staff Writer

It was only a few months ago that I had my first encounter with a combo practicing in a garage.

I was strolling along a north side street—Frederick Street, I think it was—when I heard the unmistakable sound of the beat. Perhaps at first I thought it was someone's radio turned up too loud. But as I came closer I realized the music was coming from a garage, undoubtedly the one where a throng of 15 or 20 neighborhood urchins had gathered. In the driveway leading to this garage, the children had parked their bicycles and tricycles and were standing in a ragged arc outside the garage door, watching and listening with mixed awe and amazement.

CUMMINS

YES, THERE WAS the combo, rehearsing its repertory. The drummer . . . the guitars . . . the long hair . . . the youth at the microphone singing "Baby, baby, baby. . . yeah . . . yeah. . ."

Since that day I have seen and heard many combos practicing in many different garages all over town. Obviously, a garage isn't just garage any more. It is playing a role the architects never dreamed of.

I wonder which builder will be the first to produce a garage specifically designed for combo practice? I can imagine his ad: "Two-car garage. Wired for microphone. Storage cabinet for drums. Free manual on 'How to Tune a Guitar' with every purchase."

LOTS OF PEOPLE are beginning to worry about bad acoustics in their garage. And justifiably so. With plasterboard walls, bare rafters, and concrete floor, garage acoustics are apt to be dreadful.

"Do combos sound awful in your garage? Then call Ace Garage Remodelers for a free acousticizing estimate. Our skilled craftsmen are trained musicians as well as master carpenters. They can give you a garage that brings out the full beauty of a combo at surprisingly small cost. F.H.A. terms, of course."

Listen to this unsolicited testimonial:

"Dear Ace Garage Remodelers:

"Our combo was practicing in a garage with poor acoustics and getting nowhere. But after Ace Garage Remodelers acousticized the place, we were asked to be guest stars on radio. Now we have been invited to our first record date! Sincerely, The Livers of Chicken."

POOR ACOUSTICS aren't the only problem. Another serious one is parents who want to park the car in the garage. This forces some combos out into the street. But I think I have the answer.

I am looking for some alert entrepreneur who will join me in building garages that can be rented for combo practice. I think this will be the next big thing. Remember how successful other innovations have been—miniature golf courses, pizza parlors, etc.?

My only big problem with combo garages is zoning. I talked to the chairman of the zoning board and they have only one area zoned G-3, Combo Practice Garage. It's in a swamp out by Lake Zurich. I don't know. . .

School Leaders Hear:

Federal Aid Needed; So Are Improvements

Suburban school people heard both an endorsement and a warning regarding federal aid to education at an Illinois Association of School Boards tri-county meeting in Libertyville Tuesday evening.

The audience, which included local school board members and top administrators from Cook, DuPage and Lake Counties, heard Dr. B. J. Chandler, dean of the Northwestern University school of education, take both positions.

Chandler, in the keynote address at a meeting focused on "Local, State, Federal Relations —Partnership or Competition in Education," asserted that federal aid is "both essential and desirable."

He said the aid is essential if school districts are to benefit from a diversification of wealth that make the traditional property taxes relatively unimportant.

FEDERAL aid is desirable, he declared, because it will make it possible for all school districts—not just the wealthier ones — to innovate.

His own preference, the education dean declared, is for general aid rather than the categorical aid now offered by the federal government. But such aid must include some accountability, he added, stressing the difference between accountability of fund usage and control of school administration.

At the same time the Northwestern University administrator warned that there is substance behind arguments against federal aid to education.

He said sarcastically that federal aid programs are "replete with examples of special approaches that indicate that Congress and/or the U. S. Office of Education best knows what needs to be encouraged in your school district."

DR. CHANDLER urged continuing citizen interest in current — and proposed — legislation, saying that if school boards don't want bad laws they must mix into politics at the point where a bill can be amended rather than after it has passed.

The increasing importance of federal funds to Illinois school districts was stressed by the Northwestern dean. He said that currently federal aid represents five per cent of an average school district's budget. By 1970 this may rise to 15 per cent, he said. (A15

2,000 Registered For Summer School

Elk Grove School District 59 has received 2,000 registrations for summer school, reported summer school Dir. Allan Lawson on Monday.

In his proposal to the school board in December, Lawson estimated enrollment would be about 1,200 students. On this basis, the district decided to ask for state aid for the program.

Lawson said the large number of registrations means that the 90 District 59 teacher applicants probably will be used and some may be hired from outside the district.

Registration for subjects has showed as much concentration on "enrichment" as remedial subjects. Physical skills and creative art are two popular enrichment subjects, according to Lawson. Dramatics and creative writing probably will be dropped from the program because of lack of interest, he said.

LAWSON SAID maps showing the bus routes for the summer school session will be distributed to children the last week of the current session.

Summer school will operate June 20 through July 18 at Salt Creek, and Rupley schools in Elk Grove Village; Forest View Elementary School in Mount Prospect; and Einstein School in Des Plaines. The two junior high schools also will be open.

Delegates Chosen for Synod Meet

The Church Council of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, Prospect Heights, appointed F. A. Gilbert of Palatine and Gustav Erickson of Arlington Heights as delegates from the congregation to the Fourth Annual Convention of the Illinois Synod of the Lutheran Church in America to be held May 23-26 at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago.

Pastor Albert W. Weidlich of the congregation is also a delegate.

This convention is the fourth of the 175,000 member Illinois Synod. Dr. Robert A. Marshall is president of the synod and will chair the convention.

Portrait of a charming home looking for a rather particular family...

Airy trace
In Prestige Arlington Heights.

The homes at Airy Trace prove — if there was ever any doubt — that there is no legal limit on imagination. And that's why they're so exicting to live in!

The Heritage is a fine example. There is plenty of room for the kids to grow up in, and to express themselves without disrupting the neighborhood. The living room is big, light and airy. The family room is built for fun, family parties and informal affairs. There is a somewhat formal, separate dining room, and lots of breakfast space in the kitchen. The dramatic use of space makes the first floor of the Heritage a wonderful place to spend your waking hours.

When the time comes for you to withdraw from the real world — the "Grown-Ups' Suite" of the Heritage is all ready for you. The very large master bedroom, master bath and dressing room, and the adjoining, luxurious sitting room gives you a private apartment in which to think, relax or just recharge your batteries for a busy day tomorrow.

Come out and see us this week-end if you can. We'll be delighted to see you — and our time is your time.

Prices from $30,500 to $37,900

Father Sullivan Leaves Saint Theresa's Parish

Rev. Raymond J. Sullivan has been transferred from St. Theresa Church, Palatine, to St. Agnes Church, Chicago Heights.

He is well known throughout the northwest suburbs for the work he has done in human relations.

On Tuesday, May 24, he will be honored at 8 p.m. by members of St. Theresa parish at the church school hall, 445 N. Benton, Palatine.

AT THE SAME time, parishioners will welcome St. Theresa's new assistant, the Rev. Stanley Kozlowski.

Announcement of the transfer by the Chancery of the Chicago Archdiocese was made Wednesday, May 11.

Father Sullivan, who served at St. Theresa for nearly 14 years, was the chairman of the Palatine Human Relations Commission, a body he took a strong hand in forming in 1964.

On May 23, 1965, Father Sullivan celebrated his 25th year as a priest.

Prior to the death of St. Theresa's pastor Rev. Arthur O'Brien in April, 1965, Father Sullivan was the parish's administrator. He continued in this capacity until February of this year when the chancery named the Rev. James Dolan pastor.(B10

15 Workshops Planned at PTA School

Randhurst Council of PTA's will offer 15 workshops at its annual school of instruction on May 25, at 9 a.m., South Community Baptist Church, 501 S. Emerson, Mount Prospect.

The session will open with the annual meeting of the Randhurst Council and a luncheon will be served at noon. Adjournment will be at 2:45 p.m.

The council presents the school, an instruction course for PTA executive board members, each spring after local PTA unit elections, to enable incoming officers and chairmen to receive valuable training prior to their year's work. The sessions are also important to established board members and principals.

THE WORKSHOPS, which are led by ICPT District 37 coordinators and council board members are conducted informally and questions are encouraged. Each session includes a discussion period and established officers are urged to share plans and ideas with the newcomers. The workshops include: presidents; secretarys; treasurers, budget and finance; exceptional child; program and yearbook; PTA magazine and publications; school education; ways and means; legislation and executive committee; membership; parent education; principals; publicity and newsletter; room representative and hospitality, and scholarship.

In addition to PTA board members, school superintendents, principals and teachers will attend the luncheon and workshops. Over 300 persons are expected.

Mrs. Charles Green, president of Randhurst Council, advises: "The school of instruction is considered to be the most important step of training for any PTA executive board member. Attendance at this session is essential if one is to become an effective member of his board."

1914 FORD COUPELET

This car is the most practical two-passenger model we have ever built. When the top is folded, the Coupelet becomes an open Runabout of unusual smartness and style.

The change from closed to open car can be made in two minutes, so that Coupelet is quickly adaptable to all conditions of weather and driving.

It is especially popular with women who drive their own cars. As convenient and exclusive as an electric.

For physicians, architects, contractors, and all business and professional men who have to cover a great deal of territory it is admirably suited.

The Ford Coupelet may be driven twelve months in the year, in the city or over country roads, without personal discomfort, no matter what the weather.

Its distinctive style and attractiveness give it an exclusive appearance not found in any open runabout.

Buyers of this car will share in profits if we sell at retail 300,000 new Ford cars between August, 1914 and August, 1915.

Autos Big Source of Sales Taxes

Almost half the sales tax revenue received by the Village of Arlington Heights is derived from automobile sales and service, including filling stations.

This was revealed in the latest figures released by the Chamber of Commerce, which shows that of the $2,301,038 collected for Illinois retailers' occupational tax in 1965. $952,567 came from the automotive field. One half of one per cent of this tax money is returned to the village for municipal government operation.

A four-year comparison, from 1962 to 1965, shows that auto sales have consistently provided in the highest tax collections in Arlington Heights, increasing each year from $622,838 in 1962 to the 1965 figure. Food sales rank second, with $52,747 collected last year. (UC

VICTOR SANTI (left), sales manager for Roto Mercury Sales, Inc., Lincoln-Mercury dealership at 1410 E. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights, is congratulated by M. J. The award is presented annually to the outstanding sales managers who successfully achieve the profit and penetration objectives of their respective dealerships. (UC

Occupy Pediatrics Dept. on Monday

Equipment and supplies will be moved Monday into the pediatrics floor of the new Northwest Community Hospital.

The move, postponed from last Monday because of construction problems, marks another step towards completion of the $3.5 million building program. The new pediatrics center will increase from 12 to 26 the number of patient beds, according to Leonard Genung, assistant administrator of the hospital.

The first and second floors were occupied last month. The first floor houses administrative offices and an employee cafeteria. The second floor is being used as an obstetrics center.

THE FOURTH floor, expected to be occupied by the first week in June, will be used in the treatment of patients under non-surgical care.

Genung explained that the original building will undergo reconstruction during the next several months. The biggest project will be the installation of air conditioning.

Genung said the entire building project is not expected to be completed until January, 1967. (B10

Day Camp Program Set at Farm School

A day camp program for retarded children will be held again this summer on the grounds of the Countryside Farm School. The program is open to residents in Wheeling and Palatine townships in Cook County, southwestern Lake County, and southeastern McHenry County.

There will be two four-week sessions starting on June 13 and July 11. Children must be between 4 and 15 years of age, ambulatory, and able to take care of basic needs. Camp activities will include games, arts and crafts, swimming, music, and field trips.

PARENTS WILL be required to furnish transportation to and from the school.

The program will be under the direction of Mr. Gerald Ray, a physical education instructor, who has conducted the program for several years. He will be assisted by counselors who have had experience in working with retarded children. High school students interested in volunteering should contact the Countryside Farm School.

Interested parents may call Ralph E. Walberg, Executive Director, Countryside Association for Retarded Children — 438-6151. (B10

SUSIE SCOUT Says

Arlene R. Novy 392-4679

ROLLING MEADOWS

A tent outing was half in and half out as Troop 808, headed by Mrs. Robert Llewellyn, were nearly rained out over the April 22-23 weekend.

The 36 Junior Scouts set up nine tents in the back yard of Mrs. Charles Bremer. Assisting were Betty Wilkerson plus Cadettes Jackie Park and Susan Walter of Troop 812. Although a rainy night the weather did not dampen the spirits of the scouts as they cooked hamburgers on the grill and sang songs around the campfire.

"Oklahoma," staged by the students of Arlington High School, was viewed with much enthusiasm by Troop 141 recently. Mothers joining leader Mrs. Elmer Tucker were Mrs. Charles Newman and Mrs. C. H. Green.

A Court of Awards was attended by mothers of Cadette Troop 42 recently. Cadettes receiving their Emergency Preparedness pins were Caroline Cantwell, Cathy Ulbrich, Pat Waldron, Karen Korbal, Louise Waymel, Karen Morrissey, Nancy Weger and Nancy Curtis. Janis Roberts was unable to attend because of illness. At the completion of the awards the girls gave the mothers a brief demonstration on what they did to earn this challenge.

Mrs. William Roberts, the leader, is assisted by Mrs. Frank Bonac.

ELK GROVE

Junior Troop 446 went on a tour of the Elk Grove fire station April 26 conducted by Mr. Len Zgonina. He showed the girls all the fire fighting equipment, trucks and new living quarters and kitchen. The scouts were accompanied by leaders Mrs. Alan Hindmarch and Mrs. V. A. Cullen and scout mother Mrs. E. E. VN Cleave.

Junior Troop 204 has been busy with a number of projects. They are making safety posters to be placed in the area stores and are working on a collage mural for the Elk Grove Tencennial. The girls, under the direction of leaders Mrs. Harry Mikkelsen and Mrs. Harold Greaves, are also making Kiddy Kits for the children in Viet Nam.

Brownie Troops 943 and 185 from Rupley School have been baking and decorating cookies the past month.

Leaders Mrs. D. R. Becker and Mrs. Jack Perno kept Junior Troop 193 busy making spring hats for use as tray favors for Walther Memorial Hospital. (BB

Selection Simplified

Everett Callaway, manager of the Northwest Suburban Employment Service office, announced that the Job Corps is now speeding up its recruitment program and has simplified the selection process to permit assignment five days after interview at the local employment office.

Job Corps candidates, Callaway said, will not need physical examinations for the present; however, candidates should be in good health. Obvious handicaps may cause any applicant to be ineligible.

Boys between ages 16 to 21 interested in taking advantage of the opportunity for training and new experience, should register with the Des Plaines office of the Illinois State Employment Service any day Monday through Friday, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. (B 10

Edges Easy

Solid lumber needs no cover-up for exposed edges, as along shelving, sides of cupboards and cabinet doors. Edges of boards have the same handsome grain as the sides.

New Scout Troop To Receive Charter

An official charter will be presented to the new Boy Scout troop at Maryville Academy tonight at 7:30, according to Don Cyrier, 325 S. George, Mount Prospect, organization chairman for the North Star District. Presentation will be made in the gymnasium of the academy.

Immediately following the installation of troop leaders and sponsors, 40 new scouts will participate in candlelight ceremonies by Rotary-sponsored Explorer Post 267 of Mount Prospect. The boys will receive their first scouting rank - tenderfoot.

LEADERS OF the new troop include: Scoutmaster John Miller, 120 N. Kenilworth, Mount Prospect, and assistant scoutmasters Joe Crisanti, 580 Wakiki, Des Plaines, and Robert Cishek, 1820 Bonita, Mount Prospect. Additional adult leadership is being sought by Don Cyrier (CL 9-2441).

Some 50 additional boys will be invested into the troop as soon as additional adult volunteer leadership is secured from nearby communities.

Local Eagle Scouts and St. Viator high school boys are assisting in the program, which has already included an eight-mile hike and a week-end camping trip.

The new Troop 238 claims the distinction of being the only troop in the council located across the road from "Camp" meaning Camp Baden Powell, located in the forest preserve nearby.

The camp ranger and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. John Saranzek, said they really enjoy having the boys from Troop 238 visit and use the camp. (B10

Driver Discipline Actions Reported

Three northwest suburban residents have had driver's licenses revoked for driving while intoxicated, according to last week's report from the office of Secy. of State Paul Powell.

Listed were Adam A. Tomlanovich, 109 E. Rand Road, Arlington Heights; Gary L. Britt, 7500 Elmhurst Road, Bensenville, and Jerry L. Sopko, 209 Oak St., Itasca.

The license of Ronald G. Stone, 803 Oltendorf, Streamwood, was revoked for three violations. Listed as having licenses suspended for three violations were: John E. Fixari Jr., 224 Brashares Drive, Addison; and Mark E. Gullett, 114 W. Fremont; Gail B. Klingenmaier, 615 W. Wing; Grant C. Merrill, 523 E. Algonquin; Sotero Pequeno, 1351 Algonquin Road; William J. Raasch, 209 N. Dryden; Lawrence P. Sullivan, 404 N. Chestnut; and Peter C. Wolff, 714 S. Highland—all of Arlington Heights.

ALSO NAMED as suspended for three violations were: Richard G. Ferrell, 323 N. Marshall Road; John L. Koberling, 206 S. Miner, and Gloria J. Swiercz, 17W211 Woodland—all Bensenville residents; George W. Gibson, 179 Forest Place, Buffalo Grove; Roger W. Kantola, 387 Bianco, Elk Grove Village; Philip C. Straff, 187 Jamison Lane, Hoffman Estates; and Charles L. Gille, 930 N. Wheeling Road; David C. Harris, 303 We-Go Trail; Richard D. Meyers, 804 N. River Road; and Roger C. Omer, 1701 Cottonwood Lane—all of Mount Prospect.

Others with suspensions for three violations were Charles E. Heise Jr., 150 Grissom Lane, Roselle; Frank J. Larek, 146 Maxon Lane, Streamwood; and Thomas N. O'Brien, 517 S. Milwaukee, Wheeling.

Daniel R. Becker, 141 Bonnie Brae, Mount Prospect, and David L. Bauer, 208 Forest, Roselle, had their licenses suspended for violating restrictions on license or permit.

Probationary permits were issued to Gerald V. Peters, 650 Iowa St., Addison; Daniel R. Bufanda, 1227 Wilke Road; Glenn W. Miller, 715 E. Euclid; Sotero Pequeno, 1351 Algonquin Road; and Robert C. Rush, 303 N. Drury Lane—all of Arlington Heights; and Benedict M. Charlins, 571 St. Mary's Parkway, Buffalo Grove.

ALSO TO Roy A. Groth, 121 W. Flagstaff; Charles E. Heise Jr., 150 Grissom Lane; and Ted T. Reynolds, 105 Alpine Lane—all Hoffman Estates; Richard D. Meyers, 804 N. River Road, Mount Prospect; and Warren E. Hattendorf, 154 N. Fremont; James S. Stewart, 36 E. Colfax; and David W. Wistar, 340 S. Circle Drive—all Palatine.

Other permits went to Peter Bayard, 1416 Linden Lane, Prospect Heights; Thomas J. Fitzpatrick, 2073 Adams St., Rolling Meadows; and Scott E. Samples, 24 Victoria Lane; and Robert W. Sheldon, 835 Parkside Circle, Streamwood.

Revocation of the license of Norbert F. Michalski, 1147 E. Plate Drive, Palatine, was rescinded following receipt of information from the Municipal Court of Chicago that a previous report of a guilty finding on a charge of driving while intoxicated was in error, and the defendant was found not guilty of the offense.

Cite Knowledge Gap On Economic Facts

Cook County residents who don't know the facts of life — economic life, that is — think "profit" is a dirty word.

That's one of the facts revealed in an Opinion Research Corporation survey of more than 500 Cook County residents. This and other facts obtained from the interviews were told Monday by Albert H. Messer of New York City, president of the Brand Names Foundation, which sponsored the survey.

"The Cook County survey shows your opinions are typical of national feeling about business and profits," said Messer, at a meeting of the Sales Marketing Executives of Chicago in Hyatt House, Lincolnwood.

"We certainly got some surprises," said Messer, "when we asked Chicago and suburban area people what they thought of business, profits, and such things as competition and 'cents-off' bargains at the supermarket." Some of the comments: ". . . A business career for young people is for the birds . . ." Stores sell an item for "whatever price they feel like selling it regardless of cost." ". .Th.ey just jack up the price 'til the sale is off, then go back to the regular price . . ."

To counteract such misinformation about retailers and manufacturers, the Foundation has begun a year-long campaign in Cook County whose slogan is "When Products Compete — You Win."

Campaign Head Named

Republican senatorial candidate William T. Davies' campaign for the Third District senate seat, is headed up by Rob Sowersby of Northbrook.

Sowersby is well known to local Republicans for his work on behalf of Congressman Donald Rumsfeld and Charles Percy.

Sowersby was north suburban district co-ordinator for Percy when he ran for governor, and headed up five townships for Percy.

He is a precinct captain in Northfield Township and on the executive committee for the Northfield Township Regular Republican's Organization.

Sowersby, 32, lives with his wife, Mary, and two children in Northbrook, and is a stock broker with Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith, Inc., in Chicago. (B10

Staff Honors Two Doctors

Holy Family Hospital medical staff recently honored Dr. William R. O'Conner and Dr. A. J. Faber, former presidents of the staff, by presenting them with a recognition plaque.

Dr. O'Conner served as chief of the staff in 1964-65, and Faber headed it the year before. Faber currently is chairman of the hospital's general practice department and serves on the Holy Family executive committee.

The two doctors were honored at a quarterly staff meeting.(B10

Hesse Is Endorsed By BGA

Robert L. Hesse, Republican candidate for state representative from the Third District, has received the endorsement of the Better Government Association.

Hesse is an attorney and partner in the Chicago firm of Hackbert, Rooks, Pitts, Fullagar & Ponst. His emphasis is in the fields of trials, transportation law, water and air pollution.

He was formerly an elected trustee for the Village of Palatine and Palatine Township Attorney.

He is a member of the faculty of John Marshall Law School and also has served as lecturer at Northwestern University and at the Lawyer's Institute.

HESSE IS running unopposed for the post of Palatine Township GOP Committeeman and has been a member of its executive board.

He is a senior warden and former vestryman of St. Philip's Episcopal Church in Palatine.

Hesse attended the University of Pennsylvania and Kenyon College where he graduated magna cum laude.

He lives at 1313 Michele in Palatine with his wife Pat and two daughters. (B10

At Illinois

University Theatre players at Illinois State University presented "Royal Gambit" in Westhoff Theatre in the Centennial Building on the Normal campus.

Crew members assisting with the production included Carol Pugsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pugsley, 9 S. Reuter, Arlington Heights; Elaine Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Adams, 133 Brookfield, Mount Prospect; Kathleen Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Johnson, 916 W. Wildwood, Prospect Heights, and Allan Williams, son of Mrs. Elaine Williams, 173 George Road, Wheeling. (10CC

At Northern Illinois

Joan Haegele, 216 S. WaPella, Mount Prospect, was nominated as one of the finalists for queen as a result of the May Fete primary election, in which Northern Illinois students voted.

Gayle Zimmerman, 300 Ardmore, Roselle, was elected to the May Court. (15CC

At Clarke College

Marilyn Keehan, Boschome Circle, Long Grove, has been elected treasurer of the student body at Clarke College, Dubuque, where she is a sophomore majoring in English.

The daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James E. Keehan, Miss Keehan is a graduate of Mother McAuley High School, Chicago.

At Upper Iowa

The art works of Kurt J. Engle, Upper Iowa University senior, will be displayed at the University during Commencement weekend, May 28 and 29, according to Phil Manning, head of the U.I.U. Art Department.

Engle is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Engle, 115 E. Willow Street, Arlington Heights. The art major is minoring in biology and plans to teach following graduation this month.

Included in his senior art exhibit will be oil paintings, drawings, sculpture, ceramics, prints, design projects, and water colors.

A member of the U.I.U. Art Fraternity, Engle also holds an assistantship in the art department, and serves as a counselor in the men's dormitory. Last year he received the Baker Memorial Award in science.

Kurt and two brothers, Terry and Peter, will recieve their bachelor's degrees in Commencement exercises at Upper Iowa on May 29. (10CC

At North Central

Robert Stevens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert I. Stevens, 102 Maricopa, Roselle, is a member of the Madrigal group, which appeared in costume at a recent concert on the campus of North Central College, Naperville.

Stevens, a sophomore, is among the 12 students whose repertoire includes English and European madrigals of the 16th and 17th centuries. (5CC

At Southern Illinois

Michael Flanagan, 2723 Montclare, Bensenville, plays "Capt. Jack Boyle in the Southern Illinois University Player's production of "Juno and the Paycock."

The play is an Irish melodrama by Sean O'Casey and is directed by Archibald McLeod, chairman of the theater department at SIU.

The performances will be in the air-conditioned playhouse of the newly completed Communications Building. (5CC

Investor's guide! A Cadillac remains unmistakably a Cadillac regardless of year. New or previously-owned, its impressive size, its remarkable beauty and its continuity of styling have all contributed to Cadillac's reputation as the finest of all luxury car investments.

Every day, more and more wise car buyers are discovering that they can get more performance, luxury, distinction and pride of ownership in a previously-owned Cadillac than in many new cars of lesser stature. For example, Cadillac engineering has always been so advanced that many features of Cadillacs several years old are just now finding their way into new cars of other makes. And Cadillac has for years provided as standard equipment automatic transmission, power steering, power brakes, power windows and power seats on most models, automatic cornering lights and many other conveniences that even now cost extra on most new cars Consider, too, the extra reassurance of motoring in an automobile of Cadillac's impressive size and stature. Before you buy your next car, be sure to look for your authorized Cadillac dealer's used car sign. It is the best possible landmark for a wide, attractively priced selection of well cared for, previously-owned Cadillac cars.

United Church School Teaches Through, Not To

By SALLY LEIGHTON

"When kittens go to Sunday school, they don't learn. But maybe they can teach," says Mrs. Everett Huff, preschool teacher and member of the board of Christian education of the Congregational United Church in Arlington Heights.

What kittens can teach, stumbling over each other and snuggling closer to their mother, according to Mrs. Huff, is how God has planned for the growth of each of his creatures. Total, literally blind dependence of tiny kittens struggling for sustenance and a place nearer the warmth of the mother's body gives way gradually to independence and trusting playfulness. Later still come lessons from mother in survival. Then the cycle repeats itself.

The cat and kittens at church school is only a hint of the direction of the new education curriculum adopted in 1960. The whole series of lessons, so subliminal in the 3-year-old's group as to be almost invisible, is planned to carry the child's religious training through from nursery to adult levels.

"A CHILD learns about the love of God through the love of people. Here we try to stress loving relationships between people, beginning with teacher and child. A child comes to know he can trust us just as he can trust his parents. He sees that we accept him just as he is, just as God does, that he has a place here. Church seems a good place to be," Mrs. Huff explains.

While each age group has its own room, the same learning centers are set up in each one. There is a church center, which may be just a low table with a Bible and a basket for offerings, perhaps a cross on it. There is a family center, which points up the typical home situation, with a picture of "Sunday breakfast" hanging on the wall. There is a "wonder" center, where different aspects of God's wonderful world are regularly displayed for examination and discussion.

Stories and pictures supplied each age group reach the child at his own level. He is encouraged through sensitive guidance to explore who he is, where he fits and the meaning of Christian fellowship as it applies to him.

ACCORDING to experts in developmental psychology, the senses are pre-eminent in the preschool child. He learns best through what he sees, feels and experiences. He develops the ability to direct what maf be destructive energies into creative channels if given the opportunity.

"Through creative work," says Mrs. Huff, "The child learns to value his own God-given ability to make things, to translate his feelings and knowledge into art." An example of the child's love of doing this was a group of children eagerly cutting out animals with cookie cutters and homemade play dough after a lesson on the animal kingdom.

"In this way, the marvelous feel of 'icky-goo' is taken out of the verboten category and put into the class of desirable sensations. Finger paints, cutouts and clay are messy, but out of this chaos can come the production of what the child feels, in acceptable ways. The colors he chooses, the fish he fashions, the house of blocks he lovingly constructs — all these bring out the creator in him.

"Even washing up afterwards is satisfying, as the cycle of begin, work and finish is completed. We stress, 'This is God's house, and we must all help keep it clean.' "

NOT UNNATURALLY, the question is often asked teachers at a church school run somewhat like a Montessori center, "Just where does religion come in? What about the Bible verses the children should be learning and the songs about Jesus? Isn't the kind of thing you're doing here better left to a nursery school or, better still, to the home?"

There is little doubt that if every child were reared at home with the orientation of United Church of Christ's curriculum, the child at 6 would be well on his way to healthy growth in the knowledge and love of God and his world. God would be associated in children's minds with loving relationships, with creativity, with fun, with the notion of children's becoming ever stronger under God's care, ever more able to be good and increasingly helpful to others as well.

Much evidence indicates that unless a preschool child receives this kind of training (or to put it as Mrs. Huff prefers, "enjoys this kind of relationship") at church school, he may not get it at all. Aside from broken homes, or homes where the situation is unstable, the ordinary mother may not be aware of the values of sensory associations in religious instruction as in all learning.

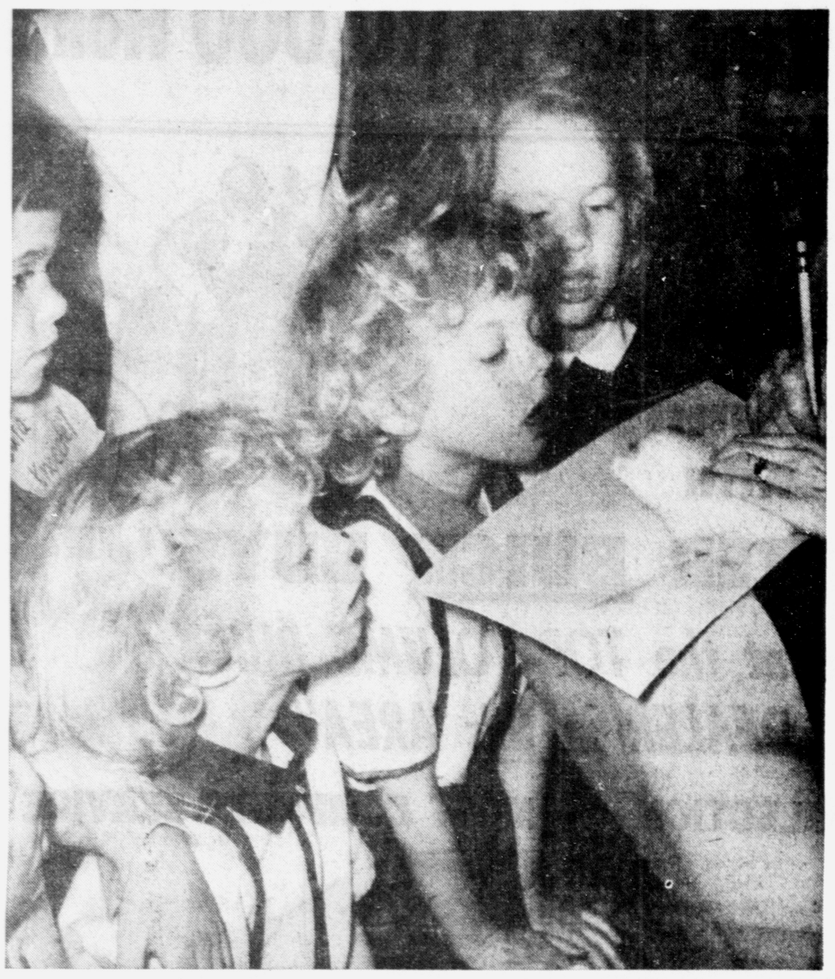
A CHECK with local kindergartens reveals that a small proportion of 5-year-olds is familiar with a wide variety of creative materials.

"You can almost say," said one principal, Philip C. Worland of Park School, "that if it's messy, they've never used it. This is a nationwide problem, and this parental attitude includes the child's later desires to 'mess around' with cooking or with the tool room. No one wants to be bothered. The implications for learning restrictions are obvious."

Even if every child had a home where creative chaos reigned over orderly sterility, there is a question whether there should be a different approach on Sunday.

"The child has the same basic needs and possibilities for growth and learning on Sundays as on other days," says Mrs. Huff. "We can't give him strictly religious instruction here and expect him to absorb that any better than he would any other abstract lesson. We feel we must work with children as they are, whatever day of the week it may be."

BECAUSE a program like this requires a low teacher-pupil ratio, as well as mature women as teachers, it is difficult to maintain. But those involved in the system are committed to it and work very hard to keep it going. While they do not give stars for memorizing Bible verses, they give mental kudos to the child who progresses from a severe selfishness to a relatively less adamant attitude. "This is much more epnemeral stuff to try to track to the satisfaction of parents than a stack of tickets for knowing biblical passages. It would be so much easier to say, 'We've 'covered' this section or that.' "



GOD'S PLANS for each of his creatures become more vivid to these five-year-olds at the Congregational United Church of Christ, when they are able to see—week by week—the way a kitten grows. Watching their Sunday School teacher measure the size of this two-week-old kitten are Paula Knoechel of 1713 Verde, Mount Prospect; Diane and Denise Melbo of 415 S. Yale, Arlington Heights, and Judy Livermore of 315 N. Yale, Arlington Heights.

Mental Health Clinic Appoints Dr. Ecks

Appointment of John A. Ecks, M. D., as acting medical director of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic was announced this week by LeRoy Marks, president of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association which operates the clinic.

Dr. Ecks will be available to the Northwest Clinic 20 hours a week. In addition, he will continue his work at the DuPage County Mental Health Clinic, as well as the Tinley Park State Hospital.

DR. ECKS

ACCORDING TO Dr. Ecks, he particularly enjoys working with therapy groups, but he feels that most of his time, for the present, at the Northwest Mental Health Clinic will be spent in diagnosis.

Dr. Ecks is a graduate of the Marquette University School of Medicine. He did his internship at Milwaukee County General Hospital and his residency at the Illinois State Psychiatric Institute.

Married to a registered nurse, Dr. Ecks and his wife are the parents of two children, Michael 2, and Margaret Mary, 8 months He and his wife, at present, live on the grounds of the Tinley Park State Hospital.

THE CLINIC, presently located at 1711 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, is preparing to build its own building adjacent to the Surrey Ridge School, also in Arlington Heights. The new facility will greatly enhance the services, particularly to children, which the clinic can offer, Marks said.

The Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic serves the communities of Arlington Heights, Elk Grove, Hoffman-Schaumburg, Mount Prospect, Palatine, Rolling Meadows, Wheeling, Buffalo Grove, and their surrounding areas. (B10

Maine Congregation To Observe Shavuot

"Happy Birthday, Torah! Happy Anniversary, Judisiam!" will be the sermon of Rabbi Jay Karzen at the Mark Twain School, 9400 N. Hamlin, Des Plaines at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow (Friday).

The bar mitzvah of Gerald Lanski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lanski, 9459 Park Lane Des Plaines, will be celebrated Saturday, at 9:30 a.m. at the Mark Twain School.

THE MAJOR Jewish festival Shavuot will be observed Wednesday and Thursday, May 25 and 26. The holiday commemerates the giving of the Ten Commandments on Mount Sinai 35,000 years ago. Shavuot therefore is the birthday and anniversary of the Jewish religion. Holiday services will be recited at 9362 Hamlin, Des Plaines, at 9:30 a.m.

Junior congregation services will also be conducted. Yiskor memorial services will be performed Thursday, May 26, at 10:30 a.m. (B10

Kerner Appeals For Clean Streams

This week (May 15 through 22) is Clean Streams Week in Illinois, as proclaimed by Governor Otto Kerner.

The proclamation, drafted and signed in a Chicago meeting with Col. Frank W. Chesrow, president of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago, and district trustees, urged all citizens, industries and public agencies to make "every effort toward the rehabilitation of our waterways.

"The rivers, lakes and streams of our state are an inheritance from our forefathers for us to hold in trust and pass on to our heirs in an unspoiled state," the Governor continued. "Pollution of our waterways is often the result of carelessness and thoughtlessness.

"RECREATIONAL areas of our state depend for their continued use on clean waters, and the time of year when such recreational pleasures are to be enjoyed most is now and during the summer months."

Colonel Chesrow, who had requested the proclamation, noted that debris thrown into streams and water courses not only turns naturally beautiful recreational assets into eyesores, but also obstructs the flow.

"Thus, junk and refuse thrown into streams build up during high flow periods into natural dams which can turn the smallest stream into a flood menace.

"In our own year-round stream cleaning program at the district, we come across almost every kind of debris imaginable — furniture, electrical appliances, farming implements, shopping carts — even junked airplanes.

"WITH THE summer ahead of us, we ask all citizens to think twice before discarding anything into our waterways — even if it's only an empty cigarette pack. If each citizen is conscious of that, he will be giving the clean streams program of the district and other agencies a meaningful boost in the threefold objective of improving stream capacity, minimizing stagnancy, and improving beauty."

Colonel Chesrow observed that, with increasing local and national attention being drawn to the necessity for clean waterways, there has been noticeably less trash thrown into streams in the district.

"However, it is still a major problem," he said. "We are hiring extra summer employees to augment our regular clean streams force.

"The Governor and I urge that every week this summer—and every week in the year for that matter — be considered a clean streams week." (B10

Graham Slated To Attend Meet

Sen. John A. Graham, R-Barrington, will attend a dinner meeting of the State of Illinois Motor Vehicle Laws Commission in Springfield Wednesday, May 25.

Among those attending will be representatives of the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board, Henry M. Vanderstek of the Automobile Manufacturers Association, Detroit, Mich.; Charles Copley, Air Pollution Commissioner for St. Louis; together with representatives of the Secretary of State's office, the trucking industry and other organizations that are interested in the subject of air pollution in the State of Illinois.

Sen. Graham is a ranking member of the Illinois Senate Motor Vehicle Laws Commission. (B10

Some Volkswagen owners look down on other Volkswagen owners.

When you graduate from a Volkswagen Sedan to a Volkswagen Station Wagon, you really step up in the world.

The Station Wagon stands a good foot taller than other cars.

And it holds more than the biggest conventional wagon you can find.

But the VW Wagon isn't only tall.

It's also short.

We saved 4 feet of hood in front by putting the engine in back.

Big as it is inside, it's only 9 inches longer than the Volkswagen Sedan.

So people who move up to the high-slung model still feel very much at home.

They park in the same little spots.

They still don't worry about freezing or boiling; the engine is air-cooled.

They still go a long way on a gallon of gas (about 23 miles) and a very long way on a set of tires (about 35,000 miles).

And it just tickles them to drive one Volkswagen and look down on a million others.

NOT ONE RED CENT

With Enco's new Home Heating Modernization Plan you just can't lose.

Not even one red cent! We guarantee it.

How come? Because the Plan actually pays for itself out of fuel savings.

You get a brand new "Watchdog" oil burner, completely installed. Plus a 5-year maintenance agreement on parts and service.

We will also prove that the cost of the entire package can be paid for out of your savings in fuel and service on your old burner.

Backing up our promise here is an unconditional written guarantee of both savings and satisfaction from the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

This means you must be completely satisfied. Otherwise we will remove the new burner, reinstall your old equipment and give you back any money you have paid.

Call your local Enco Oil Heat office for full details. And reverse the charges. (That way it won't even cost you a thin dime.)

Do it today! BI 7-2600 or Enterprize 5858.

Hospital Leader Given Medallion

The Martin Luther Medallion has been presented to N. M. Nesset, president of the board of trustees of Lutheran General Hospital, Park Ridge, and Lutheran Deaconess Hospital, Chicago. The medallion was presented by Lutheran Brotherhood fraternal insurance society, at a dinner May 10.

The medallion is the same medal presented to the Kings of Norway, Sweden and Denmark.

Nesset was cited for his work in establishing and building Lutheran General Hospital and for his work on behalf of the Lutheran Institute of Human Ecology, parent organization of Lutheran General Hospital.

PRESENTING the medallion was Carl F. Granrud, Minneapolis, chairman of the board of directors and chief executive of Lutheran Brotherhood. The dinner noted the attainment of $2.5 billion worth of insurance by Lutheran Brotherhood.

The citation accompanying the medallion acclaimed Nesset as "a scientist, business leader, family man and church worker."

"An example of his work is Lutheran General Hospital for which he worked unstintingly. Under his leadership and guidance, the hospital has developed into one of America's outstanding health centers," the citation says.

Nesset was elected to the board of trustees of Lutheran Deaconess Hospital in 1955 and became president in 1957. Under his leadership, Lutheran Deaconess Hospital planned and built Lutheran General Hospital.

NESSET RECEIVED a B.A. from St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn. He earned an M.S. and Ph.D. in biochemistry from the University of Wisconsin.

He resides at 469 N. Ela, Inverness. (B10

He currently serves on the board of the Chicago Chapter of the American Statistical Assn. as its treasuer, and is chairman of the Chicago Chapter of the Economics Dept. of the American Institute of Banking, where he is an instructor in economics.

HAVING COMPLETED his undergraduate work at Northwestern University, Else received his masters degree in economics from the University of Illinos and has done additional graduate work at the University of Chicago.

The couple is known for their active interest in Republican affairs, having each served as precinct block captains and on the board of directors of the Regular Republican Organization, for which Else is the current treasurer. They are members of Grace Lutheran Church in Prospect Heights. (B10

Auction Is Planned by Radio Club

The Northwest Amateur Radio Club will hold its annual ham auction on May 24 at 8 p.m. at its regular meeting place, the Carriage Room of Drake Funeral Home, 625 Busse Highway, Park Ridge.

Ham equipment and assorted other electronic gear will be auctioned. Equipment may be donated to the club or the owner may set a price, with the difference between that sum and any higher bid going to the club.

THE AUCTION is held to help defray the cost of the club's annual participation in "Field Day." "Field Day," a national contest run by the American Radio Relay League, is an emergency preparedness drill during which "hams" set up temporary stations to prepare for possible disasters.

Interested parties are invited to attend the auction on May 24 or one of the regular meetings on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month at 8 p.m. Further information may be obtained from Jim Scott, W9CWH, phone 253-5094; or Orin Volland, W9NYP, phone 255-4183. (B10

Campaign Chief Named for Moore

William J. Moore, Republican Candidate for State Representative from the Third District, this week named R. A. Franzen, Arlington Heights attorney, as general campaign chairman of all Moore - for - Representative groups.

In making the announcement of the appointment before a meeting of "Republicans for Moore" the candidate stated, "The acceptance of this position of responsibility by Rolland Franzen, a Republican prominent for his activities on behalf of our party throughout this third representative district, again emphasizes the breadth of support my candidacy for this office is attracting."

Franzen has long been identified with the conservative Republican cause in this area, having been an active leader in past successful campaigns for Margueritte Church and Donald Rumsfeld for congress, and for Barry Goldwater in the 1964 Presidential race.

He has also made a substantial civic contribution through wide service to many local community groups including present responsibilities as the director of the United Fund Board and as a member of the Northwest Community Hospital Board.

He also is a past president of the Northwest Suburban Bar Association.

FRANZEN, IN HIS remarks to the group commented, "GOP voters in this district want and deserve a candidate who will be truly representative of their thinking and responsive to it.

"Bill Moore has shown an awareness of this public feeling that no other candidate has demonstrated, and his voting record over four years on the Arlington Heights Board of Trustes is ample evidence that he has the necessary ability and integrity to be the kind of State Representative this district neds."

Moore also announced at the meeting that Edward J. Bieg, 706 Grego Court, Prospect Heights, has accepted the position of chairman of Moore's campaign for Prospect Heights, and that Robert J. Sklodowski, former assistant attorney general under William L. Guild, last Republican to hold that office, had been appointed chairman of the Northfield Township campaign organization for Moore.

Moore told the group that further campaign appointments and endorsements by Republican leaders in the area would soon be forthcoming. (B10

Candidate Surprised By Party

Robert O. Atcher, a Republican candidate for nomination to a state senate seat, was surprised by a birthday dinner last Thursday at the Carousel Restaurant, in Arlington Heights.

Atcher, 52, mayor of Schaumburg, is opposing State Sen. John Graham (3rd) in the June 14, Republican primary.

Atcher was feted by officials of township Republican organizations in the 3rd District.

On the first try, Atcher blew out all eight candles on his birthday cake. Each candle represented one of the district's eight townships.

REPRESENTED, with their wives, were Ralph Martin, of Des Plaines, Maine Township deputy commiteeman; Buck Ayars, Northbrook, Northfield Township deputy committeeman; Judge Le Moyne Stitt, Palatine, representing Palatine Township;

Attorney Robert Bailey, Streamwood, representing Hanover Township; Raymond Stevenson; Prospect Heights; Wheeling Township special deputy committeeman; Fred M. Lambkin, of Des Plaines, representing Elk Grove Township; Schaumburg Township Assessor David Powers; and attorney George (Bud) Friese, Atcher campaign chairman.

Bailey, now in private practice, successfully prosecuted the recent Northlake scandal while an Assistant U. S. Attorney. Stevenson, an executive of International Harvester, served as acting Republican committeeman in Wheeling Township during the 1964 gubernatorial campaign.

Powers also is the Schaumburg Township Regular Republican Organization's campaign manager for Atcher in Schaumburg Township. (B10

Safe-Swim Training Planned

Training in use of the Safe Swim Defense plan formulated by the Boy Scouts of America will become a special activity of many Explorer posts and their high-school-age members, according to Leonard Shure of Skokie, health and safety chairman of Northwest Suburban Council. They will then help boy scout troops to organize and conduct safe swims as service projects.

ADULT LEADERS of Boy Scout troops and Explorer posts are encouraged to complete instruction in the Safe Swim Defense during the early summer months.

"The Safe Swim Defense plan promotes fun and fitness," Shure said. He named eight defenses to assure safer swimming: (1) qualified adult supervision (2) swimmers physically fit (3) exploration of swim area (4) older boys who are capable swimmers as lifeguards (5) a lookout posted (6) swimmers divided into ability groups (7) all swimmers paired as buddies and (8) intelligent discipdies and (8) intelligent discipline. The Mind-Changer.
(Rambler Rebel)
Ron and Loretta Armstrong had it in their heads that they wanted just a car. Now they have a Rebel on their minds (and one in their garage). What changed their minds? First, they took a reading on Rebel's Hialeah Plaid interior.* Then he slipped behind the wheel, and sank into the comfort of coil-spring bucket seats. But the clincher came when he slipped it into low, let it go and felt the mind-changing difference a 327 cubic inch V-8 makes.* Rebel is bigger, bolder... and now more powerful than ever. So why not see your American Motors/ Rambler Dealer! This could be the day you get carried away and end up with your Mind-Changer. Every minute of every working day, two more families make their choice a new American Motors car.

Carrozza Is New Road Commissioner

Lawrence Carrozza, 1303 Orchard Drive, Prospect Heights, became the new Wheeling Township highway commissioner last Wednesday.

He was appointed by the township board of auditors to complete the unexpired term of former Highway Commissioner William W. Luehring who died April 9. Mr. Luehring had been elected to a four-year term in April, 1965.

Carrozza was one of six applicants for the position interviewed by the board of auditors and the only applicant presently employed by the Wheeling Township highway department.

HE HAS BEEN an employe of the township highway department for the past five years. Prior to that, he worked for eight years in the state highway department.

Carrozza, 52, was born in Chicago and graduated from Austin High School. He moved to Arlington Heights 15 years ago and for 12 years operated a radio-TV repair business in his home. He moved to Prospect Heights a year ago.

Carrozza and his wife, Mary, have two children: Larry Jr., 13, a student at River Trails High School, and a daughter, Mrs. James (Carol Ann) Origer of Rolling Meadows. (ACM

Area Scout Leaders At Texas Meeting

Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Newton and Mr. and Mrs. Howard E. Gibson of Mount Prospect, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Fink of Prospect Heights are among nine leaders of the Northwest Suburban Council, Boy Scouts of America, attending the 56th National Council annual meeting in Dallas, Texas, today and tomorrow.

THE MEETING, attended by over 2,500 delegates, will feature reports on the national Breakthrough for Youth program, which has as its goal the placement of a scout unit within the reach of every boy in America, according to Russell E. Larsen, president of the Northwest Suburban Council.

The 1965 national report of the Boy Scouts of America shows that there are 5,732,708 cub scouts, boy scouts, explorers and adults participating in the scouting program. During last year the total membership since 1910 passed the 40 million mark, and the 500,000th Eagle Scout award was presented. (ACM

Teacher Group Elects Officers

The River Trails Education Association of School District 26, covering parts of Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights, and Des Plaines, elected officers at the recent May meeting.

President of the teacher group is Fred Thayer. Other officers are Mrs. Mary Belle Jarrett, president-elect; Miss Georgene Leininger, recording secretary; Mrs. Dale Rosenfield, corresponding secretary; and Miss Kay Lonsby, treasurer.

THE NOMINATING committee consisted of Marty Ratner, chairman; Mary White, Glen Englehardt, Sally Walter, Barbara Barrett, and Robert Sluty.

A tentative social calendar for the 1966-67 school year was presented by Madelyn Bernath, social chairman.

Kay Lonsby spoke on duties of a building representative. Each building in the district is to elect a representative to the education association by the end of this month. (ACM

Dist. 59 Learning Centers Awarded A $26,000 Grant

The Kettering Foundation, a privately endowed educational foundation, has given Elk Grove School District 59 a $26,000 grant in connection with district learning centers.

The grant will be used to provide the half-time services of a co-ordinator for visitors to District 59's learning centers. The person will handle dissemination of information about the learning centers.

The grant also will provide a full-time employe to do research on the learning centers.

DISTRICT 59 will be one of the approximately 20 school systems in the nation identified for study of specific educational innovations. The foundation is expected to provide national publicity on the district's learning center programs as a result.

Robert Brower, curriculum director for District 59, called the Kettering grant "a plum for the district."

He explained the research will allow study of what the school district has planned and what actually happens in learning centers. The research is based on Kettering's theory that school systems cannot place "laboratory-style controls" on programs for research purposes, but research is needed on operational programs.

Brower described a kindergarten-physical education neurological study the district is developing. The school district is considering the introduction of training from Reading Research Clinic of Chicago for selected kinderagrten and physical education teachers.

THE DISTRICT then would try a controlled study of children's progress with a neurological approach. Brower explained advocates of a neurological approach to learning difficulties believe some children have difficulty learning to read because of a gap in neurological development.

They believe exercises reducing the gaps will alleviate the neurological weakness and strengthen physical responses to reading.

Brower said the district is attempting "multifaceted approaches" to helping the slow learner. The neurological program would start in September if it is approved.

—On its teacher exchange proposal, Brower's report indicated East Hartford, Conn., is ready to initiate an exchange program right now. Monterrey, Calif., also show strong interest. "We wouldn't send out valuable personnel without assurance we'll get return value," Supt. Roger Bardwell commented.

—Plans are under way for a "school within a school" at Dempster Junior High School. From 100 to 150 sixth, seventh, and eighth graders with social, emotional or other learning difficulties will be identified and grouped to work together on major subjects under the direction of a team of teachers with special interest or background with such learning problems.

—District 59 also is investigating the feasibility of using automatic data processing services for sequential student records, the report said. A recommendation is expected by the end of the summer.

THE GOAL of the project would be to provide teachers with a readily available and understandable summary of children's academic histories. Records now are available in a central place, but they are by class rather than individual child.

Under a proposed system, information could be obtained on pupils individually, by class, school, or age group. Two computer companies have expressed interest in researching the project. (ACM

Assessor's Mobile Unit Hours Listed

The Cook County Assessor's mobile field office will be in Wheeling Township from May 24 to June 4th, according to John T. Peters, Wheeling Township Assessor. The unit, containing permanent record cards on all real estate parcels in Wheeling Township, will be located at Randhurst Shopping Center.

Any real property owner who has questions concerning assessments may visit the unit from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. every week day and from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

THE TAXPAYER should bring with him his tax bill receipt or should know his permanent real estate index number.

Field men will be available to discuss and answer all questions about assessments.

Sen. Graham Record Attacked by Davies

State Senatorial candidate William Davies, this week claimed that incumbent Sen. John Graham has continually shirked his responsibilities to the residents of the third senatorial district.

Davies mentioned the recent meetings of top federal and state officials in Barrington to discuss the possible placement of the atomic facility in the Barrington area, as one example of Graham's shirking of responsibility.

Davies said the possible placement of the atomic facility in the Barrington area, was the most important event to happen in the district in many years and aroused interest on a state wide level.

"Sen. Graham, however, didn't even show up at the meetings relating to the problem," and Davies claims that Graham explained his absence at a recent meeting of the Wheeling Township Republican Organization by saying he didn't go because, "I wasn't invited."

Davies claims this was a flagrant disregard for the people of the district who had a right to be represented at this meeting.

Davies maintains that Graham failed to represent the people at this meeting because he was afraid of the explosive nature of the problem and did not want to offend anybody.

Davies cited the second example of Graham's inefficiency by indicating that at a recent meeting of home owners in Hanover and Schaumburg Townships, Graham was asked his opinion on a problem the residents were having with the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Chicago, and he informed the audience that he had done nothing on the problem because nobody every wrote him about it or called him on the matter.

Davies stated that the problem was highlighted in local headlines for weeks and even was on Chicago television newscasts, and that Graham is grossly unaware of what goes on in his own district.

Davies pledged that if elected, the people of his district would know at all times what he was doing in Springfield and that he would know what was going on in all areas of the district and be vitally concerned with the problems of the whole district. (B10

Man Faces Stabbing Charge

A knife wielding Arlington Heights man is scheduled to appear in Niles court May 25 to answer charges of aggravated battery in the stabbing of his stewardess girl friend.

Ronald Wier, 24, of 912 N. Dunton, was arrested Friday night when Arlington Heights police were called to a service station at 1601 N. Rand Road. Wier had taken the girl, Miss Myrna Maloney, 24, of 1024 Boxwood Drive, to the station after stabbing her twice in his car, police reported.

THE QUARREL and stabbing occured near 706 W. Willow St., Wier told police. He then threw the knife away, police reported.

Miss Maloney, a stewardess for United Air Lines, was taken to Northwest Community Hospital Tuesday night where she was reported in good condition.

Wier was brought to the Arlington Heights station and later turned over to Cook County Sheriff's deputies when police learned the incident occurred in an unincorporated area of the county.

Candidates To Discuss GOP Needs

Wheeling Township's Republican voters will have a chance to hear both candidates for township committeeman at a candidates' night program sponsored by the Regular Republican Club Thursday (tonight).

It is the first and only scheduled public session at which the two candidates, Thomas W. Novotny and Eugene F. Schlickman, will speak to the same audience from the same platform, according to the club's program chairman, Robert A. Cagann.

"Gene and Tom will kick off the program," Cagann said, "and be followed by the five candidates for two state representative posts. The three state senator candidates will then speak. All candidates for the three offices have accepted invitations."

The program will be at the Arlington Heights VFW Hall, Yale at Northwest Highway, at 8:30 p.m. (ACM

District 59 Names Jr. High Principal

Appointment of the new principal for Elk Grove School District 59's third junior high school was announced this week.

Beecham Robinson, now director of the demonstration program for the gifted at Ridgewood High School in Norridge, will begin his duties in September at Holmes Junior High School in Mount Prospect.

Robinson worked on the English materials developed by the University of Illinois for the gifted program. He was a full-time assistant in the education department of the University of Illinois from 1960 to 1961. He taught English in the university's lab school for three years.

The 32-year-old Robinson decided to take the principalship although he had been offered a position with the University of Chicago's laboratory school.

He received a bachelor of arts cum laude from Georgetown University with a major in speech and a minor in English. He received his master's degree from the University of Illinois in 1959.

Robinson will help Gloria Kinney, director of teacher training project, and work on junior high school plans until he can assume direction of the Holmes Junior High School under construction. The school is located on the Forest View Elementary School site, 1400 Pennsylvania Drive, Mount Prospect.

Robinson's wife, Renate, will teach Spanish in the district.

(This is the first in a series of three articles designed to probe issues and answers surrounding the proposed $7,375,000 bond issue for construction of William Rainey Harper College.)

William Rainey Harper College has outlined a bold — and costly — plan aimed at meeting the challenge presented by the new concept of a two-year education.

Herper College officials will ask voters June 4 to endorse this ambitious plan by approving a $7,375,000 bond issue for 25 per cent of the proposed $29,500,000. The remaining 75 per cent would come from the state, providing the referendum is approved.

Some residents of the four-township area served by the college say the plan is too bold. Others say it is not bold enough. Still others express confusion.

The concept of a junior college is a far cry from what it was 10 or 20 years ago. The demands for more specialized training, combined with an increasing population, have brought more and more youths to pound on the doors of Illinois colleges.

THE TRAINING is no longer confined to the traditional liberal arts or general professional educational levels. Broadening technical demands have not been met by the existing labor force.

Private and public institutions alike throughout the state are finding it increasingly difficult to provide the scope of training needed. This is to say nothing of enrollment limitations colleges must set because of inadequate facilities. And apparently there is no relief in sight.

Studies show that by 1975 college-level enrollments in Illinois will require double the number facilities and faculty now available.

To meet the crisis the state legislature in 1965 passed what is described by the Illinois Chamber of Commerce as "one of the best junior college laws in the United States."

IT IS UNDER this law that William Rainey Harper College was formed. And it is under the provisions of the law that the college is attempting to meet the educational needs of its community.

Dr. Robert P. Lahti, Harper College president, this week spoke of this concept.

"If we can fulfill our job to the community," he remarked, "I would say we would get the most positive response from the public than would any other single institution in the area."

The beauty of this new concept — the community concept — is that the local public can identify this institution as "its own college," he explains.

"TELL ME," asks Lahti, "in what other type of higher educational institution could a student's parent call the president or board members and file a complaint that would be listened to?"

Harper College is a local college, meeting local needs and financed by local funds, he stresses.

"We cannot build what the administration or faculty wants," he notes, "but we must build what the community wants."

"When I first was hired I tried to pick up what the citizens in our district were thinking," explained Lahti.

Lahti said he first went to the citizens committee report which outlined four major roles of the college. These roles are to provide: (1) transfer and terminal curricula; (2) vocational-technical programs; (3) adult education programs; and (4) student guidance.

LAHTI RECALLED the programs outlined by the committee's report was the basis on which voters passed the $700,000 bond issue last year for establishment of the college.

This tax money is just beginning to be received by the college, he explained, and will be used for operation during the next fiscal year beginning July 1. The college district for the past nine months has been operating on a $100,000 grant from the state.

"We will offer the full spectrum of liberal arts courses which can lead to a B.A. degree if the student wishes to continue his education after two years," said Lahti, explaining the general character of the planned curriculum.

Vocational - technical courses will offer training in such specialties as data processing, nursing, electronics and the graphic arts. Lahti, replying to the question of whether such training would have any takers in an area where four-year professional education is heavily stressed, said "I don't think there is any question about the need for such training in this area." He admitted, however, that the program will have "to prove itself in every step."

HE ADDED that the vocational-technical dimension would constitute about 20 per cent of the curriculum during the first few years of the college's existence. When campus and curriculum are expanded, the program would take up about 30 per cent of the curriculum.

The adult education program would be equally as extensive. Lahti described it as an "extended-day program." That is, he explained, the college will be ready to offer any course included in the regular curriculum.

"We will offer anything in terms of adult education that is wanted by the adult population," Lahti stressed. He said the program will not be a repeat of course-work currently offered in area high schools.

Student guidance would be designed, said Lahti, to maximize success and minimize failure. Although doors to the college will be open to all residents of District 512 who wish to enter, current plans include what is described as a "selective curriculum." This program, through testing and guidance, would channel students into programs on the basis of their interest and abilities.

LAHTI SAID that the dropout rate during the first year probably would be no less than at a four-year institution. But he added that it is almost impossible to predict what this rate might be because there are so many reasons other than poor scholarship behind dropouts.

"You can't really venture a guess on this because so many students will return later," explained Lahti.

But Lahti reluctantly notes that from a purely economic point of view it would be much cheaper if a student dropped out of a junior college (a loss of $250) during his first year than if he couldn't make it at a far more expensive four-year institution (national average cost set at $1,500).

Enrollment size, of course, greatly determine what kind of an institution will be needed. Conservative estimates made by Harper College consultants from the firm of Arthur D. Little, Inc. show that the full-time-equivalent enrollment when the college opens in 1970 would be 2,800. This figure would increase to 5,000 by 1975 and to 7,000 by 1980, according to consultant reports.

LAHTI EXPLAINED that these tentative estimates were very conservative and that the predicted enrollment figures might be even higher when consultants submit the final report.

These same figures predict that about 30 per cent of the seniors graduating from area high schools would seek entrance to Harper College.

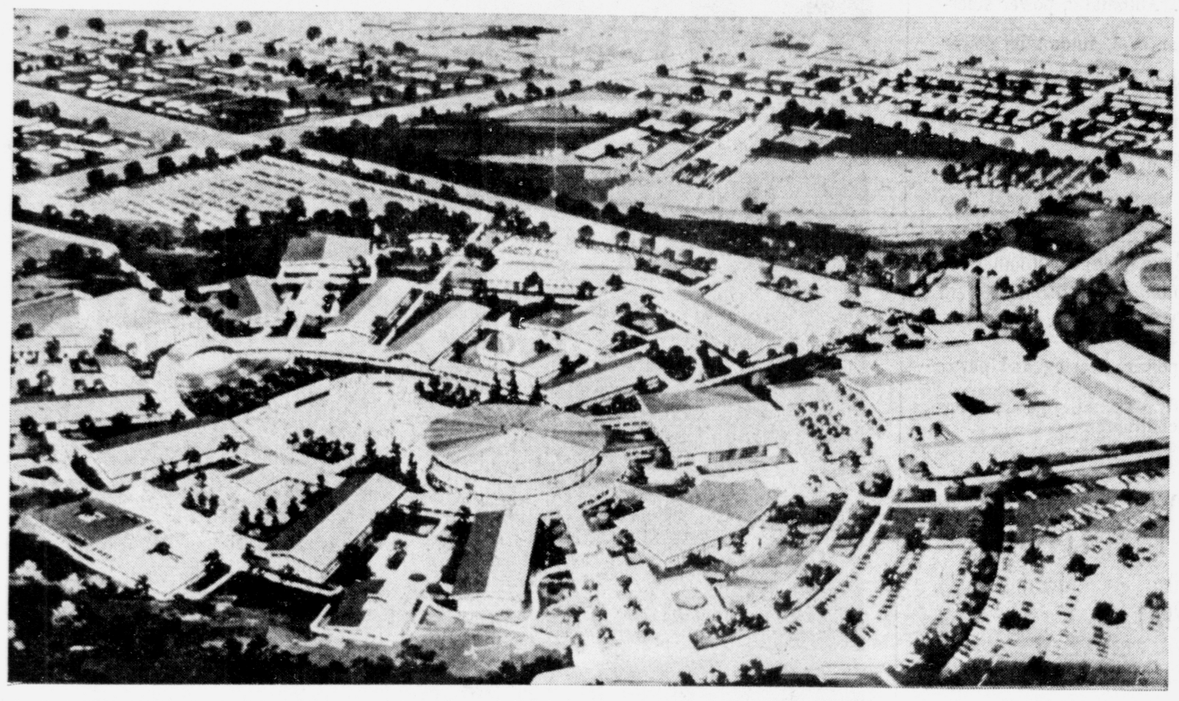
The same sophistication typifying Harper College curriculum would characterize the faculty and staff.

Lahti repeatedly has emphasized that Harper College would be a "teaching institution." He says the faculty would be composed largely of professionals who like to teach, who have extensive teaching experience and who are interested in students. A master's degree would be required for all faculty and most staff members.

"YOU JUST cannot teach collegiate subjects without an M.A.," says Lahti.

Unlike a four-year college, minimum emphasis would be placed on research. The only research that would be conducted, explains Lahti, would be student research so teaching standards and methods could be improved.

(Next week — What kind of campus facilities are needed to fulfill this concept?)



THE NEW JUNIOR COLLEGE concept is reflected in the modern campuses springing up across the nation. Residents last year established a two-year college, now known as William Rainey Harper College, to meet the new educational concept. Next month they will vote on a $7,375,000 bond issue as their share in construction of a campus. Shown above is an artist's conception of a California campus. (B10

For Retarded Children

Suburban Agencies Combine To Pioneer New Treatment

A new and precedent-breaking cooperative program to provide comprehensive educational and psychiatric services for northwest suburban children who are both emotionally disturbed and mentally retarded was begun this year on an experimental basis by two area agencies.

Because of behavioral problems inherent in their multiple afflictions, these children have traditionally been unable to adjust to group situations and are not served by either the public schools or community day centers for the retarded.

PARTICIPATING in the project — an "educational therapy class" — are the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic, located at 1711 W. Campbell St., Arlington Heights, and the Clearbrook Center for the Retarded, 3201 W. Campbell St., Rolling Meadows.

The Mental Health Clinic was established in 1962 to supply psychiatric diagnosis, consultation, treatment and mental health education to individuals and agencies in Chicago's northwest suburban area. The Clearbrook Center is a private, nonprofit community agency serving mentally retarded children and adults in the townships of Wheeling, Palatine, Schaumburg, Elk Grove and (in part) Maine.

It operates a day center for mentally retarded children and a sheltered workshop and vocational training center for handicapped adults. Both agencies are partially funded by the Illinois State Department of Mental Health but are financed primarily by the communities they serve.

Other agencies helping with the project are the Northwest Suburban Special Education Organization, which is supplying necessary data and helping select candidates for placement in the program, and the Charles F. Read Zone Center, at 4200 N. Oak Park Avenue in Chicago, which has provided overall planning and consultation services.

Byrn Witt, executive director of Clearbrook, where the project is based, said that two precedents have been set by the initiation of the experimental service. "It is the first time that agencies within a community have combined services to provide comprehensive help to mentally retarded and emotionally disturbed children," he said, "and the first time that a community mental health clinic and a community center for the retarded have shared psychiatric resources."

IN THE NEW program, selection of possible candidates is made jointly by the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic and Clearbrook. Following this, the clinic makes a complete diagnostic evaluation of each child and his family on a priority basis. Those children selected for placement then enter the educational therapy class. Here, they receive coordinated educational and psychotherapeutic services. provided by the Clearbrook and clinic staffs, respectively. The latter service includes members of each child's family, in group and individual therapy. Ancillary diagnostic back-up services are also provided to each family as needed.

The clinic has agreed to provide a total of 30 hours of psychiatric consultation to the program. The Clearbrook Center, in turn, pays part of the hourly cost for the psychiatrists' time.

According to Witt, five broad goals have been set for the educational therapy class:

1. To determine whether such a program can be carried out in a community center such as Clearbrook and whether such a program can successfully utilize other community resources in a joint operation. The answer to this question may establish the feasibility of keeping the emotionally disturbed retarded child in the community rather than placing him in an institution.

2. To provide therapeutic intervention when the child is still young and prevent further breakdown. Ideally, this should take place at the pre-school level.

3. To establish long-term planning for each child and family involved in the program — including follow-up services — and to determine which community resources can best be integrated into the program. In some cases, the pre-adolescent children could be helped to return to special classes in the public schools.

4. To provide ongoing diagnostic evaluation of each child's particular problem.

5. To provide each child with educational services consistent with his identifiable needs.

The Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Clinic and the Clearbrook Center consider the program to be a demonstration project, and both agencies will evaluate its progress in June. The decision will then be made to either continue and possibly extend the program or to terminate it. At this point, according to Witt, it would appear to be highly successful. (B10

NEW SURGICAL FACILITIES were among the many features area residents were able to see at the St. Alexius Hospital open house last weekend. Tours of the $7 million hospital were given Saturday and Sunday. Dedication will be held June 12. ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

The Walking Flags Blue Birds, second graders from Wilson School, recently went to Deer Grove where they hiked on the trails and found many wild flowers and other interesting things. Accompanying the group on their outing were Mrs. E. B. Marhoefer, leader, and Mrs. Mary Regan. Co-leader, Mrs. Roger Steingraber, gave birth to a baby boy in April.

Members of the group are Mary Ann Bergeson, Marilyn Di Cola, Linda Garman, Nancy Graham, Linda Halleck, Jill Jacob, Kathy Keenan, Ann Marie Marhoefer, Kathy Purcell, Nancy Regan, Jan Steingraber and Brianna Wiebe.

Indian Queen fourth grade Camp Fire Girls from Greenbrier and Wilson schools enjoyed the visit at one of their recent meetings of a registered nurse, Mrs. George Herbert. Mrs. Herbert talked on health and personal grooming which the girls found very interesting and helpful.

Members of the group are Debby Bartlett, Susan Burns, Monica Buzzeli, Maria Calderon, Valerie Dudek, Pamela Goedert, Linda Harris, Laurie Hartry, Sue Kuehler, Debby Lloyd, Alice Lorenz, Kay Lowell, Joyce Reiland, Jacqueline Roig, Dawn Sander, Lisa Schaedel, Mary Scheidt, Leal Steingraber, Ellen Urban and Hollis Zimmer. Group guardian is Mrs. Roland Urban. Mrs. Taft Lowell is co-guardian.

THE HI-FLYERS, third grade Blue Birds from Ridge School, recently toured Sylvia's Flower Shop where they were shown how to make a lapel ornament with a carnation. Each girl made one of her own before touring the greenhouse. The girls drew numbers and the winner was given a corsage for her mother for Mother's Day. Each girl was given carnations to take home.

Members of the Hi-Flyers are Lynn Baker, JoEllen Karpen, Carol Kolari, Annette Lindmark, Janet Mills, Nancy Rohan, Vicki Ryckaert, Susan Tarchala, Ginny Turner, Chris Williams and Elida Witthoeft. Mrs. Adolph Tarchala is leader of the group assisted by co-leader Mrs. Theodore Witthoeft.

The Gay Little Blue Birds had a "Grandfather's Day" on Wednesday, May 11, when they entertained the grandfathers of three of their members. The girls sent invitations to their grandfathers inviting them to their meeting at the home of their leader, Mrs. Tess Blackberg. The grandfathers were presented with knee-length green ties with cherry-pink lining which the girls had made and hand initialed for them. They also made gold crowns for the grandfathers to wear.

Coffee and birthday cake were served in honor of the 76th birthday of Nancy Knight's grandfather, Mr. Venard. The other grandfathers attending were Mr. Harford and Mr. Doland whose granddaughters are Terry Holtz and Debbie Dolan.

The party ended with square dancing.

OTHER MEMBERS of the Gay Little Blue Birds are Nancy Amato, Maureen Duffy, Anne Kelly, Kathy McCullom, Vicki Newford, Cathy Weiler and Marcy Winters. The girls are second graders from St. James School.

Kathy Blackberg, fifth grade Camp Fire Girl, assists her mother with the group.

PALATINE

The KoDaKiGaKaTa Camp Fire Girls who meet at Pleasant Hill School in Palatine, recently presented colors at a P.T.A. meeting.

During Camp Fire Birthday Week, the girls set up a Camp Fire display case to tell their school mates something about Camp Fire Girls. At the back there were three large posters. One showing the Camp Fire Law with Indian symbols at each point, another a happy birthday cake, and the third showing the steps of Camp Fire Trail from Blue Birds to Horizon Club.

At the base of the display case at the left was a group of pipe cleaner Camp Fire dolls in navy skirts, white blouses, and red triangular ties seated around a Camp Fire for a ceremonial where they were receiving beads in the seven crafts. In the center was a Greyhound bus headed toward the scene at the right where a Camp Tiyalaka scene with tents, lakes, horses, etc. was set up.

Saturday, April 23, the girls of this group, Marbeth Bissell, Karen Cutler, Jody Hey, Cheryl Hochmuth, Jill Johnson, Diane Webster, Gail Williams, Anne Wilson, Kristie Zamrazil with their leaders Mrs. Cutler and Mrs. Williams and sponsor Mrs. Bissell went into Chicago on the train to hear P. J. Hoff at the Museum Day program. Afterwards they had lunch and saw a style show in the Walnut Room of Marshall Field's.

THEY MADE small May Basket Tray favors which were given to Plum Grove Nursing Home in Palatine for Sunday May 1.

For Mother's Day the girls made a bracelet of fried marbles in eight colors for their mothers. They also each made a matching bracelet for themselves. At the same time they made fried marble tie clips to be presented to their fathers on Father's Day.

Right now they are completing bird houses made of plastic bleach bottles which they will present to the Plum Grove Nursing Home for spring decoration. The girls are making plans for the District Council Fire to be held June 3. They're also planning their final meeting which will be a cookout followed by an outdoor ceremonial on June 7. (B-10

Rusting at the Roadside

On Public Or Private Land—It's Still Junk

Junk or abandoned cars along public roadways or on nearby private property have been a problem for municipal, county, and state authorities for more than 20 years.

But more national attention has been focused on it in the last year because of Lady Bird Johnson's cleanup and beautification campaign.

IN EVALUATING the situation in this area, Village police chiefs in the northwest suburbs report most junked cars are removed from public roadways fairly soon. Wheeling Chief M. O. Horcher said cars on public property are removed within 24 hours.

"Then we try to locate the owner," he added. This is done by various methods. If a car has a license plate it is easier to trace it to the last owner. If not the serial number of the auto is checked and the last-registered owner is contacted by certified mail, according to Horcher.

When the autos are removed from public property they are taken to the lot behind the police station, according to Horcher. Until recently police had a contract with Wheeling Auto Auction. This is no longer in effect.

"IT BECOMES A real problem to get rid of these old cars," said Horcher. Junk dealers simply don't want them because they can't make money on them.

According to Horcher sometimes "the village has to pay through the nose to get rid of the junk autos."

Cook County authorities also have problems in getting rid of abandoned or junked cars. Joseph Dellaria, chief detective for stolen autos in the sheriff's department, said his office is "plagued with a lot of abandoned autos."

"Our chief problem is obtaining titles to the junk autos," said Dellaria. As in villages, the county contacts the last registered owner and either asks payment for towing costs or a surrender of the car's title.

HE EXPLAINED that it takes a lot of manhours and money to have the cars towed in, the title located and an advertisement placed in the paper that the cars will be sold at public auction.

Some communities and the county face difficulties in removing junked autos from private property.

Horcher said there are several junk autos on private property in Wheeling, but added that "we can't do much about that."

Dellaria said his officers couldn't remove a car from private property unless it were stolen.

In Arlington Heights, Chief L. W. Calderwood said that once a junked car on private property is deemed a nuisance the property owner is notified to correct the situation. Then, after a "reasonable length of time," a summons is issued, Calderwood said.

In court it must be proved that the car is a nuisance, and, if it is, the owner of the property or car may be fined each day until the car is removed.

SIMILAR procedure in Elk Grove Village is followed if a junked car on private property is a nuisance. In most instances owners are asked to dispose of the autos themselves, Chief Harry Jenkins said.

If the car on private property is considered a hazard or nuisance the owner can be forced to remove it, Jenkins said.

Wood Dale Chief Harry Wood said his department didn't have many problems with junked cars on public streets or property. "We have more of a problem with ones on private property," said Wood.

Some owners simply don't care if junky autos are on their property, he said. It's mostly absentee landlords that have the old cars on their property, he noted.

"They don't live here so they don't care," he said.

WOOD DALE has a nuisance ordinance which is reasonably strict. According to Chief Wood the village can notify an owner that junk or abandoned cars on his property constitutes a nuisance. He is usually given up to 10 days to remove the junk.

If the owner fails to remove it, he can be issued a summons to appear in court, where he pleads his case before a judge.

Wood said not many cases reach court, however. (A15

A JUNKY OLD AUTO has been parked on the east side of Linneman Road just south of Cottonwood Lane in Mount Prospect for a long time. Village officials said the car was on School District 59 property. The car is located just across the street from an apartment complex. Police officials point out that it is sometimes difficult to remove junk cars from private property.

Auto Flips, Woman Hurt

An Arlington Heights woman was admitted to Northwest Community Hospital for observation after being injured when her car overturned at Northwest Highway and Chatham in Arlington Heights early Sunday morning.

Joy K. Foerster, 39, 11 N. Dryden, was reported in good condition at the hospital yesterday.

According to police, she was driving west on Northwest Highway when her vehicle struck a parked car and flipped over. Police said her car skidded 48 feet on its roof.

Rezoning Okayed

Rezoning of a 37-acre parcel west of Berkley Square subdivision from R1 to R3 was apparoved Monday by the Arlington Heights Village Board.

The parcel will be used as an extension of the subdivision. Both zoning categories are for single family homes; however, smaller lots are required under R3 than R1. (A

Low, Frost Equipment Purchased

Elk Grove District 59 school board Monday approved $5,310 worth of cabinets primarily for Juliette Low School in Arlington Heights.

Robert Frost School in Mount Prospect also will receive some of the cabinets.

Education Plans In Hearing May 31

Area citizens are being urged to attend a May 31 hearing at Maine East High School to hear task force recommendations for a drastic reorganization of the state's educational structure.

Robert M. Cole, executive director of the Illinois Association of School Boards, told a tri-county IASB meeting Tuesday at Libertyville that the task force's preliminary recommendations include:

—A proposal to merge into 200 districts the state's 1,340 school systems.

—Creation of intermediate districts, no more than 40 in the state, with such districts to likely take over the functions of the county superintendents of schools.

—Establishment of an appointed State Board of Education, which would choose a superintendent of public instruction and have full authority for supervision of Illinois public education.

—A changed method of financing public schools, based in part on a "weighted average daily attendance" figure, a "sparsity factor" and a "density factor."

COLE ADDED that he himself did not understand the financing recommendations although he served on the task force.

He stressed that the task force's recommendations are still in preliminary form and urged persons attending the tri-county meeting to make their views known at the hearing.

Heating System 'Over-Designed' Says Hess

Elk Grove District 59 school board member Richard Hess protested vehemently right to the vote in the letting of a $179,900 heating contract for a Mount Prospect junior high school.

The school board voted 6 to 1 to let the contract to Inland Heating and Air Conditioning Co.

Hess argued the heating bids should have been $50,000 lower. He declared the heating system was overdesigned by Beling Engineering Co. of Rockford. "We're spending too much and there's now nothing we can do about it," Hess concluded before his negative vote.

Board members reminded Hess they had "kicked around the issue pretty good" in a meeting last Monday with the architect, Orput and Orput, and the engineer.

Hess said he remained unsatisfied and continued to advocate a competitive bid. The board voted 4 to 2 against a motion May 2 to rebid on the revised heating system for Holmes Junior High School to be constructed on the Forest View Grade School site, 1400 Pennsylvania, Mount Prospect. Hess considered it unfair that a contractor not bidding originally became the low bidder.

School board Pres. Douglas Burns got Hess to agree Inland was "a reputable firm" and "the value is there." But they disagreed on whether the price was right. Hess contended "it depends which way you start looking at it" as to who ends up being the low bidder. Hardy was the other bidder in final contention.

The issue of the heating contract has raised board and administration tempers in the past. School board member Joseph Schefter's statement "somehow we were took" got a heated reaction from Supt. Roger Bardwell. Bardwell insisted Schefter should clarify his statement.

Schefter quickly said he was not talking about an individual but suggesting bids were higher than they should have been. In the future a contractor may have to be told "to take his bid and travel," Schefter said. "We must do it sometime."

Schefter admitted under Burns' prodding that the bids might have been high because of the present demand on the building trades and building design.

The district is paying about $2.40 per square foot for the heating in comparison to $2 last fall. Hess had predicted costs would jump 20 per cent in this business but claimed this was over his prediction.

The over-all square foot cost of the building is $15.10.

Bardwell objected at one point to Hess' comparison of costs at Juliette Low School under construction in the Surrey Ridge subdivision of Arlington Heights. That school is designed with heating in a tunnel instead of an overhead system, he said. Hess has opposed an overhead heating system.

Burns assigned Hess and board member Wayne Little to look into future bidding practices in the school district. He asked them to recommend how they would "approach it in today's market."

Tally Ho! Irate Sportsmen Propose a Fox Hunt

by Howard Harmening
Staff Writer

The quick red fox jumped over the lazy dog—and promptly ate a pheasant and a rabbit.

At least, that is the claim of sportsmen, who maintain the fox population has increased in the northwest suburban area to the detriment of available game.

Si Andrews Jr., of Libertyville, is an example. Andrews, who has been studying fox for 20 years in Lake County and elsewhere, views the creature with alarm.

"IN ALL AREAS," he explains, "the fox population is growing. It has increased three or four times in the past 10 to 15 years, and the pheasant and rabbit population has decreased by that much or more."

"Almost any kid can go out today and find a fox den," he adds. "A few years ago, it used to be said a fox would range in a five-mile area. Now, I've found three or four dens someby that much or more.

Andrews sees the fox as "a real cunning creature —half-cat and half-dog." More than that, though, he believes the fox — if left alone — will eventually create a condition where "we won't have any wildlife at all."

Mark Tuttle, assistant chief of law enforcement for the state conservation department, meanwhile, feels the fox population "is pretty well stabilized," but adds he doesn't know "of any recent spot-checks."

AN OFFICIAL of the conservation department of the Cook County Forest Preserve District, however, points out their recent surveys "show no particular increase in the fox population."

Whey then do sportsmen see an apparent increase?

Tuttle explains that as the suburban areas grow, the existing fox population becomes more localized.

"If two thirds of a section of land is subdivided," says Tuttle, "the fox will more or less concentrate in the remaining third."

"Many sportsmen feel the fox is the cause of the game shortage in this area," the state officer continues. "Frankly, I don't buy this. The fox is only one of the factors. The prime factor for the game decline is habitat."

"When I say habitat," he explains, "I mean residual habitat, which means year-around food and cover. We would have more game in this area if the habitat were good."

ANDREWS, however, claims the conservation department "doesn't really encourage the sportsmen to eliminate the fox. Nobody hunts them. What creature destroys a fox except man?"

"Every game I track lately," he continues, "the fox has got to him first. I'd like to take one conservation man out with me when I dig up a den and show him all the pheasant and rabbit bones."

Although the state doesn't offer a bounty on any animal, Tuttle feels Illinois does encourage fox hunting "and this is indicated by the fact there is no closed season."

"We don't believe on the state level that bounty should be used as a system of game control," he explains. "Various states have tried this and found it doesn't work."

"Good habitat is the answer," he says. "And, this has to be part of a good game management program. Illinois is a tough proposition, though, because 85 per cent of its is agriculture."

Andrews feels more sportsmen should "get out and try to stop the fox." A step was taken like this last year in an area north of Palatine.

AL KNOX, OF Hazelcrest Road, a resident of that area, explains that sportsmen "put a drive on" to curtail what was felt to be a rising fox population there.

"Last year, we hardly saw one rabbit," he says. "This year, there was an increased number. The number of pheasants increased this year, too. We kind of depleted the fox population, but we expect it will increase again this spring."

(According to Andrews, fox pups are usually born the first week in March.)

The state requires a sportsman to have either a hunting or trapping license to take fox, depending on which path a sportsman decides to follow.

Tuttle, however, emphasizes that "even weather can influence the game population. A late wet winter or wet cold spring through nesting time cuts down on reproduction of both rabbits and pheasants."

RABBITS HAD been nesting the past three weeks, he added, while pheasants normally nest later this month or during early June.

Would nature's balance be upset if the advice of sportsmen were followed for more fox to be killed or trapped? "I don't think it would have any serious effect," admits Tuttle.

"But," he adds, "the stray cats and dogs running loose probably do more damage to game than the fox does."

FROM RIDGE PARK

The Len Sundquist family at 804 N. Fernandez were the guests of Len's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sundquist of Chicago, for dinner on Mother's Day at the Milk Pail Restaurant near Elgin.

Friends and neighbors bid farewell to the David Quills at 928 N. Ridge. They have been residents for the past year but due to a new position with Insurance Assoc. Inc. in Washington, D.C., they moved to Rockville, Md. on May 14.

Dick and Ronnie Lanzon and Ronnie's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Barber, were out for dinner at the House of Sweden on May 7 for Mother's Day. Mrs. Barber is here from Detroit for a two week visit with her family.

The James Kaufmanns had a full house at 806 N. Harvard on May 15, in honor of their daughter, Susan, who made her First Holy Communion at St. James Church on Saturday. When all the grandparents, aunts and uncles arrived to help the family celebrate, there were 50 in number.

THE AL KLIENS, 1003 N. Kennicott and the George Wojtkiewiczs, 920 N. Ridge, were among those who attended the K of C bowling banquet at their local clubhouse. The evening ended with George carrying home a trophy for first place in team standings.

The Lester Carlsons had three more girls at 812 N. Ridge as overnight guests on May 6. The occasion was Audrey's birthday and after a party in the evening the girls donned their pajamas and continued the celebration.

The Charles Fishers at 1010 N. Race had a family party for their son, Charles' ninth birthday. Guests on Mother's Day included his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thomas, Darlene's sister, Mrs. Mary Reichmuth, and Charles' sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Juern, all of Morton Grove.

The 18 boys in Mrs. Schmoyer's afternoon kindergarten class at Ridge School were the guests of Donnie Holmes for lunch on May 7 at 823 N. Salem. It was his sixth birthday and his parents, Donna and Donald Holmes, decided to keep with the times and made it a Batman party, with the appropriate decorations and games.

On May 10, Sue Landry's mother, Mrs. Al Harrison, left for her home in Detroit, after spending a few days here giving Sue a hand with the baby. The day she left, John's mother Mrs. John L. Landry, arrived from Detroit to stay a few days at 819 N. Kennicott and to help out with Lisa Ann.

THE WILLIAM Eitemillers had their baby,Cheryl Jean, dedicated on May 8 at the Evangelical Free Church, with a family celebration following the service at 720 N. Kennicott.

The Don Walshs, 648 N. Salem, celebrated Mother's Day with Julia's mother, Mrs. Nell Chauncey at Mr. Adams in Chicago. The Walshs attended the Hospital Ball at Arlington Park on Saturday night.

Eileen Dunne, 1016 N. Illinois, Karen Lane, 923 N. Race, and Bobette Clarke, 921 N. Patton, appeared in the musical "One More River To Cross" at St. James in the roles of dancers.

Following Michael Dunne's First Holy Communion on May 14 at St. James, his parents, Kathleen and Joseph, took him to the Milk Pail near Elgin. A family celebration followed later in the day at home.

That evening Kathleen and Joseph attended the Holy Name Society's bowling banquet at Old Orchard Country Club.

The George Wojtkiewiczs were guests of Joan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Petersen in Chicago, early in the afternoon on Mother's Day, after which they joined George's family at his sister's home, the Robert Johannsens in Chicago to pay homage to George's mother, Mrs. Alice Wojtkiewicz.

THE EVENING OF May 6 guests arrived at the Leslie Hasemans', 824 N. Kaspar, to honor Michael on his 10th birthday. Joining the family were his grandparents, the Hasemans of Palatine and the Radloffs of Arlington Heights, and his aunt, Berenice Haseman of Palatine.

Pat and Donald Heicken and family, 929 N. Harvard, were guests of Pat's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Evans in Western Springs, on May 6 to celebrate Pat and Donald's boy, Derek's fourth birthday.

Bill and Kathy Muhr and family, 1019 N. Kennicott, spent Mother's Day with Kathy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald F. Griffin in Chicago, with the rest of Kathy's brothers and sisters.

Mrs. Florence Dohrmann had a get-acquainted coffee in the morning on May 6 at 921 N. Salem to introduce Mrs. Adrianne Soudah and Mrs. Edna Marsh to some of their new neighbors. Saying hello were Marge Andrew, Lynn Munson, Velma Bossert, Norma Davis, Charlotte Hunsicker, Arlene Molitor, Ann Ehlers and Karen Johnson.

On May 13, there was an addition to the Dohrmann house for the night. It was Nancy Bickford who was helping Amy celebrate her eighth birthday.

MRS. MARY Pighini and her children are back home at 943 N. Kennicott after being in the east for two weeks as guests of Mary's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Wiser in Montevale, N. J. She and the children did a lot of sightseeing, although the main reason for the trip was to attend the confirmation of her niece, Adriane Wiser. Other highlights included the Empire State Building, Greenwich Village, Rockefeller Center, Radio City Music Hall and enjoyed most by the children, the rides at Palisades Park, N. J.

A buffet supper was served to the guests at Gloria and Jim Ringel's home at 722 N. Ridge on May 14. Their daughter, Kathy, made her First Holy Communion at St. James Church and attending the family celebration with Gloria's aunt and uncle, the H. H. Larisons of Hillside, her sister and brother-in-law, the Ralph Dales, her brother and his wife, the Peter Van Dykes, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Dyke, all of Lake Geneva, another brother, the Jim Van Dykes of Wilmette, and Jim's parents, the Henry Ringels of Milwaukee.

The Bob Steeles, 918 N. Patton are enjoying the company of Charlotte's mother Mrs. Lillian Henderson, who is here from Wilmington, Delaware for an extended visit.

THE GEORGE LURTZS played host and hostess at a cocktail party at 909 N. Patton for the captains and their wives, the old and new officers and their wives of the Ridge Park Bowling League before going to the banquet at the Carousel Restaurant on May 13.

Trophies were awarded to Shirley Winkleman for the women's high game and Norm Fischer for the men's; high series went to Jerry Mockenhaupt in the men's and Irene Withey in the women's. The most improved bowlers for the eyar were Lou Black and Bob Steele.

The newly elected officers for the coming year are: president, Gene Wells, 932 N. Fernandez; secretary, Lowell Swenson, 923 N. Kennicott; and treasurer, Elinor Gustason, 918 N. Princeton. To get in on the fun next year, now's the time to call one of the officers.

A WELCOME IS extended to the following newcomers to Ridge Park. Ronald and Rose Marie Kimlinger, 736 N. Kennicott, with their children, David, 3½, Mary, 2½, and Robert, 5 months. They are from St. Paul and Ronald is with the H. B. Fuller Co. in Palatine as a plan foreman.

George and Karen Neumann formerly of Skokie are now at 1016 N. Kaspar. They have two children, Kelli, 3, and Kevin, 1. George is an electrician with Henry Newgard Electrical Contractors. The Neumanns are members of the United Church.

Sue and Jerry Rutherford moved to 725 N. Kaspar from Rolling Meadows with their children, Cindy, 9½, Steven, 8, Kevin, 6½, and Todd, 2½. They attend the Presbyterian Church and the children are enrolled at Ridge School. Jerry is the assistant manager of Osco Drugs in Palatine.

Dr. and Mrs. Harold Soudah are the new owners of the home at 924 N. Salem. They are from the Foster and Sheridan area in Chicago and are St. James parishoners. Dr. Soudah is a dentist and is practicing in Arlington Heights.

Returning from their honeymoon, newlyweds Mary and Anthony Raef moved into their new home at 811 N. Fernandez. Mary is from Chicago but Anthony is from Arlington Heights. He is an assistant public relations director with Motorola. They also will be attending St. James Church.

FROM SHERWOOD

The Wilbur Pownalls, 1105 N. Patton, had houseguests again the weekend of May 7. Former Barrington residents, Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson and their daughter arrived from Ada, Mich., for a visit. (A

Architects Submit Plans for College

Architects presented to the William Rainey Harper College board last week first-phase development plans of the proposed $29,500,000 campus.

The architects, representing Caudill, Rowlett and Scott of Houston, Tex., outlined the first-phase building proposal from a master plan drawn up three weeks ago. Project director Ed Finlay said only "slight revisions" had been made in the preliminary master plan.

The campus planners again urged the college board to consider purchase of an additional 28.5 acres adjacent to the eastern boundary of the college site at Roselle and Algonquin Roads. They stressed, however, that the land acquisition should be considered in terms of "long range development."

THE PROPOSED development phase, estimated to cost about $18,888,000, would include a student center, auditorium, classroom facilities, learning resource center, science buildings, a 12 to 15-acre lake, a gymnasium and locker rooms, and a physical plant.

Architects said the lake not only will add to the beauty of the site, but will permit better drainage. Features of the plan included extensive audiovisual aids provisions, elaborate heating and air-conditioning systems, and specially designed art facilities to utilize maximum natural light.

Architects again stressed the design was not final and would undergo even more revisions. The final design, they said, would be ready in September. Bids on the project would be let by spring of next year.

THE FIRST PHASE of the campus tentatively is planned for completion by 1970 when enrollment is expected to reach more than 2,000 students.

Residents will vote June 4 on a $7,375,000 bond issue as their share of the total project cost. The remaining 75 per cent of the $29,500,000 would come from the state.

Exactly how much the state will pay for the first phase of construction is not yet known. However, state law requires voters approve their 25 per cent share of the entire project before any funds are granted.

Be Weather Wise

Wood is not afraid of weather. But install it so rain will drain off or evaporate. And keep it up off the ground, unless it has been chemically treated. It will serve outdoors for many decades, even without a finish.

Schlickman and Hesse Get BGA Endorsements for House

Rep. Eugene Schlickman, (R-Arlington Heights), and Robert L. Hesse, a Palatine attorney, were endorsed last week by the Better Government Association for the two GOP nominations to the state House of Representatives in the 3rd District.

Schlickman was a freshman legislator in the last session of the General Assembly. He is a former Arlington Heights trustee.

He is also seeking election as Republican Committeeman of Wheeling Township. However, the BGA endorsed his opponent, Thomas Novotny, in that race.

Hesse, also a former village trustee although in Palatine, is also seeking the Republican Committeeman's post in Palatine Township. He is unopposed for the post. The present committeeman, Alex MacArthur, is not seeking re-election.

SCHLICKMAN AND Hesse are opposed for the two nominations by William Moore of Arlington Heights, David Regner of Mount Prospect, and William Means of Buffalo Grove.

George Mahin of the BGA said all five candidates were interviewed before the endorsements were made.

Schlickman, who was bitter about the BGA endorsement for Novotny, expressed gratitude for the representative endorsement.

Hesse said, "I am honored to be recommended to Republican voters by so highly respected an organization as the Better Government Association. An endorsement by this group means a great deal in a campaign and will help to assure victory in the June 14 primary election."

Data Director Is Named for Harper

A computer specialist was named last week as director of the William Rainey Harper College data processing and institutional program.

The college board approved the appointment of Roy Sedrel, 32, at its regular meeting last Thursday. In related action, the board established the position of registrar and admissions director to be filled by late July or August.

Sedrel, currently completing his master's degree in informational science at the University of Iowa, willl receive an annual salary of $13,500. His appointment becomes effective July 1.

SEDREL WAS selected from among five applicants for the position. His first task will be to set up and program forms for the college's data processing system. Although the college will not have its own data processing program for a few years, a programming system must be formulated for use on outside computer services, according to Dr. Robert P. Lahti, community college president.

Sedrel, currently president of the Association of Iowa Educational Data Systems, has taken part during the past two years in a program to establish educational specifications for secondary schools and community colleges. He also has served as statewide systems coordinator for the state of Iowa.

Lahti praised Sedrel's experience with state institutions, saying, "We want this kind of background."

The registrar and admission director will be responsible to the dean of students. The director will be in charge of student records, application procedures, evaluation procedures of student records for admission, and other student personnel duties as assigned by the dean of students.

THE BOARD established a salary range for the position of $10,000 to $14,000, depending on experience.

Minimum requirements include an M.A. in guidance and counseling, practical experience in college administration or student personnel.

"This is the most detailed job on the campus," said Lahti, stressing the need for a person with extensive organizational talents. (B10

Colors Conflict

Highlight flower beds and climbers with screens and trellises stained a natural wood shade or allowed to weather to a soft silver. White paint is good, too, but color on garden structures conflicts with flower and foliage hues.

Nike Base Observes Armed Forces Day

The Arlington Heights Nike Base near Wilke and Central Roads will observe Armed Forces Day Saturday with an open house.

Army, Air Force and Army Reserve personnel will be on hand to explain to guests how the 45th Artillery Brigade, Air Defense, defends Gary, Milwaukee and the Chicago area from aerial attack.

The main gate on Central Road will be open from 10 a.m. 'till 4 p.m. Every hour a color movie will be shown in the concrete - vaulted command post, demonstrating in sequence how an enemy aircraft is identified and tracked by radar before being "killed" by an air defense missile.

ON DISPLAY near the nerve center of the Air Defense site will be a Nike Hercules missile and an H-23 "Raven" helicopter. The Raven used here to transport men and vital material, is currently being used in combat. Crew members—all veterans of Viet Nam—will be on hand to explain the "chopper."

Part of the local air defense effort is performed by the USAF 755th Radar Squadron, which owns three of the giant radar domes.

The 755th, working directly with the North American Air Defense, is responsible for detecting enemy at long range and tracking them until Army radar takes over. Air Force personnel will be on hand to answer questions. In the Air Force display will be a GAR heat-seeking missile, similar to those used against Soviet-built MIG's in Viet Nam today.

OF PARTICULAR local interest is a self-propelled, eight-inch howitzer and crew belonging to the Seventh Battalion of the Third Artillery Regiment, US Army Reserve. This unit, one of the oldest in the Army, boasts 56 battle streamers earned in every war in which the US has been involved. The tracked self-propelled howitzer is brand new in the Army's arsenal and is able to hurl a nuclear shell 10 miles.

The Seventh Battalion consists of officers and men who are civilians during the week and train at the Nike Base on weekends. Its commander is Maj. Robert Appleton, 917 S. Ioka St., Mount Prospect. (B-10

4 Bids Accepted For Park Projects

The Arlington Heights Park Board Tuesday accepted bids on four park improvements, authorized two purchases by Park Supt. Tom Thornton and selected its auditor to handle last year's accounts.

For construction of two tennis courts in Volz Park, the board approved the $6,565 bid submitted by J. C. Blacktop. That bid was lowest of four; next lowest was $7,660 by Arrow Road Construction Co.

The two courts in Volz Park are to be asphalt surfaced and will double as basketball courts.

J. C. BLACKTOP was also lowest bidder for repairing a service drive in Pioneer Park. Its figure was $957 and lowest of four; next lowest was $1,344 by Rock Road Construction Co.

Blauw & Sons bid of 65 cents per square foot was lowest of six submitted for sidewalk construction in Recreation Park. Park Supt. Thornton estimated that the total cost of installing the sidewalks would be around $700.

Also approved was the seal coating of the tennis courts in Greenbrier by Maintenance Coatings Co. for $1,300.

Park Supt. Thornton was authorized to purchase 3,700 pounds of grass seed for $685, and games for the summer playground program at a cost of $460.

DONALD E. BARK of Arlington Heights was selected by the park board to audit last year's park district accounts.

Bark bid $425 for the job. Other bidder was Laurin, Schultheis and Givens, whose figure was $525.

Thornton told the board that as a member of the Laurin, Schultheis and Givens firm, Bark had audited park board records in the past and was familiar with them. (A

Democrat Hopeful To Meet Citizens

A meet-the-candidate buffet will be held this Sunday for Norman Nelson Jr., Democratic candidate for state senator from the 3rd district, at the Maitre D' Restaurant, Higgins and State Roads, Elk Grove Village.

Cocktails and a buffet will be served from 2 to 6 p.m. The meeting will enable Elk Grove Village and township residents to become acquainted with Nelson, who is the first candidate from Elk Grove Village from either party to run for a state office.

Nelson, who lives at 641 Claremont Drive with his wife, Joanne, and five children, is also the first candidate from Elk Grove Township to seek a state senatorial seat.

ATTENDING THE buffet for Nelson, a 39-year-old attorney, will be two northwest suburban Democratic incumbents who are seeking re-election to the state House of Representatives: Eugenia F. Chapman of Arlington Heights, and Bernard J. Peskin of Northfield.

Also attending will be: Charles J. Zettek Jr., Elk Grove Village trustee; Richard J. Georgen of Mount Prospect, co-chairman of Citizens for Nelson; Chester A. Chesney, Elk Grove Township Regular Democratic Committeeman;

Mrs. Lorraine Gillogly, Elk Grove Township Committeewoman, and her husband, Kevin, an attorney; John M. Condylis, president of the Elk Grove Township Democratic Organization, and William F. Pritz, the organization's executive secretary.

The 3rd District encompasses Elk Grove, Wheeling, Palatine, Schaumburg, Barrington, and Hanover townships, and portions of Northfield and Maine townships. (B-10

WHEREAS, Hill Homes, Inc., an Illinois Corporation, represents that they have good and merchantable title in and to the heretofore legally described property and agree to convey the said property to the City for the sum of $155,000, payable in installments over a period of ten (10) years and,

WHEREAS, the City has the power pursuant to Chapter 24, Article 11-76.1-1 of the 1965 Illinois Revised Statutes to enter into an installment contract for the purchase of the real estate and the City is desirous of acquiring said property for public purposes.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ROLLING MEADOWS, ILLINOIS, SECTION I: That the City Council has determined that the acquiring of the title to the property hereinafter legally described, for public purposes, pursuant to the installment contract set forth in Section II hereof, will be in the best interest of the City.

SECTION II: That the proposed contract between the City of Rolling Meadows and Hill Homes, Inc., an Illinois Corporation, for the purchase by the City, on an installment basis, of the land legally described in the said proposed contract is as follows:

CONTRACT TO PURCHASE REAL ESTATE

WHEREAS, Hill Homes, Inc., a corporation, is the owner of real estate, the legal description of which is set forth on Exhibit "A" and Exhibit "B" attached hereto and made a part hereof; and

WHEREAS, the City of Rolling Meadows is a municipal corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Illinois; and

WHEREAS, the City of Rolling Meadows is desirous of purchasing the aforedescribed real estate for public purposes pursuant to Division 76.1 Chapter 24 of the Illinois Revised Statutes (1965 Edition).

WHEREAS, Hill Homes, Inc. has agreed in consideration of the terms of this agreement to sell said real estate to the City of Rolling Meadows on an installment basis and on the terms set forth.

NOW, THEREFORE, IT IS AGREED by and between the parties hereto as follows:

1. The City of Rolling Meadows agrees to purchase the real estate legally described and set forth on Exhibit "A" and Exhibit "B" attached hereto and incorporated by reference and made a part hereof for the sum of One Hundred Fifty-Five Thousand ($155,000) Dollars payable as hereinafter provided.

2. Hill Homes, Inc., a corporation agrees to sell said real estate at said price and to convey to the City of Rolling Meadows good and merchantable title at the time of closing by delivery of a stamped warranty deed subject only to 1966 real estate taxes and the memorials listed on Exhibit "C" as to the real estate described on Exhibit "A" attached and subject to the memorials listed on Exhibit "D" as to the real estate described on Exhibit "B" attached hereto.

3. Hill Homes, Inc. ninety days from date of this contract or at such other time as is mutually agreeable to the City of Rolling Meadows shall tender the following at the office of Registrar of Titles, Cook County, Illinois:

A. A duplicate certificate of title for the real estate described above which shows title to be as represented in Paragraph 2 hereof.

B. A tax search prepared by the Registrar of Titles, Cook County, Illinois, showing 1965 and all prior taxes to be paid.

C. A Stamped Corporate Warranty Deed and such resolutions and other documents as may be required by the Registrar of Titles of Cook County to transfer merchantable title from Hill Homes, Inc. to the City of Rolling Meadows, a municipal corporation, subject to the conditions of Paragraph 2 and other terms hereof.

D. An accurate survey of the property prepared by a registered land surveyor.

E. Articles of Incorporation for Hill Homes, Inc. and amendments thereto as of date of closing, certified by the Secretary of the State of Illinois.

F. A Certificate of good standing for Hill Homes, Inc. issued by the Secretary of the State of Illinois, not more than thirty (30) days prior to the closing date.

G. A Certificate of the Secretary of the Company dated as of closing date with respect to the corporation's standing, by-laws and certification of the officers of the corporation authorizing the performance of this agreement.

4. The City of Rolling Meadows at said time and place referred to shall pay to Hill Homes, Inc. or their successors and assigns the sum of Twenty-Five Thousand Dollars ($25,000) less tax pro rations; general real estate taxes shall be pro rated from January 1, 1966 to date of closing on the basis of the 1965 real estate tax bill for the property in question; and

The City of Rolling Meadows does further agree to pay to Hill Homes, Inc. or its order the sum of One Hundred Thirty Thousand ($130,000) Dollars with interest at the rate of 4% per annum from the date of closing on the balance of the principal remaining from time to time as follows:

A. On the date of closing an amount of interest in advance computed from date of closing to the date of the first quarterly payment as provided in Paragraph B hereunder is due.

B. Quarterly installments of Three Thousand Nine Hundred Fifty-Nine Dollars and Eighty Cents ($3,959.80) on the 15th day of January, March, July and September of 1967 and the 15th day of each said month of each succeeding year thereafter until the obligation hereunder is fully paid, except that final payment of principal and interest if not fully paid shall be due on the 15th day of September, 1976. All such payments on account of this indebtedness shall be first applied to interest on the unpaid balance and the remainder to principal. The principal of each installment must be paid when due and shall bear interest at the rate of 6% per annum if paid after due date. This obligation may be payable prior to the maturity date in whole or in part without penalty of the City of Rolling Meadows provided, however, that ninety (90) days prior written notice is given to Hill Homes, Inc. or its successor in interest hereunder.

C. A certified copy of an ordinance of levy for the purpose of providing all necessary taxes to pay the obligations hereunder together with a receipt of the County Clerk of Cook County indicating that same has been duly filed with him.

5. The City of Rolling Meadows, a municipal corporation warrants as follows:

A. That the obligations undertaken hereunder by it constitutes a general obligation of the City of Rolling Meadows and that it will for the prompt payment of the obligations undertaken hereunder, both as to principal and interest, levy taxes sufficient for the purpose of paying the obligation undertaken hereunder and pledges the full faith, credit and resources of said City of Rolling Meadows irrevocably for the purpose of paying this obligation.

B. It hereby warrants that all acts, conditions and things required by the Constitution of the State of Illinois and the State Statutes required to exist or to be done pursuant to the obligation to be undertaken hereunder will have been done and performed and in the regular and due time required by law; and

C. Further it warrants that the indebtedness of the City of Rolling Meadows represented by this contract and including other indebtedness of said City, howsoever evidenced and incurred, does not exceed any constitutional or statutory limitations and warrants that the provision has been made for the collection of the direct annual tax in addition to all other taxes on all taxable property of the City of Rolling Meadows sufficient to pay it at a time same falls due and also to pay and discharge the principal indebtedness hereunder at maturity.

D. The City of Rolling Meadows further warrants that it will not transfer title to the real estate described hereunder nor will it in any way encumber or place a junior obligation upon same without the permission and consent of Hill Homes, Inc. or its successor and assigns until such time as it has discharged its financial obligation hereunder. It does further promise that in the event that it fails to make payments as provided for hereunder that it shall re-convey to Hill Homes, Inc. or its successors and assigns title to the property which is the subject matter of this contract upon demand.

It is understood and agreed that this agreement shall inure to the benefit of Hill Homes, Inc., its successors and assigns.

6. It is understood and agreed that this contract shall be registered with the Registrar of Titles so that it may be memorialized on the original certificate of titles to the properties above described.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the parties hereto have entered their hand and affixed their seal this ..... day of ....., 1966.

Invitation to Bid

The State of Illinois School Building Commission will receive bids for the erection of an addition to the Plum Grove Junior High School located on Plum Grove Road and for the erection of the Winston Churchill Elementary School located on Palatine Road, Cook County School District No. 15, Palatine, Illinois.

Sealed proposals for the above work will be received by the Commission in Room 228, Marycrest Plaza Building, 2112 West Jefferson Street, Joliet, Illinois, until 8 P.M. Central Daylight Savings Time on June 6, 1966, and will be publicly opened and read at that time.

All proposals on the above work will be bid under one general contract which shall include the mechanical trades.

Plans and specifications may be obtained from the architect, Del-Bianco - Associates, 6330 North Pulaski Road, Chicago, Illinois, upon a deposit of $40.00 for each set. Said deposit will be refunded to all bona fide bidders upon the return of the documents in good condition within a period of 15 days after the bid opening date.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a bid security in the form of a certified check or bank draft, payable to the Illinois School Building Commission in an amount not less than $25,000.00.

The successful bidder will be required to furnish a performance and payment bond acceptable to the School Building Commission in the full amount of the contract price. Cost of said bond will be paid by the contractor.

No bid may be withdrawn after the closing time for receipt of bids or for a period of 30 days thereafter. The School Building Commission reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids, to waive any informality in bidding, and to award a contract in the best interest of the State of Illinois.

To Understand...

Warm Smiles Ease Tension

by KATHY MAINZER

To create a better understanding between a big city high school and a high school of suburbia, the student councils of Arlington and Forest View participated in a visitation exchange with Chicago's Marshall High School last week.

On May 10, some 50 Forest View and Arlington students visited Marshall.

THE HUGE, FIVE-STORY SCHOOL was old but clean. We were welcomed with warm smiles that released any tensions we might have felt.

The first hour was spent getting to know each other over a light snack of juice, milk, and a hot roll.

We then were briefed as to the day's activities and were entertained by the girls drill team, fencing team (second in state), and an oratorical declamation speech by a boy who also placed second in state competition.

Divided into groups of two or three, we were then guided by Marshall students who took us any place we wanted to see. We visited classes and various parts of the building, witnessing a regular school day.

BECAUSE THE SCHOOL is on shifts, we never once were caught up in a huge crowd, except lunch. Under the "shifts," freshmen begin classes at 7:15 a.m.; sophomores, 7:45 a.m.; and so on. By 10:30 a.m., everyone is at school and on a different schedule.

Everything about Marshall fascinated me: the building, the students and the pride they had for their school. I was impressed by the "Ivy League" style of dress and the students' attitudes.

They were interested and curious about us; however, many students were reluctant to ask questions.

Mr. Burton Showers, director of student activities at Forest View, summed up the exchange by saying, "I think this project was a wonderful way for the students of two quite different high schools to exchange ideas and thoughts. It was a great success."

A Chance To Learn New Ideas

To complete the exchange with Marshall High School, Palatine High School's Student Human Relations Council will be sending 25 students to Marshall next Wednesday.

Marshall, located on Chicago's west side, recently sent 15 students to visit Palatine. The students visited classes of their own choosing and were accompanied by SHRC members.

Following an after-school discussion, the day was ended with guided tours of Palatine by Leonard Newendorp, principal, and Ray Mills and Charles Johannsen of the guidance department.

IN AN INSTRUCTION sheet directed to the students going to Marshall, SHRC president Terry Koenig said, " . . . we feel you are qualified to contribute to such a cultural exchange. It is an opportunity for those who would like to learn new ideas and express their own ideas. You must not hesitate to answer any questions which are asked, and you should be prepared to answer those which pertain to our students, our school, and our community."

Those going to Marshall are the following: Bill Kimble, Irv Lewandowski, Aaron Hughes, Terry Koenig, Dale Collier, Dave Fremon, Mike Moore, Bill Gibbons, Nicki DeMarco, Jill Evans, Barb Lethem, Peggy Smith, Amy Davis, Betty Grimes, Bea Roth, Peggy Koch, Althea Meyer, Linda Dickson, Sue Wirkus, Jo Coules, Sherry Metz, Anne Chalfant, Wilma Herman, Phil Samuels, and Doug Spruance. 'Daley Machine' Is Lashed by Ogilvie

Sheriff Richard Ogilvie criticized the Cook County Democratic organization in a speech last Friday to the Palatine Regular Republican Organization.

Ogilvie, who is currently running for president of the Cook County Board, said a Republican win in November will be the first step in knocking out the strength of the "Daley machine" in 1968.

He said a winning Republican slate in November in Cook County is the kind of groundwork needed if Republicans are to win in national elections.

OGILVIE SAID things look good for Charles Percy, who meets Senator Paul Douglas in the U.S. senatorial race in November and quoted a recent poll which showed Percy beating Douglas in the City of Chicago by 3 to 1.

He went on to say that a Percy win in November could be of great benefit to the whole county GOP slate.

Ogilvie said the Democratic machine is being weakened by the dissatisfaction growing within the Negro community in Chicago. He said that for the first time leading Negroes are running as Democrats against the Democratic power structure.

The candidate went on to say that the Johnson administration's handling of the Viet Nam war is also weakening the Democratic party. Those objecting to Johnson's hard-line policy in Viet Nam are primarily Democrats. This should have a weakening effect upon Democratic results in November.

Ogilvie next stated some of the policies he hopes to put into effect if elected president of the county board in November.

He promised to set up a civil service program in the Cook County departments "like never has been seen before." He said one of the county responsibilities that needs more civil service is Cook County Hospital.

He said it is absolutely wrong to run the hospital as an outlet for the distribution of political rewards as the Democratic organization has done for many years.

OGILVIE ALSO said a great share of the $457 million dollar budget of Cook County goes into welfare payments. He said Democratic leaders lead the welfare recipients to believe their money comes from the generosity of the Democratic party, rather than from the laws of Cook County.

He pledged to wage a relentless war to take politics out of the welfare program.

Also introduced at the GOP reception were Robert L. Hesse, candidate for state representative in the June 14 Republican primary; Sen. John A. Graham (R-Barrington) seeking re-election from the 3rd district; and Eugene F. Schlickman who is seeking re-election as state representative. All have been endorsed by the Palatine GOP organization. Schools Will Hire Purchasing Agent

High School District 214 may soon hire a purchasing agent taking a step recommended during the April school board election by unsuccessful candidate John K. Auld.

Creation of the position was authorized by the school board Monday evening.

Board members approved a detailed list of qualifications and duties of a purchasing agent and later, in executive session, talked over several likely candidates.

NO DECISION has been made on a person to fill the post, however, and Director of Personnel Nelson Lowrey has assured the board that the post will be open to persons within the school system as well as from outside.

As approved by the board, the purchasing agent would be responsible to Director of Business Services Frank Coleman. A person with business training and previous experience in purchasing is sought, with a salary range specified as $8,000 to $14,500.

Authorization of a purchasing agent, reporting to the director of business services, was recommended in the management study done for the district in 1963 by Booz, Allen and Hamilton. But the management firm at that time predicted a need for the additional business office person after the sixth high school opens.

Septic Tank Firms Seek Help in Crisis

Six northwest suburban septic tank cleaning firms who say they have a crisis on their hands have asked the Metropolitan Sanitary District for help.

They're not sure they'll get it, according to Leonard Arnold, owner of one of the firms.

Arlington Heights Atty. Allan Peters, representing the six, has written Sanitary District Supt. Vinton W. Bacon urging that they be permitted to discharge effluent into an interceptor sewer.

PETERS SAID his six clients service 95 per cent of all septic tank users in the Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Wheeling and Elk Grove area. They are Herman Christ, Aero Sewer Service. Henry Weidner, Weidner Sewer Service; Roger Bernard, Bernard Sewer Service; Forest Garrison, Courtesy Sewer Service; Sam Woodal, Woodal Sewer Service, and Arnold, Arnold Sewer Service.

The "majority" of his clients, Peters said, have been arrested on charges of creating a nuisance because of obnoxious odors created when they dispose of the septic matter. Arnold said the arrests have come from village police; he said the firms have been dumping the matter into sewers through village manholes.

The problem arose, according to Peters' May 9 letter, from the 1960 county zoning code. Formerly, the operators were allowed to dump the effluent on farm properties, where it was plowed under for fertilizer. But the 1960 rezoning of farm lands eliminated that practice.

Peters said the only solution offered by the sanitary district to date has been to permit operators to dump at the Stickney or Skokie treatment plants. "However, both of these locations are very unsatisfactory because of the cost involved to transport the effluent to these locations. All of my clients state that if they were forced to use these locations, the cost of the user of the service would be at an amount double the current rate and thus would drive my clients out of business."

ARNOLD SAID all of the firms' clients are within the sanitary district and pay taxes to it without receving service from it.

Arnold charged politics was involved in the district's refusal to act. He said one staff member of the district told him the operators did not have enough influence to get the ruling changed. (ACME

Atcher Says Graham Claims GOP Record

Incumbent State Sen. John A. Graham was taken to task this week by his opponent in the race for the Republican senatorial nomination in the June 14, primary for "not knowing or not caring about the problems and needs of the municipalities in his own district."

The charge was leveled by Robert O. Atcher, mayor of Schaumburg, who is one of Graham's opponents for the state senate seat representing the townships of Wheeling, Elk Grove, Palatine, Barrington, Schaumburg, Hanover, plus portions of Northfield and Maine.

Graham, according to Atcher, is "attempting to carry off a ruse by citing the record of the entire state senate as though he were responsible for all its accomplishments."

THE REPUBLICAN-controlled state senate, Atcher declared, "has indeed an enviable record, but Senator Graham, who's at the bottom of the list in the legislature in introducing legislation, can hardly take credit for that."

Atcher asserted that Graham has ben "completely unresponsive to the needs of the third district at a time when his district has been subjected to the most intense development in the nation."

He predicted that "this is just the beginning of what is in store for this district" and charged Grham with "either not knowing or not caring about the problems such growth has brought."

Atcher, who has been mayor of Schaumburg during the same period that Graham has been state senator, declared that, "in all the years I've been mayor of a village in Graham's district, not once has he called or visited me to ask if anything could be done at the state legislative level to make it easier for village boards and city councils in the third district to guarantee orderly, quality development."

Atcher asserted that, "in talking with other mayors in the district, I find this lack of interest on the part of Senator Graham has by no means been limited to any one village or city." (B10

Wayside Teachers Are Wed

Miss Joyce Kasper and Thomas Waters had never met before both taught at Our Lady of the Wayside parochial school on Arlington Heights' south side.

Last Saturday the two were wed in the parish church, with dozens of their pupils at the ceremony.

Mrs. Waters, a resident of 122 Redbush, Prospect Heights, before her marriage, is a fifth grade teacher at Wayside. Waters, who has resided at 516 Landmeier Road, Elk Grove Village, teaches junior high classes at the parochial school.

THE COUPLE asked all the junior high students and the fifth graders to be guests at their 11 a.m. nuptial mass.

Three junior high boys—Gary Wenzel, Dennis Foreman and Raymond Rapetti—served as altar boys. The mass was sung by a choir made up of eighth grade girls.

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Waters were back at school. An extended honeymoon has been postponed until the end of the current parochial school term.

The couple's residence is at 4712 Arbor Drive in Rolling Meadows.

An 'Oriental Evening' At Lake Park Prom

By BRIAN HICKEY

The work of Lake Park High School juniors over the past few months will come to a climax tomorrow night as the 1966 Junior Prom is presented at Medinah Country Club.

The prom, considered by many as the highlight of the school year, is presented annually by the junior class in behalf of the graduating seniors.

ALL JUNIORS, seniors and faculty members are invited. Seniors and faculty members are admitted with a complimentary ticket. Juniors are required to purchase tickets priced at $2.50 stag or $4 per couple.

This year's theme is "Evening In the Orient." To follow along with the theme, servers and door attendants will be dressed in oriental kimonos. Oriental fruit punch and fortune cookies will be served.

According to Jimmy Dudley, junior class sponsor, "This year's prom should be the greatest ever at Lake Park. We are featuring many firsts, and committees have worked tirelessly for many months preparing for the big night.

WORKING WITH Dudley during the past months have been Miss Diane Hendrickson and Karyl Shultz, both English teachers and junior class advisors.

Those attending the prom will witness a Lake Park first in that two bands will be entertaining. Both groups are managed by Chuck Cavollo.

A regular formal band will play for 40 minutes, changing off with a rock group which will play for 20 minutes. This system allows for continuous entertainment thoughout the night, including intermissions.

The highlight of the evening will be the crowning of the prom queen. The court has already been selected. (5Y

Plantation Decor Planned for Prom

by NANCY PONTONI

The juniors and seniors of Prospect High School and their dates will dance under "Moonlight and Roses," this year's prom, tomorrow night from 9 to midnight at Flick-Reedy Corp., Bensenville.

The hall will be transformed into a Southern plantation with silhouettes of scenes depicting plantation life, a fountain and rose trellises. Each girl will receive as a bid a silver rose charm.

Senior girls up for Prom Queen are Kathy Farleigh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Farleigh, 407 S. See-Gwun, Mount Prospect; Barbara Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Rucker, 1 S. Donald, Arlington Heights; Karen MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. MacDonald, 604 N. Wilshire, Arlington Heights; Marilyn Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Watkins, 105 N. Drury Lane, Arlington Heights; and Heidi Schnyder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Schnyder, 104 Prospect Manor, Mount Prospect.

THE QUEEN candidates were chosen by the senior boys in homeroom. They were asked to pick one girl they wanted to represent their class in poise and beauty. The boys will vote for Prom Queen when they purchase their tickets.

Juniors and seniors taking juniors and seniors from Prospect will not have to pay for tickets. Those juniors and seniors taking someone from another class or another school will be required to pay $3.

The Prom is sponsored by the junior class. Acting as chairmen were Bob Tobin, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Tobin, 339 S. Carlyle, Arlington Heights, chairman; Linda Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olson, 503 S. Evanston, Arlington Heights, bids; Bonnie Van Riet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Riet, 622 S. George, Mount Prospect, queen; Barb Surdan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Surdan, 708 William, Mount Prospect, refreshments; Ernie Rogers, 803 W. Board Sets Supt. Pay For Year

Dr. Edward H. Gilbert will earn $24,000 during his first year as superintendent of High School District 214.

The salary was set at that amount by the high school district board of education during a special meeting Monday in Slichenmyer Administration Center.

It will mean a better than $5,000 boost for Gilbert, whose present salary is $18,958.

Dr. Gilbert, who has been with the school system since 1962, will become administrative head of the district when Supt. H. L. Slichenmyer retires this summer.

SLICHENMYER currently earns $27,500 as District 214 superintendent, a post he has held for the past 12 years.

A resident of 403 S. Yale, Arlington Heights, Dr. Gilbert is presently assistant superintendent with basic responsibility for curriculum.

A former Oklahoma school man, he came to District 214 from the University of Chicago. His doctor of philosophy degree is from that institution. (ACME

Sodality Receives 21

By KATHY SIMONS

Twenty-one sophomore and junior students were received Friday into the Senior Sodality of Sacred Heart of Mary High School.

After the traditional May Crowning Ceremony, at which Joanne Siffermann presided and Elizabeth Myers and Carole Hardy acted as attendants, the following girls were accepted by Father Burke, C.S.C., of Notre Dame Academy, Niles:

ELAINE BONK, Anne DeLaet, Charlene Fink, Betsy Fortman, Mary Jane Griffin, Annette Grody, Kim Kasper, Patricia Keane, Rose Kelly, Christine Lonze, Mary F. Nevins, Patricia O'Neil, Mary Paynter, Carol Prybil, Mary Roth, Kathleen Simons, Mary Smith, Marily Stuckel, Carol Szatkowski, Maria Villars, and Mary Wilhusen.

During the ceremony, the SHM choir, led by Miss Janet Nolting, sang "The Annunciation Carol," "Magnificat," "Ave Maria," "Lord's Prayer," and "Beautiful Savior,"

During Benediction, the student body sang the "Tantum Ergo."

Following the ceremony, the sodalists honored their mothers at a tea held in the cafeteria.

WAYSIDE PAIR: Seventh grade students congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Walters. The couple, both teachers at Our Lady of Wayside School in Arlington Heights, were married last Saturday. The students are Bernie Golbeck and Kevin McCall. Seventh graders presented them with a clock radio. Sixth graders gave them a kitchen shower, eighth graders money. (Staff photo) (B-10

Social Whirl A-Spinning Despite Postponed Barbecues

The rain, snow and small amount of sunshine scattered throughout the past week have certainly added variety to the weather, forcing those who had hoped to get in an early season outdoor barbecue to postpone efforts in the direction of backyard cuisine a little longer. In spite of the unfortunate turns taken by the climate, the trees, grass and flowers are blooming with springtime growth and activity. So, too, are Arlington Heighters, who keep up a busy pace as we enter the last half of May.

Co-hostesses at a dinner party Friday evening were Mrs. Barker Davis and daughter, Joan, 318 N. Drury, who entertained the William Barnard family of Arlington Heights, and the Russell Kunitzes of Minneapolis. The Barnards recently moved to 903 E. Vally Lane in Ivy Hill from Pottstown, Pa., and have been close friends of the Davis family since all three families lived in Minneapolis.

The occasion for Friday evening's festivities was a joint birthday celebration for the Barnards' children, Frank, 13 May 12, and Kathy, who will be "Sweet 16" May 22. The party followed a teen-age theme, with all joining in the singing of "Happy Birthday." The Kunitzes returned home after spending a long weekend with the Barnards.

Mr. Barnard, an employee of Minneapolis Honeywell, and his family look forward to renewing acquaintances with a number of friends from Minnesota who have also been transferred to this area.

GUEST OF honor at a 1:30 p.m. birthday celebration Wednesday was Keith Joseph, year-old son of the Jerome Rauchs, 110 S. Dunton. Five young friends were present to help him enjoy his party, which featured an unusual carousel birthday cake and followed a circus theme, complete with clown tablecloth and napkins. Also in attendance was Keith's maternal grandmother, Mrs. Paul Tossman of Arlington Heights.

Four candles adorned the birthday cake of Margaret Heffernan, daughter of the John Heffernans, 622 S. Arlington Heights Road, at a family party honoring her on Sunday.

Mrs. James Hendricks, 1506 E. Fremont, traveled to Bloomington, Ind., for the weekend, to attend a Mother's Day dinner given at the Phi Delta Theta house with her son, Jim, a senior at the University of Indiana.

While in Bloomington, Mrs. Hendricks also attended a prenuptial shower in honor of her future daughter-in-law, Miss Leslie Toles, in the home of Mrs. Raymond Miller. Mrs. Miller, a bridesmatron and Kappa Alpha Theta sister of Miss Toles, was hostess to 16 guests at the miscellaneous affair. Among those present at the shower were Mrs. Delbert Miller of Arlington Heights, mother-in-law of the hostess, and Miss Judy Hendricks of Indianapolis.

FOLLOWING HER shower, the bride-to-be, a senior at the University, returned to her home town, Anderson, where she will complete her term as a student teacher. Mrs. Hendricks returned here on Sunday, after a busy but enjoyable weekend.

A rehearsal dinner, with 20 persons in attendance, was held for Albert Goeppinger Jr., son of the senior Albert Goeppingers, 416 S. Dale, and his bride, Miss Lynn Walters, daughter of the Ralph Walters of Hoffman Estates, on the evening of May 6. They were married May 7.

A recent houseguest in the Goeppinger home, here to attend the wedding, has been the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Mamie Dean of West Point, Miss.

On May 14, the Goeppingers' daughter, Teri, observed her First Holy Communion at St. Raymond Catholic Church in Mount Prospect. She was treated to breakfast with her family and the family of her uncle, the George Goeppingers of Palatine, in celebration of the event. At the breakfast, Teri shared the spotlight with her cousin, George, who had received his First Communion that same morning in Palatine.

ANOTHER FESTIVITY was held Saturday evening, when Teri and her family and the family of another aunt and uncle, the Charles Jamiesons of Mount Prospect, honored Teri and her cousin, Charles, also a communicant at St. Raymond's that morning.

Peter, son of the Vincent Wroblewskis, 209 N. Derbyshire, was treated with a trip to Wrigley Field to see the Cubs play Saturday afternoon in commemoration of his First Communion at St. James Catholic Church that morning. Peter was accompanied on the outing by his father, his brothers and several friends. On Sunday, Peter entertained six friends for cake and sodas.

Brunch at the Rolling Green Country Club was enjoyed Saturday by Judge and Mrs. Robert C. Buckley and children, 222 N. Derbyshire, in honor of Bobby's First Communion at St. James Catholic Church that morning. Others present for the festivities included his grandmothers, Mrs. Peter Buckley and Mrs. Edward O'Callahan; godparents, Mrs. John Hagerty and William Buckley; a cousin, Kathy Hagerty; and Mr. Hagerty, all of Chicago. Saturday evening Bobby entertained Scott and Sue Forster at dinner in his home.

ON MAY 21, Carol, daughter of the Peter Galdonis, 704 S. Kaspar, will be among those celebrating their First Communions at Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic Church. Following the services, the Galdoni family will honor Carol by going to the Milk Pail for a brunch. Carol's grandparents, the H. Morrays, and her aunt, Miss Susan Morray, all of Detroit, will spend the weekend in the Galdoni home.

Stephen, son of the John Callaghans, 307 N. Derbyshire, was the honored guest of his family on Saturday noon, when the family went out to lunch in celebration of his First Communion at St. James Catholic Church. Stephen's aunt, Mrs. Josephine Smith of Atlantic City N. J., flew out to attend the communion and will spend a week visiting in the Callaghan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Callaghan were hosts at a political coffee in their home Sunday afternoon, at which more than 50 persons were present.

AT A HIS and Her shower given Sunday for bride-elect Miss Sarajane Precilio and her fiance, Wayne Thein, gifts ranged from the sublime to the ridiculous — and Youknowho was given the gag gifts. Everything else about the champagne buffet was lovely, and "lovely" might even describe some of the personal items presented to the groom-to-be.

Shower hosts were the Arnold Silvers, 1606 W. Grove, assisted by their daughter, Mrs. William Hicks, who will attend Miss Precilio as a bridesmaid in the June nuptials. Co-conspirators, 32 suburban friends of the honor guests, were so successful in keeping the party secret that the surprise element was delightfully effective. Silvers' upcoming birthday provided the believable bait to the bridal couple who arrived at 1606 W. Grove expecting to extend congratulations, not receive them.

Miss Precilio, daughter of the junior Frank N. Precilios, 888 S. Bristol, and Thein, son of the Oliver Theins of Minnesota, will be married June 25.

Miss Judy Thomas, 348 S. Beverly, recently returned from a three-week vacation abroad, where she visited her father's relatives in Middlesex, England, and toured Germany, Switzerland and Holland.

SCARSDALE WILL lose a valued neighbor and charity worker when Mrs. William Ball of 454 Banbury moves to Arizona on June 30. She is building a new home on the Moon Valley Country Club between the 10th and 18th holes. This is a championship golf course ringed by mountains and situated near Phoenix. Her son, Fred, a student at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., will work for the Valley National Bank in Phoenix after graduation. Daughter Betty will attend Connecticut College for Women at New London next fall. This summer she will be her mother's first assistant.

Mrs. Ball left her charity work here in a blaze of glory. Trotting Charities, Inc. sent her two checks of $5000 each to be presented to the Northwest Community Hospital and Clearbrook School for Retarded Children, respectively. They accumulate this money by "racing" for charity on certain days.

Mr. and Mrs. Newell P. Crockett of 711 Fairview and their son, Bob, went to Grosse Pointe, Mich. the first weekend in May to attend the wedding of Karen Holvick, former resident of Barrington.

AN ANNUAL trip for Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Nyquist of 714 S. Mitchell is a weekend in Louisville to see the Kentucky Derby.

O. F. Davenport, 442 Banbury, celebrated his birthday May 5 with a family dinner party. Their daughter and her family, the Donald Niemeyers, are living at home while their new house at 828 S. Mitchell, is being completed.

Dinner at the Tipperary Room at the Congress-Pick and a benefit performance of "Galileo" at the Goodman Theatre was an enjoyable evening for the Walter Edelblutes of 209 Pine. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frances McCarthy and the show benefited the Parkinson Foundation.

Mrs. Mable Gard, mother of Mr. and Mrs. William Gard, 336 Windsor, had two celebrations for her May 4 birthday. There was a family dinner on Mother's Day attended by her great-granddaughter, Michelle, and grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Graf (Barbara) and a card party on May 9 attended by her card club members who have been friends for many years.

A $500 SCHOLARSHIP from the Newspaper Distributor's Assn. of Chicago will be presented to Dewey Oberlin Chiesel at the 18th annual scholarship presentation at the Congress-Pick Hotel. His parents, the Gale Oberlins of 201 Dryden, are justly proud of their Prospect High School senior.

The Banker's Assn. of Foreign Trade meeting in Boca Raton, Fla., was an interesting experience for Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, 201 Wilshire. They found time to golf and swim in the pool. The ocean was too rough for swimming because of high winds. Mrs. Bredehoft commented on the multilingual abilities of the foreign guests at the meeting. Most of them spoke three or more languages, including English.

Paul Bredehoft spent his May 1 weekend on the Galena Scout Pilgrimage. Assemblying at the Mississippi Palisades Park, they hiked to Galena and surrounding points of interest. Before the trip he had to write a 300-word theme of U. S. Grant. (A

High School District Awards Bus Contract

Endorsing the principle of diversification, the High School District 214 board has given Davidsmeyer Bus Service a contract to haul next year's Elk Grove High School students.

The two-year transportation contract, awarded at a special meeting last Wednesday Slichenmyer Administration Center, calls for Davidsmeyer to provide nine 84-passenger busses at $40 per bus, a total of $65,520 for the 1966-67 school year.

Cook County School Bus Company, currently sole hauler of the district's students, will continue to provide service to the other four high schools under its present contract. Next year it will supply 63 busses and 7 stand-by vehicles for a total payment of $319,046.

THE SCHOOL board, which this year has spent hours and hours discussing bus service, was split in its decision to diversify.

An administrative proposal that Cook County alone be retained, to supply 65 busses and 7 stand-bys for a total 1966-67 payment of $329,966, was defeated 3-2. Board members William J. Griffith and Arthur Aronson cast "Yes" votes while Mrs. Leah Cummins, Hal Armstrong and Dr. Frank J. Smith voted nay.

Mrs. Cummins, Smith and Armstrong then voted to continue Cook County on its present service and give Davidsmeyer the Elk Grove High School contract. Griffith and Aronson both voted "No."

Two board members, T. Earl Thompson and Richard Bachhuber, were not present for the special 6 p.m. meeting Wednesday. Had they been, the decision would probably have remained the same, since Bachhuber has indicated a preference for Griffith's position and Thompson told Paddock Publications this week that he would have voted with Mrs. Cummins.

The decision to use Davidsmeyer and Cook County will cost the school district $51,000 more next year than it would have cost to hire Cook County alone, and $16,380 more than if the district had instead accepted a lower bid by Ritzenthaler Bus Lines, Inc.

Ritzenthaler, at the board's May 9 meeting, had presented an alternate bid to provide 15 busses for the Elk Grove students for a per-day price of $270.

MRS. CUMMINS had recommended acceptance of the Davidsmeyer bid at that meeting, citing the company's reputation for reliable service.

Griffith, arguing for using just Cook County, told fellow board members that he just couldn't justify the added $51,000 a year. He added that from all indications Cook County School Bus Company has "made every effort" to give District 214 good service.

During the past year Cook County, hampered like other area bus companies by a shortage of drivers, has been late in covering its contracted-for runs, slow in giving refunds for late service. Mrs. Cummins has cited these deficiencies in arguing for use of a second bus company for the new Elk Grove High. (ACME

R ARE YOU AFRAID TO GO TO A PHYSICIAN?

Recently a physician told about one of his patients who was brought to his office almost in a state of mental collapse. For nearly a year this patient watched a growth on his body become larger and was afraid to go to a physician for fear of hearing the worst. He just worried himself sick.

Fortunately it was a benign tumor, easily removed by minor surgery and now he is well again. But, if it had been cancerous, the delay might have permitted that growth to become incurable, instead of being easily removed before its poison infected the body.

Never fear the worst. If you have recurring pains or aches, or unusual body changes, consult a physician quickly. The odds are they will be curable.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Greatest Events In American History—No. 20

THE SETTLEMENT AND DEVELOPMENT OF AMERICA'S WEST

The one chapter of American history that's been the subject of more books and movies than any other is our westward movement in the last century—featuring the pioneers, the gold rush, the frontier towns, the covered wagons and the stagecoach. (Incidentally, do you know where the stagecoach got its name? It was because its horses were changed in stages along the route).

One big impetus to the westward movement came when James Marshall found gold in California Jan. 24, 1848.

Others went west—not for gold—but for land, or merely for new opportunity.

Perhaps nothing typifies the success of America better than our hardy pioneers. They worked hard today to have a better life tomorrow. They gave a vigor to our country that cleared the way for the prosperity we enjoy now.

John Woods, Arlington Heights village president and chairman of the Citizen's Advisory Committee for Eugene F. Schlickman in his campaign for Republican committeeman, announced the names of additional members of the advisory commitee. Included among those joining this committee are:

—Fred Leydig, 705 E. Rockwell St., past president of the United Fund of Arlington Heights and a former chairman of the Illinois State Young Republicans. Leydig is a patent attorney.

—Henry Chakoian, D.D.S., 300 Dale, Mount Prospect, past president of the North West Meadows Association, past secretary of the Northwest Suburban Mosquito Abatement District, an elder in the Presbyterian Church, and a member of the park district advisory committee.

—Barney Erickson, 911 N. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, owner of real estate firm of Krause & Kehe, and an active member in the Elks, Lions and Chamber of Commerce.

—Dana (Mrs. Julius) Bejamin, 1016 Beverly Drive, Wheeling, a member of the Wheeling Junior Woman's Club and its Community Improvements and fine arts chairman and a member of the United Fund board. Mrs. Benjamin also helped found the Wheeling Historical Society.

—Joe Bennett, 303 E. Hawthorne St., Arlington Heights, an architect and official of the National Rifle Association. Bennett was the architect for the Arlington Heights Municipal Building.

—J. Ross Clark, 401 MacArthur Drive, Mount Prospect, campaign chairman for the Mount Prospect Combined Appeal.

Woods commented, "One of the major tasks that faces any Republican committeeman is building a strong organization on volunter work. In order to do this, the committeeman must have broad contacts throughout the entire township. He must be able to call on others to help—others who have contacts and respect in all of the groups that make up our township. Gene Schlickman will be better able to accomplish this than his opponent and can therefore be a better committeeman."

Candidates Night Scheduled May 26

Richard Cowen, Republican Deputy Committeeman this week announced that Richard Ogilvie, candidate for president of the county board, Earl Eisenhower, candidate for county clerk, Joe Woods, candidate for sheriff, and George Thiem, former Pulitzer Prize winner and candidate for the sanitary district, are among the Republican candidates who will attend the Republican Organization's Candidate Night set for Thursday, May 26 at Old Orchard Country Club.

This event will start at 8 p.m. and is open to the public. There is no charge.

Candidate's night will be strictly informal. There will be no speeches; instead each candidate will be briefly introduced and then will spend the rest of the time talking to people on a person to person basis.

COWEN ADDED, "It is much more interesting to be able to talk with our candidates personally, even if for just a few minutes, rather than sitting and listening to a succession of political speeches.

"Here's an excellent chance to discuss issues, campaign strategy, and just get to know these outstanding men better. This will probably be the only time in the campaign when we can have this direct, personal contact."

Cowen also emphasized this is the only Candidate's Night being held in Wheeling Township that has invited every Republican candidate for national, State, County and Township office.

In addition to Ogilvie, Eisenhower, Woods, and Thiem, all candidates for the state senate and state house of representatives in the new 3rd District will be present. This may be the last time to meet these candidates at one time prior to the June 14 primary. (ACM

New Name, But Road Has Proud History

"State Road" has faded from official usage in Arlington Heights, though residents still frequently use that name to refer to the community's main north-south thoroughfare.

It's been nearly six months since the street officially became "Arlington Heights Road." The village board changed the name so it would have the same designation inside and outside the village. Residents, however, still frequently use the old name because of its shortness and familiarity.

A recent issue of "Cook County Highways," a publication of the county board, recalled the street's proud past and explained why jogs exist in the road south of Central Road.

The original State Road was authorized by the Illinois Legislature in 1830 to run north from Naperville through Babcock's Grove, Meacham's Grove, Buffalo Grove, Arlington Heights and Elk Grove. It connected with a mail route from Chicago to St. Louis.

A FAMOUS traveler over the old State Road's connection with St. Louis was Daniel Webster, who in 1837 made a western tour to get acquainted with the new country. In his book, "Chicago Highways—Old and New," Milo W. Quaiffe tells of the famous orator's reception:

"He left St. Louis June 14 and reached Chicago at the close of the month. On his approach, the joyful townsmen went out in a great cavalcade 10 miles to Des Plaines to escort him into the city."

The 1830 road in Wheeling Township has been replaced with a straight roadway following the section line from Dundee Road to just south of Central Road. From there, it generally follows the irregular line selected by the pioneers to avoid swamps and trees.

COLONIAL HEIGHTS

Bill Strand, Hatlen Avenue, came home Friday for an 11-day leave from the Air Force base at Amarillo.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Livingston, Hatlen Avenue, entertained Chuck's parents last weekend. The E. H. Livingstons of San Jose, Calif., also enjoyed spending a few days at O'Hare Inn.

Chuck Livingston had a busy weekend, helping his pack at Scoutorama at O'Hare Field.

Get well wishes go to Glen Livingston who is home with mumps.

John Mayers, Estates Drive, is sporting a cast after falling and breaking his arm.

THE PHILLIP Buffa family, Kim Avenue, enjoyed Mother's Day visiting their parents, the Frank Buffas in Elmwood Park and the Lawrence Mobecks in Norridge.

Sunday was a happy day for Kathy, Frankie and Laurie Buffa as they visited their great-grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Greco who is in Lynwood Nursing Home in Maywood with a broken hip.

The junior C. M. Baardsens, Estates Drive, enjoyed browsing through Scoutorama Sunday and then touring St. Alexis Hospital.

SUNDAY evening guests of the Baardsens were Mrs .Charlene Schwingbeck, Kristen's godmother, and three children.

Saturday the David Andersons, Kim Avenue, and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Drelickory of Des Plaines enjoyed an evening at Plentywood Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sullivan, Estates Drive, spent Mother's Day dining with Mrs. Anne Sullivan, Pat's mother at Ernie's Bavarian Lodge in Wheeling. Carol's parents, the Ernest Kuehls, own the restaurant.

LAKE BRIARWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Osner, Briarwood Drive, East, came home Sunday from a combined business and pleasure trip to the East Coast. They flew to Bridgeport, Conn., then drove to Hartford and Boston. One evening was spent at Pier 4 in Boston for a seafood dinner.

In New York City they stayed at the Plaza Hotel for three days. They also visited with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Conroy who formerly lived in Arlington Heights.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Printz Briarwood Drive, East, arrived home Friday after attending the Mechanical Contractors of America Assns' annual convention in Minneapolis from May 8 to 12.

The ladies were busy with planned activities for their free time, while their husbands attended the convention. They had a tour though the Swedish Institute and a tour of the Betty Crocker plant. They attended a theatre matinee and also had a sightseeing tour of Minneapolis and the surrounding lakes with luncheon at LaFayette Country Club.

Also conventioning were Mr. and Mrs. Larry DiLucchio, Briarwood Drive, East, who are back after a four-day plane trip to New York City. They stayed at the Hilton and enjoyed, among other things, dinner at Mama Leone's and Del Monico's, a musical, "Half a Six Pence" on Broadway and a tour through the United Nations Building.

Dorrie learned from their guide that the guides must take weekly tests so that they keep up on the latest events at the UN.

THE REST OF the DiLucchios' trip was spent sightseeing in Greenwich Village and shopping in New York City.

Saturday morning Striking Lanes held a combined bowling banquet fot their Junior Leagues and Dempster Junior High Leagues. Three Lake Briarwood youngsters won trophies. Robin Foster's team placed second; Tom Dendor tied for first place high game, with a 214 scratch, and also receivedc an achievement award trophy for helping keep score for the younger children all season; Robin Bender received her trophy for third high game with the Dempster Junior High League with a 180 scratch game.

On May 3, Dick Osner, Briarwood Drive, East, met with Governor Kerner to present a physical education scholarship award to an Illinois girl from the E. R. Moore Company for whom he is general sales promotion manager.

A gift of life insurance? For a child?

For parents and grandparents, it's a nicer idea than you may think. When all the other gifts are gone, this gift will keep right on giving.

That's because a brand-new policy from Life Insurance Company of North America offers children (aged 15 days to 15 years) insurance worth $1250—for just $60—once! No more premiums to pay until the child is 23—and then the policy automatically becomes $5,000 of permanent insurance. Also, at 5 regular intervals, the policy may be increased by as much as $5,000 each time at standard rates, without a medical or other exam!

Your gift guarantees a child the opportunity for a $25,000 life insurance estate. To give a present that keeps on giving for years to come, send in the coupon below. We'll send you full details.

Housing Study Goals Discussed by League

A realtor, an AME minister and the executive director of the Chicago Conference on Religion and Race were panelists last Wednesday in Arlington Heights at a regional meeting planned to set the tone for a new state League of Women Voters study of equal housing opportunities.

Mrs. Charles Probst of Northbrook, state civil liberties chairman, told some 70 LWV members attending the meeting in Faith Lutheran Church that the goal of the new study is to determine whether the League should support or oppose legislation in the field of equal housing opportunities.

"We are not determining, in this study, whether the League should support protection of the individual in his civil rights and liberties. We've already decided that," Mrs. Probst commented.

SHE SAID DURING tne next year's study the LWV would be aided by many other organizations in taking an objective look at fair housing legislation.

LWV chairman attending the meeting received a portfolio of materials, some of them from civil rights groups and the rest from real estate groups opposed to what they term "forced housing" legislation.

Panelists at the luncheon outlined pro and con views on the subject.

The speakers included a Des Plaines Realtor, Ralph Martin of William Kunkel and Company; an Evanston minister, Rev. Emory Davis of the Bethel AME Church, and Eugene Callahan of the Chicago Conference.

Callahan told the LWV group that the City of Chicago's ordinance requiring realtors not to discriminate in showing property for sale or rent has had little effect on the block-by-block pattern of neighborhood change.

Martin said his opposition to fair housing legislation was based on the 14th Amendment. He told the Leaguers that "denial of choice is the denial of freedom."

Rev. Davis told the league group that although National Associaion of Real Estate Boards policy says that realtors "have no right to determine" racial makeup of an area, real estate firms have in fact supported an "institutionalized practice of segregation."

DURING A QUESTION and answer session which followed, Mrs. George Schroeder of Arlington Heights sked, "What recourse does a homeowner have if he lists his house with a realtor, asking that it be shown on a nondiscriminatory basis, and the realtor does not follow his instructions? What does the industry do to regulate itself?"

Sanctions have not been imposed in such cases, both Martin and Rev. Davis said. The minister cited a case in Evanston in which a real estate firm did not follow the owner's wishes and discriminated in his handling of the listing.

Although a complaint was filed with the Evanston Human Relations Commission, no action was taken against the Realtor by the North Shore Board, both men agreed. (B10

Rep. Chapman Attends Education Conference

State Rep. Eugenia S. Chapman, D-Arlington Heights, attended a two-day nationwide conference last week of school board members and other laymen active in educational activities held in Chicago to consider the widely discussed work of the Exploratory Committee on Assessing the Progress of Education.

The 26 persons, representing 21 states, reviewed sample test items that might serve as a basis for a national assessment of educational progress. The conference, organized by the University of Minnesota, was attended by laymen from large cities, suburban areas and other types of communities.

THE EXPLORATORY Committee on Assessing the Progress of Education is an independent committee originally appointed and funded by the Carnegie Corporation of New York, a private foundation. Its work is now also being supported by the Fund for the Advancement of Education, another private foundation.

Over the past year and a half administrators, curriculum specialists, scholars, measurements specialists, school board members and other laymen interested in education have been involved in the efforts of the Committe.

Last year Mrs. Chapman attended conferences in Chicago in November and in New York in December, concerned with reviewing national educational objectives.

The committee's aim is to work broadly with both professional and lay groups to devise procedures and instruments to assess the progress of education. Such information is needed to provide a sound basis for public understanding of educational needs and the progress being made by our nation's schools.

STATISTICAL procedures for sampling can be used for a small-scale assessment based on only a portion of the population. Such procedures would not furnish scores for individuals, teachers, or schools, but could efficiently serve to identify educational strength and problems needing national attention and support.

Mrs. Chapman, formerly a member and secretary of High School District 214 Board of Education, was a member of the Illinois House of Representatives Education Committee during the last legislative session. Currently seeking re-election in the 3rd Representative District, Mrs. Chapman was one of the 118 Democrats elected to the house in the now historic at-large election of 1964.

IEA Division Plans Chapman Campaign

"Coffees for Chapman" are the order of the day in Schaumburg and Barrington for members of the Northwest Suburban Division of the Illinois Education Association.

The IEA division, which has endorsed Mrs. Eugenia Chapman of Arlington Heights in her bid for re-election as state representative from the Third District, is also planning doorbell-ringing, distribution of fliers and "get out the vote" phone call chains.

The campaign efforts in the four northwest suburban townships are being directed by a political action committee headed by William Urbanek, legislative chairman for the IEA division.

URBANEK SAID the IEA is stressing in its campaign in support of Mrs. Chapman that its endorsement — precedent-setting for Illinois teachers' associations, though not unusual in other states — was taken because of the organization's respect for Mrs. Chapman's support of education.

A former District 214 school board member and past president of the Arlington Heights League of Women Voters, Mrs. Chapman "specialized" in school legislation during her freshman term in the General Assembly. It was IEA members' observation of her efforts to get good school bills passed that led to the endorsement, he explained.

Urbanek said that some area citizens have criticized the IEA step and gone so far as to challenge teachers' right to be active politically, citing the Hatch act as their authority.

Urbanek says he answers such critics by citing the Brown amendment approved in October, 1942. An amendment to the Hatch act, it specifically exempts educational, research and religious organizations from the provisions of the Hatch act.

Serving with Urbanek on the IEA political action committee are George McKown, Stanley John, Jim Binder, John Bush, IEA president-elect Don Thomas, IEA president William Harner, Ken Bates, Ron Glovetski and Mrs. Mary Lou Moffoletto. (B-10

Urbanek to Push For Revenue Vote

William Urbanek, Schaumburg principal, has been named Illinois Education Association representative to the Governor's committee for passage of the proposed new Revenue Article.

Urbanek, legislative chairman for the IEA's Northwest Suburban Division, will be one of five Cook County IEA members on the Governor's committee.

He was named at an IEA state legislative committee meeting last Friday in Springfield.

At that meeting IEA legislative activities in support of the proposed Blue Ballot amendment were discussed.

THERE HAS been some talk among IEA members that the education association might back down from its position in support of the revenue revision proposal, but no mention of this took place at Friday's meeting, Urbanek said.

"No one even suggested that we do that," he asserted. "The possibility of the IEA withdrawing its support of the amendment was not even discussed."

The Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, the Independent Voters of Illinois, and state labor groups have come out in opposition to the proposed new Revenue Article.

Urbanek says many teachers "at the local level" are not for the amendment. "But I think they, too, just need a lot of education," he added.

Plans to do some educating regarding the need for revenue revision were outlined at Friday's meeting, Urbanek said. He said the IEA will be particularly active in working with Governor Kerner's citizens committee in this regard.

Local LWV Members to Attend Meet

Seven suburban members of the League of Women Voters will attend the annual meeting of the Cook County Council of the LWV next Tuesday in Chicago.

Attending the business session and luncheon at the Imperial Inn Motel will be Mrs. Tom Lunak of Des Plaines, Cook County chairman; Mrs. Ralph Waterhouse of Mount Prospect, and Mrs. George Schroeder, Mrs. Walter Navik and Mrs. W. J. Marier, all of Arlington Heights.

Also planning to attend the meeting are Mrs. Wesley Pucinski and Mrs. Earl Dailey of the Palatine LWV.

THE AREA women will hear an architect, Edward D. Dart, speak on "Urban Aesthetics and Civic Design."

Among Dart's best known works are the Chicago Theological Seminary faculty housing, the United Parcel Service distribution center and the Lansing, Ill., Presbyterian Church.

Frequently recognized for his architectural achievements, Dart has been given 11 honor awards and citations of merit by the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry and the A.I.A. (B-10

Clean Streams Support Asked

In an intensified effort "toward rehabilitation of our waterways . . . and greater control of pollution," Governor Otto J. Kerner proclaimed this week as Clean Streams Week in Illinois.

His proclamation followed an appeal made last Saturday by the Board of Trustees of the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago. (B10

Atcher Reaffirms Need for Council

The "advisory council" of constituents proposed a month ago by Robert O. Atcher, mayor of Schaumburg and a Republican candidate for the nomination for state senator in the third district, will "include representatives of business and the professions, as well as civic and political leaders."

Atcher, who is seeking the GOP nomination in the June 14 primary, expounded on his original proposal at a meeting of Northfield Township Republicans last week.

He asserted that the "greatest need of these northwest suburbs is meaningful communication" with their senator in Springfield. "For a legislator to confess unawareness of his district's problems," Atcher said, "is to say, 'I'm too busy to be doing the job you elected me to do.'"

A "WORKABLE" answer, according to Atcher, is the advisory council he proposed early in April. He said he would invite representatives of the villages and cities in the district (including the townships of Wheeling, Palatine, Elk Grove, Barrington, Schaumburg, Hanover, and portions of Northfield and Maine) to meet regularly with him "to discuss pending legislation, to advise me of district problems, and to recommend legislation."

The council also will include "representatives of civic organizations, businessmen, educators, and members of the other professions," Atcher told Republicans.

"It is essential to this rapidly developing district that a truly representative group stay in constant touch with its senator."

Atcher said his council proposal "has been met with enthusiasm throughout the district this past month and I intend to make it one of the first accomplishments of my term as senator." (B10

Name Atcher Chairman in Northfield

A. Buck Ayars of Northfield, has been named campaign manager in Northfield Township for Robert O. Atcher, Schaumburg mayor and a candidate for the GOP nomination for state senator from the 3rd District.

Atcher is challenging incumbent Sen. John Graham of Barrington.

Richard Olson was named area chairman for Northfield Township in the Atcher campaign. (B10

During this year of study, they have mastered the basic fundamentals and can put them to practical use.

They know the principal chords and have learned how to make up pieces of their own. They have contests on note-naming and drills on blackboard writing. They are training their ears by systematic study and at this point can play short tunes or write them down, all by ear. Cooperation and friendly competition keep interest at a high level, and the results are amazing.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK
Sports Editor

Rain Has Been Frequent Foe . . .

Rain is nothing new to a state baseball tournament in Illinois although the Illinois High School Association admits that the siege of bad weather last week was the "worst in 25 years" of running the district finals.

The weatherman has never delivered the knockout punch to the tourney, but he has scattered competing schools around the state for the championship round.

In the third state baseball tournament, held in 1942, rain put a stop to the championship game in Peoria, and the two finalists—Cicero Morton and East St. Louis—moved to Cicero where Morton won the title, 4-2.

The same thing happened in 1943 as Oak Park and Streator prepared to battle for the state championship. The weather was better in Oak Park than it was in Peoria so the title site was switched. Oak Park won, 7-2.

Some tourney games in 1947, 1962, and last spring were switched to sites near Peoria with St. Viator actually launching its state bid in 1965 on the Pekin High School diamond.

St. Viator and St. Bede of Peru were scheduled to meet at Tom Connor field in Peoria, but a heavy rain forced the two schools to move to Pekin.

The worst year in the IHSA finals as far as rain is concerned was in 1954. That tourney opened on schedule with two games, but then the rains came to create some perplexing problems.

It wasn't until six days later that one of the two remaining first round contests was completed; and that at Chicago's Stagg Field where Winnetka of New Trier topped Thornton 3-2.

Meanwhile, Peoria Manual and Belleville were finding it impossible to complete the first-round game.

The two clubs were rained out three times in Peoria before the site of the games was moved up to Lanphier Park in Springfield. But their luck didn't change. There were three more rainouts.

Finally, on June 4, eight days after the original date of the game, Belleville beat Manual, 4-1, in Peoria and went on to blank Bowen 7-0 for the title the next day.

It took 10 days for the tournament originally scheduled for two days, but they finally determined a champion.

The advocates of summer or fall baseball on a high school level are building up a pretty good case after this miserable spring.

Paul Dumke, regular forward on St. Viator's varsity basketball team for two seasons, has been awarded a part cage scholarship to St. Joseph's College in Rensselaer, Ind. Paul scored 457 points in his two varsity campaigns with the Lions.

Legion Loses Tom Lundgren . .

The big lefty won't be back this summer.

That's the latest word from Lloyd Meyer, coach of Arlington's American Legion baseball team.

Tom Lundgren, the 6-3 southpaw who enjoyed a brilliant summer on the mound in Arlington's march to fifth place in the national finals, has another year remaining of Legion eligibility but has elected to pitch in a college division in South Dakota.

Lundgren, a freshman at the University of Missouri, was also sought by the Central Illinois Collegiate League.

The loss of Lundgren is a severe blow to any hopes Arlington Heights had of making another strong run for national honors in legion baseball.

Meyer still will be working with a talented club, but he doesn't have the 1-2 mound strength of Lundgren and Paul Splittorff that played so vital a role in the drive to the Legion World Series.

Johnny Friedl and Mark Newman, the 3-4 pitchers on that 1965 powerhouse, will return, and Meyer also has some other possibilities in mind so don't shed any tears yet.

Arlington should field a strong legion representative.

When the IHSA Track Games Committee holds its meeting with track coaches at the state finals Friday and Saturday, one of the items to be discussed is the question of holding preliminary or qualifying races in the 880 and mile run. At present these are the only two events in which qualifying races are not held on Friday in Champaign. All district qualifiers are placed in heats according to district clockings.

How Times Have Changed . . .

How times change. . .

Arlington High School's unit of Larry Malcolmson, Jim Kussow, Mark Saylor, and Steve Ewart tied a school record Saturday in the mile relay at the district meet almost six years to the day that the mark was first established.

Arlington had a 3:25.0 clocking in the 1966 district to equal the mark set by the unit of Steve Van Deren, Tom Stavros, Chuck Phelan, and Mike Dundy in the 1960 district at Evanston.

What's interesting about this effort is its rank state-wide for the two years.

When Arlington clipped off that 3:25 in 1960, the mark ranked as third best in the state. Moline had a 3:24.7 and Bloom a 3:24.8.

Today, that 3:25.0 stands as the tenth best in Illinois with Palatine the state leader at 3:20.9.

It took one of the most memorable races in Arlington High track annals to give the Cardinals that 3:25.0 effort in 1960.

New Trier and Maine held a comfortable lead of 20 yards on the Cards when anchorman Mike Dundy took the baton. Dundy, one of the finest competitors to ever hit the Paddock area, made up all 20 yards with one yard to spare in a sizzling anchor leg that was caught in 48 seconds flat by three watches.

Mike streaked to the wire a step ahead of Wendy Carpenter of New Trier.

We'll never forget that race.

Don't be surprised if powerful Evanston scores 35 or more points Friday and Saturday in the state track and field meet in Champaign. The Wildkits won last year with 25.

Ten Years Ago This Week . . .

Arlington won the state golf championship in Champaign with a 633 total for two 18-hole rounds . . Leaders were Bob McDonald 80-74, Mike Spinello 79-76, Wayne Rolfs 81-80, Bud Holm 85-78, and Tom Jacobsen 87-85 . . . Bill Palmer was second in the state high jump at 6-2 and Denny Striegel was third in the shot put at 54-1¾ . . . Arlington finished 8-6 in West Suburban baseball . . . Spinello was conference medalist in golf with a 69.

Pirates Win District Golf Title; Falcons, in Second, Trail by 11

This is Leonard Fiocca's first season as golf coach at Palatine High School. Already, it's been a good one.

Fiocca's links crew won the district championship on Monday. The Pirates captured the title with a team score of 316.

That victory total was 11 strokes ahead of second place Forest View at 327. Elgin-Larkin was third at 328 while host and defending champ Prospect was fourth at 331.

IN ADDITION to team honors, Palatine also grabbed a giant share of individual honors. Three Pirates were among the top nine in the meet including Doug Miller who tied for medalist honors with a 75 but lost in a playoff to Ralph Gierens of St. Edward.

This was Gierens second straight year as district medalist though his team has ended 15th and 13th the last two seasons.

Third best individual over the Mount Prospect Country Club course was Bob Doan, also one of Fiocca's charges. Doan had a 76 and beat Doug Locke of FV, who was fourth, and Bill Hoffer of E-L, who was fifth, in a playoff.

With their showings the Pirates and Gierens earned the right to compete in this weekend's state meet in Champaign.

ALONG WITH Miller's 38-37—75 and Doan's 40-36—76 the rounds posted by Bruce Adams and Doug Sheldon completed scoring for the winners who moved from 11th last year to the top. Adams came in with a 37-42—79 and Sheldon a 43-43—86.

Locke's 37-39—76 was best for the Falcons. Al Piehl was next for headman Al Kintzle's outfit which was fourth in '65. Piehl had a 39-43—82. Teammates Doug Turner and Bill Schindler had 45-39—84 and 43-42—85 respectively.

Leading score for the Knights and coach Mike Nisen was 79. Both Dave Lovgren (42-37) and Bob Phelan (40-39) carded that total. Joe Rosanova's 41-45—86 and Doug Lytle's 46-41—87 completed Prospect's tally. The

Of District Tournament

Prospect High Stops Maine in Title Tilt

by BOB FRISK

What was billed as a mound duel developed into an exciting offensive show Monday afternoon in the title game of the Maine West District baseball tournament.

Prospect High School, fresh from a 2-1 victory over Forest View in the opening half of a tourney doubleheader, ripped into Maine West's touted left-hander Bill Gastorf for 11 hits en route to an 8-6 victory in the championship contest.

Gastorf, who had thrown two consecutive no-hitters, and Prospect's Dave Kingman were expected to hook up in a low-scoring battle to the wire, but this one belonged to the firepower supplied by the bats.

COACH CHUCK Aldrich's Knights had two big innings and put the decision out of reach with a four-run salvo in the sixth as they marched into their own regional tournament.

Kingman, a big right-hander with a live fast ball, has had more enjoyable outings this spring, but the 6-5 junior managed to go the distance on a yield of eight safeties. He struck out eight and walked six.

Kingman helped his own cause with three hits, and it was his double, a booming shot to left field, that drove in two crucial runs in the four-run sixth.

THE KNIGHTS broke out of a 4-4 deadlock in the sixth with Maury Gallagher's sharp single to left igniting the charge.

J. D. Thorne struck out, but Gallagher raced to second on a wild pitch and Tom Lundstedt the tie with a shot to right, sending Gallagher across with the fifth run.

That's when Kingman stepped in with his big bat. Dave drove a Gastorf fast ball to deep left field and Lundstedt and Whitlock dashed home with the sixth and seventh markers.

An error sent Kingman to third and Vince Franzone's sacrifice fly brought the pitcher across with the eighth and final run.

Maine West threatened in the top half of the seventh, pushing over two runs and advancing the tying marker to second base, but Kingman got Dick Manny on a grounder to short to preserve the triumph.

DAVE KINGMAN
Bat Helps Out

MAINE'S GASTORF, who fired a no-hitter at St. Viator last week in the district tourney opener, wasn't much of a problem for the Knights Monday.

Lundstedt drilled a drive to left in the first inning for the first hit off Gastorf in 14 frames, but Prospect didn't dent the plate until the second. And then they exploded.

Kingman got it started with a pop double that didn't go past the pitcher's mound. Four Warriors watched the ball drop, and

Arlington's varsity baseball Cardinals face a busy week of diamond activity as they attempt to conclude a schedule hit hard by the weatherman this spring.

The Cards will host a Maine East nine today (Thursday) at Recreation Park at 4:15 and will journey to LaGrange Saturday for a doubleheader starting at 10 a.m.

Arlington has home games scheduled with Riverside-Brookfield next Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons to conclude the 1966 season.

Area Entries Seek Honors

Crown Champs Saturday In Golf, Tennis, Track

Schoolboy athletes carrying golf bags, tennis rackets, and track shoes will assemble in Champaign-Urbana Friday and Saturday for the biggest high school weekend of the sports season.

They'll come from all parts of Illinois, from small and large schools.

The best the state has to offer in three of the four spring sports will vie for honors over two days of pressure-packed competition at the University of Illinois campus.

By nightfall Saturday Illinois will have new champions in golf, tennis, and track.

The initial activity in tennis and golf will get under way Friday morning with the track and field feature set to begin at 1 p.m. Friday at Memorial Stadium.

Finals in the three sports will be staged Saturday. The golfers will go off for their final 18 holes at 8:30 a.m. with the tennis finals at 9:00 a.m.

Finals in the 120 yard high hurdles at 1:00 p.m. Saturday will kick off the track and field schedule at the University of Illinois' Memorial Stadium.

PROSPECTS ARE bright for a strong showing by Paddock area entries in Champaign.

Arlington High School is the hope in tennis with two doubles teams, and Palatine will carry the Paddock area banner in the golf feature. Palatine, Arlington, Prospect, Conant, and Forest View have track and field entries.

District champs Brian Burke and Dave Milligan and district runners-up Jim Esser and John Jarecki give the area and Arlington two solid representatives in tennis.

Arlington High School will be shooting for its fourth straight state doubles championship with previous honors claimed by Chuck Close and Rusty Walters in 1963, Jeff Peek and Mirrel Kephart in 1964, and Greg Inman and Bob Von Boeckmann last spring.

IN GOLF Palatine impressed Monday with a team victory in the district at Mount Prospect Country Club, fashioning a four-team effort of 316 for 18 holes.

Coach Leonard Fiocca has guided the Pirates to a 6-1 mark in duals in his first year at the helm and with junior transfer Doug Miller the team leader. Miller had nines of 38-37 for a 75 in the district.

Other boys making the trip to Champaign from Palatine will be Bob Doan, Bruce Adams, Doug Sheldon, and Bill Hein.

PALATINE should be the top area scorer in the track and field finals with possible state title aspirations in two events — the mile relay and 440 yard dash.

The Pirates will take the state's best mile relay clocking (3:20.9) into the qualifying session Friday, and junior Bill Bahnfleth, who anchors that mile quartet, is a definite threat in the 440 yard dash.

Bahnfleth had a 48.8 in the district last Saturday, the second best clocking in Illinois this spring. Bill was fifth in the state as a sophomore.

Pat Dunnigan of Forest View has the third best effort over the 180 yard low hurdles this year, and Dunnigan might surprise with points in an event where buffeting winds in Memorial Stadium often attack head-on the hurdlers and dashmen.

Dunnigan is a big, strong youngster who shouldn't be bothered by the unusual wind problems that frequently are a part of the state track finals.

At St. Viator High

Accepting Boys For Summer Camp

Registrations are now being accepted for the St. Viator Day Camp.

The camp will be held for eight weeks from June 20 to August 12 with four two-week periods.

Boys ages five through 12 may register with the base of operation the grounds and facilities of St. Viator High School.

Larry Nomellini, varsity basketball and assistant baseball coach at St. Viator, will serve as camp director.

All activities will be conducted and supervised by competent and experienced men.

Activities on the summer program will be swimming, softball, baseball, Jr. Olympics, kickball, track, volleyball, basketball, movies, and soccer.

Boys may register for any two week period (June 20 to July 1; July 4 to July 15; July 18 to July 29; or August 1 to August 12) or they may sign up for the entire eight weeks.

All paid up campers will be picked up and delivered home.

LARRY NOMELLINI

Children will bring their own lunches and milk will be furnished.

Tuition is $45 for two weeks, $80 for four, $120 for six, and $160 for eight. A registration fee of $10 is counted as part of your tuition.

For additional information or registration slips, call 824-8671 or 392-4050.

Medinah's No. 3 'Loses' 96 Yards

When the nation's star pros rally at Medinah Country Club next month for the 1966 Western Open Championship, they may believe at first that the famed No. 3 course has been eased up since their last visit.

For instance, the official scorecard will read 7,014 yards in the big event June 23-26. When the pros last played there in the 1962 Western Open, the yardage was listed at 7,110.

Where did the 96 yards go to? Actually, they went nowhere—they never existed. The entire change is the result of a recent re-measuring of the golf course using modern measuring devices.

"We used both a measuring wheel and a steel tape," explains Don Johnson, chairman of the Grounds Committee at Medinah. "We measured every hole from a point two club lengths from the back of the tee to the center of the green. On the dog-leg holes, we used the normal line of play."

THE RESULT was a "shrinkage" of as much as 23 yards on one hole. There were 11 holes which "lost" yardage, six which gained yardage, and one came out exactly the same.

Thus, and it's now official, Medinah will go 3,600 yards on the par-36 front nine and 3,414 yards on the par-35 back nine.

Johnson said that there hac been no obvious change in the course since 1962 other than the restoring of a former trap near the fourth green.

"However, the trees are a little taller," he added, noting the key factor which has made this rolling tree-locked layout recognized as one of the great championship courses in the country.

KNOX NOTES

by

Ken Knox

FOR THE CREATURES OF THE OUTDOORS—high school athletes included—the days of last week were a torture.

They were days for the athletes to gaze forlornly out classroom windows while rain spattered ceaselessly on cold-shrouded playing fields, for coaches to wring their hands in anxiety and frustration, for athletic officials to mutter with a hope that their wrath would part the clouds.

"What hath God wrought?" was the appropriate question, as if by some divine design athletic schedules from the north to the south of Illinois were sabotaged. Single games and dual meetings were washed from schedules, while district meetings in golf were postponed, district meetings in track were speedily switched to less soggy sites, district tournaments in baseball disintegrated into chaos.

Baseball was the most sorrowful victim, most particularly where it concerned the teams of the Mid-Suburban Leauge. All of them—save Conant—had commitments in district play. Conant, though eliminated from the Barrington district, still waited to make up a league game with Forest View, one of five contests frozen or rained out of the Cougar schedule this spring. The others in the league anticipated critical contests in the close MSL chase for Friday.

But very little of it came to pass, because when the rains and cold came, they came in the most inhospitable measures in the 26-year history of the Illinois High School Association's baseball tournament. Of the three MSL teams that did compete in the district play—Palatine, Maine West and Wheeling—all three won, necessitating further tournament action. Prospect and Forest View—matched in the Maine West district—suffered hugely, because the host school elected not to begin its tournament in the Monday chill that veiled the other opening round games.

By week's end, three teams were still awaiting their district finals, Prospect and Forest Veiw were still waiting to play their first game, and no one was able to do anything about furthering the MSL schedule. The second rung on the state tourney ladder—the regional games—had to be put off until the middle of this week—weather permitting—and the solution of the MSL puzzle was relegated to the status of "play it by ear."

But there was a message in all this mess.

It was a particularly clear message for those who have in the past mused or agitated about the possibility of delaying of the high school baseball schedules, notably in Northern Illinois.

It's an idea of special attraction to men like Conant's headman Lynn Crouch, whose previous coaching experience was in St. Louis, where in some favorable springs boys can start kicking up dust on the diamond while boys in this latitude contemplate shoveling off the snow.

To Crouch, the transition from winter in this region might better be used as a spring training period, a reasonable idea considering how little playing practice or experience the local lads receive trying to prepare for the season.

It's becoming a more popular idea, this theory of delaying the competition until perhaps sometime in May, and playing the season out in June and July, with the state tournament conceivably held in late July or early August. There have even been proposals that the prep baseball season be reserved for the autumn, and recalling the gilded weather that bathed the 1965 football season, it's not a ludicrous suggestion, though baseball might lose some of its charm and attraction if removed from months of the high sun.

It is time, unquestionably, for these proposals to win some searching attention from the schools and athletic conferences in the state, and from the IHSA. Baseball was not meant to be played in the chill and the rain, and a review of last spring and this underscores sufficiently what that climate can do to schedules and the caliber of play.

Three men in particular—Terry Gellinger of Palatine, Hal Sprehe of Forest View and Jim Phipps of Niles West—have been activists in a campaign to reap changes. Sprehe and Phipps have already enrolled teams in a new summer league, sort of an unofficial amalgamation of high school units in the Chicago suburban area, and it could be a forerunner of a transition to a formal prep summer league.

Gellinger is still wed to the American Legion program in Palatine, but many of his thoughts have been with the other proposals, and his founding of an instructional school for young ballplayers in the summer is another contribution to a transition.

The mechanics of making the transition are formidable, because it involves changing over a lot of thinking and a long-standing IHSA formula, and because of some difficulties in keeping together high school-sponsored teams when school is out. But it's certainly worth the thought, especially on those days when no one—not even sportwriters—can do anything but watch the rain come down.

Lions Win In Tennis

Wins by John Allare and Bill Gordon in singles and by Greg Leydig and John Lavigne in first doubles gave St. Viator's varsity tennis team a 3-2 victory over St. Mel Monday afternoon.

Allare triumphed 6-0, 6-1 in the No. 1 slot, and Gordon fashioned a 6-0, 6-2 victory in third singles.

In first doubles Leydig and Lavigne came through with an 8-6, 6-1 win.

District Golf Meet

Knights had been aiming for their third consecutive district crown.

St. Viator, with three 82's and an 86, was fifth at 332. Craig Crotty (39-43), Tom Cullen (38-44) and Pat Hawley (41-41) had the 82's while 86 went to Bill Crotty with nines of 45 and 41 for Father Patrick Durkin's squad. The Lions were sixth last year.

SIXTH THIS time around went to Arlington with Phil Stack at the helm. Roger Baer's 40-39—79 was low for the Cards who used Jim Saflarski's 42-41—83, Rick Price's 44-43—87 and Tom Sloan's 45-42—87 to complete their total. Stack's linksmen slipped from fourth where they were one season ago.

After Elgin and Barrington in seventh and eighth, at 337 and 345, ninth and 10th went to Lake Park and Fenton at 347 and 348.

Joe Bauerle's 40-43—83 put him ahead of the 38's by teammates Gene DeMay, Charles Hodgin and Jim Rosenthal for Fred Risinger's Lancers. DeMay's total came on nines of 43 and 45 while twin 44's were posted by both Hodgin and Rosenthal. Eighth was where LP finished in 1965.

The Bisons entry was topped by the 42-42—84 of John McKoski and also featured a trio of 88's. Dave Kielma (45-43), Bill Peluso (42-46) and Mike Tokarz (44-44) covered 18 holes in the double eight scores for coach Lee Craine who saw his crew tie Lake Park for eighth last year.

A BIG improvement in the meet was displayed by Wheeling. Last spring the 'Cats were 14th and last in the district with a 373 total. This time headman Jack Berry's team cut 24 strokes off their score, had a 349 and ended 11th.

The low four for Wheeling were Dave Quirsfeld, with a 41-40—81; Dick Fontecchio, with a 46-42—88; Bob Boenig, with a 44-46—90; and Steve Poulos, with a 49-41—90.

Stevenson, Cary-Grove, Maine West and St. Edward filled the 12 through 15 slots. Then came coach Bill Holm's Conant aggregation, participating in the first district in school history, with a 373 and 16th place.

A 46-42—88 by Cal Miller paced the Cougars. Neal Mersmann's 45-47—92 was next best. John Polito came in with a 48-46—94 and Dennis Dorsey carded a 50-49—99 to complete Conant's total.

DOUG MILLER
Leads Linksmen

Doug Miller, the junior who paced Palatine's district golf title win Monday, is a Kentucky product who moved to Palatine from Huntingburg, Indiana, last July.

At Huntingburg, Miller was on the high school's first varsity golf team as a freshman, and went with the team into the Indiana links tournament. As a sophomore, though his team missed the state finals, Miller came within two strokes of being a district medalist. A football player in the fall, athlete Miller also ranks around the top academically in his junior class at Palatine.

Did You Know?

That the score posted most frequently in the district was 88. There were 14 golfers with that total. Nine had 90's while eight had 89's, the second and third most frequent scores.

That the highest 18 hole total in the meet was a 114. That came on nines of 57 and 57 and was one of 16 scores at or above 100.

That there were only five linksmen in the district who had 76 or lower and only 11 at 81 or below.

That there was not a nine hole score better than 36 posted in the district. Only one golfer had a 36 while five covered nine holes in 37 strokes.

That the highest nine hole score was 57, a pair of them as part of that 114. There were 10 nine hole scores of 54 or better in the district.

That at least one links performer had an 18 hole total at every digit between 78 and 106 but no one had either a 78 or 106.

That not one team finished in the same position in district standings this year as it occupied after the 1965 district competition. That the biggest jump forward was made by Palatine, from 11th to first. The biggest drop was Barrington's fall from third to eighth.

That each school was allowed to enter seven individuals in the district (only the low four counting) but that two brought only six, two only five and two only four.

BILL BAHNFLETH of Palatine flashes to the finish line in the district 440 yard dash with a sizzling 48.8 clocking, second best in Illinois this spring. John French of Barrington and John Blanchard of Palatine (not shown) were both clocked in 49.2 with Blanchard getting the second place award.

Lions End Campaign With 5-0 League Win

The end came Monday afternoon.

St. Viator High School, ousted last week in the district baseball tournament, brought down the curtain on the regular schedule Monday with a snappy 5-0 conquest of visiting St. Ignatius.

Right hander Jerry Donahue, author of a remarkable 0.35 earned run average for 60 innings of mound work this spring, fashioned his sixth shutout in a steady, route-going performance.

Donahue allowed only four hits, striking out ten and walking four as the Lions climbed above the .500 mark for the season.

ST. VIATOR finished 10-9 over the campaign and 7-5 in Chicagoland Prep League play for third place.

The Lions staked Donahue to a three-run lead in the opening inning as Bill Kaveney, John Loughman, Dan Collins, and Donahue singled and Bob Stevens doubled.

That was all Jerry needed to rack up his sixth victory in nine decisions, but the Lions gave him two insurance markers in the fifth.

Junior catcher Dan Collins was named most valuable player and senior second baseman Don Kulla earned the sportsmanship award in a special vote of the St. Viator High School baseball team.

WITH ONE out Kaveney, Loughman, and Dan Collins singled with Kaveney riding across on the third hit. Loughman scored on an error off the bat of Denny Wilkinson.

Snappy Finish

The Lions didn't score again, but there was some excitement in the sixth when the reserves took over.

Rich Leitzen gave the St. Viator bench something to shout about with a sharp single, his first hit of the season, and Dan Miksta also singled for his second safety of 1966.

ST. IGNATIUS had a mild threat going in the sixth when they put runners on second and third with two outs, but Donahue got out of the jam on an infield out.

Unofficial statistics for the season showed Donahue working 60 innings with 82 strikeouts and 28 walks. He allowed only three earned runs and 31 hits in compiling his 6-3 mark.

KINGMAN WENT to third on a bunt single by Clyde Whitcomb and scored on a soft drive over short by Franzone. A fielder's choice, single by Bob Robinson, error and wild pitch sent two more Knight runs home.

Maine West tied the count in the third on three walks and two hits and took a 4-3 lead into the home half of the fourth, but Aldrich's outfit struck back.

With one out in the fourth Thorne smashed a single to right. He sole second and scored on Kingman's sinking drive to left field.

The two clubs remained deadlocked until Gallagher's leadoff single touched off the four-run fireworks in the sixth.

Falcon Netters Top Elgin 5-0

Back, again, over .500 went Forest View's tennis team.

All season long the Falcons netmen have been just below, at, or just over the .500 mark. They went back in front of the game, at 8-7, with a shutout, 5-0 win over Elgin on Monday.

Coach Rog Steingraber's charges won all five matches in straight sets.

Rick Gillespie started the string with a 6-3, 6-4 FV triumph at first singles over the Maroons Dave Lohs. With that win Gillespie raised his personal season mark to 7-8.

IN SECOND singles Jim Buckholz picked up his 11th victory in 15 matches. The Falcons Buckholz topped Steve Mockler 6-2, 6-1. A record of 7-8 belonged to Howie Brasch after he whipped Jim Miller 6-1, 6-0 in third singles.

A team of Rick Zapfel and Ernie Troutman gained the decision for Forest View in first doubles. That combination knocked off Mark Skinner and Kevin Fehrmann 8-6, 7-5 for their third win of the campaign. Bob Glaser and Mike Gersie took second doubles on 6-3, 6-2 totals over Tom Meldon and Bob Krauss of Elgin.

At the frosh-soph level FV won 3-2 and upped its record to 7-8.

All three singles entries won for the Falcons. Jim Musgrave began with a 6-2, 7-5 triumph at first singles to raise his record to 11-4. Scores of 6-2, 6-1 gave Dave Erickson the second singles decision and put him at 7-5 for the year. Gordon Folkman ended ahead 6-2, 6-3 in third singles and is now 7-7 for the year.

MIKE KINNEMANN and Tim Ebel lost first doubles for Forest View. They were set back 6-4, 6-3. Second doubles action found Jerry Budz and Brian Finch being beaten 6-0, 6-3.

Arlington in Wins Over Bard Netmen

Arlington High School coasted past Glenbard West on a varsity level but had more difficulty in frosh-soph play last week in Wst Suburban Conference tennis action.

The varsity Cardinals triumphed, 5-0, as Bill Von Boeckmann (6-1, 6-3), Jim Esser (4-6, 6-4, 6-4), and John Jarecki (6-0, 6-1) gained the singles points.

In first doubles Brian Burke and Dave Milligan whipped Tom Sheehan and Greg Lefkow 6-0, 6-1. Matt Weeg and John Brost coasted to a 6-2, 6-2 win in second doubles.

In frosh-soph play the young Cards emerged with a 3-2 victory as a sweep of doubles helped seal the decision.

Bill Stelling and Paul Stevens won in No. 1 doubles, 7-5, 6-0, and Bob Crockett and John Harmon ruled second doubles, 6-2, 2-6, 6-1.

Chuck Gibbel gave the Cards their only frosh-soph singles point as he racked up a 6-3, 6-3 win in No. 3 play.

Highlights—The Pirates moved into a first place Mid-Suburban League tie with the victory. Both they and the Knights are 6-2 in conference play. Palatine's runs in the third came on singles by Brian Scholl and Dave Freeman, two errors and a sacrifice. Scholl's two RBI single plus an error and singles by Don Wickersham and Bob Esmail accounted for the winner's runs in the fifth. Over-all the Pirates are 8-3, Prospect 10-3.

SOPHOMORE LEE LaBADIE of Maine West achieved the best mile run clocking in Illinois this spring in the district track and field competition last Saturday at Arlington High School. LaBadie was clocked in 4:20. The 5-foot-8, 145-pounder will be favored this Saturday to take state honors in his specialty. (Staff photo)

HOLDING THE LEAD after the first 440 yards Saturday in the fast heat of the district 880 yard run is Prospect High School's Jack Pollard. But then Kevin Flurkey (shown over Pollard's right shoulder) made his move and won in a snappy 1:55.1. Pollard was second in a school record clocking of 1:56.8. (Staff photo)

Palatine Claims Team Crown

Area Trackmen Capture Six Firsts in District Feature

by BOB FRISK

For three days and nights last week the weatherman threatened to turn the district track and field competition into a swimming meet.

Heavy rains hit the area, flooding tracks and giving meet directors, the athletes, and coaches some anxious moments.

But the rains subsided Saturday, the sun broke through the clouds, and the schoolboy trackmen responded to ideal weather conditions with some spectacular performances at Arlington High School.

The Maine West District, held at Arlington's all-weather track because of the siege of rain, furnished some of the finest marks in Illinois as trackmen throughout the state battled for berths in the state finals that will be staged in Champaign Friday and Saturday.

PALATINE ADDED the district team championship at Arlington to its growing collection of track and field hardware, piling up 46 points for a comfortable margin over runnerup Maine West which finished with 23½.

Elgin Larkin (21), Forest View (18), and Barrington (18) rounded out the top five in the district action.

Other area schools scoring at Arlington and qualifying boys for the state finals were Arlington (11 points), Prospect (8), and Conant (6).

PADDOCK AREA entries accounted for six of the 14 firsts in the Maine West District with Forest View's Pat Dunnigan a double winner.

Dunnigan took the 100 yard dash in 10.3 and the 180 yard low hurdles in 19.7 but had better clockings in claiming semi-final victories. The fleet Falcon fashioned a 10 flat effort in the semi's of the century and a sizzling 19.3 over the lows, the latter a school mark and third best clocking in Illinois this spring.

Dunnigan also showed a strong anchor leg on the Falcons' 880 yard relay team that took third and qualified for the state. Joining Pat on the half-mile quartet that hit 1:31.7 were Gary Crain, Ted Lambert, and Steve Leider.

PALATINE'S Bill Bahnfleth also enjoyed a busy and profitable afternoon in pacing the Pirate surge to the team championship.

The slender junior covered 440 yards in his career best of 48.8, second best effort on Illinois tracks this spring; took second in the 100 yard dash at 10.4 after a 10.3 in the semis; and anchored Palatine's brilliant mile relay team to a state best of 3:20.9.

The 440 furnished one of the most spectacular races of the afternoon with four boys hitting 49.4 or better.

BAHNFLETH was first across the line with his school mark of 48.8 and teammate John Blanchard nipped Barrington's John French for second with boys boys clocked in dazzling 49.2s. Mike Coyle of Elgin Larkin was fourth in 49.4.

Vaughn Pedersen of Prospect also qualified for the state 440 yard dash, winning the fifth heat Saturday in 50.6.

Palatine's mile relay clocking of 3:20.9 was achieved with some strong efforts by leadoff man Blanchard, an ailing but determined Randy McWilliams, Rick Ortman, and Bahnfleth.

THE PIRATES came in almost three seconds in front of runnerup Elgin Larkin which hit 3:23.7.

Arlington High School surprised with a sharp 3:25.0 effort that took third place honors and tied a school record. Working on the Cardinal unit were Larry Malcolmson, Jim Kussow, Mark Saylor, and Steve Ewart.

The field events gave the Paddock area its two other firsts Saturday.

Senior Duane Hosimer of Palatine ruled the district shot putters with a flip of 53 feet seven and one-fourth inches, almost two feet under his career best of 55-4.

JUNIOR GREG Zachwieja of Arlington earned a ticket downstate with a pace-setting toss of 152 feet in the discus. Zachwieja, who has a career best of 155-9, got out to his winning effort Saturday on his final throw, ranking third at the time.

The area had two other state qualifiers in the field events.

Wayne Render of Palatine cleared 5-10 for second place honors in the high jump, and Phil Cordina of Prospect, who has reached 13-3 1/4 in the pole vault, went 12-8 Saturday for a third place award.

Although Cordina finished third, his 12-8 is the state qualifying standard.

JACK POLLARD of Prospect High School earned a trip to the state finals with a second place in the 880 yard run. Pollard, whose previous best was 1:58.0, dipped down to a school record of 1:56.8 in finishing second to Maine West's Kevin Flurkey (1:55.1).

Palatine landed two state berths in the 180 yard low hurdles with Bill Meister in fourth at 19.9 and Art Danneberg in fifth at 20.1. Meister reached a 19.5 in the semi-finals to take two-tenths of a second off the school mark.

Five boys earned state tickets in the mile run, two from the Paddock area.

SOPHOMORE Lee LaBadie of Maine West was the winner in a swift 4:20 with teammate Phil Martin and Mike Costello of Crystal Lake both clocked in 4:22.9.

Dennis Denton of Palatine, only a junior, knocked seven seconds off his previous best and finished fourth in the mile at 4:24.1. Dick Ledford, another junior, gave Conant its first state qualifier in history with a fine 4:26.1.

Johnny Ekeberg of Palatine earned a state spot in the 220 yard dash with a 22.7 and second place behind Coyle of Larkin. Ekeberg had a 22.4 in his first race and 23.1 in the semi-finals.

Arlington and Palatine finished 4-5 in the 880 yard relay, but their clockings were under the state qualifying standards to give both quartets trips to Champaign.

Working on the Arlington team that reached 1:31.8 were Ewart, Kussow, Malcolmson, and Jerry Enright.

Clocked in 1:31.9 for Palatine were Ernie Quigel, Ekeberg, Meister, and Brian McCartney.

In Evanston District

Two Fourths Top Wheeling Effort

Wheeling High School, the only Paddock area entry not in the Maine West track district, scored four and one-half points Saturday in the competition at Evanston.

Powerful Evanston won the team championship with 88 points.

Claiming the top slots for the Wheeling unit that failed to qualify any entries for the state meet were Paul Fiegen in the 880 yard run and John Lemerande in the discus throw. Both boys gained fourths.

Fiegen had a 2:01.5 in the half-mile and Lemerande reached 140 feet one inch in the discus throw.

Bill Lytle finished in a tie for fifth in the 440 yard dash with a 52.0 clocking.

Gaining sixths for Wheeling were Bob Bromley over the 120 yard high hurdles (15.4) and the mile relay team of Fiegen, Lytle, Bromely, and Jim Bowker in 3:32.7.

The top mark of the day at Evanston was a jump of 24 feet eight inches by Evanston's Roy Houston in the broad jump.

Houston is the fifth prep in history to go over 24 feet. The state record is 24-2, but state marks must be made at the state finals in Champaign.

Houston's teammate Jesse Sibert went out to 23-7 in the broad jump and also cleared 6-5 in the high jump.

No Score in 19

The longest scoreless tie in major league baseball took place on Sept. 11, 1946, when the Brooklyn Dodgers battled the Cincinnati Reds in Brooklyn for 19 innings with no results. The game was called because of darkness after four hours and 40 minutes of play.

HAVE PATIENCE.

There has been a thought—a reasonable thought—among the area's fishermen that the seasons may be over before the fish begin to bite this year. But things should get better.

The problem, of course, has been the abnormal dispensation of soggy, chilly weather directed toward this region. And Northeast Illinois' sportsmen aren't alone in their misfortune, for the wretched weather has been spread pretty generally over all of Illinois and the great fishing ground to the north, Wisconsin.

The problem—besides the obvious discomfort to the fisherman—is this: the lakes and rivers are gorged with murky and cold water, and when water comes in too much quantity with too much suspended dirt and too little temperature, the fish have very little appetite.

There have been some reports of fishing success, but they have been spotty at the best. Of the major attractions in the Chain-O-Lakes, Channel Lake, Lake Catherine and Little Silver Lake have been the most productive, with bass and northerns being taken from all three, including a northern just under three feet in Little Silver. Otherwise, because most fishing spots in this part of the state are small in area, the problems of too much unclean and chilly water have been predominant.

Wisconsin's waters, too, have not been as productive as hoped, but there has been one unexpected boon from the weather. It has slowed the annual run of the white bass, notably in the Wolf River, and fishermen—who know the spots—have continued to land the spunky quarry by the dozens.

But the general problem remains for the fishermen, and there are two solutions. One is patience, the patience primarily to take your time in trying to lure the fish with spoon, plug, spinner or jig, because it's been taking a lot of time to gain the interest and trust of the sluggish fish. The other is also patience, the patience to wait until the skies part and the sun bathes the water with the cure.

THERE'LL BE A CANOE MARATHON along the Des Plaines River from Libertyville to Des Plaines this Sunday, all in the name of combatting water pollution. It's one of the ways to underscore "Clean Streams Week," which is currently underway by proclamation of Governor Otto Kerner. The week—assigned to draw public notice of the need for keeping our water clean—is a product of the efforts of the Cook County Clean Streams committee, which has labored for 13 years toward such ends as unpolluting Lake Michigan and the waterways within Cook County.

Trap shooters can find a productive outlet for their sport at the McHenry Sportsmen's Club, one of the most ambitious such sites near this area. Located off Route 134 on the west side of Pistakee Bay, the club has a constant program of special shoots, with prizes ranging from cornish hens to loading equipment.

What the club calls a "Blue Grass Meat Shoot" is set to begin at 10 a.m. this Sunday, and if you want to know anything about it, or the club's other offerings, get in touch with Harry Stern, secretary, at Route 1, Box 391A in Antioch.

ILLINOIS, OF COURSE, doesn't have much of a reputation as a deer-hunting state, but one bow hunter—Mel Johnson of Peoria—will find that hard to accept.

He knocked down a 270-pound buck in Peoria County last October, striking the animal dead with one arrow fired from about 15 yards. This month, that bag was rated by the Boone and Crockett Club as the most outstanding of the 1,600 big game trophies submitted to the club for record consideration, and it won for Johnson the 11th Sagamore Hill Medal awarded by the club since 1948.

But more than that, the club—founded by Theodore Roosevelt in 1887—scored the buck higher than a Minnesota buck killed in 1918, which until 1966 was rated as the world's finest whitetail trophy.

Cards' Net Squad Falls To Oak Park

Brian Burke and Dave Milligan of Arlington High School, striving for one of the top doubles seeds in the state, strengthened their position Monday afternoon against Oak Park.

The Cardinal seniors pulled out the only victory as Arlington's varsity suffered a 4-1 setback.

Burke and Milligan, district champs in doubles, toppled Jim Clarkson and Al Dunton of the Huskies 6-4, 9-7.

Oak Park scored its four victories in straight sets.

Highly regarded Dave Armstrong took care of Arlington sophomore Bill Von Boeckmann in first singles, 6-0, 6-0, and Hartman whipped the Cards' Jim Esser in the No. 2 slot, 6-2, 6-1.

In third singles Larry Moelmann stopped Arlington's John Jarecki 6-3, 6-0.

In second doubles Matt Weeg and John Brost of Arlington lost to Bill Clarkson and Tom Lee 6-4, 6-4.

A Long Career

Ty Cobb, playing for Detroit of the American League, piled up the major league record total of league games with 3,033 performances from 1905 through 1928.

O'Hare's 100-Lap Title Event Set

The first long distance race of the 1966 season, the 100-lap Spring Championship for late models, will highlight this Saturday's card of stock car races at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park rds. in Schiller Park. First race is 8 p.m.

Heading the entry list are the winners of the first two 30-lap features staged this year — former champion Erik Johnson of Highland Park and defending titleholder Roy Martinelli of Prairie View. Some 50 other entries are also expected. Gates open at 6 p.m. Time trials are at 7 p.m.

Among local area favorites scheduled to compete are Butch Linden of Buffalo Grove, LeRoy Roberts of Elmwood Park, Ron Borgardt of Hanover Park, Phil Lehman of Bensenville, Paul Heitz of Arlington Heights, Dick Schultz of Elmhurst, Eddie Jast of Leyden township, Bryant Tucker of Hillside, Rich Spieth and John Kennedy of Villa Park, and the victim of a sensational flip last Saturday night — Bob Weyrauch of Des Plaines.

Going into the fifth inning Wheeling trailed Glenbrook North 7-2 in Monday district diamond action.

In their half of the frame the 'Cats got three hits, took full advantage of three errors and a wild pitch, and tied the score at 7-7. But, the rally went for nothing.

GN put single runs across in both the sixth and seventh and took district honors by a 9-7 count.

The affair, played at Deerfield, featured little artistry and plenty of wild scrambling. There were 20 base hits, 10 by each side, including three doubles, three triples and three homers. Eight errors, two walks and two wild pitches made the battle even more turbulent.

IT WAS A batter's day.

Best at the plate was Glenbrook's Denny Jacob. He had a double, triple and home run, four runs scored and two RBI's. Teammates Don Pliggot, with a triple, homer, one run scored and three RBI's, and Bob Breitzman, with a single, sacrifice fly and three RBI's added to the Spartans' lusty attack.

Dan DeVito, Bob Krug and Rex Peterson led Wheeling. DeVito slammed a homer and double picking up two RBI's, while Krug had a double, single and one RBI and Peterson a pair of singles. Each scored once.

Having the ill luck to pitch on such a day were GN's Ken Kozil and Scott Krause and the 'Cats Mark Newman. Kozil gave up eight hits and seven runs, fanned five, walked two and threw one wild pitch before being relieved by Krause in the fifth. Krause permitted two hits, struck out three and walked none as he finished up and got the win. Newman went all the way, fanning eight, walking none, and taking his first season setback after six victories.

ERRORS HURT efforts of all three hurlers.

An error, Jacob's triple and Piggot's triple gave the Spartans a 2-0 lead in the first. Both triples resulted from mistakes in judgment by outfielders. DeVito's home run, a booming drive 30 feet above the left field fence, made the score 2-1 in the second.

Another Wheeling error, Jacob's double on another misjudged fly, Breitzman's sacrifice and Piggot's homer put GN on top 5-1 in the third. Peterson's single and DeVito's double made it 5-2 in the fourth.

DAN DEVITO
Big Belter

In the top of the fifth two more errors and Breitzman's single put the score at 7-2. That set the stage for the Wildcats' charge from behind in the bottom of the frame.

JEFF WINTERBERG began the rally by drawing Kozil's second walk. Tom Manderscheid followed with a single to left. Newman then bounced to short but the ball was thrown wildly into right field. Glenbrook's outfielder picked the ball up and tossed wildly into left field. When the dust cleared Winterberg and Manderscheid had scored and Newman was perched on second.

The score at that point was 7-4.

Jeff Powell grounded to second for the first out, but Krug bunted in Newman from third and continued to second on a throwing error. After Peterson flied out, a slicing triple to deep right center by John Hittman sent Krug across. Krause came on at that point. His first pitch was wild and Hittman scored before DeVito fanned to close the inning.

The contest was knotted at seven apiece.

Krause looked at a third strike to start GN's sixth but Kozil, then playing in right field, bounced a single to center and promptly stole second. After Newman got the next batter on strikes he grooved one to Bill Zarit, who singled and Kozil scored. Wheeling was three up, three down in the bottom of the inning, the only time that happened in the game.

JACOB'S HOMER led off the seventh giving Glenbrook its 9-7 margin. Krug's double and Peterson's single with two away gave the Wildcats two runers and a chance to tie in the last of the seventh. However, Hittman bounced out and the scrambling was over.

Coach Steve Chernicky's Wheeling nine was eliminated from further tourney play and had its record lowered to 6-8-1. With their triumph Bob Watt's Spartans earned the right to challenge Prospect in the first game of the regional.

2-1 Tally In District Tilt

Knights Edge FV 9 On Robinson Homer

by MICHAEL HESS

BANG! One shot rang out.

That blast, a home run, came in the fifth inning of Monday's district baseball tilt between Prospect and Forest View. Bob Robinson struck the big blow which enabled the Knights to edge the Falcons 2-1.

Robinson's round-tripper was the only earned run scored.

FV had gone ahead briefly in the top of the third. Two errors, a single and sacrifice fly had given Hal Sprehe's nine its lone tally.

PROSPECT immediately evened the count in the bottom of the frame. Two errors and a single led to the marker of headman Chuck Aldrich's forces.

Other than those outbursts the contest was one of wasted opportunities. The Falcons put at least one runner on in every inning and ended by leaving 10 men stranded. Only in the sixth did the Knights fail to have a runner and they left five on base.

Victory for Prospect brought advance to the district final (see separate story) and an over-all record of 8-6. Forest View, eliminated from the tourney, slipped below .500 to 7-8.

On opposing mounds in the affair were J. D. Thorne and Bill King. Both went all the way. Thorne, hurling his fifth triumph of the year for the Knights against two losses, fanned six, walked two and hit a batter. FV's King suffered his second setback against three wins as he struck out seven, walked two and issued one wild pitch.

THORNE ALSO shared Prospect honors at the plate with Robinson. The senior left-hander had two singles in three trips. Forest View's best with a bat was Mike Holstrom. He picked up three singles and was on base four straight times.

The district encounter, played at Maine West, began with two scoreless innings.

Holstrom singled in the first and Gerry Adams walked in the second for the Falcons. Maury Gallagher reached on an outfield error but was thrown out at third and Tom Lundstedt walked in the Knights first while Clyde Whitcomb singled and Vince Franzone walked in their team's second.

Neither side however, could get the clutch drive which would have put them in front.

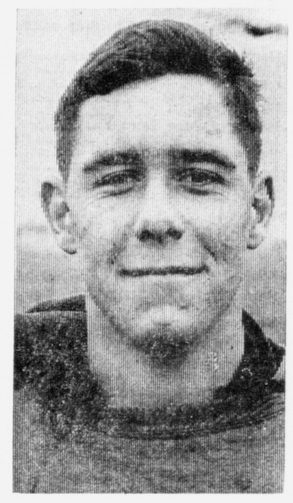
IN THE TOP of the third Bob Erlander opened for FV by taking first on a dropped fly ball. Kirt Koentopp put down a bunt single and runners were on first and second. Holstrom's attempted sacrifice went right to Thorne who tossed Erlander out at third. Another error filled the bases.

Hank Tasche was next up for Forest View. He settled on an 0-2 delivery and sent it whistling into center. Robinson, in Prospect's outfield, nearly misjudged the ball but leaped to make the out through Koentopp tagged up and scored after the catch. Gary Kalas grounded out to retire the side.

An error put Gallagher on first to get the Knights half underway. Thorne's infield single followed. Then Lundstedt bounced a 1-2 pitch to second. The flip to short forced Thorne, but Koentopp's relay to first was high and wide and Gallagher galloped home with the tying run.

Don Whitlock and Dave Kingman looked at third strike offerings from King and the threat was finished.

THE FALCONS put two on in their fourth and one on in the fifth but they only added to the left on base totals. Prospect had one on in its fourth but he too was stranded. That set the stage for Robinson as the first batter in the bottom of the fifth.



BOB ROBINSON
Victory Shot

Robinson had grounded out in his only other appearance at the plate. This time up he whacked King's first pitch on a line toward deep left center. Outfielder Holstrom gave chase but his last second leap missed the ball by several feet.

Robinson easily made it around the bases and the score was 2-1.

A walk and Erlander's double down the left field line put two on for Forest View in the sixth. Holstrom's third single gave the Falcons a base runner in the seventh. But, Thorne was just tough enough, nobody crossed the plate, and Prospect had its win.

In Conference Tennis

John Jarecki Heads No. 3 Singles Field

Arlington's John Jarecki couldn't win a conference singles title in frosh-soph ranks, but the Cardinal junior landed a big varsity prize last Saturday in the West Suburban Conference meet.

Jarecki topped third singles in conference activity to give Coach Tom Pitchford's varsity its only individual championship in the meet dominated by Hinsdale's powerful Red Devils.

Hinsdale captured team honors at both varsity and frosh-soph levels with Arlington in the runnerup slot. The final conference positions are determined on the basis of both dual meets and the league headliner.

Jarecki's climb to the third singles championship in varsity ranks wasn't too difficult until the title tussle.

THE ARLINGTON junior bounced Bruce Layer of LaGrange 6-2, 6-0 in his first match and eliminated Doug Hastings of Glenbard West, 6-0, 6-0 in the semi-finals.

In the title battle Jarecki scored a 6-3, 3-6, 8-6 win over Jack Tracy of Hinsdale, a member of the first doubles champ in varsity play last spring.

Jarecki worked in second singles as a sophomore and reached the championship match in frosh-soph ranks before bowing. As a freshman John scored one win in second singles in the conference meet.

ELSEWHERE in varsity competition Saturday, Arlington sent three entries to the finals.

Jim Esser, another Card junior, got by Mozdren of Maine East 6-0, 6-1, and Lyneis of Glenbard West 6-1, 6-1 before falling to Bob Hughes of Hinsdale 4-6, 6-3, 6-3 in the second singles title match.

Bill Von Boeckmann, working in first singles, claimed a 6-4, 6-1 win over Pachner of York but lost to Tom Dunlap of LaGrange 0-6, 11-9, 6-3.

IN FIRST doubles play on a varsity level Brian Burke and Dave Milligan of Arlington opened with a 6-1, 8-6 win over Pistiorio and Michols of Maine East and ousted Bradley and Davis of LaGrange in the semi-finals, 2-6, 7-5, 6-0.

In the championship match Greg Lawton and Bill Bohnett of Hinsdale topped the Arlington duo, 6-4, 6-1.

The second doubles title went to John Imrie and John Gilchrist of Hinsdale with a 6-4, 6-3 win over Mat Weeg and John Brost of Arlington.

Weeg and Brost had marched to the finals by knocking over Cameron and Current of Downers Grove, 6-2, 6-2 and Allen and Scaife of Glenbard West, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4.

TWO CARDINAL entries reached the finals in frosh-soph play.

Chuck Gibbel, playing in third singles, opened with a 6-2, 6-2 win over Landess of LaGrange and then eliminated Schmidt of Glenbard West, 6-4, 6-4.

John Harmon and Bob Crockett reached the title match in second doubles before falling to Hinsdale's Copeland and Tilson.

In first singles Bob Gallagher dropped a 6-3, 7-5 decision to Corberg of Glenbard West. Rick Tindall, playing in the No. 2 slot, lost to Robinson of Hinsdale, 6-0, 6-1.

In first doubles Arlington's entry of Paul Stevens and Bill Stelling opened with a 6-4, 6-0 win over the Westphal brothers of Glenbard West but bowed out with a 6-3, 6-3 loss to Hofman and Shallenberger of LaGrange.

Frosh-Sophs Win 4-1

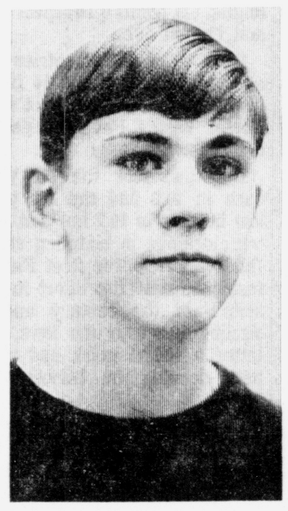
'Cats Lose 5-0 In Tennis Dual

Report of conditions in Wheeling tennis: Varsity—situation gloomy; Frosh-Soph—situation bright.

Last week the Wildcats dropped their ninth varsity net dual of the season, 5-0 to Maine West. They have won only once.

Last week the Wildcats frosh-soph unit captured its eighth meet decision of the campaign, 4-1 over MW. Coach Ted Ecker's crew has lost only two F-S encounters.

In Mid-Suburban League accounting, Wheeling's varsity moved its record to 1-2, with five meet points, while the frosh-sophs became 3-0 with 14 points. The lower level tennis competitors led the conference.



TOM KREIS
8-1 Sophomore

FIRST SINGLES in varsity action against Maine found Tony Martin being beaten 6-0, 6-0. A 6-0, 6-1 score sent Walt Krier to defeat in second singles as Dave Stanowski fell 6-2, 6-0 in third singles.

'Cats Karl Meisenheimer and Barry Christensen were topped 6-0, 6-3 in first doubles. Fred Patton and Dave Liu were beaten in second doubles 6-3, 6-3.

At the frosh - soph level Maine's only point came in first singles. There Jim Cuca was knocked off 6-5, 8-6 and had his personal mark for the year lowered to 6-2.

Scott Decker and Tom Kreis won second and third singles for Wheeling. Decker took his match 6-0, 6-2 and upped his own record to 7-1. An 8-1 record was the possession of Kreis after he took his match 6-0, 6-1.

IN FIRST F-S doubles Dan teamed for a come-from-behind, three set triumph. They ended ahead on 4-6, 9-7, 6-4 totals. The season's fifth victory was picked up by the Bill Reinhard - Red Hansen combination. They took a straight set 6-2, 6-1 win.

Agase To Speak At Wheeling

ALEX AGASE
Comments to 'Cats

Alex Agase, head football coach at Northwestern Univ., will be the featured speaker at Wheeling High School's all sports banquet May 31.

Now in his third season as NU's grid director, Agase's address will follow a smorgasbord, "all you can eat" dinner. The affair starts at 6:30 p.m.

HONORED AT the banquet, held in the school cafeteria, will be all Wildcats varsity athletes who have taken part in any sport during the past nine months. Wheeling's Spur Club will present certificates of participation to each.

Admission to the dinner will be $2.00 for parents and friends and $1.00 for all non-varsity athletes. Those who played in varsity sports this year will be admitted as Spur Club guests.

Anyone interested in attending the all sports banquet may obtain tickets by contacting E. E. Ormsbee, Wheeling Athletic Director, by phone at Le 7-6501 or by mail. Spur Club members will also have tickets available.

Lancers Felled 4-1 In District Contest

West Leyden's Knights bumped Lake Park out of the 1966 tournament picture Monday when the Knights whipped the Lancers 4 to 1. Don Esposito spun a steady four-hitter for West Leyden, while his mates put together a three-run, four-hit salvo against two Lancer hurlers in the bottom of the fifth.

Until the fifth, Esposito and Lancer starter Tim Rand were locked in a 1-1 mound duel. The Knights scored first in the bottom of the third on a single by Kaitschuck, a sacrifice and Malvik's two-out single. The Lancers knotted the count in the top of the 4th, when Jim Mikes walked and Steger beat out a bunt. Mikes and Steger moved up to second and third on Jim Hodgson's sacrifice bunt. Mikes scored on a wild pitch to make the score 1-1, but Esposito wriggled off the hook.

IN THE ILL-FATED fifth, Hein doubled, advanced to third on a ground out. Kotlarz' ground ball then hit the bag at third, scoring Hein, and a throwing error sent the Knight shortstop to third. Knight second baseman Pulsa and outfielder McKinney then whacked back-to-back triples to close out the afternoon's scoring against Lancer relief pitcher Mark Steger.

Track Finals Slated Today

Finals in the Chicagoland Prep League track meet will be held today (Thursday), weather permitting, at 4:15 p.m. at Rockne Stadium in Chicago.

Rain forced a postponement of the finals two weeks ago with only the frosh-soph field events completed.

Bill Rose of St. Viator won the frosh-soph shot put and Dan Baron topped the pole vault.

Also placing were Mike Kaskie and Leo Zikamski with second and third in the discus and Mark Pomplun with a third in the high jump.

Thunderbird Takes Lead

Thunderbird Bowl scored nine points against Illinois Range last week and took over the lead in Mount Prospect Twilight Golf League's Tuesday division.

Thunderbird was sparked in their advance to first place by "C" player Chuck Pellino's 40 gross 32 net thrown at Illinois Range's Roland Miller, which was good for a point each for match and medal and a bonus for low individual net. This marked the second week in succession Pellino contributed three points to his team's total.

Dick Elliott, Thunderbird "A" player, took two points from alternate Bud Pierson, and "E" player Karl Pohl had little trouble in disposing of Jim Dick for his two points. Thunderbird Captain Pat Danna was held to a 1-1 split in his match with Capt. Bill Collins of the Range team.

PRESSING Thunderbird for first place honors was Kruse's Tavern, who took care of Licht's Paint Store 7 ½-2½ which left them but half a point behind the league leaders.

Third place went to Mount Prospect Electric Construction Co. after a 7½-2½ victory over Moler's Barber Shop.

Carter's Music Shop, now in fourth place, put on a surprisingly strong display of point winning, taking nine points from the strong Wille Lumber and Fuel team, the exact reversal of their results last week when they lost by an identical 9-1 score.

KEEFER'S Pharmacy, league leaders for the first two nights of the 1966 season, was dumped by Kirchhoff Insurance 8-¼ to 1-¾, which dropped the Pharmacists deep into sixth place.

In the final match of the evening, Kersting's Garden Center came up with their first victory of the young season in defeating Busse-Biermann Hardware 6½-3½.

Low shooter for the night was Ed Lauing with a 39 over the first nine. Birdies were reported by B. Collins No. 1, B. Mors No. 3, C. Pellino and D. Elliott No. 7, D. Snyder No. 12, and A. Hammerstrom and P. Petersen No. 13.

Arlington Realty In Thin Scratch Lead

Arlington Realty continued to lead the Old Orchard Scratch League by a slim one-point margin after the third week of play, the third week of below par weather.

Toth, Warra and Reat gained wins for the leaders, while Ben Kronn's fine 39 and a 40 by President St. Germaine resulted in a 4-4 split with Busse Flowers.

Second place Graft Builders took five out of eight points from L-Nor Cleaners as Mike Spinello continued to lower his average with a 37.

PETERS AND CO. remained in third position, but lost five points to Burrow Chevrolet, led by Bill Schwerin's 37. There was not a man under 40, but Haire Funeral Home moved up with a 5½ point win over Pitzen Movers, just a half-point out of fourth place.

The Skokie Valley five took five from Baird and Warner, two ties and a lone win by Bob Walters providing the home sellers with their three points. Nelson Realty edged Miles and Miles Insurance 4½ to 3½, Kasper shooting his best so far, a 37.

Birdies: Hamburg and Toth, three each.

Pars: Spinello, 18 out of 27 holes played.

Busse's In Big Victory In Twilight

Busse Realtors recorded the biggest win in this week's play in the Mount Prospect Monday Twilight League, defeating Karlsen's Pharmacy by taking 9½ of a possible 10 points.

Morton Pontiac made it 9-1 over Mt. Prospect Savings and Loan and Picket Paint stopped Carl's Coin Co-op 8-2 in other major wins.

In other action, it was Mt. Prospect State Bank over Annen and Busse 7½ to 2½; J & B Market over Winkelmann's 6½ to 3½ and Van Driel's over Mufich Buick 6-4.

For the second successive week, not a single birdie was carded. Tied for low gross — with 41 each — were L. Johnson and A. Karras. Low Net went to B. Herman with 57-29-28.

Event of the day in the Tri-City Ladies golf league was Low Net.

Winners in the 18-hole competition were Helen Kotelman (A), Sue Pierson (B), and Virginia Shanley (C).

Winners in the nine-hole division were Janice Busch (A) and Mary Tures (B).

Lions' Golfers Top Two Levels

Craig Crotty fired a 38 to pace St. Viator's varsity golfers to a 164-169 victory over St. Ignatius last week.

Pat Hawley and Bill Crotty toured the nine holes at Glen Eagles in 41s and Tom Cullen had a 44.

In frosh-soph ranks St. Viator walloped St. Ignatius, 189-206.

Jim Dawson and Tim Moore were low for the Lions with 47s. Bob Horan had a 48 and Dennis Palubicki a 50.

Weather Hurts Open Of Y's Golf League

Will the 13th year be the unlucky one for the Northwest Suburban YMCA Golf Twilite League? Its members don't think so, but opening night got off on the wrong foot.

First of all, there wasn't one. It was rained out. That was on April 26, and it marked only the fourth time in 13 years that a night had been cancelled, probably a record.

Then, when they got officially under way—on May 4—a 20 to 30 mile per hour cool breeze drove the scores up in direct proportion.

OF THE LEAGUE'S 12 leading golfers, those with handicaps of six or under for nine holes, not one could break 40. So this is how it went in the low gross department: Dick Dixon, 40; Ed Nixon, 41; and Ed Then, 42. Only two birdies were scored: Dick Dixon's on No. 1 and Herb Chesman on No. 15.

There was one Very Special Event, the presentation of a "Hole-In-One-Award" to Mile Koehler, who scored an ace at the Y's Final Outing Tournament. Scene of the event was Nordic Hill's notorious dipsy-doodle 89-yard par three, which many try but few ever par.

Tourney is Rescheduled

The Village Green Golf Club fewest putts tournament, which was scheduled for May 14 and 15, was canceled due to inclement weather.

This tournament has been rescheduled for Saturday and Sunday, May 21—22. First, second and third prizes will be merchandise awards.

Membership to the Village Green Golf Club is still being solicited since there are 12 openings left before the membership limits are reached.

Action Opens In Park District Softball Play

The Arlington Heights Park District Classic 16-inch Softball League began its 1966 season last week, with defending champion Arlington Country Club opening with a win.

The Country Club set stopped the Old Pros 8-6 to become one of four teams knotted with 1-0 standards at the top of the pack. The big whipping was the 31-4 defeat inflicted on Rolling Meadows Bowl by Al's Old Town Inn. Greenbrier took Eldon Marathon 12-4 and Harris Pharmacy made it 8-3 over Draft Bait.

The Standings:

Persistence Pays Off for Woman in Derby Day Contest

Who says persistence doesn't pay off?

For more than ten years, Mrs. Betty Munro of Amissville, Va. had tried without success to win a racehorse in the annual Kentucky Club Derby Day Contest.

But today Mrs. Munro, wife of a British Embassy commercial officer in Washington, hit the big payoff when the name of Eastward Flight won her a two-year-old son of Globemaster.

Along with the horse goes $1,000 as well as all training expenses for the horse until July 1.

Mrs. Munro is the seventh housewife to win the competition, which was started back in 1954.

The Munros have a working knowledge of horses. They have four quarter horse mares and a stallion on their 900 acre farm in Amissville, where they also raise Black Angus feeder calves. They have three children — Mrs. Georgia Romine, herself the mother of three, Guy Standish, a student, and another daughter, Diedre, who attends Fairfax Hall in Waynesboro, Va.

In the past Mrs. Munro has come close to winning the big prize, having won a set of glasses one year and a household appliance another.

This is the fifteenth prize horse to be given away by the Kentucky Club Tobacco Company, a subsidiary of the Mail Pouch Tobacco Company of Wheeling, West Va. Many winners have sold their horses, while others have raced them with success, the most notable being Aurecolt, a son of Devil Diver, who earned more than $60,000.

Combine Baseball Leagues

The Mount Plaines Baseball League and the Waycinden Area Baseball Traveling League have merged.

The league will be called the Mount Plaines Division of the Waycinden Area Boys Baseball League.

This division will handle the boys from ages 15 through 18 years, who will play on the traveling teams that play in the Northwest Suburban Baseball Conference. Other areas with teams in the Northwest Suburban Conference are Rolling Meadows, Elk Grove Village and Hoffman Estates.

Art Marmott and Bob Baumstark will be co-commissioners of this Division for the 1966 season. It is hoped that four teams can be put on the playing field this year.

Boys 15-18 years old who would like to play baseball and who live within the area bounded by Mount Prospect Road on the East, Busse Road on the West, Tollway on the South and Golf Road on the North should contact either Art Marmott at 299-2314 or Bob Baumstark at 824-0022.

Teams are being formed now and the first games are scheduled for the third week in May.

M'Gonigle And Sloan Head 59ers

M'Gonigle and Sloan has taken the lead in the Hoffman 59ers ladies golf league with 29 points.

Roselle State Bank is second with 25½ and Art Dern's Dairy is third with 21.

Daily Event was "Most 3s, 4s, and 5s." Winners were Ann Walders, Sharon Willeford, Gerry Conrad, Jean Witt, and Mary Sayad.

Mary Sayad had low gross of 59.

The standings:

M'Gonigle & Sloan	29
Roselle State Bank	25½
Art Dern's Dairy	21
Tri-City Hardware	19½
Frank's Beauty Salon	17½
Hoffman Liquors	13½

CONCOURSE SPORTS CHALET took it all in the 1965-66 season of the Paddock Classic Traveling League, using steady team performances to win the league's second half title, then beating first round winner The Brass Rail in the roll-off for the crown. The team included Bob Gill, called away to Army service, and Tony Sasso, front row; and Tom Kouros, a PCTL co-founder, Mike Wagner Jr., and Ray Neumann, back row. Not pictured are subs Ron Steil and Dave Catherwood. (Staff photo)

Elk Grove Bowl Hosts Big Contest

Bowlers with a yen for a 21-day trip to Europe, or $1,800 in cash, or a flock of other prizes, can get a chance for such a bonanza at Elk Grove Bowl, Higgins and Arlington Heights Roads.

Elk Grove Bowl is the only house in this area taking part in the "Bowl To Europe" contest being sponsored by the Bowling Proprietors Association of Greater Chicago and the West Suburban Association of Bowling Proprietors, in conjunction with Scandinavian Airlines System.

THERE'S NO entry fee for the contest, which will run from May 20 through August 13, only the fees normally paid to bowl at the establishment. And with every three games bowled, a fourth game will be given free.

Every bowler taking part in three games of open play will get a registration ticket to drop in a contest box, and weekly drawings will be held to see what bowlers remain in the contest. There will be special roll-offs to narrow the field for an establishment final, and an area final to decide the contest's winners.

For further detaisl, contact Elk Grove Bowl at 437-3393.

Longest Game

The longest game on record in major league baseball was a 26-inning tie between the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Boston Braves in Boston, May 1, 1920. The game was called because of darkness after three hours, 50 minutes of play.

Insurance Team Gains Tie for Top

The Kehe, Foy and Snelten Insurance Team moved into a first place tie with the Canopy Beauty Salon by posting a one sided 19-5 victory over L'Nor Cleaners in the Arlington VFW Golf League.

Koelling and Leach, in trouncing Heights Wall and Floor, moved up to third place just four points behind the leaders.

Nebel Insurance, Annen & Busse and Glidden Country Store all had a good night to stay within striking distance of first place with only 12 points separating the first six teams.

Heavy rains during the past week left the course waterlogged causing the golfers some trouble as low gross was shared by John Kehe, George Hanke, Stew Sage and Frank Pastorino, all carding 40's. Low net honors went to Irv McDougall as he posted a round of 43-10-33.

Letters to the Editor

THURS., MAY 19, 1966

Criticizes Schlickman Record On Open Occupancy Legislation

During the last week, Eugene F. Schlickman, candidate for re-election to the Illinois House of Representatives, wrote a letter to the Editors of all the local newspapers, commenting on one aspect of his voting record during the last session of the General Assembly. The incumbent prefaced his comments with a statement, "I must comment on a recent effort to distort and discredit my legislative record in the field of housing discrimination."

Though I did not author the letter to which he refers (another candidate did), I must disagree with his reaction. His voting record, my voting record—any elected official's past performance in office—is absolutely an area which warrants close scrutiny and examination by the voters he is wooing. The only way our constituents know us is by our performance in the past, or by our pledges for action in the future.

Since I am the only candidate for State Representative thus far to make such pledges for action in the future—my platform was published last week—when we evaluate the incumbent in this campaign, we have no choice but to scrutinize his voting record. On this issue we find that record wanting!

He explained his co-sponsorship of H.B. 1246, which proposed to make it unlawful for real estate brokers to initiate discrimination by determining to whom they would show homes, etc., stating that to have done nothing in the area of open housing legislation "simply invites and encourages Federal activity." In essence, this argument says: Let us have a small bad law before Lyndon gives us a big bad law. He failed to tell our readers that after our Illinois House "New Horizon" Republicans proposed H.B. 1246, the Democrats amended it into a sharply punitive bill in which the individual homeowner too felt the legislatures' wrath—by invoking criminal complaint proceedings against that homeowner with the State's Attorney upon a mere allegation—not proof of prejudice. The incumbent supported this amended version of H.B. 1246, which fortunately died in the Republican-controlled Senate, a body which opposed the bill properly on the principal that this was an illegal extension of State legislative authority.

Like the incumbent feared Lyndon has proposed a strong housing bill to Congress. Unlike the incumbent, I personally prefer the courageous and unwavering declaration of opposition voiced by our true Mr. Republican, Everett Dirksen, who noted: "This legislation is absolutely unconstitutional."

In my platform, and in all declarations I have made in this campaign, I affirm my belief in the "right of every citizen to live where he chooses," but I oppose punitive open occupancy legislation (Plank No. 10). Our State government can and should serve the people of Illinois. It must not be allowed to interfere and encroach in areas where the individual rights of the people should be preserved.

This discussion is not distortion. It is not an appeal to an emotional substitute for a "real issue." It is not running a negative campaign. It is not bigotry to believe in the Constitutional rights of every individual in our society. It is germane to this primary campaign to closely examine every GOP candidate's loyalty to the principals of the Republican Party. To charge opponents of his position on this question with bigotry or emotional irresponsibility is, to my thinking, an irresponsible and emotional avoidance by the incumbent of a very legitimate issue.

If the voters of the Third District do not agree with my thinking, they can very effectively keep me out of the Legislature. If they do agree with me and my belief in the principle of individual rights, they can send me to Springfield. Either way, I will willingly abide by their decision, since it will be made on a knowledgeable basis. They have a right to know where all candidates stand—both aspirants and incumbents. They know nothing about where aspirants Regner and Hesse stand, for both have avoided the issue. They now should know where aspirant Moore and incumbent Schlickman stand. A political campaign is not a game, gentlemen, the mind and the heart must care!

William J. Moore
Candidate for State Representative

Theatre Group Sends Thanks For Publicity

On behalf of the St. James Theatre Group of St. James Parish, Arlington Heights, I would like to thank your newspaper for the excellent coverage of our play "Seven Nuns at Las Vegas."

Without the cooperation given to me, especially by Pat Adam, Billboard Editor, and the people of your photography department, I'm sure our production would not have been the great success it was.

Arts Council Commended for Theatre Series

As a mother of three children now enrolled in District 59 schools, I wish to commend this district's Parents Arts Council Inc., for their 1966 Little Theatre series.

The two programs that have been presented so far, "The Wizard of Oz" with the Reed Marionettes and "Dance Forms" by the Illinois Ballet Co., have been most enjoyable for both children and adults.

The final presentation in this series will be "Sound of Music" featuring the Jack and Jill Players.

I think this council deserves the thanks of parents in Distritc 59 for bringing these programs to their children.

Elgin Hospital's Ball Successful

Thank you for your excellent cooperation on our second annual Sherman Hospital Benefit Ball.

The publicity you so generously provided figured enormously in the success of the event.

Reader Praises Fine Coverage Of Youth Week

On behalf of the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club, I would like to thank you and your staff for the fine coverage given to Youth Week held April 24-30.

It is important that the community be informed of the abilities of our youth. All of the students involved in Youth Week were ones we can be proud to have in our village. Only through the newspapers are the citizens able to learn of their accomplishments.

Thank you also for printing the signs used to recognize the participating merchants. With assistance such as this, Youth Week will continue to grow and honor the youth of our community.

Mrs. Robert Fletcher
Youth Chairman

We are looking forward to working with you again on future projects.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

Do You Make People Feel Guilty?

By Jane Sherrod Singer

There are some people who not only want to stab people in the back but enjoy twisting the dagger. The most outstanding are those who consciously or subconsciously make a person feel guilty. Are you one of these? How would you react in the following situations? Check the remark nearest to what you would say.

1. A friend calls you to cancel a party at the last minute because of an emergency trip. You would say:
   1. Have the best possible time.
   2. We will miss you.
   3. But I prepared everything just for you.
2. You meet a friend on the street whom you have not seen for a long time. You would say:
   1. It's wonderful to meet you again.
   2. You haven't changed a bit.
   3. I hear you're doing well. Call us sometime — when you're not too busy.
3. You find you must return a purchase to a store. You explain:
   1. I found it doesn't fit my needs.
   2. Sorry for the inconvenience.
   3. The clerk high-pressured me into buying this dreadful thing.
4. You talk with a friend who is wearing a new outfit. You would comment:
   1. That is a very handsome suit you are wearing.
   2. Are you sure the color is right for you?
   3. I could never afford anything as elegant as that.
5. You forget a social appointment. You would explain:
   1. Sorry, my error.
   2. An unexpected emergency came up.
   3. I decided you were too busy to see me anyway.

SCORING: If you have selected more than two reactions numbered 3, you cast a shadow of guilt on the people with whom you come in contact. Don't be surprised if people shy away from you. They can fight back with openly unkind comments, but the small barbs aimed to make them feel guilty are difficult to endure.

Leery About Putting in Walks For Benefit of Another Area

I read with some concern a short excerpt from the school boundary meeting reported by your paper of May 12. I refer particularly to comments by an Anthony Tomaso representing the Arlington Greens Civic Association and other unidentified members of the Arlington North subdivision.

I agree with their complaints that crossing State Road is a definite problem for small children and procedures should be instituted to provide crossing guards at one or two logical locations before September's classes start.

I do, however, take exception to their concern over "hazards" while walking through Arlington Knolls. The only hazard I can find in the open ditches is one of walking in puddles.

Of course, anyone who lives in $30,000 homes such as in Arlington Greens must at least have enough sense as to provide their children with waterproof boots at such time as excessive rain fills these ditches. Also, teaching one's children not to walk in puddles may prove to be a new fad.

The lack of sidewalks is only felt on Maude and Thomas Streets, where residents of Hasbrook have turned these quiet peaceful side streets into a race track and made a mockery of stop signs.

The point of my complaint is this: I see no valid or sensible reason why I should be forced to put in sidewalks for the benefit of Arlington Greens, when I don't feel they are needed for our area.

A sidewalk paralleling Palatine Road could be handled entirely on village property as the shopping center and the large lot under development are both under village lines. The only problem is the tie between Arlington Greens and the Palatine, State Road intersection and certainly an affluent area such as that should be able to solve a 600-foot problem with little difficulty.

I moved to Arlington Knolls partly on reasons of economic basis, and partly on the basis of the attractive semi-rural area and its complete separation from the city which I worked hard to escape. I like it as is. Lest anyone think I am an ignorant old "fuddy duddy" with no concern for the safety of the children, I am an engineer for a research electronics company and I have three children in Wilson School.

Column on GOP, Baumann Cat Irks Reader

After reading the article "GOP and His Kitty Have Similarities" in the Arlington Heights Herald, I came to four conclusions:

(1) Mr. Baumann has a cat,

(2) Mr. Baumann is a good Daley Democrat,

(3) With this type reporting, your newspaper is strictly "bush league."

(4) Please cancel my subscription, since I don't have the time to read such drivel.

Anyone has a right to their own political beliefs. However, newspapers generally stick to objective reporting, no matter how their personnel might feel personally. My 12-year-old daughter could have written a more interesting and informative article than Mr. Baumann.

WHICH ONE IS NUMBER ONE?

As you can see, Paddock Publications is a bit outnumbered by THE TIMES, in London.

But change the scene to THIS area where YOUR INTERESTS COME FIRST, and lo, Paddock Publications leads all the rest! Leads in reader interest, in advertising acceptance, in circulation.

It's logical. This is the most important area in the entire world TO YOU WHO LIVE HERE, and to us who report it. Our newsmen know your community as no other newspaper, no other medium can. They seek the news on a hundred local fronts. They question . . . and bring you the answers. Our editorial page seeks the answers by asking questions . . . by evaluating local issues that you may in turn become informed.

It's quite a bailiwick, our home area. And because it's Number One with us, you've made us Number One with you. We'll hang our bowlers on that.

live where the grass is greener

The Northwest Suburban Area is rich with the best soil and climate for growing lawns.

The fine terrain, the natural balance of rain and sunshine, and of course, the prideful home owners all combine forces to fill the neighborhoods with the clean beauty and freshness that lawns afford.

The local Realtors can show you homes with small, easily maintained lots or larger lots with practically a park atmosphere. Either type, you'll have no trouble getting your lawn to look rich and colorful.

So when the lawn needs mowing . . . don't knock it . . . be thankful it's there to cut . . . and besides, it's good exercise.

THE ACCEPTED INFLUENCE IN THE NORTHWEST SUBURBS

Intensive 2-Day School In Real Estate Scheduled

The ninth session of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, Real Estate School, will be held May 27 and 28 at Arlington Heights Federal Savings & Loan Association, 25 E. Campbell St., Arlington Heights.

Classes will be held from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Friday, May 27, and from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on Saturday, May 28. This is the regular eight-week course presented in an intensive two-day session.

The curriculum includes lectures on the History of Organized Real Estate, Explanation and Interpretation of the Realtor's Code of Ethics, Brokerage Practices and Procedures, Legal Descriptions, Deeds and Conveyances. Evaluation of Property, Listing Property, Financing and Forms Used in Real Estate.

The faculty is made up of qualified Realtors and affiliate members who are experts in their fields, including Theodore G. Koerner III of Park Ridge; Albert C. Peters, Robert G. Walters, Albert L. Gundelach and William I. Casteel of Arlington Heights; Ralph H. Martin, Robert G. Loeffler and M. Edward Smith of Des Plaines. Robert E. Dooley of Des Plaines is chairman of the Education Committee, consisting of Arthur W. Pipenhagen and Frank O'Neal of Des Plaines, Roger Evans of Wheeling and Frederick G. Carlson of Park Ridge.

THIS COURSE is open to anyone desiring to attend although it is not designed as a preparation for the real estate salesman's or broker's state examination, but rather to broaden the knowledge of those already engaged in the real estate field. This is in keeping with the Realtor's Pledge — "To seek better to represent my clients by building my knowledge and competence." It is significant that this course will be held the last two days of Realtor Week.

The first seven terms of the board real estate school had a combined registration of over 735. All provisional associate members are required to attend one term and pass the written examination with a grade of 70 per cent or better. Certificates will be awarded for satisfactory completion of the course.

Admission to class will be by registration only. Members of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors may attend these classes free of charge. There will be a fee of $10 for members of other boards, and $25 for anyone else desiring to attend.

Booklets required for the course will be supplied at the time of registration and are included in the registration fee. Application may be made at the board office, 1032 Lee St., Des Plaines, prior to May 25. (RE

REALTOR WEEK is proclaimed for May 22 to 28 by Arlington Heights Village Pres. John G. Woods. With him are Mrs. Marge Nelson of Robert L. Nelson Realtors and Ralph Bruns of Bruns Realtors, president of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors. Woods said Realtors have "aided materially" in the attainment of the dream of home ownership and "through their pledge to uphold the code of ethics of the National Association of Real Estate Boards have contributed toward the public confidence in real estate ownership." The proclamation, he added, underscores "the security obtainable in buying, selling or leasing real property through a professional" (Staff photo)

Vicki Machin Promoted by Illinois Bell

Vicki Machin, 434 S. Beverley, Arlington Heights, has been promoted by Illinois Bell Telephone to personnel clerk in the company's new area employment center in Arlington Heights.

She will be involved with the interviewing of potential male and female employes for the Arlington Heights, Barrington, Wheeling and Elk Grove areas.

Miss Machin, who joined the company in 1964, was previously a clerk in Arlington Heights where she served earlier as an operator.

A graduate of Arlington High School, Miss Machin attended Bradley University in Peoria.

Arrange Mortgage On Hampton Court

A mortgage loan commitment for $1,100,000 has been issued by Great Lakes Mortgage Corp., loan correspondent for Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., to refinance and complete the balance of 91 apartment units of the Hampton Court Apartments in Arlington Heights.

The original development consisting of 60 units, divided into three separate buildings each having 20 apartments, was originally financed with a Great Lakes mortgage for $675,000.

The second phase consists of 31 units. The attractive colonial design which characterizes the project will be continued in the two new buildings which will consist of two and three stories. The apartment units will have one or two bedrooms and will include several two-level apartments.

AMPLE PARKING facilities are provided throughout the development which is located in downtown Arlington Heights and is bounded by Miner Street, Somerset Lane, Eastman Street and Ridge Avenue.

The general contractor for the project is James McHugh Construction Company, one of the builders of Marina City in Chicago. Construction superintendent is Myron Austin. Dubin, Dubin and Black are the architects. Great Lakes was represented in the transaction by Paul J. Shultz.

Recognition

James F. Pixius, 1 Busse Road, Mount Prospect, who is associated with the Metropolitan Insurance Co. at its Bryn Mawr office, 4001 W. Devon Ave., Chicago, has been named a member of the company's Millionaires Club. (BB

Daley to Talk at Realtor Luncheon

Mayor Richard J. Daley will be the guest speaker at a special Realtor Week Luncheon, sponsored by the Chicago Real Estate Board, to be held Wednesday, May 25 at noon in the Illinois Room of the LaSalle Hotel.

The theme of the Mayor's remarks will be "Towards a Greater Chicago." Joining the mayor at the speakers table will be James Rutherford, representing the Citizens Bond Committee for a Greater Chicago, and new CREB Officers and divisional chairmen.

THE LUNCHEON will be the highlight of this year's Realtor Week observance. From May 22 to May 28, 80,000 Realtors all over the United States will be participating in special activities focusing on the Realtor's contributions to his community.

The CREB Brokers Division is finalizing plans for local participation by Realtor offices all over Chicago. Included are posters, institutional advertising and classified advertising tie-ins. The Mayor has proclaimed May 22-28 as Realtor Week in Chicago.

Tickets for the luncheon are $5 per person, and are available at CREB headquarters, 105 West Madison Street, 60602.

'Great Blackout' Points Up Lack of Emergency Power

The Great Blackout of '65 brought to light the inadequate emergency power facilities existing in numerous public buildings, declares the author of an article on maintenance in the current issue of the Journal of Property Management.

How completely paralyzed we become when electric power is shut off was never fully realized by the public before the blackout of the northeastern states last year, continues Howard Sonn, CPM, New York City.

IREM, an affiliate of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, awards the professional designation CPM (Certified Property Manager) to real estate managers who are able to meet its rigid requirements of experience, training, and integrity.

"AS IN MOST instances, we shall now probably see the pendulum of public reaction swing from apathy and disinterest to insistent demand that everybody concerned do something to see that it never happens again," Mr. Sonn said.

"Public opinion will undoubtedly demand that public utilities equip themselves with better emergency facilities, and that all public buildings, multi-tenant buildings, and factories do so as well."

The writer said he foresees that legislative bodies in some areas will require that buildings be equipped with standby generators capable of supplying emergency lights and sufficient power to operate at least one elevator, water pumps, oil burners and other vital motors, but cautioned building managers to forego any major installations until the requirements are spelled out in detail.

"OTHERWISE," he explained, "the well intended and public spirited manager may find himself with a sizable investment in equipment that does not satisfy new laws. If such legal changes are not expected in the foreseeable future, the manager may then make his plans based upon his conception of his building needs."

Chief cause of alarm in high-rise buildings during a power failure, according to Sonn, is experienced by people stranded in elevators between floors without lights or means of communication.

"It takes a skilled elevator mechanic to lower a car without power," he declares. "If elevators were so equipped that ordinary building employees could accomplish this with complete safety it would relieve much cause for hysteria.

"IT REQUIRES FIRST, telephone communication from each car independent of the building power supply; second, a standby generator of sufficient capacity; third, a switching system so one car at a time can be operated and returned to the main floor; fourth, a building crew properly trained to accomplish this."

Sonn pointed out it is not practical to install a standby generating system with capacity to operate 100 per cent of the light and power as the cost would be prohibitive. He cautioned that few managers or electrical contractors have sufficient know-how to design or select a proper standby system and advised that the system be designed by a competent electrical engineer and installed under his supervision.

Copies of the Journal of Property Management — published bi-monthly — are available for $2.50 each from the Institute of Real Estate Management, 36 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago 60603. Subscription is $10 per year. (RE

Bernhardt Named V.P. by Publishers

John W. Bernhardt, 1863 W. Tweed, Inverness, has been appointed a vice president of Chilton Co., publishers.

In his new position Bernhardt will represent Chilton management with advertisers, advertising agencies and marketing service clients in the Chicago office territory. He will also supervise salesmen of all Chilton magazines in that area.

Bernhardt will make his headquarters in Chilton's Chicago office at 540 N. Michigan Ave.

SINCE 1962 Bernhardt has been regional manager of the Chilton magazine, Electronic Industries, in Chicago. He came to Chilton from Warden, Kelley and Allen, publishers representatives. He has also been associated with the Univac Division of Sperry Rand, A. B. Dick Co. and Belden Manufacturing Co.

Bernhardt is a graduate of the University of Chicago with a bachelor's degree in economics. He served in the United States Navy during World War II. (BB

Country Living Fun with Plenty of Running Water

The "second home" craze is sweeping America. More than 15 per cent of Americans now have a second dwelling. These range from a simple summer cabin in the woods to a fully equipped year-round home where the family can escape from the bustle of the city — a place of refuge where they can return to life's simple, basic pleasures.

In the next 10 years, more than 2 million additional families will join the ranks of those who buy a second or "country" home.

Many families move to the country for weeks or even months at a time. Dad either commutes daily or joins his family on week-ends.

THIS ALL sounds wonderfully relaxing, but every prospective country home buyer should heed this reminder from the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau: There's nothing relaxing or fun about a shortage of running water beyond the city water mains. Dad may like to go completely primitive on his hunting and fishing trips, but few families, especially those with children, enjoy being deprived for long of enough water for cooking, bathing, dishwashing, laundering, etc.

In fact, the average family that moves to the country wants to take as many city comforts as possible with it. This means not only running water in the kitchen and bathroom but such plumbed-in appliances as automatic washing machines and dishwashers.

Thanks to new developments in well-drilling and water systems, every country - loving family can have a plentiful, inexpensive supply of running water for all its needs.

The modern individual water system in no way resembles its early ancestor the large diameter well from which water meter well from which water was dipped by a wooden bucket, or its more recent counterpart that was equipped with a hand pump or windmill. Today's well usually is drilled rather than "dug." It goes down to an average depth of 100 to 120 feet.

ITS PUMP IS electric-powered, with ½-horsepower the average. The fastest growing kind of pump is the compact submersible, which is seldom more than four inches in diameter for home installations and is installed right in the well, out of sight and sound.

The pump brings the water to the surface and into a storage tank. From there, it's piped to the home under pressure. There's nothing for the family to do but enjoy the pleasures of running water, since the pump turns on and off automatically, as directed by controls geared to the amount of water in the tank and its rate of use.

If you're thinking of buying a home that already has an individual well, make sure it has an electric pump, and ask a plumbing contractor or water systems dealer to check it out, both for its safety and its capacity to provide enough water.

If the home doesn't have an electric pump or you're building a home from scratch, have one installed — and make sure it's big enough to handle all the water-using appliance you'll want for convenie healthful living.

Froula Admitted To Appraisal Group

Raymond E. Froula, 615 S. Dunton Ave., Arlington Heights, was awarded the M.A.I. designation by the Governing Council of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers at its annual meeting in Chicago, Illinois, May 9.

This designation automatically admits Froula to membership in the Institute. Fewer than 4,000 appraisers have qualified for this designation since the Institute was founded in 1932.

To receive the M.A.I. designation Froula had to be at least 30 years of age, and had to have a minimum of five years' experience in the practice of appraising, had to submit at least three acceptable reports on fee appraisal to be graded by the Institute, had to pass a minimum of two examinations, and had to have the recommendation of appraisers familiar with his work.

The American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers of the National Association of Real Estate Boards is a professional organization, and its members are designated by the term "M.A.I." (Member, Appraisal Institute). In addition to setting up standards of certification and a code of professional conduct, the Institute has won nation-wide recognition for its work in the field of real estate education.

Each year it offers its case-study courses in cooperation with leading colleges and universities. This year they were given at the University of Virginia, Indiana University, University of Chicago, University of Connecticut, Southern Methodist University, University of Missouri, and the University of Southern California.

Through its Education and Research Fund it provides an annual scholarship of $1,000 which it granted to a student doing graduate work in real estate in an accredited school of business administration.

In addition to publishing its own official textbook, the Appraisal of Real Estate, the Institute is the publisher of The Appraisal Journal, a professional quarterly in the field of valuation, land economics, and real estate.

R. C. Can Acquires 8-Acre Site

R. C. Can Co. has acquired an eight-acre site in Centex Industrial Park to be used for a major expansion to its present facility.

The site is on the northwest corner of Nicholas and Pratt Boulevards immediately east of the firm's present four-acre site where it has a plant devoted to the manufacture of sheet and plastic containers and related products.

A COMPANY spokesman said the new land was purchased from Louis Milani Foods, Inc. because two expansions during the past several years had utilized all of the space available on R. C. Can's original site. He added that preliminary work already has begun on the expansion plans.

Sole broker for the $250,000 real estate transaction was Marshall Bennett of Bennett & Kahnweiler, developer of the 2,000-acre industrial park.

Survey Reveals Consumer Doubts

Cook County residents who don't know the facts of life — economic life, that is — think "profit" is a dirty word.

That's one of the facts revealed in an Opinion Research Corp. survey of more than 500 Cook County residents. This and other facts obtained from the interviews were told Monday by Albert H. Messer of New York City, president of the Brand Names Foundation, which sponsored the survey.

"The Cook County survey shows your opinions are typical of national feeling about business and profits," said Messer, at a meeting of the Sales Marketing Executives of Chicago in Hyatt House, Lincolnwood.

"WE CERTAINLY got some surprises," said Messer, "when we asked Chicago and suburban area people what they thought of business, profits, and such things as competition a 'dents-off' bargains at the su market.' Some of the c ments: ". . . A business ca for young people is for birds. . ." Stores sell an i for "whatever price they like selling it regardless cost.' ". . . They just jack the price 'til the sale is then go back to the regu price. . ."

To counteract such misin mation about retailers and m ufacturers, the Foundation begun a year-long campaign Cook County whose slogan "When Products Compete— Win."

Company to Build Distribution Center

New & Frank Co. has announced plans to open a sales office and distribution center in Centex Industrial Park, in Elk Grove Village.

The 10,000-square-foot facility will be utilized to replace the firm's present location at 619 S. Wabash Ave., Chicago. It will serve as a warehouse and distribution center for the firm's line of upholstery products and mattress supplies. In addition, job shop facilities also will be available for upholstery shops and mattress factories.

J. Keeton, general manager, said that the site at 650 Pratt Boulevard was selected because Centex's location is less than 800 yards from the Illinois superhighway system and the Park has Chicago-based freight rates.

Telephone Pioneers To Meet in Peoria

Robert C. Richardson, of 1209 Campbell St., Arlington Heights, will hit the road to Peoria next week for the 12th annual Illinois and northwest Indiana assembly of the telephone employees' service organization, the Telephone Pioneers of America.

Richardson is president of the Forest Council, made up of local telephone employees, active and retired, with 21 or more years of service.

The assembly, May 20-21 at the Pere Marquette Hotel in Peoria, will feature two days of business meetings, entertainment, and social activities.

FRIDAY WILL be devoted largely to business, as delegates discuss the "Pursuit of Purpose," theme of year's assembly.

R. C. RICHARDSON

Pioneers will attend workshops and exhibits designed to bolster their efforts in community service work, including their statewide tutoring program for educationally disadvantaged children.

Saturday will be a day for meeting old friends and pursuing Pioneering's three reasons for being — fellowship, loyalty and service. Capping the Saturday activities will be a banquet with entertainment and a major address by James W. Cook, Illinois Bell Telephone Company president.

Illinois Bell territory includes three Theodore N. Vail chapters of the Pioneers, part of a nationwide community of 70 chapters comprising about ¼ million telephone people.

THE PURPOSE of the Telephone Pioneer Association is summed up in the Constitution: "to provide a means of friendly association for the longer service employees in the telephone industry, both active and retired, and to promote among them a continuing fellowship and a spirit of mutual helpfulness; to exemplify and perpetuate those principles which . . . are the ideals and traditions of the telephone industry; and to participate in such undertakings to make for the happiness, well-being and usefulness of the membership and for the progress of the Association."

A shift to community service in recent years has taken Pioneering out of purely social-centered activities. The force of long-established tradition of telephone service has been crystallized into an effective pattern for community service.

Ideas, challenge, work and achievement — these are the essence of Telephone Pioneering. Back in 1911, when the Association began with 244 members, those men and women who helped build the great communications network enjoyed today decided they would put their "golden years" to good use. "Pursuit of Purpose," the theme of this year's assembly, is proof that the early traditions of telephone Pioneering are felt just as strongly today. (BB

Anderson Named To Publicity Post

James W. Anderson, 133 Illinois Blvd., Hoffman Estates, has been named assistant director of public relations for Maremont Corp., Chicago.

Carrying out public relations programs for the automotive group will be Anderson's major responsibilities. He will also handle special assignments involving corporate public relations.

Prior to joining Maremont, Anderson was manager of public relations and publications for Joseph T. Ryerson & Son, Inc. and had been with the Inland Steel Co. distributing subsidiary for six and half years.

HE HAD PREVIOUSLY served as a packaging design consultant for Sears, Roebuck and Co., assistant to the advertising manager of Wilson Sporting Goods Co., and as an advertising copywriter and layout artist for A. C. McClurg & Co. — all Chicago firms.

A marketing major, Anderson received a master of business administration degree from the Graduate School of Business of the University of Chicago in 1959.

He is a member of the Public Relations Society of America, the Public Relations Clinic of Chicago and the Public Relations Committee of the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry. (BB

Modern Etiquette

Q. How does one properly go about removing the bones from a fish at the dinner table?

A. Lift the end of the bone with the fork, then pinching it between the fork and the knife, lift it all the way out. In some stubborn cases, you may have to use your fingers, and this is quite all right if you do not permit your fingers to touch the fish.

Q. Should the tissues that come with engraved wedding invitations be left in place when they are mailed out, or should they be removed?

A. Unless you have ordered them far enough in advance so that the ink is dry, it is safest to leave the tissues in place.

Seeling Cited for Top Performance

John C. Seeling, 3802 Eagle Lane, Rolling Meadows, was presented with a merit increase in salary as well as a citation for superior performance of his duties as civil engineer at a ceremony held recently at Chicago Army Engineer District offices in the new Federal building in Chicago.

Col. John C. Mattina, Chicago District Engineer, made the presentation.

Seeling, with the District since 1950, is chief of the structures branch of the district's Operations Division.

A native of Chicago, he was graduated from Purdue University in 1950 with a bachelor's degree in civil engineering. He started work in the district's Calumet Harbor Project Office a few months later and served there for a year-and-a-half.

He is married to the former Dorothy A. Johnson and is the father of seven children.

HE IS A registered professional engineer in the state of Illinois. He served in the European theater with the 12th Infantry of the 4th Division during World War II.

"Mr. Seeling has demonstrated a high degree of technical knowledge in each engineering phase of the mission relative to operation, maintenance improvement and reconstruction of Illinois Waterway and Fox River navigation structures," the citation stated. "He continuously demonstrates an excellent ability to communicate with five project engineers in the operation, care and maintenance of multi-million dollar civil works Federal projects which has resulted in excellent rapport contributing to high morale and increased efficiency."

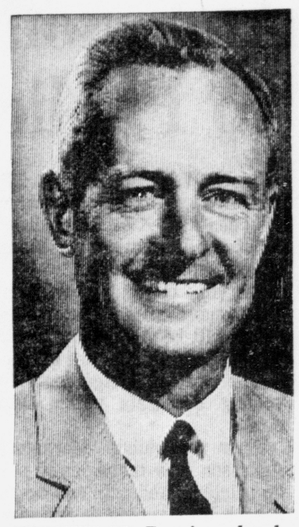
THERE ARE MANY scenic spots, with attractive views of woods and beach, around Lake Redstone. The sparkling springfed lake, just northeast of LaValle, Wis., is 4½ miles long, with dam and spillway at its lower end.



HARVEY M. Branigar heads the Branigar Organization, Chicago realty and developing firm now offering second home sites at picturesque Lake Redstone, near LaValle, Wisconsin.

Supplement Tells Lake Redstone Story

One of the largest supplements ever printed on behalf of a local land development is being distributed as part of today's issue of Paddock Publications.

The supplement, printed in a new full-color rotogravure process, describes Lake Redstone, (a development of the Branigar Organization), located near the Wisconsin Dells.

According to Harvey W. Branigar, head of the parent company, "We decided to use this novel approach to describe Lake Redstone because no single advertisement, no matter how large, could cover all the selling features we must show in order to tell the story of Lake Redstone properly."

A year-round vacationland, Lake Redstone has been planned for the fast-growing second home market, Branigar said. Three hours from Chicago, two hours from Milwaukee, and an hour from Madison, the lake is easily reached by new superhighways. "And, as a second home should," Branigar added, "the lake represents a type of living which is completely different from urban home life."

IN PREPARING the supplement, nearly a thousand color photographs were taken during a period which covered an entire year. In order to show the lake and its ski-hill in a winter setting, a team of photographers braved minus-10-degree weather, bringing along some ski-enthusiasts in case the weather was too cold for skiing "regulars." (It wasn't).

Production experts were under specific instructions from Lake Redstone not to retouch any photographs.

"We felt that retouching, a common procedure in advertising, was unnecessary," explained Maynard Hestrom, Branigar vice-president who heads the Lake Redstone project. "And in my opinion, our decision was correct. The photographs, as reproduced in this special section, speak for themselves."

Paddock Publications are among a number of newspapers selected to distribute the more than 3-¼ million copies of the supplement, which required almost a week of high-speed press time to run. (RE an adult community where residents enjoy the mature mode of living...

Your private island in Willow Lake!

At Willow Lake, you purchase your spacious mobile home, then select your lot — many of them right on the lake!

The lake is for real — 23 acres big and is stocked with trout and pan fish. It's ideal for fishing, swimming and boating. Other community features include a heated swimming pool, shuffleboard and a sprawling Recreation Center.*

Willow Lake is a planned community, with paved streets and all city utilities underground.

It's established, too, with more than 80 homes now occupied.

Modern, easy-to-maintain mobile homes are priced from $6,450.

Willow Lake Estates is just south of the Northwest Tollway at the Rt. 31 interchange.

Look for signs near W. River Rd. Model homes open daily 9 a.m. until dusk.

Thomas to Direct Incinerator Sales

Alan R. Thomas, 1307 W. Mulberry Lane, Arlington Heights, has been appointed general sales manager of American Incinerator Corp.

Since graduation from Notre Dame University 17 years ago, Thomas has spent most of his business career in sales executive capacities in the incineration and anti-air-pollution equipment fields.

He was midwest district manager of incinerator sales for Morse Boulger Inc., of Long Island, N. Y., from 1956 to 1963, then sales manager of the Incineration Division, Watubo Industries, Inc., of Chicago, from 1963 to 1966.

Thomas served with the United States Infantry in the European Theatre during World War II, returning to Notre Dame to complete his education in 1949. He and his wife, daughter and three sons, reside in Arlington Heights, Ill. They will move to the Detroit area during the summer. His hobbies are golf and photography.(BB

Modern Etiquette

Q. Is it always necessary to respond with "You're welcome" when someone else says "Thank you"?

A. Certainly SOME response is in order, and "You're welcome" is just about the best.

Q. How many drinks per person should a hostess figure on when planning a cocktail party, and what are the right drinks to offer?

A. Figure an average of three drinks per person. Some guests will take only one, others four or five — but it usually works out to about three per head. Most popular are martinis, manhattans, scotch, rye, or bourbon, with the usual mixers.

CORRECTION

Residents Cautioned To Beware Swindlers

The "Terrible Williamsons" are back! This warning was issued in a letter last week from the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Chicago, who received a report from the Brookfield Police Department that members of the itinerant group had been seen in the area.

The Williamsons, according to an article in the BBB Digest published in June, 1965, are a notorious band of gypsies who last invaded the Chicago area as "paving contractors." Using an authentic-looking advertising hand-out with the name "American Roofing and Paving Supply Co.," the article states "some of these nomads sprayed non-drying 'goop' on residents' driveways in Olympia Fields, Prospect Heights and Oak Brook."

IN A REPORT to the Bureau, one victim reported the coating never did dry, and after a week and a half he had to have his whole driveway resurfaced with asphalt by a reputable local paving contractor.

The address listed for the "American Roofing and Paving Supply Co." was 320 W. Touhy, Des Plaines, which turned out to be a trailer camp, and the two telephones numbers used were reported discontinued by the telephone company. Contracts were signed "Isaac Williamson."

Northwest suburban residents are warned that women of the tribe often act as advance guards for the heavier business of the men, going door-to-door with fake "Irish lace," "Venetian glass" and "imported woolens." Their goods have been shoddy copies of the real thing, and comparable or better merchandise is available at lower prices in local stores. (A15

Panel to Discuss Revenue Article

The proposed new revenue article for Illinois will be the subject of a special panel discussion at a meeting held in the Municipal Building, 33 S. Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights, at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, May 25.

This will be a non-partisan presentation by the Citizens of Greater Chicago, under the auspices of the Northwest Municipal Conference, offered to educate and expose as much as is possible the meaning and possible effects of the new revenue article versus the old from all viewpoints.

THE NORTHWEST Municipal Conference includes the following municipalities: Arlington Heights, Barrington, Barrington Hills, Des Plaines, Elk Grove Village, Palatine, Park Ridge, Rolling Meadows, Schaumburg and Wheeling.

Charles Cleveland, veteran political and editorial writer in Illinois and now political editor for the Chicago Daily News, will serve as moderator.

State Representatives George Thiem (Evanston), proponent of the proposed new revenue article, and Bernard Peskin (Northbrook), outspoken critic against it, will serve as panelists. Thiem is a retired newspaper writer formerly with the Chicago American and is credited with initiating the Orville Hodge investigation. Peskin is a graduate of John Marshall Law School and was admitted to the Bar in 1950. He is a partner in the law firm of Deutch and Peskin in Chicago.

THE PROPOSED new revenue article would replace the present 100-year-old one and, if passed, will open the door to several new taxes at the same time it eliminates or modifies much of our present tax structure. The Legislature would be authorized to levy a state income tax, at a non-graduated rate, not to exceed three per cent, with a referendum.

Such a tax could be proposed to go as high as six per cent with a second referendum. If an income tax is levied under the new revenue article, the State personal property tax must be abolished.

Calls Townships 'Wasteful Chestnuts'

Seymour Simon Rips Metro Government Idea

by Dan Baumann
Staff Writer

Stronger municipalities and stronger school districts are a better solution to the problems of the suburbs than a metropolitan government or a "swollen county government." That's the conclusion of retiring Cook County Board Pres. Seymour Simon after four years in office.

In an address before the Metropolitan Managers Association last Friday, Simon ripped proposals for a metropolitan super-government as "an old fashioned panacea that is both unrealistic and unworkable." And he said the county government must be given basically a bookkeeping role in tax collecting and record keeping, as well as handling area problems like courts and medical and welfare programs.

Simon called township government an "unnecessary chestnut" which is "disgracefully wasteful," and called for its abolition.

He said the county should act as a "catalyst' in helping municipalities to annex in unincoroprated areas so the county might shed its "municipal function" as "caretaker for the unincorporated areas" which he charged are getting a "free ride."

ELIMINATING metropolitan government, super county government and township government as solutions to suburban problems, Simon ticked off a series of proposals to:

1) "Hasten the disappearance of the county's unincorporated land" through strengthened municipal powers of annexation "so cities and villages can annex land at their boundaries and grow naturally without always requiring the consent of landowners."

2) Permit municipalities to form regional compacts to handle regional problems without going to the county or a metropolitan government. Such problems include refuse disposal, flood control and land and transportation planning.

3) Consider merger of smaller villages into cities the size of Evanston or Oak Park — "larger and more independent than our existing dormitory towns."

4) Stave off efforts to kill the Supreme Court's one-man one-vote rule through which "suburbs have gained even more" than the city of Chicago.

5) Approve municipal home rule legislation "which will give your municipal boards and councils authority to act to meet your problems without being hamstrung by failure of a state legislature meeting every two years to recognize what your needs are."

6) Create an Illinois department of urban affairs to draft home rule legislation, centralize state services to urban areas and supervise state and federal aid to local taxing bodies.

7) Through the new department, "work on meaningful revision of outwork suburban school district boundaries to correct the financial inequities of some districts having money to burn and others living from hand to mouth practically as paupers."

SIMON SAID the county has a role to play but not in the municipal area. During the interim of transition, he said county government "must continue to act as a catalyst to attempt to create an atmosphere of cooperation and intergovernmental accomplishment."

The county board president noted he had taken a direct interest in suburban problems during his term and predicted the next county board president would also.

"The county board president can no longer ignore suburban problems, nor can he leave them exclusively in the hands of the suburban (county) commissioners. I acknowledge I upset a time-honored tradition of leaving suburban affairs to the suburban commissioners, and in doing so invited criticism, especially from the suburban commissioners."

Simon's most scathing criticism was reserved for township government. He said the township supervisor's welfare duties "could be handled more efficiently and professionally" by the Cook County Department of Public Aid. Township school trustees and treasurers, which exist only in Cook County, "duplicate more efficient efforts of private accounting firms and school district finance officers."

"Why," he asked, "do we need highway and road supervisors in townships where there are few or no township roads, particularly when their contracts for road improvements must, under law, be let by the county board?"

HE SAID IT was "most important" to eliminate township collectors — "keystone of the township system."

"Collectors charge excessive commission rates and operate year-round offices to do work that could be done in a few months with minimal extra expense by the county collector.

"The elimination of the collectors would force the townships to justify their governmental costs, as you and I must, by preparing a levy to put before the voters.

"You cannot justify duplication and waste simply because a few school districts share in the booty. The elimination of the collectors also would produce immediate savings for all local taxing bodies — including the school districts that townships purport to help — that amount to more than $1 million per year, savings which by the way are greater than any help township government gives."

Municipal Clerks Protest County Registration Check

Suburban Municipal clerks, ruffled at post-registration checks made in suburban village and city halls, have sent a resolution of protest to the county clerk's office.

The resolution, passed at a dinner meeting May 4 for the Municipal Clerks Association of North and West Suburban Cook County, was prompted by Arlington Heights investigator Carl Gehrke's requests for tallies that day of all registrations during open voter registration hours in the suburbs during the two days before.

Mrs. Eleanor Rohrbach, Des Plaines city clerk who is president of the association, says the resolution was directed more at the county clerk's office for "questioning our integrity" than at Gehrke himself.

PAUL BADGER, Park Ridge city clerk who made the motion putting the clerks on record as opposing the post-registration checking, agreed. Badger, at the dinner meeting in Elmwood Park, had also suggested that municipal clerks send individual letters to County Clerk Edward Barrett expressing their disapproval.

In the course of his checking, Gehrke, a resident of 204 S. Arlington Heights Road, found that Arlington Heights Village Clerk Jeanne Novotny had taken some of the registration cards home. He was insistent upon their prompt return.

He also had disagreements with other village clerks, tired from two days of hectic registering of suburbanites and irritated that they should be asked to stop registration processing to provide a count.

E. P. Steinbrinck of Palatine, assistant Cook County election supervisor and Gehrke's immediate superior, told Paddock Publicatons this week that he had not yet seen the resolution.

NOTING THAT he himself had served as Palatine village clerk for 20 years, Steinbrinck expressed sympathy for the municipal clerks' registration work load and said he felt they needed extra help during open registration days.

Mrs. Rohrbach had added she felt it was unfair that suburban clerks' offices could be open for voter registration so few days. Such limitations are based upon state statutes, Steinbrinck said.

St. Matthew Home Plans Dedication

An open house and service of dedication will be held at St. Matthew Home for the Aged, to 5 p.m., to formally dedicate a 32 room addition to the home which includes a chapel seating 125 people.

Guest speaker for the afternoon will be Dr. Robert J. Marshall, president of the Illinois Synod of the Lutheran Church in America. The Rev. Howard Palm, president of the board of the home, will perform the rite of dedication in a service beginning at 3 p.m.

MEMBERS OF St. Matthew Service League, under the direction of their president, Mrs. Lillian Warren, Glenview, will be the hostesses at a coffee hour following the dedication. Among them are Mrs. Edgar F. Neas and Mrs. Jack Lytle, Arlington Heights.

St. Matthew Home went into operation in 1959 with facilities for 57 persons. With the new addition, capacity will be increased to 89 persons. The home is owned and operated by Lutheran Welfare Services of Illinois, and the superintendent is the Rev. Ernest C. Koch.(B10

Suburbanites May Use Paper Ballots

It's a good bet that some local residents will be using paper ballots instead of voting machines in the June 14 primary election.

Just who will vote with paper ballots won't be known by the county clerk's office until next week.

But E. P. Steinbrinck, assistant Cook County election supervisor, says it's certain that it will be necessary for some suburbanites to use the paper ballots.

The reason is simple—there aren't enough voting machines this time to go around.

While the county clerk's office has authorized creation of 120 new suburban voting precincts since last November's general election, no money has been appropriated by the Cook County Board of Commissioners to buy voting machines to serve those precincts.

Wheeling Township, one of the fastest growing in the northwest suburbs, has gained 11 precincts since last year. Elk Grove Village has had an additional two created.

Steinbrinck said he did not know whether it would be the new preicncts that would have the paper ballots. That has not been decided yet, he said.

The population of Schaumburg may soar to 175,000 in 20 years if predictions compiled by Robert R. Bishop, 1035 S. Chestnut Ave., Arlington Heights, are correct.

Bishop, who recently prepared a population forecast of northwest suburban communities for the Christian Church of Arlington Heights, compiled figures which showed Schaumburg leading the population race in another 20 years. Next on the list was Arlington Heights with a projected population of 90,000 by 1986.

MOST OF the estimates, including those for Schaumburg, were based on figures prepared by the communities. Other forecasts were based on past and current population trends, Bishop explained.

Predictions for the tremendous growth in Schaumburg, which now has a population of 6,454, are based on increases expected to be prompted by new industries which plan to build in the area.

Other predictions show the following community populations in 20 years: Elk Grove Village — 65,000; Hoffman Estates — 22,000; Mount Prospect — 42,000; Rolling Meadows — 9,000; and Wheeling — 30,000.

REHEARSING FOR DEDICATION ceremonies Sunday of St. Matthew Lutheran Home chapel and addition are the Rev. Warren Thummel of Holy Trinity Church, Glenview, and Mrs. Alma Koch. The Rev. Ernest C. Koch, superintendent of the home, is at right. Two Arlington Heights women who are members of the board of St. Matthew Service League, Mrs. E. F. Neas and Mrs. Jack Lytle, will be hostesses. Program will start at 1 p.m.

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by Richard H. DeLano, Associate Farm Advisor

ALERT HOMEOWNERS DIAL DAILY 392-3060

Clematis are one of the latest flowering vines to be rediscovered in American nurseries and garden centers. However, because they've only made their comeback in the last ten years, many people are uncertain about growing them.

At this time of year the most frequent question concerns their pruning. There are two methods of pruning clematis. The method depends on the variety. Nelly Moser and other varieties that bloom in early summer should be pruned rather carefully.

Give the mass of vines a thorough inspection and cut out any vines that are obviously dead. The remaining stems should be cut back to the first pair of strong buds. Each individual vine should then be trained for its specific place on the trellis, wall, or other support. Best time to do this is before the buds break in spring.

DON'T GET TOO enthusiastic when you are doing the snipping. Remember that the flowers of clematis in this group flower on side shoots of wood produced the previous year. Thus save as much of this old wood as possible. It produces the flowers.

Without a doubt this separate snipping and selection of each vine is time consuming and tedious. However, it produces the maximum amount of floral display from each vine.

You'll probably end up with more vines than space on the trellis. A good use for these extra vines is layering. It's an easy way to propagate new plants. When layering take some of the older vines and bury in loops "S" or serpentine fashion in the ground.

Cut a small nick in the vine where it dips into the ground. A year later, after roots and leaves have developed, the stem or vine sections can be severed from the main plant. This leaves several new clematis vines that can be transplanted to new location.

CLEMATIS varieties that bloom later in the summer such as Comtesse de Bouchaud or the purple flowered Jackmanii are pruned somewhat differently. Cut the entire mass of vines three foot or less above the ground. Make the cuts just above a strong pair of buds.

This group of clematis is different because they produce all their bloom on wood made during the current season. Sprouts that develop in the next few weeks are the same ones that will produce flowers.

If the plant is just a few large multivine cables, cut back each strand in the vine cable to a different length. For example cut a few at two and a half feet, others at three and still others at three and a half feet. This will create a wider distribution of the bloom.

IF YOU ARE planting clematis vines or are using them for the first time you should remember that they like full sun. Plant the root ball about an inch deeper than it grew in the nursery, so that additional supportive roots will be stimulated.

Don't be too concerned about having alkaline soil, this is the natural condition of Cook County soil. At any rate recent authorities say that clematis will thrive in any good clay loam. Throughout the summer give them plenty of water and a cool shaded root situation. Then fertilize rather heavily the same as you would roses and they'll thrive.

Finally be imaginative about where you use them. . .Consider training with climbing roses, over dwarf fruit trees, or even on their own poles. (O

GARDENING TIPS

Your Garden . . . Day by Day

FROM THE ARLINGTON HEIGHTS GARDEN CLUB

by MARY B. GOOD

May 19

The best things in life are free department: We viewed the plots of land that the Arlington Heights Park District is offering to interested gardeners and were amazed at the size of each plot—60x60 feet. Figuring we were missing a bet, we signed up for one with plans to grow pumpkins, gourds and other rambling plants.

May 20

It's evergreen planting time, so be sure to measure the area involved and space plants far enough apart to avoid ruining their natural shapes by overcrowding. Fir, spruce and pine (except maybe mugho) have no place in a foundation planting due to their ultimate size.

May 21

As soon as they are finshed flowering, prune, if necessary, spring flowering shrubs like the forsythias, weigelas, deutzias, retaining young, vigorous growth. Also cut back overgrown hedges now as they will need an entire season's growth to recover.

May 22

Recommended reading for foragers: "Stalking the Wild Asparagus" by Euell Gibbons.

May 23

Carl Klehm of Chas. Klehm and Son Nursery will discuss his specialty, peonies, at the meeting of the Arlington Heights Garden Club tonight (Monday), 8 p.m. Pioneer Park, 500 S. Fernandez.

May 24

Summer bulbs can be popped in now. Plant tuberose at a depth of 3 inches; ismeme, 4 inches; gladiolus, 5 inches, and dahlias, 6 inches.

May 25

Certain annuals like moss roses, sweet alyssum and nasturtium should be sown where they are to bloom.

Inquiries may be directed to the Arlington Heights Garden Club, Box 362, Arlington Heights.

Outdoor Living Includes Backyard Swimming Pool

The trend to outdoor living shows no signs of diminishing. Families are doing more and more of their relaxing, eating and entertaining in their backyards. And, by the tens of thousands, they're doing it poolside, the Illinois Assn. of Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Contractors says.

In 1948, there were only about 2500 residential swimming pools in the country. Last year alone, nearly 60,000 were installed, and that number will probably come close to doubling this year.

THERE ARE at least 7 reasons for this remarkable growth, the Illinois association says:

1. The increasing affluence of our society.

2. The increase in leisure time available to many working men and women, whose hours on the job have been sharply reduced.

3. Americans are notorious travelers. They stay at hotels and motels with swimming pools. They enjoy swimming when they're away from home, and they want to make it a habit. So they have pools installed at home.

4. Many people don't live near beaches or municipal pools, and can enjoy swimming only on their vacations —unless they build their own pools.

5. MANY people have beaches accessible to them, but they're tired of fighting traffic to get there, and of competing with thousands of other pleasure-seekers for a few square feet of sand.

6. Daylight savings time has increased the evening use of the swimming pool.

7. Backyard swimming pools keep children at home, where they can be supervised.

In most areas of the country, swimming pools qualify for home improvement loans. It goes without saying that they must be installed by qualified plumbing and mechanical contractors, and they must be properly maintained. Local ordinances often require barriers of sufficient height to keep out small children and to prevent nonswimmers from accidentally falling in. (O

Metal Utility Basket Aid To Planting

Before you plunge into your springtime planting, be sure that you have the proper supplies, tools and equipment and know exactly what has to be done and what's going to be planted where.

You will need good digging tools, a generous supply of peat moss and new fresh soil or humus, and several large carrying containers.

ONE OF THE handiest items used in planting and for general use around the yard is a metal utility basket. Built much like a bushel basket but with the durability of galvanized steel, the metal container is considerably heavier than the standard wooden bushel basket. Convenient carrying handles won't cut into your hands, either.

The metal basket is an ideal carrying and storage container for evergreens, shrubs and trees which are bagged and burlapped. Shrubs can be stored in the metal container until planted, but must be watered to assure their survival.

Take a metal basket along when purchasing new soil for your planting needs. The solid construction of the metal basket prevents dirt from escaping and leaving a trail of dirt on your driveway and lawn.

WHEN DIGGING a hole for planting, always dig one slightly larger than necessary to hold the ball of roots. The same applies in planting a bare-root shrub. Don't shoe-horn the roots into the hole. Be sure there's ample space to spread them out.

Here again, good equipment is important. Although digging is not exactly fun, it's good exercise and it can be made considerably easier if the blade edge of your spade is sharp.

Before lowering the shrub or tree into the ground, add a mixture of fine soil and peat moss. If you're working in a heavy clay soil, use all new dirt instead of replacing the clay soil.

IMMEDIATELY after planting, place the nozzle of your garden hose at the base of the tree or shrub and let a slow moving stream of water saturate the root system and surrounding ground. Water the shrub or tree frequently during the first week or ten days until the roots take hold and become established.

Do not fertilze newly planted trees and shrubs. Let the plant become established before giving it the benefit of a plant food. (O

Inflation Increases Fruit Tree Planting

Home owners who plant fruit trees now will feel fortunate in the coming years as inflation increases costs for all fruits, the American Association of Nurserymen asserts. It takes only two or three years for dwarf fruit trees to begin bearing, it is said.

Today, costs for both small and large fruits and nuts are high and quality is down, the association states, by comparison with tree-ripened fruits produced on the home property which are juicier and more delicious in flavor.

A HOME GARDEN of fruits in the temperate zones might include one or two each of apples, peaches, pears, plums and cherries. For small fruits there are raspberries, blackberries, strawberries. Asparagus and rhubarb, while not fruits, add variety to home fare at minimal cost. An asparagus and rhubarb bed lasts for many years.

In the warmer areas the list of fruits is long. Citrus, avocados, bananas in far south, persimmons, dates, guavas, for jelly, papaya and many other fruits add vitamins to living. The northern fruits also can be grown in the warmer areas where there is a dormant period.

Nuts should not be omitted where they can be grown. The pecan provides welcome shade in southern climates as well as non-cholesterol and delicious foods for everyone. Walnuts, filberts, macadamia, certain varieties of chestnuts, and others may be planted. (O

Hints Given for Graduation Party

May and June are traditionally big party months for graduating high school and college seniors. This year the emphasis is greater than ever on "at home dance parties."

That's the word from Jack Caffrey, whose A to Z Rental Center, at 210 E. Rand Road, Mount Prospect, figures in many home party plans through the rental of a wide variety of party goods from tables and chairs to punch bowls, silverware and dishes.

So, if you, or the parents of your children's friends, are called upon to host an "at home graduation dance party," with the Monkey, Frug and Watusi featured, here are a few tips offered by Caffrey, whose experience is based on serving the party needs of scores of families in the community.

First, he advises, make up your guest list and, keep in mind, the number of guests should be related to the size of your house or apartment. You can safely invite more people to a dance than to any other party.

For example, if your usual party limit is 16, then invite 36. The reason for the larger number is that everyone does not need a place to sit down every minute. And a crowded dance area is not only expected, but seems to make for a successful party.

DETERMINE which room is going to be best for the dancing. There's no set rule, of course, because it depends on your facilities. If you have a good-sized living room, a small dining room, and a small front hall, you might use the dining area for dancing, the hall for refreshments, and the living room for seating and conversational groupings. If available, a basement recreational room is always good.

Simple refreshments for the dancing hours 'til midnight are recommended. A combination of punch and an assortment of soft drinks is suggested. A punch bowl with ladle and cups are necessary items. A good supply of paper cups for serving bottled soft drinks should be on hand. At least one big ice bucket will be needed and a few bottle openers should be handy so no one has to stand in line.

For the midnight buffet, use your own imagination for a menu, but some popular items include chicken a la king or a sea food newburg, served with toast or rolls. If a pasta dish is being considered, ravioli or lasagne is easier to eat than spaghetti.

Adequate serving facilities and the necessary utensils, including flatware and glassware, are essential, he notes. (O

Unsafe Garbage Cans Ticketed For Trash Heap

A nationwide program to replace unsanitary and unsafe refuse receptacles is being conducted by the Galvanized Ware Manufacturers Council, national trade association of manufacturers of galvanized steel garbage cans.

The Council is distributing to health officers and sanitarians throughout the country quantities of condemnation labels designed to help eliminate refuse containers which do not meet proper standards of safety and sanitation.

THE GUMMED red labels are affixed to unsanitary cans by local inspectors and sanitarians, alerting the householder that "This container is condemned for use of garbage and refuse."

The Council expects to distribute about 250,000 of these condemnation labels to local, county and state health departments in all 50 states. (O

Single Parents To Hear About Medic Alert

Medic Alert and its benefits will be explained at the Lutheran Single Parents meeting tomorrow (Friday) at St. John's Lutheran Church, 4939 W. Montrose Ave., Chicago, at 7:45 p.m. Medic Alert helps people with medical problems like epilepsy, heart trouble, diabetes, or allergies to obtain fast emergency service.

LSP is an organization for widowed, divorced, or legally separated parents with children under 21 years of age who hold membership in a Lutheran church. Men are not required to have custody of their children.

Future activities planned for LSP include a potluck supper and talent show, a kite fly, and a family weekend at camp. On June 17, Margaret Geldman will speak on "Discipline Without Punishment." For further information call KI 5-9131 or MU 5-5888. (A15

Quick Drying

Many companies are offering water emulsion house paints this year. These paints dry in less than an hour, which means that insects, dirt and seeds are less likely to be trapped in the paint film. Sudden rain storms will not spoil the job and painting can be resumed on a wet surface. But be sure to follow carefully the instructions on the can before applying any type of paint. (O

More to Windows Than Glass, Wood

As a homeowner, you probably think of windows in functional terms—a combination of wood and glass to let in light and ventilate the house.

But did you know that windows also wear aprons, have built-in bars and sit on stools?

These and other terms—like sash, stile, sill, light and grill—are part of the jargon that carpenters and builders use when they talk about windows. Each describes a part of a window.

Formerly, these parts were assembled on the construction site. In modern stock windows of ponderosa pine, they are made and put together with precision care in factories and are installed as an assembled unit.

Some definitions prove that there's more to a wood window than meets the eye:

Sash—The frame into which window glass is inserted. This is the most versatile part of the window. Wood serves best because of its extreme effectiveness as an insulator and the permanent smooth operation it assures.

Grills—Ornamental crossbars that divide the panes of a sash. In many styles of modern wood windows the grills are removable for easy cleaning.

Rails—The horizontal sections of a sash.

Stiles—The vertical sections that form the sides of the sash.

Sill—The bottom section of the sash framework, beveled or canted to throw off rain. In ponderosa pine units, the entire sash is treated with a chemical preservative which protects the wood against excessive moisture and weather extremes.

Stool — Often mistakenly thought of as the sill, the stool is finished woodwork placed on top of the sill.

Apron—A piece of inside trim fastened under the stool.

Lights—Each pane of glass in a window is called a light. Stock wood windows can have one or as many as 24 lights.

Bars—Narrow milled pieces of wood that divide the window into glass areas.

Muntin—Also a narrow milled piece of wood. It extends between bars, further dividing the panes.

When you think about it, the terminology of windows is clear as glass. (O

Store Fuel In Metal Can

Gasoline which is stored in the garage for use in the power lawn mower should be kept in a galvanized steel fuel can equipped with a tight-fitting cap. These cans should be kept in cool places away from other flammable material, and out of the reach of children.

Fire-safety experts caution against using non-metal gasoline containers. In extreme heat, gasoline will eat its way through a non-metal container and create a very serious fire hazard.

Accessible Tools

Spring gardening is easier when tool storage is accessible. Best idea is to build a storage shed against the backwall of the garage, doors opening to the yard. Extend garage roof to provide protection and use weatherproof western red cedar siding on the storage unit's exterior.

Camouflage Getting a Lift

Things to Keep in Mind When Painting Your House

Protection and decoration. Those are two basic reasons to paint your home. Protection against the elements — rain, sleet, snow and sunlight — and fresh eye-appealing color are most easily and economically provided by today's long-lasting quality paint.

And whether you do it yourself or engage a painter to all or part of the job, the great advances in paint technology in the past few years give you longer lasting, more easily applied protective and decorative coating and a myriad of enduring colors from which to choose.

Your most valuable ally is the paint dealer who can tell you how much quality paint to buy and what kind of paint to apply to each surface of your home and acquaint you with the new paints that will make your job easier and more durable.

MOST WOODEN homes are built of clapboards or vertical wood siding. These are generally painted with an opaque coating that hides the wood completely and is familiarly known as house paint. There is, however, a growing trend toward natural wood finishes which show the grain in newer construction.

Several factors will determine how many coats of paint your home will need. New wood always requires a coat of the primer recommended by the maker of the top coat you intend to use.

Then you have your choice of applying either two coats of regular house paint or one coat of the newer one-coat house paints. The same rules apply where the old paint is badly weathered. But if the old paint job is in good condition, it is only necessary to prime any bare spots and follow with a single coat of quality house paint.

A word of caution: some of today's house paints are designed to be self-cleaning. They chalk gradually and the outer layer to which the dirt adheres washes away with the rains. If there is masonry below the wooden portions of your home, such chalking paints will stain the brick, concrete or stone. Be sure to specify a non-chalking paint for these wooden upper surfaces.

WOODEN SHINGLES may be protected with house paint, although the usual practice is to stain them with a tinted preservative liquid that safeguards them.

For the natural wood being used in ranch-type construction, there are a number of transparent sealers and exterior varnishes available. There are special types of coatings for various types of woods such as cedar and redwood. Tell your paint dealer the kind of wood you are painting so he can supply the proper paint.

Now coming on the market are water-thinned, i.e. latex, house paints that can be used on properly primed wooden surfaces. A number of large manufacturers are introducing these paints which are odorless, show no brush marks, and dry in half an hour. The surface does not have to be dry. But you must follow the maker's directions exactly to the letter.

The wood trim of your home — the window sash, shutters and doors are best protected and decorated with one of the tough, bright exterior enamels or the specially designed trim-and-trellis paints. Although house paint can be used for these surfaces, they do not have the same toughness or brightness of color. (O

Rats Feed on Public Apathy

Man may be getting closer to the day when he lands on the moon, but he isn't making too much headway about eliminating one of his worst enemies on earth—the rat.

U. S. health officials estimate that the rat population in this country is about equal to the human population. And in large metropolitan areas, there are 10 to 30 rat bites annually for every 100,000 residents.

Rodent control experts agree that it is almost impossible to get rid of rats entirely, but they are also in agreement that the rat population could be reduced substantially were it not for the apathy of the general public.

"WE WILL NEVER get to first base with rodent control until the public does its part," said John Childs, head of the Baltimore Department of Health's Rodent Control Section.

"When people put out garbage in an open pail or throw it into an empty lot, they are feeding the rat just as though he was a family pet."

Irwin T. Howe, chief rodent control officer of the Chicago Board of Health, says rats would exterminate themselves if people would cut off their food supply.

"RATS ARE cannibalistic," Howe said. "They'll eat each other if people wouldn't feed them."

Childs, who with 10 sanitarians wages a constant war on rodents in Baltimore, said the public could help bring victory over the dreaded rat if they would shut off his main source of food—garbage.

He points out that all garbage must be disposed of in tightly covered metal containers; that food always should be kept covered; and that yards, basements and homes kept clear of filth and trash.

The covered galvanized steel refuse can is still the best safeguard against rats, health officers agree. Non-metal refuse containers can not deter a hungry rat. He will gnaw his way through anything short of metal if he's hungry enough.

PAPER REFUSE containers are particularly easy prey for the hungry rat unless they are protected and covered by a metal enclosure.

Uncovered refuse containers of any material also present a serious health menace. If a garbage can is bent out of shape and no longer will accommodate a lid, then it's time to replace it, health officials warn.

There is universal agreement among health officers that garbage should be stored in rodent-proof galvanized steel containers and that the containers be kept covered at all times when unattended. (O

'Gideon' Based on Biblical Tale

Paddy Chayefsky, author of the Broadway hit, "Gideon," begins his tale as it begins in the Bible, where it is told:

"Now the Angel of the Lord came and sat under the oak at Ophrah, which belonged to Joash the Abiezrite, as his son Gideon was beating out wheat in the wine press to hide it from the Midianites."

The time of the play that is the next Village Theatre presentation is June, 1100 B.C., and the scene is the hill country west of the Jordan River, across which a horde of 120,000 Midianites are preparing to cross and loot the Israelites.

Along comes the Angel of the Lord, who says to Gideon, "The Lord is with you, O mighty man of valor," to which Gideon replies nervously, "Well, as you say, sir. Now let me go on about my work."

THE ANGEL sits with Gideon, shares a cake and chats amiably for a time, then informs poor, confused Gideon that he has been chosen to lead an Israelite army against the Midianites.

Gideon has a sort of astonished "Who, me?" attitude.

"But sir," he says in despair, "I am the donkey of the clan!"

The Angel is firm and prods poor Gideon into assuming leadership of a hopelessly small force which is to prove God's strength can avail over mighty armies.

Directed by the Angel, Gideon assembles his army—a band of 300 devout cowards among which are an old warrior who can't stand the sight of blood, a religious fanatic who divines from handsful of dirt and is perpetually passing out cold in fits of ecstasy and a handful of sober soldiers who see the need for a plan of battle, although Gideon hasn't the faintest notion of how to fight the Midianites.

"I WOULDN'T PUT Gideon down as entirely feckless," says old Shillem, "but he does seem to lack a forceful grip on things."

However, with the Lord's final battle plan in hand, Gideon and his band of 300 sneak up on the Midianites and send them fleeing in panic.

Chayefsky's play accords with the Bible up to this point of Gideon's victory over an army outnumbering him 400 to 1. It is the relationship between Gideon and God after the victory which gives the real point to the play.

The large cast of "Gideon" has Wilbur "Red" Pownall as the Angel of the Lord and John Grayson as the gentle donkey, Gideon. They will be supported by a cast of 36, including veteran VT players John Lobenhofer, Herb Braden, Bob Randolph, and Bob Hawley.

RICHARD TYLER, VT's resident director, is directing this humorous yet provocative comedy-drama; David Dove is providing its setting.

"Gideon" will be presented at air-conditioned Wheeling High School Saturday and Sunday, June 11 and 12, and Friday and Saturday, June 17 and 18. Curtain time 8:30 p.m. Friday and Saturdays, 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Information and tickets may be obtained from Alice Linde, CL 9-3200, 9 to noon weekdays, 7-9 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays. Herb Braden, 259-3790, is in charge of bloc sales.

"DO NOT BE ANGRY with me, Gideon," remonstrates the Angel of the Lord, portrayed by Wilbur "Red" Pownall, as Gideon, played by John Grayson, glowers. The scene is from the Paddy Chayefksy play, "Gideon," which Village Theatre is readying for June.

Jury to Select Works to Show At Countryside

Artists for the 1966-67 season at the Countryside Gallery, 10 W. Miner Street, Arlington Heights, will be selected on Wednesday, May 25, by a jury of three. Artists Robert Anderson and Carl and Kay Hoffman Schwartz, all of Chicago, will be the jurors.

Categories of work acceptable will be painting, print-making, sculpture, and crafts. Those interested may bring their work to Recreation Park on Monday afternoon, May 23, or Tuesday afternoon or evening, May 24.

For further information call the Countryside Gallery at 253-3005 during the hours of 1 to 4 p.m. any day except Monday.

Teen Foundation Sponsors Art Fair

The Talented Teen Foundation will hold a district Talented Teen art fair at Lombard Community Auditorium Sunday, May 29.

The contest is open to all teenagers from 13 through 19. There is a registration fee of $1, and each artist may submit up to four pieces of his work.

Categories are drawings and paintings, graphics and design, three-dimensionals and photography. Judges will pick the best entry to compete in grand finals at McCormick Place July 10.

GRAND PRIZE winner will receive a three-week European tour. District winners will get $100 scholarships to the tour. There also will be scholarships to the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts.

Further information may be obtained from George F. Koehnke, president of Talented Teen Foundation, 404 Larkdale Lane, Mount Prospect 60056.

Award Paintings At Card Party

Awarding of original paintings by Elmhurst Artist's Guild members highlighted the Guild's annual card party held recently.

These paintings were work done by the members during monthly demonstrations by guest artists.

Also awarded as prizes were an oil by Jean Lovdahl of Mundelein, an acrylic by Curt Frankenstein, a watercolor by Rudy Ohrning, "Child in Blue Cloak" by Artis Meeks of Elmhurst and a Helen Schneider oil from the Burmeister Collection.

Seventeen other paintings and drawings also were given away.

Art League Fair to Be At Garage

Weather will present no problems when the Mount Prospect Art League holds its annual arts and crafts fair Sunday, June 5.

The fair will be held in the new village garage on Pine Street between Central Road and Northwest Highway.

Besides the display of art work by both Chicago and suburban artists, there will be refreshments on the premises.

Cash and ribbon awards will be presented for the best art exhibited with judging scheduled for 1 p.m. the day of the fair. Any artist wishing to enter original arts or crafts may obtain an application blank by contacting Kathaleen Walters at Mount Prospect State Bank before tomorrow (Friday, May 20).

At Emory

John W. Moulton, 701 S. William St., Mount Prospect, is among students in the Emory University School of Law, who has been named to the Dean's List, winter quarter 1966.

At Loyola

DONNA-MARIE BOLAND

Donna-Marie Boland of Mount Prospect was one of 20 senior students at Loyola University, Chicago, to receive awards for top scholastic achievement at Loyola's annual Honors Convocation Sunday evening at the Loyola Campus Center.

Miss Boland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Boland, 404 Can-Dota Ave., Mount Prospect, was awarded an honors program key by the Rev. C. J. Burlage, honors program director. The key is given seniors who have carried A averages during seven semesters of college work. Miss Boland has been an A student during her entire four years at Loyola.

She also has been awarded a graduate assistanceship in English by the university, and will begin work in September on her master's degree.

She is a 1962 graduate of St. Patrick's Academy, Des Plaines, and was voted Senior of the Year by classmates and teachers of the academy.

At Loyola she is a member of Phi Sigma Tau, national honor society for philosophy; of Circumference, Loyola honor society for women; and an assistant with Cadence, Loyola student magazine.

At Marian

JEANNE DURRANT

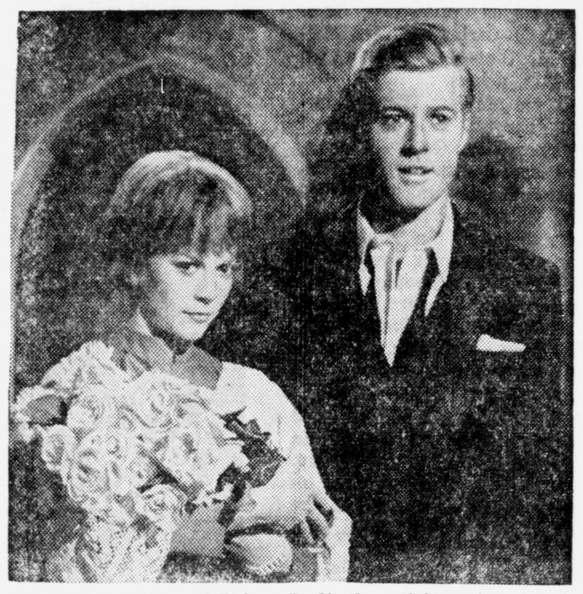
Jeanne Durrant, daughter of Mr. Ralph Durrant of 929 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, has been chosen one of five 1965-66 prom queen candidates at Marian College, Indianapolis.

A senior majoring in sociology, she is a member of the women's residence board, and secretary of the Booster Club. Miss Durrant is a 1962 graduate of Arlington High School.

"Pink Champagne" was the chosen theme of this year's prom held at the Dolphin Club.

At Lawrence

Adrienne Kulieke, of Prospect Heights, has been named to Mortar Board sponsored Sigma, honor society for freshman women at Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis. (10CC



NATALIE WOOD and Robert Redford participate in a mock marriage in a scene from "Inside Daisy Clover," opening tomorrow (Friday) at the Randhurst Cinema. On the same program are Stephen Boyd, Elke Sommer and Joseph Cotten in "The Oscar."

List Gala Prizes For Teen Contest

A chance to win a three-week European tour, professional scholarships, recording sessions and a recording contract is offered teenagers who enter the Mount Prospect District Talented Teen Search, according to George F. Koehnke, president of the Talented Teen Foundation which conducts the contest.

The district contest, sponsored by the merchants of Mount Prospect Plaza, Rand and Central Roads, Mount Prospect, will start auditions next Wednesday, May 25, at 4 p.m. The contest is open to all teens 13 through 19 years of age. There is no entry fee and the public is invited. Entry blanks may be obtained at any Mount Prospect Plaza store, or at the Plaza office.

THE CONTEST is for singers, dancers, musicians and novelty acts. In a "Battle of Bands,' the winning district combo will be awarded a free recording session at Recordings Unlimited in Chicago. A panel of judge will select one variety act and one combo to compete in the grand finals this summer.

A "Teen Queen" and "Go-Go Dance Team" will also be chosen in a special division.

Winners will compete for scholarships in the grand finals at McCormick Place. The grand winner will receive the three-week European tour, joining a troupe of Talented Teens at O'Hare airport. They will fly first to London, then to six other countries, performing good-will concerts. For further information write Talented Teens, 404 Larkdale Lane, Mount Prospect 60056. (A15

Salvation Army's Doughnut Day Set

Friday, June 10, has been designated Salvation Army "Doughnut Day," when tags will be sold in Chicago and approximately 140 suburban communities as the concluding appeal in the Salvation Army's 1966 Operating Fund campaign.

The total campaign goal is $340,500, with $174,000 of that amount to be raised on Doughnut Day.

In all communities where Salvation Army Service units are organized, 20 per cent of the funds raised in the tag drive will remain in the communities to meet local emergencies and finance unduplicated programs of welfare or health service. The remaining 80 per cent will help support the social welfare services maintained by the Salvation Army in the greater Chicago area.

THESE SERVICES include a home and hospital for unmarried mothers, family service, an emergency lodge for women, children and families, a summer camp, dental clinic, day care center, homemaker service, casework and counseling service, help and rehabilitation for homeless and handicapped men, and emergency canteen service at fires and other disasters.

The assistance of hundreds of taggers is needed. Volunteers are urged to visit or write Doughnut Day Headquarters, 18 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago 60603, or telephone FI 6-1080. (A15

Journalism Career Opportunities Told

"Opportunities for young journalists were never greater," said Robert Y. Paddock, vice president of Paddock Publications, when he spoke Sunday, May 14, at the Communications Banquet of the School of Journalism at Northern Illinois University, DeKalb.

"With 1,700 daily papers, 2,000 suburban newspapers and 9,000 country weeklies; almost 4,000 radio stations and over 700 TV stations in the U.S., all of them seeking good journalists; with salary schedules moving upward; and with the great future of suburban newspapers, young people considering journalism as a career never had more evidence for a wise decision before them.

"Starting salaries for graduates without experience average $4,800 in the weekly field, $5,000 in the daily field, and $5,200 in the suburban field," continued Paddock. "These figures are a far cry from 10 years ago, and represent a terrific increased investment in editorial operations by publishers. Jobs are going begging for the good applicants, with a still greater future in prospect for those youngsters just entering college.'

PADDOCK SPOKE at the annual banquet honoring members of The Norther, 3-inch thick university yearbook, and The Northern Star, 4-day-a-week student newspaper. Three of the top editors in attendance at the dinner session will soon be working for Paddock Publications.

Paddock also spoke about work of the Suburban Press Foundation, of which he is treasurer, and lauded Dr. Donald Grubb of the university for his part in helping to establish the Suburban Press Research Center at the DeKalb school.

Senior Citizens To Be Honored

May has been proclaimed Senior Citizens Month by President Lyndon B. Johnson. He has urged public and private agencies to join in community effort to give meaning to its theme, "A New Day for the Older American."

In compliance with his request, Addolorata Villa in Wheeling is holding open house this week through Saturday, May 21, from 1 to 4 p.m. Visitors are especially invited to view the exhibit of handwork from the craft department.

Schurz Planning A 25th Reunion

February and June, 1941, graduates of Schurz High School, 3601 Milwaukee Ave., are holding a silver reunion planning session this Sunday, May 22, at 2 p.m. in Odd Fellows Hall, 4221 W. Irving Park, Chicago.

Those who wish to help are invited to attend. Information regarding alumni addresses may be sent to Mrs. Robert L. Larson (Jane McDonnough), 8633 N. Ozanam, Niles, Ill. 60648. (A15

'Come Blow Your Horn'

Hospital Play to Open

Six weeks of rehearsals for the doctors and staff members of Northwest Community Hospital will come to a climax tomorrow (Friday) evening when the cast of "Come Blow Your Horn" gives its opening night performance of the hospital benefit play.

Taking the stage in the third such play to be presented by the Northwest Community Players will be Dr. John W. Brouhard, Dr. Peter Pleotis, Dr. Martin P. Meisenheimer, Mrs. Daniel Leclerc, Mrs. Richard C. Treanor and Mrs. James J. Milford.

Directing the action in the Neil Simon comedy is Mrs. Martin J. Bodelson, assisted by Mrs. Jean Bonesteel.

Dr. Richard C. Treanor, who has acted in previous hospital plays, this year has served as production coordinator.

HIS STAFF includes George Daniels, Palatine, stage manager; Mrs. Eugene Barnes, Arlington Heights, house manager; Mrs. Thomas Crouch, Palatine, publicity; Mrs. Peter Pleotis, Mount Prospect, and Mrs. John W. Brouhard, Arlington Heights, properties; Mrs. Frank O. Carter and Mrs. Melvin J. Gibbel, Arlington Heights, tickets.

Others are Mrs. Stephen Jurco, Arlington Heights, first nighter; Mrs. George Daniels, and Mrs. James Ferguson, Arlington Heights, make-up; Randall Milford and Chris Blowers, with help of the engineering and housekeeping crews of Northwest Community, stage crew, and Kermit Lindberg, Des Plaines; Mrs. Ozzie Wolfes, Evanston, and Mrs. Sarah Bauer, Arlington Heights, art work.

THE PLAY will be performed at Wheeling High School, Route 83 and Hintz Road, Wheeling. Curtain times are 8 p.m. tomorrow and 8:30 p.m. on the other performance nights, Saturday, May 21; Friday, May 27, and Saturday, May 28.

The play already is a near sell-out, according to the ticket chairmen, but a few tickets are still available by calling Mrs. Gibbel, 392-3651, or Mrs. Carter, CL 9-2047. There will be a limited number on sale at the door on play nights. (Bill

TEMPORARILY ABANDONING their real life roles for those of actors in Northwest Community Players' "Come Blow Your Horn" will be Dr. John W. Brouhard and Mrs. Daniel Leclerc. The hospital benefit will be given four times, starting tomorrow (Friday) evening, at Wheeling High Scool. The ticket chairmen report a near sell-out before opening night. (Staff photo)

Local Artists To Exhibit at 57th St. Fair

Three area residents are among the 300 artists and craftsmen who will display their work at Chicago's oldest continuing outdoor art fair, the 57th Street Art Fair scheduled for June 4 and 5.

Christl Hansen, 110 S. Edward, Mount Prospect; Margaret Berg, 41 Orchard St., Bensenville, and Chuck Visgatis, 9 Redwood Trail, Wheeling, were chosen to show their work at this 19th annual fair. It will be held in the area of 57th Street and Kimbark Avenue on Chicago's south side.

Winston Theatre Changes Its Name

Winston Little Theatre voted at its April meeting to change its name to Stage Inc. of Palatine.

The two-year-old community theatre group has five plays and an original revue to its credit. Starting with its production of "The Whole Darn Shooting Match" in February, 1964, the former WLT followed with "The Tender Trap," "Born Yesterday," "The Third Best Sport" and most recently "Exit the Body."

In April of last year Stage Inc. presented "Crabgrass Salad," produced, written, directed and acted entirely by its talent bank.

First offering under the new name will be programs for the Arlington Heights Elks women and the Palatine Newcomers Club.

THE ELKS women will see two parodies written by Chicagoans Wayne Reed and Otto Roleader at their meeting tonight (Thursday) at 2323 Wilke Road, Arlington Heights.

For the Newcomers Club, Stage Inc. will present Thornton Wilder's one-act play, "A Happy Journey to Camden and Trenton," and a sketch by Ted Weiss of Elk Grove Village entitled "The Status Seekers." This program will be given tonight at 1st State Bank of Palatine.

Stage Inc. is open to residents of all northwest suburban communities. Anyone interested in directing, acting, set design, costume or other theatre arts may contact the membership chairman, Karen Costin, 358-5888. (Bill

Riverview Open Again

The outdoor fun season is in full swing again with the opening May 13 of Riverview Amusement Park in Chicago.

Several new attractions have been added to the park at Western and Belmont Avenues, giving a total of more than 100 fun units.

New this year are the completely rebuilt Merry-go-round with 70 hand-carved horses, the Bump 'Em ride with 60 self-operated cars and the Old Mill.

THERE ARE special scaled-down replicas of major rides for small children, and wooden picnic areas are available. There is ample parking space.

The amusement park is open daily from 11:30 a.m. until midnight. It is closed on Mondays except holidays and Tuesdays following holidays.

Lyric Announces Additions to Casts

Lyric Opera of Chicago announces two additions to casts for its 1966 season, which will open Oct. 7 with Moussorgsky's "Boris Godounov."

Bulgaria's famed Raino Kabaivanska will make her Lyric debut in the forthcoming season as Desdemona in Verdi's "Otello," a role she sang at Covent Garden in 1962 and 1964 and at the Metropolitan Opera during the 1963-64 season.

SHE IS replacing previously announced Monserrat Caballe, who had to withdraw from the "Otello" cast because she is expecting a child.

Lyric announces that American-born Andre Montal will appear as Nerone in Lyric's production of Monteverdi's "L'Incoronazione Di Poppea." Montal made his New York debut during the 1963-64 season in Handel's "Messiah." (Bill

Elmhurst Art Guild Slates Outdoor Fair

Elmhurst Artist's Guild will sponsor its seventh annual outdoor art fair June 18 and 19 at the circle drive of York Community High School, Elmhurst.

In addition to displays of original paintings, drawings and sculpture, there will be special attractions for children. These include a paint table for the youngsters with supervision at all times and a book stall of used books.

Two original paintings by renowned American artists will be awarded as prizes during the two-day fair.

The fair is open to all artists and craftsmen, both amateur and professional, who are at least 17 years of age. Persons interested in exhibiting may write P.O. Box 263, Elmhurst, for entry blanks. (Bill

Lynne Gorgius Has Unusual Show Biz Job

Petite Lynne Gorgius, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Gorgius of 608 S. Busse Road, Mt. Prospect, is carving an unusual career for herself in show business.

The slight, fragile-appearing girl is the only distaff member of the nationally famous Pasadena Playhouse technical staff.

Studying design at the Pasadena Playhouse College of Theatre Arts, Miss Gorgius has won critical attention for her excellent lighting of the Pasadena Playhouse productions of "Thurber Carnival" and "The Playboy of the Western World."

Miss Gorgius, standing only five feet tall, keeps up the pace of a 12-hour day schedule with a male technical crew that rates her "tops" for perseverance and vitality in a profession that is dominantly male. (Bill

Furnishings for the Beautiful Suburban Home

The influence of the Suburban Home is never better reflected than in the many exciting home furnishings being offered.

The individuality of the Suburban Home owner can be truly expressed in the style, decor and placement of the furnishings.

Whether it be the tailored "decorated" look, the casual feeling or a mixture of the two, suburban homes mirror the owner's tastes, his present and even the future.

For a look at all that's available, whatever the taste may be Paddock Publications presents the latest in Furnishings for the Beautiful Suburban Home.

New Rug Design Mixes With Varied Styles

"PORTEAU," a new wool wilton rug of Spanish design, can set the tempo for a most exciting room scheme. In accordance with today's decorating trend, this Spanish style rug may be co-ordinated with any of several important furniture styles. Woven by Karastan Rug Mills, the new design is available at Schneller Furniture Co., Arlington Heights.

Does East meet West? Will Spanish and English get along? Can the Scandinavian and Colonials mix? All these questions are being answered not by next week's installment of a television series, but by the country's most influential interior designers, and the answers are generating all kinds of fun and excitement for homemakers re-doing a room or furnishing a new home.

No longer do you have to be concerned whether one piece of furniture is of exactly the same design origin as another element in the room. The basis for judgment in the selection of items for a room scheme is the total look of the room. Various pieces must be compatible of course. But compatability does not mean sameness.

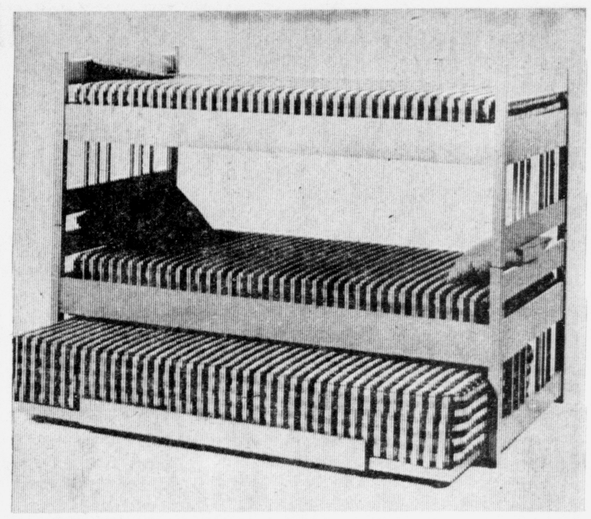
Mix wood finishes, design periods, textures, patterns and colors. But just be sure the overall effect is harmonious. Even floral and geometric patterns can work together in the same room, if carefully chosen. The foom must reflect a well-bred look in terms of your own social and taste standards. Naturally, you may want to lead your own social group. Fine! But be sure you stay within the bounds of your own likes and dislikes.

A GOOD EXAMPLE of proper mixing of styles can be demonstrated with a new wool wilton rug of Spanish design called PORTEAU. It is woven by Karastan Rug Mills and was just introduced this year. The large medallion and border motifs, the brilliant color combinations may elicit a spontaneous "Ole!" from the most reticent of your friends.

Most interior designers today start with one large or unique element and build the color scheme and style for the room around that one factor. Many start with a rug, perfectly logical since the rug is normally the largest movable single item in the room.

Even though PORTEAU, in a 9' x 12' size (about 9'10" x 12'10" with the elaborate knitted fringe) sells for less than a color television set, it can set the tempo for a most exciting room scheme. In accordance with today's decorating trend this Spanish style rug may be judiciously co-ordinated with any of several important furniture styles. The "country" look, whether English, French, Mediterranean or even Early American. Some semi-formal rooms would look well with PORTEAU, and certain severe modern effects would be nicely softened by the rug's handwoven looking texture and fringe.

The colors are worth mentioning again. They range from a stark, typically Spanish, black on white to black on peacock blue with dramatic henna and gold, self-toned reds and greens, olive and aqua in between. There are five sizes available including a six-foot round rug. The 9' x 12' is priced at $299. Available at Schneller Furniture, Arlington Heights. (SS



THESE SPACE SAVING BUNKS are from Dave Parmelee's "Young Timers" collection, available at The Designer's Shop in Arlington Heights. Top deck stacks with simple screws and low trundle slides underneath. Collection, which has 15 basic pieces, is offered in two lacquered finishes, white and bayberry and in a pale fruitwood.

Promote Self Expression In Your Teenagers' Room

Surveys have shown that most teenagers are very unhappy about their rooms at home and, if they had their way, would like to do their rooms over completely.

Why not let your maturing teenager have something to say about the choice of furnishings and colors in her room? What better way to let her help develop her self expression and personality?

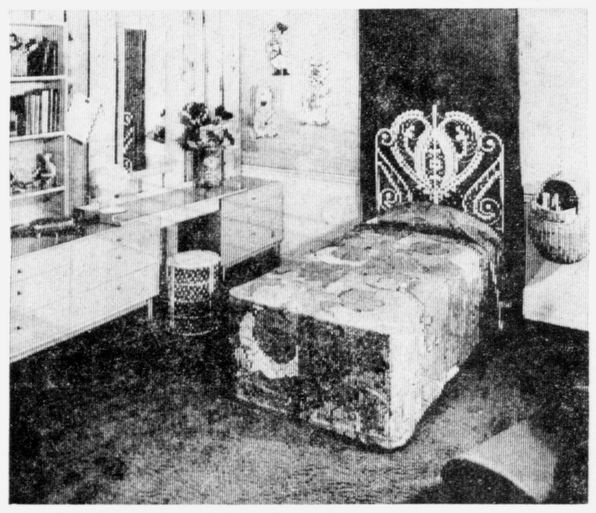
If your daughter is proud of the results, she will have learned something about decorating and good taste.

JUST SUCH a personalized and tastefully furnished young girl's room was recently on view at The Designer's Shop of Petersen Interiors in Arlington Heights.

Titled "Self Expression in a Teenage Room," the room featured a combination of contemporary storage furniture and a Victorian wicker headboard supplemented by other wicker accents. Done with fun and practicality in mind, the room included a storage arrangement one one wall utilizing Dave Parmelee's "Young Timers" collection. A six-drawer chest and three-drawer chest were separated by a study board which adjusts in width to allow tailor-made arrangements and which serves either as a desk or a make-up table. A bookcase unit stacked on one side and a mirror was hung over the study board.

The Young Timer furniture was featured in a lacquered bayberry finish, a golden olive color. The group, in all consisting of five pieces, also comes in lacquer White and a pale fruitwood. Available is a single bed onto which can be stacked another bed and under which can be rolled a low trundle, providing a bunk unit for three persons.

The room was done in shades of green and yellow with orange accents. Accents of fun included the wicker headboard, a hanging wicker basket for reading material next to the bed and gay. handpainted wood cutouts on the wall. (SS



GAY, COLORFUL AND PRACTICAL is this bedroom designed with the maturing teenage girl in mind. There's room to express her personality. Study board between chests can be adjusted to make wall arrangement tailored for the room, which was recently on exhibit at The Designer's Shop in Arlington Heights.

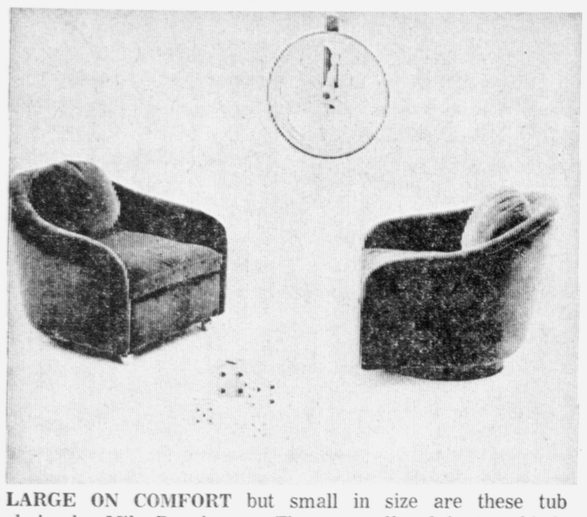
Chairs Come in All Shapes These Days

Greatest challenge for the furniture designer has always been the chair-from Thomas Chippendale to Charles Eames. The chair allows much freedom of design but to be successful, it has to be comfortable and take into consideration the stresses and strains of the human body in a sitting position.

Contemporary chairs these days have taken off in all sort of directions and shapes, from slim to squashy, from tall and straight to low-down and lazy. Some are completely upholstered, including the legs and arm frames, often in furry, fuzzy materials. Others proudly display curved frames, pedestal bases or molded plywood shells. A demonstration of the diversified directions that modern chairs are taking can be seen among the furniture currently on view at The Designer's Shop of Petersen Interiors in Arlington Heights.



LARGE ON COMFORT but small in size are these tub chairs by Milo Baughman. They are offered in two kinds of bases—hooded brass casters, left, and a round walnut platform that swivels. Available at The Designer's Shop in Arlington Heights.

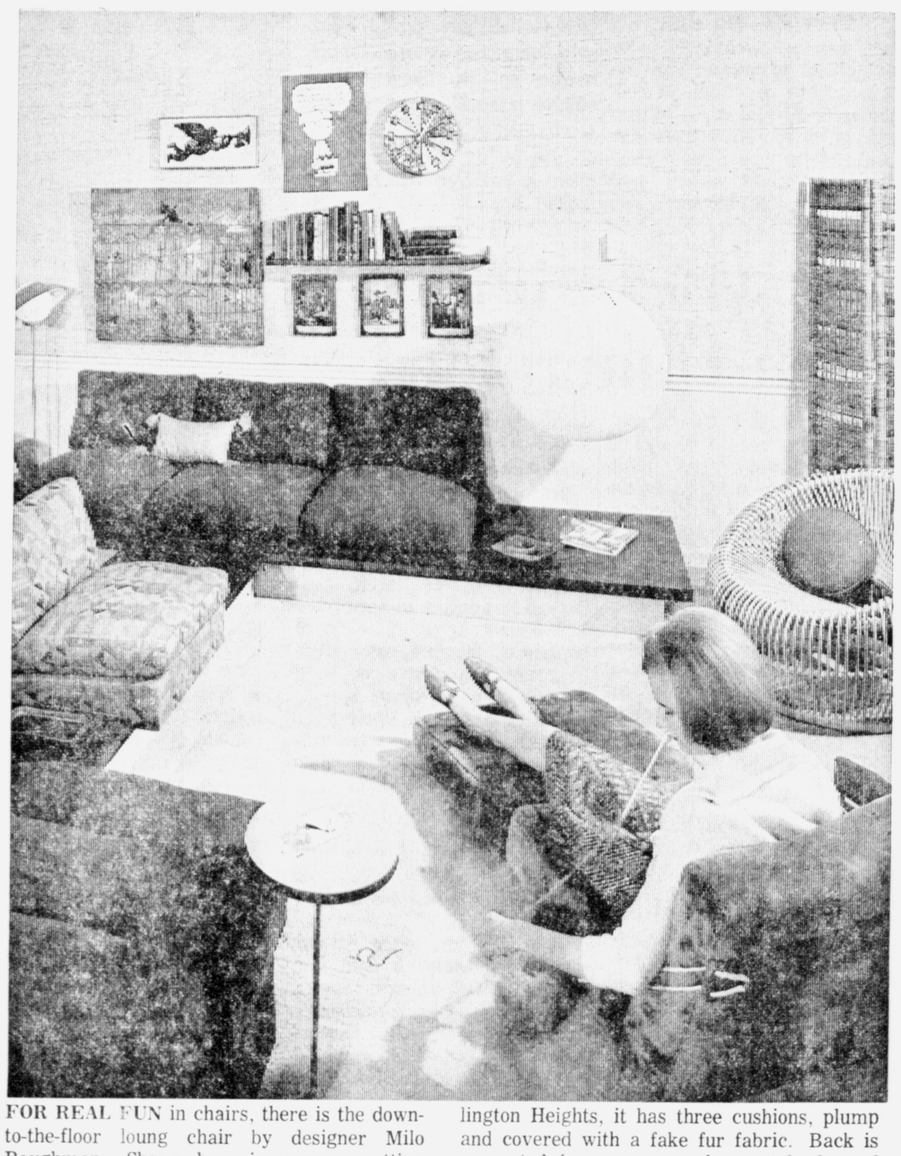
FOR EXAMPLE, designed to give maximum, prolonged reclining comfort is a Directional contoured lounge chair with ottoman. Not only does this chair adjust according to height and weight and recline by means of a swivel tilt mechanism, it also swivels around. Made of molded walnut with a steel reinforced walnut base, it has cushioning of foam rubber with polyester fiber-fill and is upholstered in leather-soft black vinyl.

With Father's Day fast approaching, the family might well consider giving as a present a reclining chair. Besides the Directional design, the store has many types and sizes on display, some with hidden mechanisms that allow many positions.

On the small side, but squashy and ultra comfortable are the small tub chairs by designer Milo Baughman. They feature a gently curved roll that hugs the back and continues to form the arm and frame of the seat. They come in two kinds of bases, a round walnut platform that allows chair to swivel, and, hooded brass casters.

FOR THE DARING who want to be different, or, just to add a little fun to the home, there is a down-to-floor lounge chair, consisting of three "fur covered, soft cushions with a plywood back for support lacquered in such bright colors as orange. Also by Milo Baughman, the chair is part of a collection called New Concept, which exhibits a fresh approach to contemporary furniture with emphasis on comfort, imagination and visual variety.

For those who prefer a little less plushiness the store has a selection of graceful Scandinavian chairs from lounge to dining designs. But even the Scandinavian designers, it seems, are going in for more cushioning in all the right places. A number of these chairs have extra cushioning. (SS



FOR REAL FUN in chairs, there is the down-to-the-floor loung chair by designer Milo Baughman. Shown here in a room setting recently on view at The Designer's Shop, Arlington Heights, it has three cushions, plump and covered with a fake fur fabric. Back is supported by an orange lacquered plywood frame.

Hints on What to Look for In Central Air Conditioning

Many people who have enjoyed the comforts of air conditioning in theaters, restaurants and offices become dubious at the thought of having their own homes air conditioned.

"Too expensive."

"Big installation problems."

"Major alterations on the home."

These objections might have had some basis in fact several years ago when the cost of installing air conditioning in the home was sky-high. But times have changed.

American manufacturers have created systems that can be installed quickly and easily, with little or no inconvenience to the family nor major alterations to the home — and at considerably less expense.

SALVATORE Giordano, president and board chairman of Fedders Corporation, a company that has pioneered many of these improvements, points out, for example, that the warm air heating systems of many of today's homes can be adapted to carry cool air. An air conditioning unit is simply installed atop the furnace, and room whereupon the thermostat will shut off — at the same time stopping the dehumidification process. A system of just the right size should keep the house at about 15 degres below the outdoor temperature with relative humidity at 50 per cent or thereabouts.

Another important point to keep in mind is the use of "zonal" cooling. This becomes possible if the home is laid out in "clusters" of rooms — that is, bedrooms in one area; living, dining and family rooms in another. If this is the case, the contractor can install dampers in the ducts of each room.

By closing the dampers in the living, dining and family rooms during the evening, the bedroom will receive better cooling. By closing the dampers in the bedroom during the day, the other rooms will be kept comfortably cool. At the same time, the electric usage of the system will be lower, and it is also possible that a smaller, less expensive system will meet the family's air conditioning needs.

Why is sub-cooling so important? Because sub-cooling in Fedders air conditioner makes the refrigerant -- monochlorodifluoromethane — up to 20 degrees colder than it would be in an ordinary air conditioner system.

IN NORMAL summer weather, other air conditioners can usually make up this 20-degree difference by running their compressors longer — and the difference in operating costs may not be great. But in extremely hot weather, when compressors are working full time, ordinary air conditioners can't match the performance of Fedders air conditioners and their superior sub-cooling.

The amount of sub-cooling that is obtained in the refrigeration system of a room air conditioner has an important bearing on the cooling capacity, and the Reserve Cooling Power, of the unit. The importance of this is underscored by an authoritative industry publication, which states: "Thermodynamically, sub-cooling is advantageous since it increases the refrigerating effect without affecting the compressor."

Fedders air conditioners are carried by Landwehr TV, Arlington Heights.

OFTEN MISSPELLED

Fuchsia (shrub); observe the "chs," pronounced "Fyu-sha." Derring-do (daring action); not "daring-do." Appellation; two "p's" and two "l's." Protege (the masculine form); Protegee (the feminine). Wood Paneled Wall Lends Distinction

Until recent years wood paneled walls were an expensive luxury in terms of both material and installation labor. Now hardwood plywood with a beautiful face layer of any one of a wide variety of species is available at moderate cost.

One problem plaguing some people is how to select the hardwood species.

"Should the new wood wall match my furniture?" "What color scheme is best with wood paneled walls?" "Will a wood wall make the room look dark?"

THINK OF the color, texture and pattern of hardwood wall paneling as if selecting a wallpaper, Virginia Pegram, Consumer Education Director, Fine Hardwoods Association, advises homemakers.

"No, the furniture need not be the same wood as the wall paneling. Wood tones and textures have the happy faculty of blending with each other and contrasting pleasantly with dozens of different color schemes," Miss Pegram tells her inquirers.

Hardwood species offer a range of color from creamy gold to almost black. Some species like maple and birch have a smooth silky surface and tones ranging from creamy to amber. They can be selected to show large almost marble-like pattern (rotary cut, the salesman will say) or more subdued flowing figure.

ASH HAS A soft beige tone with medium size flowing pattern. Slightly more reddish brown are cherry asd mahogany. They also have a smooth silky surface when finished. A good choice for a more rustic effect might be butternut, with beige - brown tones; oak unstained will be creamy beige or if red oak, slightly pink-beige.

If the room is small a light toned wood will make it seem larger, as a light paint would. If the ceiling is low, choose a wood with vertical figure.

In selecting hardwood plywood panels see unfinished as well as finished ones. Stain or tint may be a part of some finishes. The natural color of a species may be lighter. A protective coat of washable lacquer will deepen it only as much as water would.

Here's Tip on What To Give Newlyweds

The moving of Measure Your Mattress Month to May brings people-size bedding into proximity with a major gift occasion — weddings. Bedding is admittedly not the first thing you might think of. But if you reflect a minute, it begins to make sense, particularly if the bride or groom is in the immediate family.

Members of the family and close friends may want to share by offering various bedding components. It would be a good idea to list bedding preferences at the bride's registry so that gifts will be coordinated in style, color and sizes.

Actually, bedding is one of the most proffered and welcomed wedding gifts. Unfortunately, it is all too often a used mattress that is passed along to the newlyweds. And since there are some 27 million mattresses in the country more than 16 years old, the chances of the young couple's getting one with any life left in it are slim.

If you decide to give a young couple bedding, be sure to get the biggest size their new home will accommodate. If a king size is too big, remember that a 60-by-80-inch queen-size innerspring can fit in a room as small as 9' x 10'.

A horrible thought: since youny people are favorite pass-along targets, the newlyweds may never have slept on new bedding! (SS

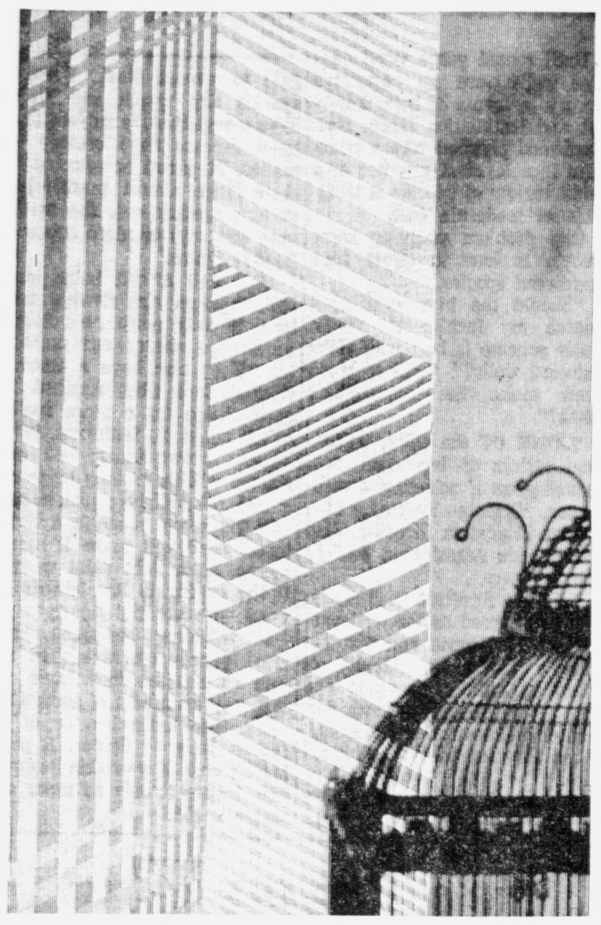
Fabrics Bold And Beautiful



FOR THOSE ON THE LOOKOUT for a light and airy drapery fabric, one suggestion is this Win Anderson printed called "Gazebo," a linen gauze casement, lattice striped in varied tones. Available from The Designer's Shop, Arlington Heights.

THE MANY JEWEL TONES of this Boris Kroll fabric called "Fiesta" produces the effect of a stained glass window. It is a cut pile velvet fabric suitable for both upholstery and draperies. Available at The Designer's Shop in Arlington Heights.

Big, bold and beautiful—this is the story of contemporary fabric prints these days, both draperies and upholstery.

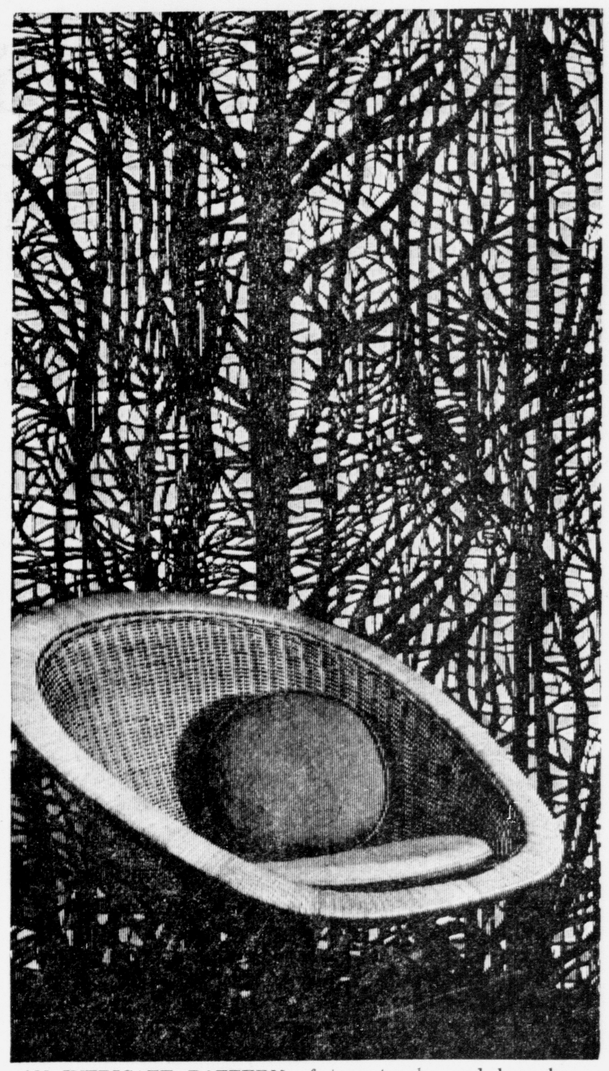
There are fabrics to catch the eye and fabrics which are unusual in pattern. One can find prints inspired by modern art or such old fashioned influences as paisley, flame-stitch and tapestries.

And then there are those designs which reflect specific eras such as Art Nouveau (inspired by My Fair Lady) and others that express the exotic such as Jack Lenor Larsen's velvets with African motifs or the multitude of Spanish-derived patterns.

NEWEST FABRIC weaving and printing techniques plus the talents of imaginative designers have produced an endless array of marvelous fabrics with which the homeowner can spruce up her home this Spring. One bold, bright pattern used on a chair, for instance, can change the entire look of a room. Some of the fabrics are so artistically done that they can be made into such handsome accessories as wall hangings, framed prints, place mats and table runners, or as new pillow covers.

As for colors, here, too, the combinations are varied, ranging from dramatic to subtle and monochromatic. Many of these newest fabrics as well as suggestions on how to use them are on display at The Designer's Shop of Petersen Interiors, Arlington Heights. (SS

THE EFFECT OF SUMMER can be brought right into the home with this beautiful hand print called "Midsummer" by Jack Lenor Larsen. A pattern-on-pattern type of design, it is printed in fabrics usable for draperies and upholstery, including cotton velvet and a heavy-duty mohair and viscose combination for upholstery. Shown at The Designer's Shop, Arlington Heights.



AN INTRICATE PATTERN of tree trunks and branches, called "Woodland" by Elenhank Designers, is an example of one of the many beautiful fabric prints available today. Pattern comes in five colorways of Nature's palette ranging from effect of dawn, high noon to moonlight. Design is printed on variety of fabrics and is available at The Designer's Shop, Arlington Heights.

Chicago Gateway Arch Unheralded

Since the days of Constantine, the arch has been a symbol of triumph, victory, and fulfillment. Recently in St. Louis, the "keystone" section of the Gateway Arch was hoisted into place. The structure commemorates the opening of the West after the Louisiana Purchase.

As the tallest national monument in the U.S., the St. Louis Gateway Arch stands 630 feet tall, 75 feet taller than the Washington Monument. Designer Eero Saarinen selected stainless steel as the exterior surface, the outer and inner walls are fabricated in sections and bolted together and later assembled by welding to form an equilateral triangle. They are additionally strengthened by pre-stressed steel bars imbedded in concrete up to the 300 ft. level.

UNHERALDED IN the national press, and yet as important to man and his achievements in the past is the arch which stands in the middle of the Fine Hardwoods Exhibit in the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, Illinois. This arch, which has stood for 21 years and which over 20 million people have walked under, is similar to the St. Louis arch in design. Wood, four times stronger than steel by weight, is used in sections which have been glued, pressed and screwed into position. Seven beautifully figured hardwoods comprise these sections from left to right; walnut, stumpwood, cherry, maple, birdseye maple, red oak, mahogany and figured red gum. The design is similar, but the warmth and depth of the figured face veneer gives the hardwood arch added beauty.

New engineering advances in steel are also comparable to important advances made in plywood construction. The Hardwoods Exhibit arch consists of five layers of hardwood. The center layer, or core of hardwood plywood, is either made of chip board or solid lumber of a hardwood species like gum or poplar. These have been chosen for characteristics of strength, ability to hold screws, glue absorption and other qualities, rather than for beauty.

The grain of the core runs parallel through the length. On each side of the core are cross-banding layers of rotary cut veneer with the grain running across the width. A final face veneer of fine cabinet wood is then laid on top and bottom over the cross banding layers, again at right angles to the grained veneer.

FINALLY, MODERN adhesives and the hot press weld these layers together in a virtually indestructible engineered plywood panel. The alternating grain directions insure permanent dimensional stability.

Engineered plywood construction is the essence of the Fine Hardwoods Exhibit Arch. Like its big brother in St. Louis, it stands not only as a gateway signifying the accomplishments of man's ingenuity, but as a symbol of the beauty of nature found in fine hardwoods across the entire world.

People-Size Bedding Proves More Popular with Shoppers

It's Springtime and everywhere during May you'll see the famous Little King bouncing on a spring to remind you that it's Measure Your Mattress Montn and time to switch to people-size bedding.

The swing to people-size beds that was hardly noticeable five years ago has now become a surge. The once standard "double" mattress (54 by 75 inches) is no longer even carried by some retailers, and the 60-by-80 inch queen innerspring is now the starter size for two sleepers.

For many years household experts have been puzzled by the attitude of comfort-loving Americans toward their beds. Although we spend one-third of our lives in bed and depend on it for the rest and recuperation to make our waking hours more enjoyable, until recently only a few of us gave much conscious thought to the size and condition of our bedding.

As one observer put it, "We live in $30,000 houses, drive $4,000 cars and sleep on $50 bedding." All this seems to be changing now, and oddly enough it was the one apparent thing about a bed — its size — that has made us conscious of its comfort.

SLEEP EXPERTS have worked out simple guidelines for easy switching to people-size beds:

Each sleeper needs 39 inches of width. This is provided by a twin-size bed or a king-size bed for two.

You need a mattress nine inches longer than you. If you are over 5'6" this means a long twin (80 or 84 inches) or an 80- or 84-inch king size.

The ultimate in luxury, comfort and prestige is, of course, the king-size bed. The swing to king size has been aided greatly by the ready availability now in stores of the sheets, mattress pads, blankets (including automatics), pillows and spreads that are neeled.

Just what do you need to go king size? First, a room that is at least 12'x14' with windows and doors reasonably well arranged. Then select a king-size headboard from the wide variety available. Two steel bed frames are hinged to frames are hinged to the headboard. Over the bed frames go two twin-size box springs.

Now you have a choice: over the box springs can go either one king-size innerspring mattress or two twin sizes. If twin mattresses are used, the frames can be swung apart for bedmaking or cleaning. Covering the twin mattresses with a large spread can give the look of a king-size bed.

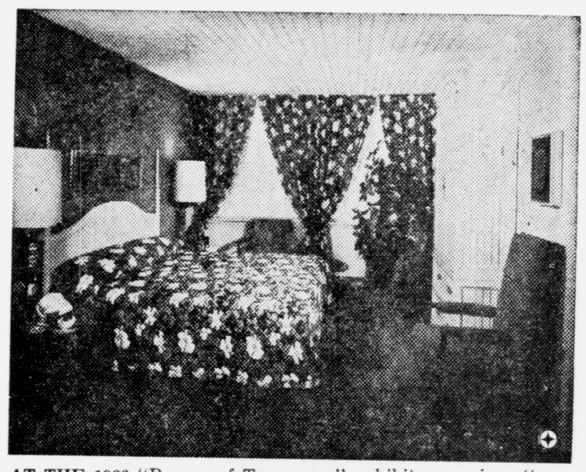
IF YOU DON'T see a king-size bed in your immediate future, a queen size will fit in just about any room that will hold the old "double" bed, which gives two sleepers only the 27 inches they had in their cribs and cramps the toes of anybody over 5'6". A queen-size innerspring's 60 by 80 inches give six more inches in width and five more in length over the "double" size.

Two queen-size bonuses are (1) extenders can make it fit your present bedstead and (2) all "double" bed linens (except fitted sheets), blankets and spreads will fit.

Even if your bedding doesn't cramp you, it still may be robbing you of the rest you need. If you're wondering if your bedding is past its useful life, it probably is. One sure way to tell is by looking at it. Strip the coverings off and see if the mattress shows rips, bumps and body slumps.

Considering that your bedding is one of the most important and most used things in your life, even the best you can buy is a bargain. (SS

DECORATING TIP—Let the bedspread be your color guide in planning room decor. Here, regimental colors of red, white, and blue set the pace for a boy's room. Military figures are screen-printed on Morgan-Jones' sturdy cotton spread and matching cafe curtains. The same print is available in cotton thermal blankets. All are machine-washable need no ironing.



AT THE 1966 "Rooms of Tomorrow" exhibit, a major attraction was the Today Bedroom, built around a king-size bed as a model for hotels and motels. Tall breakfront hides desk and television set.

NO CUT AND DRIED "SET" of furnishings for the bride and groom. The design sources of the furniture take them to all the European countries where they might have honeymooned. The credenza is a reproduction of a Spanish antique, made of American pecan. The little table before the love seat is an adaptation of an Italian Regency piece, made with Carpathian elm burl veneers. The lamp and end tables of soft brown mahogany are Classicly styled and the walnut arm chairs are as French as Louis XV. The period styles mix handsomely, and the many fine hardwoods blend in texture and tone. All pieces are from Drexel and are available at Schneller Furniture Co., Arlington Heights.

Determine Home Needs Before Buying Your Air Conditioner

What should you know before buying a room air conditioner?

Actually, there's very little to know.

By being able to give the retail salesman a few pieces of basic information about your needs, you're much more likely to get added dollars of value from your purchase—perhaps, many more than you thought possible.

Why?

Simply because you'll be getting the model that's right for your family—one that will properly do all the things that room air conditioners are designed to do. This includes removal of excess dampness; air filtration (keeping dust and dirt off furniture and floors); smoke and odor removal as well as the important function of cooling.

But as with any other purchase, it's wise to know your specific needs. According to Fedder's Corporation, the nation's leading room air conditioner manufacturer, the prospective buyer should have the following points of information ready for the retail salesman: the dimensions of the room to be cooled; the number of individuals who will occupy it; and the number of windows in the room.

ANOTHER helpful point for the salesman is whether the room gets the sun in the morning or in the late afternoon and whether it is normally closed off from other rooms when the air conditioner is operating.

All this information is important because it will enable the salesman to recommend the proper BTU cooling capacity. Too small a unit, obviously, will not produce enough cooling. Of equal importance is that too large a unit will produce too much cooling and too little dehumidification: (This is due to the fact that room air conditioners remove moisture only when the cooling mechanism operates. A model that is over-sized will quickly cool a room, whereupon the thermostat will turn the unit off—stopping the dehumidifying process.)

But while it is necessary to know the BTU capacity, this alone cannot determine the model that's best for your neds. BTU's relate to cooling capacity only, and there are other features that you should examine before your buying decision is made.

FOR EXAMPLE, one of the important benefits that consumers frequently overlook is the fresh-a i r-circulation feature—usuable winter as well as summer. With a simple flick of the wrist it's possible to change the air in a room—discharging tobacco smoke and odors and bringing in fresh air.

Another room air conditioner feature that should be considered is the automatic thermostat. In addition to allowing the user to set the air conditioner at the proper comfort level, the thermostat also keeps operating costs down by cutting the machine off whenever cooling is not really needed, according to Fedders.

The matter of operating costs can also be kept in check by examining the wattage. If you find that the unit you're interested in draws substantially more watts than otherwise comparable models, you'll also find that it costs substantially more to operate. Although the unit operating on lower wattage might cost more to buy, you'll probably save money in the long term on lower electrical bills.

Data on watts generally appears on the air conditioner nameplate or in the certification directory issued by the National Electrical Manufacturers Association, New York. Most dealers have a copy of this directory available.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT matter pertaining to electricity is the type of service the house has Fortunately, manufacturers in recent years have been able to engineer units with up to 12,000 BTU's that can operate on 115-volt current. There are also low amperage units available that go as high as 8,200 BTU's. If, however, you wish to purchase an air conditioner that operates on 230 or 208 volts, it will be necessary to have special wiring installed unless your home already has this type of service.

The dealer will be able to answer most questions about your wiring needs. However, if you have serious doubts in your mind, it is best to consult your local utility.

Before you make your final decision, there are two other features in air conditioners that should be examined. Make sure that the manufacturer offers an effective method of cutting down the noise level of his unit, and also be sure that the unit is engineered so that it can be installed easily—either by you, or the dealer.

An air conditioner is an extremely versatile appliance. The wise shopper should look at all features in order to get the best value per dollar.

Color Coated Desks Are 'In'

A recent article from the Associated Press out of B o s t o n stated, "It's easy to tell who has status in the new 22 story office building opened by the State of Massachusetts." A l l desks in the structure that will eventually house 3,200 state employees are color coated.

The article summarized the color code by stating, "Secretaries will have yellow metal desks, supervisors blue metal desks, administrators black metal ones and commissioners all wood desks."

The only thing we can add to this most interesting and informative article is, "Check your desk, lady. If it's wood you're in."

Sofa Bed Can Solve Home Space Problem

Where's the family going to sleep when they visit is a question that often plagues young marrieds when they first settle into their new home or apartment and start to entertain their families and out-of-town friends.

Too often, the only space available is the living or dining room and sleeping accommodations may vary from borrowed cots from someone's attic to that old sleeping bag the husband once used camping with the Boy Scouts. And that hardly rates as a gracious way to introduce people to the hospitality of a new home.

There is a solution, though. It's a whole new concept in sleep sofas that allows the same comfortable seating you'd get in a regular sofa, an attractive appearance compatible with the rest of the furnishings, plus the bonus of luxurious sleeping accommodations hidden inside until you need them for overnight guests.

LUSH FABRICS range from the elegant crushed linen velvets to dramatize a Spanish or Mediterranean styled room to the livable charm of a garden-fresh floral chintz for the country English look. The true mark of any quality upholstery, as in the good dress or suit from a trousseau, is the detailing. When sofa shopping, look for the self-covered button, the trim edge of welting to define cushion shapes of arm curve, and those important accent details of exposed wood, braid or quilting. These are the outward signs that will be apparent everyday and give a living room the appearance of comfort and style only an upholstered piece of furniture can give.

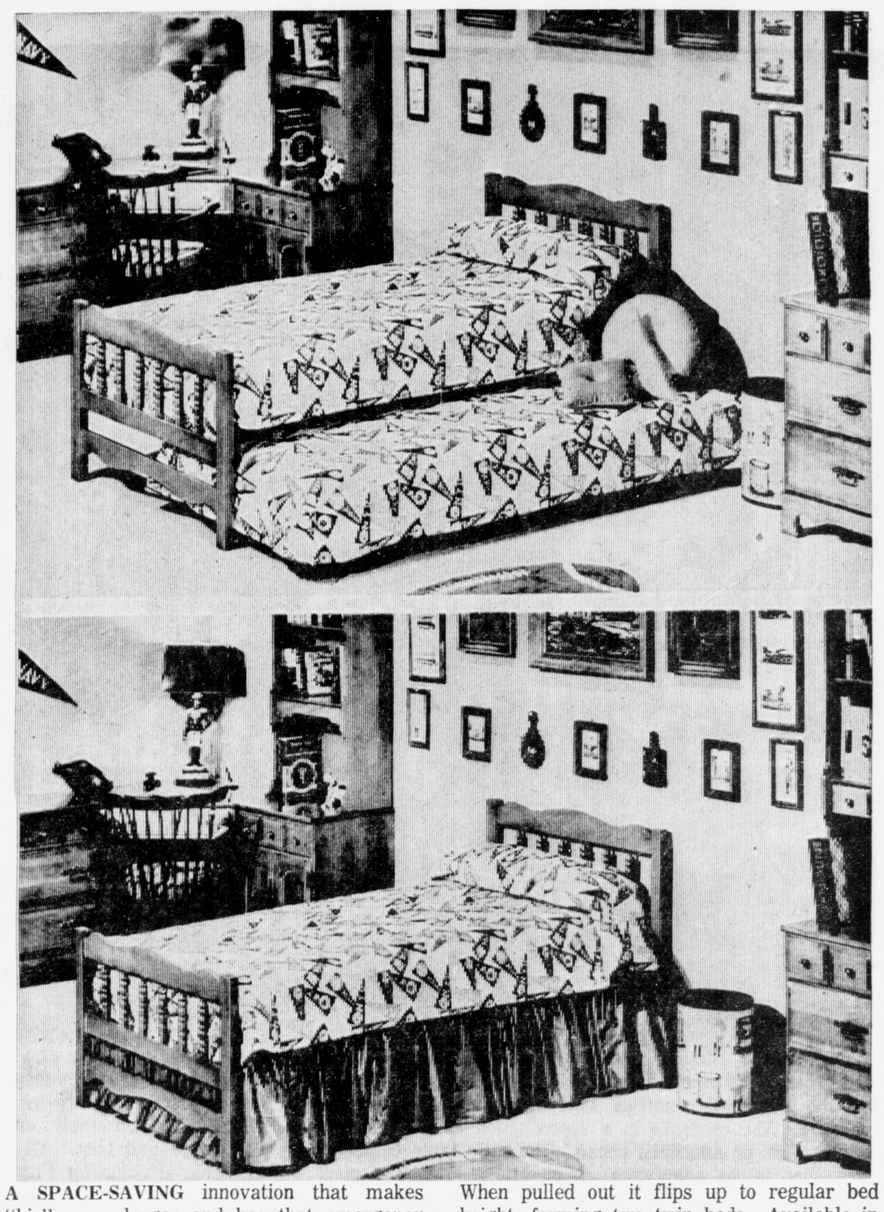
But when overnight guests arrive, the sleep sofa provides even more satisfaction. A guest can be made comfortable with pretty, colorful trousseau linens covering the luxurious spring mattress that ensures a sound night's sleep.

In planning space in the apartment or home, many people including women who have been married for years, don't realize the many sizes and variations offered by the sleep sofa. They come in sizes that house every width of mattress from the twin through to a people-size queen. And surprising as it may seem, all of them are in the regular length of 75 inches or may even come in extra-long size of 80 inches, the same length enjoyed in the king-or queen-size innerspring in the bedroom.

AS THE SIZE of the mattress changes, so does the size of the sofa. A twin-size bed is inside the loveseat sofa size and can be tucked into a corner of the dining room to form a delightful conversation grouping for after-dinner coffee or television viewing away from the living room. It also makes excellent round-the-clock use of the least used room in the house — the dining room. A sofa 72 inches long is a perfect size for the small apartment and contains a full-size double bed. In a long modern living room incorporating a dining ell, the large 93 inch sofa can give the room a fully furnished look while the rest of the furniture is still on the sparse side, and it will open to a full queen-size bed for lucky guests.

No room is too small or too specialized for a sleep sofa. In fact, some are used in kitchens. The large, roomy, country-style kitchen cries out for a comfortable upholstered seating unit. (SS



A SPACE-SAVING innovation that makes "his" room larger and has that emergency bed available within the wink of an eye. The lower section slides under the main bed. When pulled out it flips up to regular bed height, forming two twin beds. Available in maple or white at Arlington Furniture on Arlington Heights Road, Arlington Heights.

High Quality Sets Sought for Bedroom

"Everyone talks about a bedroom 'set' but few have the courage to avoid owning one," commented a furniture executive at the Spring furniture market in North Carolina.

Melvin Binney of Heritage Furniture Company had shown us several new groups of furniture, design related but not matched, for living and dining rooms. In the bedroom section of the extensive display were "sets" of three, four or five pieces with repetitive design detail, scaled from night table size to triple dresser proportions.

Young marrieds' first bedroom furniture budget could include at least one top quality storage piece, for example, of excellent design and beautiful woods if the "set" idea was abandoned, he pointed out. Manufacturers try to make what people want so we all make bedroom "sets," Mr. Binney added.

LATER A GROUP of decorators discussed the idea and gave it a vote of approval. "For years we've been urging young marrieds to invest in a few really good pieces as a starter, instead of furnishing completely with affordable quality," one remarked.

Bedrooms in most first apartments or houses are likely to be quite small. A smart buy might be a triple dresser, for example, carefully crafted in a handsome hardwood veneer especially selected for its rich color and rare figure pattern, the decorators concluded.

A design style both bride and groom are "mad" about should be a first consideration. Triple dressers are often designed with tray-drawers behind doors, as well as exposed drawers with hardware that enriches the beauty of the wood.

The scale and design of such a piece makes a practical investment because it can become a focal point in dining area or living room in a one room apartment, a space-minded decorator pointed out.

English Styling New Trend for Furniture

The newest and possibly the most significant design influence which appeared at the recent Southern Furniture Market has been the formal English inspired styles.

Fine hardwood veneers: walnut, wormy chestnut, cherry, hickory, pecan, with mahogany and pecan solids, dominated the construction of this new trend.

Basically, two centuries were encompassed in the scope of English design exhibited at the market.

"1603-1688" formal Jacobean embodies the broad reference of 17th century motifs with much carving and ornateness.

"Country" is often keyed to the charms of life in the 18th century Cotswold Hills west of London.

"1793-1820" Regency embraces the time when George, Prince of Wales, later George the 4th, acted as Regent, and when furniture styles turned to Neo-Classicism.

THE TREND in the past has been to offer one cabinet maker in one period. However, this is not true in the new English styles. Authentic detail is essential and is carried through in a pleasing way in each piece. Even in occasional pieces not found in the English period, authenticity is maintained and style built in.

Because of this, finishes have moved toward medium browns, with distressing. In the beginning, when oak re-emerged as a fashion cabinet wood a year ago, finishes stressed darker, almost amber, tones. A few finishes today will have a deep wine flavor and color, but the majority are a happy, warm medium shade, acceptable to more American homemakers.

One of the most significant elements of the English movement is found in its purity of design. Furniture manufacturers have three centuries of British design to draw upon, and they have pulled out furniture in varying degrees of formality, with the emphasis on authenticity of reproduction.

Give Home Fresh Look with Color

Since 1866, the Sherwin-Williams Co. has provided decorative color for the home. Choice of all colors has broadened considerably since the somber hues that prevailed in that Victorian era.

The choice of new colors in your decorating can give your home a new, fresh look. Yellow, gold and olive make a rich and rewarding palette, aglow with mellow radiance. These colors are comfortably at home in decor that ranges from Georgian to contemporary.

Violet, red and orange are colors to add mystery and brilliance to home decor. Wine colors are supplanting the lighter lavenders; rich accent reds and frothy pinks are ever more important.

OFF-WHITE, beige and brown are colors that flatter other colors. Off-white appears to have reached a peak of popularity. Beige is taking a new direction, with yellow and gray tones gaining preference over pink tones while brown is almost exclusively an accent shade.

Blue, green and aqua capture nature indoors. Blue is basic in today's decorating trends with its historic overtones. Green, always a favorite, is finding new expression in softer, more muted and discreet tones. Preferences in aqua are shifting to the warmer green-aquas.

Every nation has its own heritage of decorative colors, colors that, through a long usage have acquired a symbolism unique to the people. The simple colors of soft blue, understated greens, dusky golds and mellow wood tones speak of colonial inns, the solid comfort of the ancestral home and the homespun gaiety that marked America's growth.

"The Home Decorator," a book of painting and decorating ideas is available at the Sherwin-Williams Co. store in Arlington Market, Arlington Heights. (SS

A machine espcially designed to dry clean large draperies and slipcovers is the newest addition at Norge Colonial Village, 220 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights.

The E "20" Drycleaner by Borg Warner is designed to clean up to three slipcovers or davenport and two large chair slipcovers in one load. Four unlined 48"-wide drapery panels can also make up one load. Regular clothing as well as blankets can also be cleaned beautifully, quickly and economically.

The Drycleaner has an exclusive switch to enable you to choose the type of drycleaning cycle best suited to the garment you are cleaning. If you have a load of drapes or other bulky items, you switch to the blanket and drape cycle; if your load is regular wearing apparel, you select the garment cycle. You can be assured of wrinkle-free, odor-free clothes every time. Usually drapes can be hung up without any pressing. (SS

Fantasy Floral Trend In Imaginative Paper

The wall covering designs for spring '66 are imaginative and colorful with a great diversity of subject matter and a wealth of surface interest.

Florals are in abundance as is usual, but there are a large number of large-scale, bold "fantasy" florals. These large floral designs provide good background for the new bulky furniture designs.

Damasks and medallions are very numerous and frequently flocked, as flocking is appropriate for formal and traditional designs. The colors of flocking have increased considerably, and, while most of the flocking is tone-on-tone, there are also many contrast-color flocks. Flocking on foil and flocked borders are also making news.

THE "THEMATIC" papers have freshness with Mondrian, Op and Pop art making startling additions. In scenics, the news is in single panels which are immensely decorative while taking up very little wall space. Full-scale scenics are mostly traditional and of garden scenes.

Manufacturing progress has increased the credibility of the popular papers that simulate textures, metallics, linens, silks, etc. to the point where the consumer is presented with an abundance of wall-covering riches. Glossy finishes are on the upsurge.

Colors run a wide gamut from deep Spanish reds to delicate tints and tones. The orange, yellow, gold colors are in favor, as are aqua, yellow and olive green tones. There are lovely sand and light brown hues and chic black and white combinations.

Edward Mills, Webber Paint Co., Arlington Heights adds that more than ever your wallpaper store can provide you with the "decorator touch" with the many coordinated patterned and plain papers with correlated fabrics frequently in a choice of simple or intricate design now on the market. There are also matching borders, cut in a variety of ways for use in special areas such as around doors. (SS

Modular Units Key to Young Modern Furniture Groupings

The one type of furniture that will go down in history as typical only of the 20th Century will be modular units. Introduced less than twenty years ago, the flexibility of modular units created almost instant popularity.

Hardwood plywood with selected face veneers became an important new factor in furniture construction about the same time. This method made possible drawer and cabinet units without exposed heavy supporting frame work. It ushered in a new era of slim-lined cases with drawer fronts and doors in one smooth flat plane.

Without over-hanging tops the new modular units could be placed side by side in a continuous, seemingly one-piece row. Moreover cases were soon designed to fit on to bases sized for two or more units.

ONE GROUP of walnut veneered modular units is the basis of a furniture collection including beds, dining and accessory tables and various seating pieces. Called "New Idea Collection" by Koehler Mfg. Co., this group is based on the expressed interest of young people.

The "New Idea Collection" can and probably will look different in every home it helps to furnish. The modular base units are available in four widths, from two feet to five. Deck or stacking units, same widths, provide height and effect of a wood paneled wall.

Flexibility and mobility are two of the outstanding features of the group. Flexibility: a buffet may become a dresser; mobility ball-type casters on all base units. Double, even triple function as widths and heights can be arranged to fit around windows of one room or line up along a wall of another for architectural interest and varied storage needs.

The rich walnut veneer tones are simulated tortoise shell. The Collection provides compact or expansive arrangements. A walnut veneered valance between two tall cabinets, lights a desk or dressing table. For a one room apartment a single bed fits into a group of units.

New Drexel Stylings at Schneller

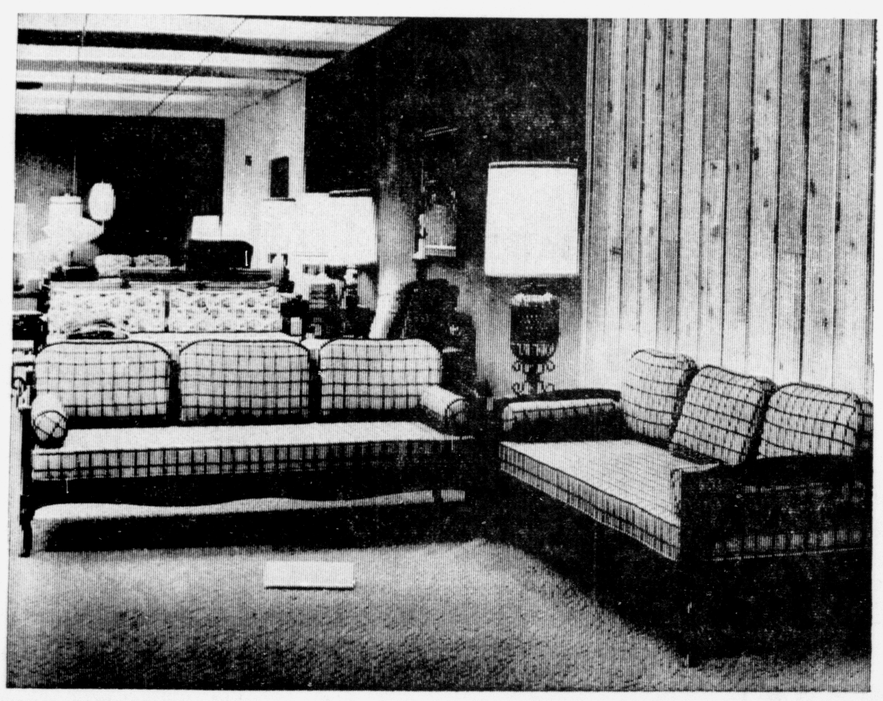
At the April Southern Market Joseph Schneller of Schneller Furniture Company, Arlington Heights, bought several of the new stylings from the Drexel showrooms.

Connotation is a group designed especially for informal living and features versatile, flexible pieces. The wood is Appalachian oak in two finishes, brandy and sherry. Multi - purpose is the keynote of this group.

BAMBOU IS designed for the young in heart with style on their mind. The Regency look with bamboo moldings and ribbon hardware will appeal to the sophisticated homemaker. It is available in warm cherry, soft jonquil yellow or custom white.

Schneller also added to the Touraine, Triune and Et Cetera pieces now available from Drexel. Touraine's new pieces are for the dining room in a new, rich antique finish. Triune introduces a beautiful custom beige decorator finish, heavily antiqued and striped in soft blue-grey. Three bombe' chests, unusual in design and able to fit into many spots in a home, are new in the Et Cetera group.

The new pieces will be on display at Schneller's later this summer. (SS



FOAM FURNITURE DESIGNS, 11 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, displays an all-inclusive presentation of "living furniture." Loungers are styled in traditional, contemporary, Regency, Mediterranean, Spanish and country French. Since the firm has its own Chicago factory, designs are very flexible and readily available.

HERE IS A MIRROR that will lend character to almost any simple dresser or chest, since it has a design entity of its own—making for enhanced wall interest. Smoothly tapered sides of this frame in glowing fruitwood add to the interesting treatment of the top pediment with an early American flavor in the shaping and in the round brass ring for either decoration or hanging. Heights Glass & Mirror Co., 1616 W. Northwest Hwy., Arlington Heights has a complete selection of mirrors.

FOR CASUAL LIVING and summer enjoyment, Vandy-Craft redwood is the answer. Redwood is one of the best best woods that can be used as it weathers beautifully and has amazing resistance to moisture, insects and decay from exposure. Many pieces are available and some groupings are specially priced at Northwest Metalcraft, Arlington Heights.

Furniture Cabinetry Can Dress Up a Wall

If you have a wall at home that is in need of paint, why paint it when it can be covered entirely by a beautiful piece of furniture cabinetry? You can even select the motif of this wall by stipulating French, Italian, Mediterranean, Contemporary, etc.

It seems the "massive" trend in furniture is taking form this season. Massiveness can be simply bigness, like expanded full-clad chairs which recall the 1930's Modern, or it can have the carved massiveness which goes with Spanish Court cupboards and the like. On the other hand, it may involve the architectural look of the 18th Century breakfronts, buffets, and cabinets.

WHATEVER FORM the new massiveness takes, its purpose is much the same—to intrigue the eye and to provide the focal point or pivot piece in room arrangement.

The most interesting thing about the new massiveness trend is that furniture manufacturers have scaled all their products for modern ceilings. This not only facilitates placing the particular piece in the room, but also enhances the entire room setting in which it becomes a focal point. Actaully, many rooms invite the use of large furniture which will supply the interest the room itself lacks.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION at 855 W. Northwest Hwy., Palatine, is a new building for Vartanian Carpet. Nearly three times the size of their present building, the new store will enable Vartanian to carry more carpet samples, rolls of carpeting, and a complete selection of custom made carpeting, area accent rugs and Early American braided rugs. Occupancy of new store is expected late this summer.

Coordinate Colors With Bed Coverings

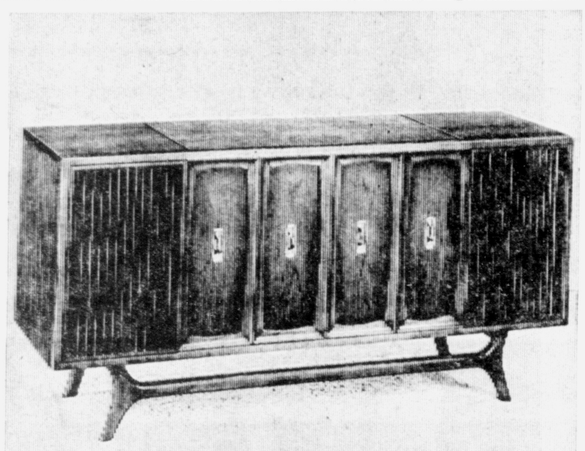
Nettle Creek, famous for bed coverings, suggests a guide for bedroom color coordination.

Twelve basic colors are used in decorating. They can be shaded dark or light, called shades and tints. In selecting a color scheme, let the "true" color be your guide. If this color is correct, you can make it as dark or light as you wish, and it will match perfectly.

Select a major color for your room and use it lavishly to make your point. You can use two major colors together, if they touch each other on the color wheel. The major color sets the tone of your room; you can use light or dark tones of the major color any way you wish and be in complete harmony.

NOW . . . YOUR room needs spice. Here's where the accent colors come into play to add the "decorator" touch to your room. They should be bright enough to stand out, but used in small quantities so they are not overwhelming.

The bedspread is the focal point of your bedroom, the largest area of concentrated color, so you can use a vibrant tone . . . either a solid or a print. Draperies should either match the bedspread or coordinate with it. For example, if you use a floral print bedspread, the draperies should be either the same print or a solid color that coordinates with the print. Nettle Creek's dazzling collection of beautiful bedspreads is designed to play a vital role in your room. Available in a vast array of the finest fabrics, scintillating solids and exciting prints, they are cued to every decor, every color scheme. See them at Lisa's Draperies, 11 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights.



NEW LOOKING AND LISTENING—Zenith's Bizet, a Solid-State high-fidelity record playing instrument with Solid-State AM-FM Stereo FM radio, "Stereo Precision"—4-speed record changer, and the most perfectly balanced tone arm in complete home console stereo. Danish Modern styled cabinet of hand-rubbed, genuine walnut veneers and selected hardwood solids. At Landwehr TV, Arlington Heights.

Vartanian Building New Store

Eleven years ago, in 1955, when Walter Vartanian, Sr. and his sons David and Walter, Jr. opened a carpet service store in Palatine, they were told that their business wouldn't last a year.

They were told that they had no recognized name and that the town was too small to need or want such a service. Yet, two years later, the Vartanians began selling carpeting and rugs and discontinued their servicing of carpeting for other dealers. They were no longer a "Service Shop" . . .now they were a Retail Carpet Specialty Store.

Two years and many satisfied customers later, the Vartanians had outgrown their original location and had to move to larger quarters where more stock could be inventoried, and more carpet samples could be displayed.

NOW SIX years and many, many satisfied customers later, they are again cramped for space. They are again getting ready to make a move. This time they are building a new and even larger store at 855 W. Northwest Highway (a block west of Quentin Road). This new store will be almost three times the size of their present building and will enable them to carry many more carpet samples, a large quantity of rolls of carpeting, and a complete selection of custom made carpeting, area accent rugs and early American braided rugs.

Vartanian Carpet expects to move into its new building by the end of the summer. They hope you will come in and see them in their new location. (SS

EARLY AMERICAN RUSTIC atmosphere is most attractive in this Ethan Allen antiqued pine living room. Strongly contributing to this comfortable atmosphere is the new Ethan Allan upholstered living room group of antiqued pine in "Old Tavern" finish. Its sides have heavy random planks capped by sculptured wood arms. Sturdy continuous back posts topped by turned finials, contrasting pegs at joints, and heavy stretchers lend strength and rustic charm to the authentic early American theme. Foam-filled loose pillow backs and reversible seat cushions are comfortable and practical. Available at Schneller Furniture Co., Arllington Heights.

CONSENSUS BY AMERICAN of Martinsville is the perfect look for country-loving moderns. It combines such unusual features as richly carved architectural panels and starburst carvings, chicken wire design etched into glass doors, rugged wrought hardware and woven rush-backs. See it at Mayfair Interiors, Arlington Heights.

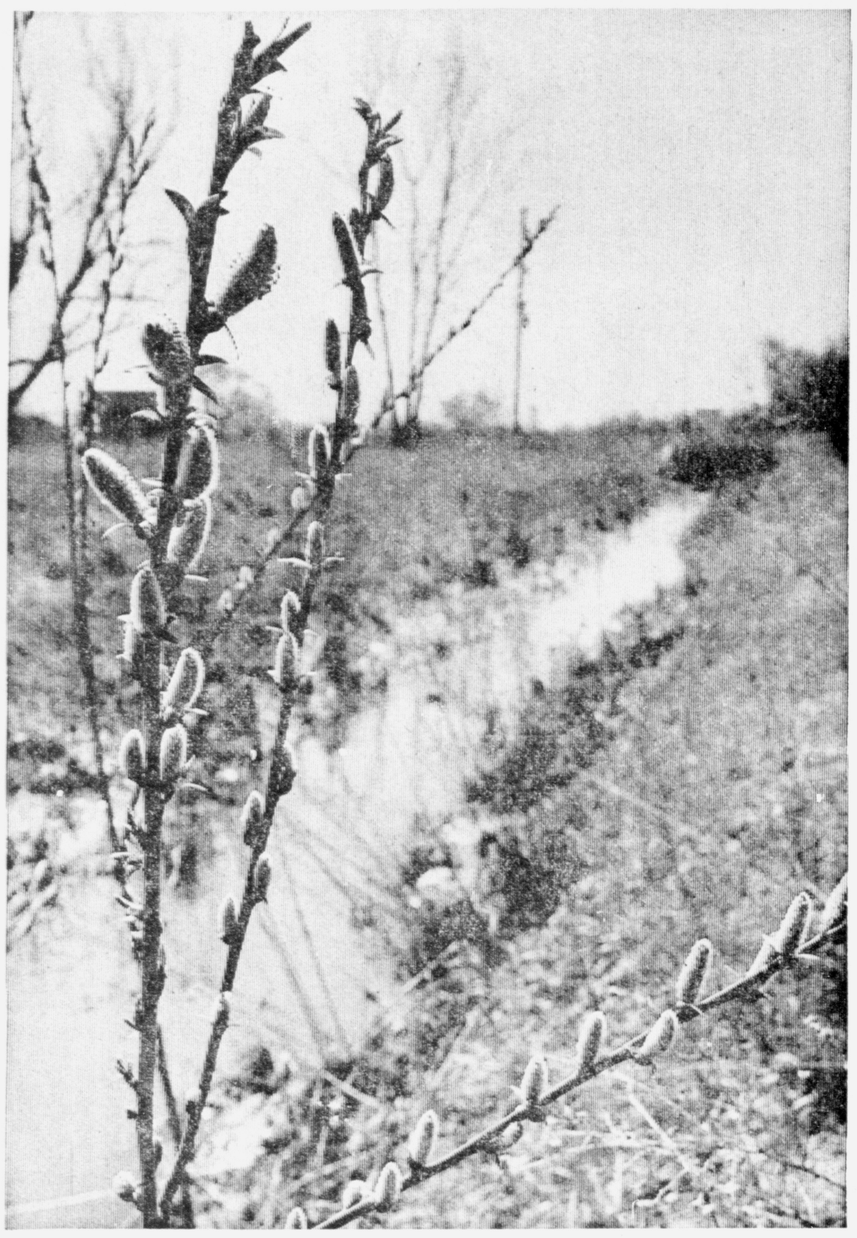
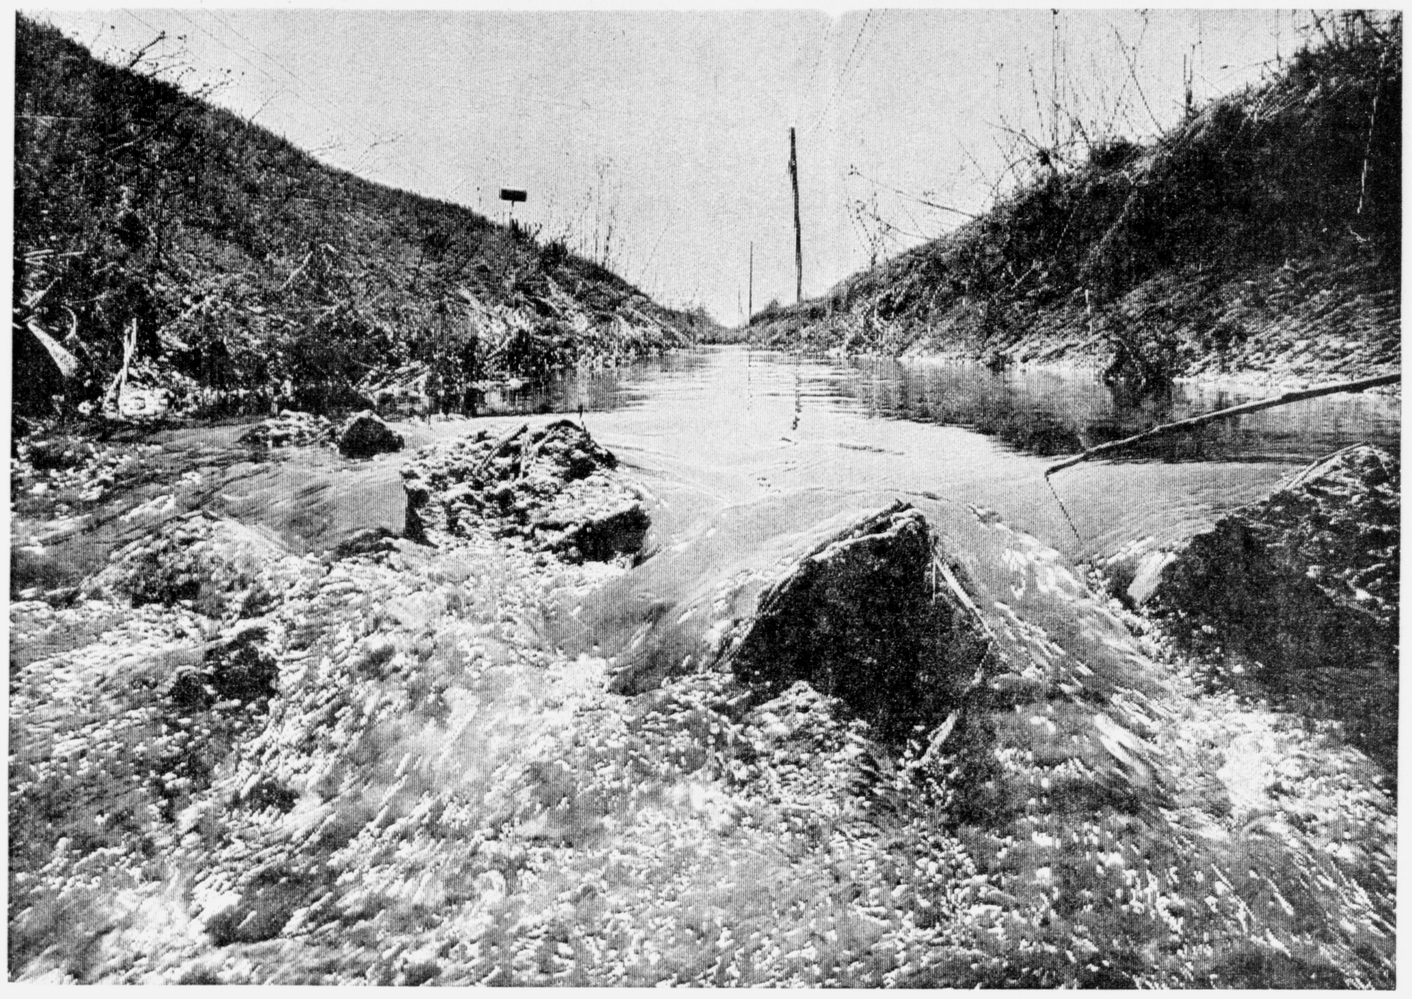
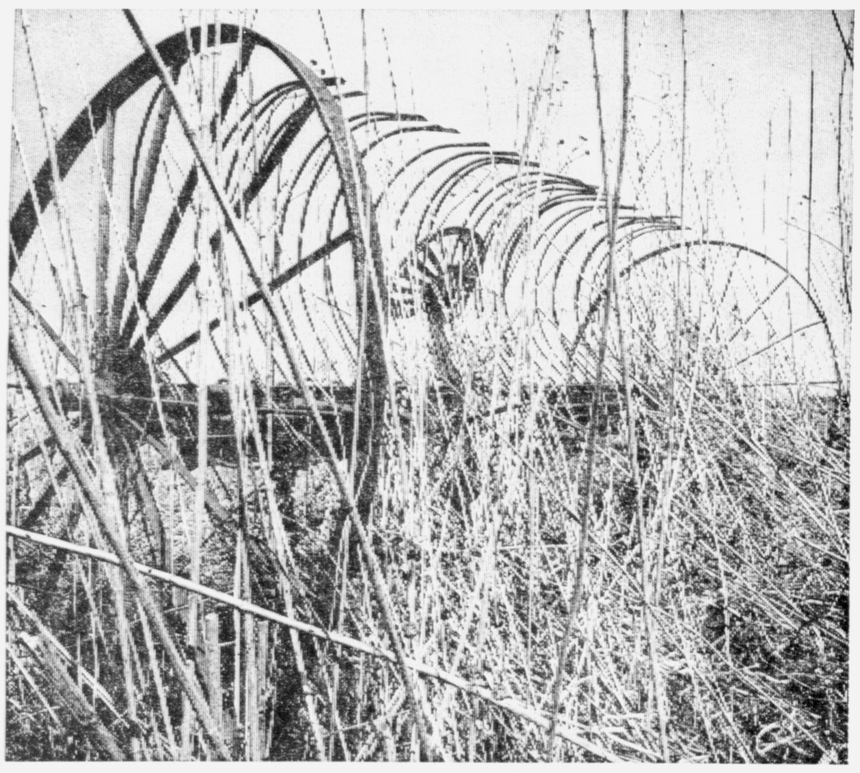
McDonald Creek Parkway to Be Developed







Paddock Publications' chief photographer, Larry Cameron, took a walk down McDonald Creek on Arlington Heights' far north side recently to capure with his camera a little-known area that some day may be the most attractive recreational spot in the village.

The village has reserved the creek bed and a ribbon of land along each side of it for future park development. Involved are three forks of the stream. One starts at Hintz Road and wanders southeast. The other starts at Palatine Road and flows northeast. They merge at Buffalo Grove Road and flow eastward. The village's land reservation runs from Hintz and Palatine Roads to Buffalo Grove Road—the village's projected limits.

The land reservation came after months of study by the park district, village and a subdivider in the area, Meister-Neiberg builders. Its purposes are twofold: first to control floodwater and second to exploit a natural resource of the area. The past pattern in Arlington Heights, like other suburbs, has been to encase creekbeds in underground storm sewers. An even less satisfactory treatment in some areas has been to treat the creek as an open storm sewer and tolerate its occasional flooding.

The McDonald Creek Parkway will be similar to a highly developed parkway system in Milwaukee County (Wis.), where most of the small natural waterways have been developed for park or recreational purposes.

Burrows, Burros, Or Burls

Burrows, burros, burls—these three words have similar pronunciations but certainly different meanings. Most readers know that the verb burrow means to dig a hole in the ground for either shelter or to be used as a passageway.

Also, many easily recognize the noun burro as a synonym for donkey.

However, most people are unaware of what the burl is and its relationship to a tree.

Burls are an abnormal growth somewhat comparable to cancerous tissue in animals. They are found on the trunks of trees and yield a wood which is colorful and fantastically intricate in grain patterns.

SOME PLANT pathologists suspect that they may be a result of bruise or infection. In any event, burls are known to produce beautifully grained and colorful wood, much prized for fine furniture, pipes, gun stocks, carvings, and various other objects of art.

That the nature and beauty of burl wood has been long appreciated by man is evidenced by the fact that such wood was widely used for toggles and amulets in ancient China, and for fine furniture by the early civilization of the Mediterranean.

Yes, there are burrows and burros and burls. And if th isn't enough, Beryl is also a proper first name for either a man or woman. (SS

Her Old Ohio Home

By BILLIE BACHHUBER

My childhood was spent in a small town in the beautiful rolling hills section of northeastern Ohio. Our home was set in the middle of several acres of land, and my father spent his summer vacations "catching up" with the grass.

In his later years, Dad sat on a tractor-mower and leisurely enjoyed this chore, but when the family was growing up, it was a sweaty, boneachey job.

All of us worried about this seasonal occupation of Dad's from Mom down to the smallest child. When he would pause occasionally for a cool drink of well water or lemonade, we'd gather 'round and cluck over his bright, red face, the vein swelling in his forehead and the perspiration pouring down his neck.

He'd finish his drink, wipe off the perspiration, grin and go back to the rhythmic cutting of the long, waving weeds.

WE'D BEG HIM to let us help him, but that was one of the many things in which he was adamant. No one, not even the older boys, was allowed to help with the kind of mowing our father did — for a very good reason. Dad didn't use a mower, power or any other kind. He used a long-handled curved blade scythe that looked like and was a lethal instrument if not used properly.

Actually, we were more than a little afraid of that scythe and wouldn't go too near it even when it rested in the toolshed.

Now, we realize that Dad not only relished this task, but actually looked forward to it from year to year. Remembering my father's philosophy, I feel sure that he thanked God for the opportunity to help tidy up His world! The benefits he derived from this hard work were many. His hard, lean-muscled body, wide strong shoulders, hearty appetite, and clear gray eyes testified to the wisdom of hard work and clean, country air.

DAD'S GARDENS were not only magnificently bountiful but every year grew more beautiful. After he retired, he spent every possible moment cultivating his gardens. On one side of the house was the "big orchard," on the other side, his miniature trees. To the south was his strawberry patch, with its huge, dark red and juicy fruit. To the west of the strawberry patch he planted rows and rows of raspberry bushes, which bore plump red, black, pink and yellow berries.

I could describe the flower gardens surrounding our house in extravagantly lyrical language and not be exaggerating in the least. Our most beautifully landscaped suburban yard pales in comparison.

Now, perhaps you can see why my father felt distressed that his "second" daughter was doomed to spend her married life and to rear her children "in the city."

I'LL NEVER forget the day when the postal truck drove up to the house and a brown carton was delivered to our door. Inside that carton, in perfect condition and each carefully and painstakingly wrapped, were 20 exactly-ripe large beefsteak tomatoes! I enjoyed an unforgettable orgy of tomato-eating—remembering to share with my neighbors as I was so carefully taught.

The majority of children reared in the country become realists at an early age. I learned very soon that the cute, fluffy, yellow "peepers" that I loved to cuddle soon grew up, got their heads chopped off and ended up on our Sunday dinner table.

Children played an important part in helping in those beautiful gardens, too. How can I ever forget those horrible, green tomato worms and the hundreds of potato bugs that we picked off and dropped into jars? And the baskets and baskets of manure we gathered from the adjacent pasture! That was only the beginning.

THERE WAS THE endless picking of the bounty and oh! the canning. Trips to the fruit cellar for load after load of jars to be washed and sterilized. Peeling and sorting, cutting and washing of fruits and vegetables.

I liked helping with chili sauce and tomatoes, but how I hated preparing peaches. Those sticky, prickly skins irritated my hands, and I always popped too many juicy slices into my mouth and was rewarded with a stomach ache.

I really was elated when we moved to the northwest suburbs. Now my Dad couldn't pity me for being forced to live "in the city." There were open prairies all around us. Cock pheasants crowed early in the morning, waking us before the alarm clock. The song of the meadow lark echoed and re-echoed on the breeze. Fields of green corn and white farm houses were visible from our second story windows.

IN THE YEARS that we have lived here, the farm land gradually has changed into housing developments. As the pheasants have vanished along with the green corn fields, I almost can feel my father's pity again.

But, I tell myself, the flocks of migrating cardinals still descend upon our spreading pfitzers to feast on the blue berries. We can still enjoy tomatoes from our own three or four plants; our neat rows of flowers are bright and fragrant, and we can cook outdoors and picnic every warm weekend on our own patio. Birds still sing in our elm trees, and the plump red-breasted robin pulls worms from our velvety merion blue lawn.

Another thing of which I am very sure is that we always will be able to count on those furry rabbits to chew off every tender stalk — vegetable or flower — just as in those childhood days in Ohio. Someone forgot to tell the bunnies that this is "city living." (SF

WHEN THE NEW St. Alexius Hospital in Elk Grove Village held open house last weekend, members of its women's auxiliary played a major role as tour guides and hostesses. Mrs. Richard McGrenera of Elk Grove, the auxiliary's first president, served as tour coordinator. She stands before the mural over the hospital entrance where the tours started. The Alexian Brothers created the mural themselves. (Staff Photo)

'Colleague Marriages'

It's Love, Honor and Share!

The age-old marriage vow "to love, honor and obey" is undergoing an important revision in the minds of thoughtful young college-age couples on the threshhold of marriage. As they see it, the vow might better pledge both bride and groom "to love, honor, and share."

This is one of the striking changes noted by Mrs. Ethel Nash, assistant professor of preventive medicine at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem, N. C.

Mrs. Nash, who is also president of the American Association of Marriage Counselors, has for the past 10 years led a three-day seminar for engaged couples at Duke University in Durham, N.C.

"OVER THE years," Mrs. Nash told Women's Medical News Service, "there has been a distinct trend toward the 'colleague' marriage."

Both men and women, she explained, no longer see the women's role solely as wife, mother, housekeeper. Nor do they consider the woman solely as helpmeet during that short period when she works to help put her husband through graduate school or through the first years of his career.

Instead, both men and women increasingly recognize that some women have talents and skills which can best be fulfilled in work outside the home.

"THE MOST striking change in this area," says Mrs. Nash, "is among the men. They take enormous pride in their future wives' attainments in college and are increasingly encouraging them to develop themselves further after marriage."

Naturally such a change in the role of the woman implies a somewhat different role for the man, as well, Mrs. Nash noted. If wives and husbands both assume economic responsibilities outside the home — with the wife working full time — both must expect to share responsibilities in the home, as well.

The husband must be willing to take on such previously all-female chores as helping with the dishes or sorting laundry without considering it an affront to his masculinity. The wife must genuinely consider her household responsibilities as important as her job and perform them with as much grace and skill.

WHEN THIS happens, both will be fulfilled and the marriage is likely to be a successful one. When both or either assume roles they don't really want, the marriage is heading for trouble, Mrs. Nash observed.

One of the subjects considered in the seminar is the definition of marital infidelity. More and more, the young people are coming to regard sexual infidelity as but one aspect of unfaithfulness. There is, they believe, such a thing as intellectual infidelity — the inability or unwillingness of the partners to share intellectual interests.

They see, too, what they call recreational infidelity. Comes the weekend, for instance, the young man or woman heads for the tennis courts or the golf course or the sailboat with his or her buddies, leaving the partner to his or her own devices.

"WHEN EITHER spends most of the leisure time apart from the other, there is something wrong with the relationship," Mrs. Nash reports the young people as feeling.

As the couples examine the question of finances they come to see that how one uses money reveals attitudes toward oneself and others. The stingy person who is reluctant to part with money may also be stingy about sharing himself or herself fully.

The impulse spender, on the other hand, may be showing another aspect of character that has little to do with money. This may be the kind of person who is unreliable about responsibilities, who must have instant gratification of all desires in order to be content.

ONE CHANGE noted by Mrs. Nash is that most young couples in the seminar want to postpone having their first child for one to three years. They believe this will give them time to adjust to each other.

"And adjustment is vital to the success of marriage," Mrs. ments not made in the first year or so are not likely to be made in 10 years — spelling heartache."

GUESTS BROUGHT spring indoors last Thursday at Old Orchard Country Club when Northwest Suburban YMCA Women's Auxiliary held its annual luncheon. Among those in colorful ensembles were Mrs. Paul Shackelford of Elk Grove Village and Mrs. Maris Eglitis and Mrs. Earl Frebe, both of Mount Prospect. A short business session was highlighted by announcement of completion of a $20,000 pledge to the YMCA. (Staff Photo—more pictures inside)

Organize New Stephens Club

Two area women were elected to offices in the newly-formed Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Stephens College.

Mrs. Dean DePoy, 920 Beau Drive, Arlington Heights, is the group's vice president, and Mrs. Harold Pearson, 630 Walnut Lane, Elk Grove Village, is the treasurer. President is Mrs. Samuel Eadie of Park Ridge.

Next meeting of the chapter will be at 8 p.m. Thursday, May 25, in Mrs. Eadie's home and will feature a talk by Mrs. Connie Henkel, TWA travel consultant. Interested alumnae may call Mrs. DePoy at 259-3842.

Even An Amateur Needs Spring Training

Spring's promise of renewal works its magic so well that even folk who've spent the winter bound to desk and TV suddenly feel as though they can go out and play 36 holes of golf those first beguiling days. Don't do it, though.

The American Medical Association advises that the shape-up and warm-up are in order before engaging in any vigorous sport after a period of inactivity. Here are some tips for meeting the challenge of spring successfully and healthily:

—HAVE A medical checkup, especially if you haven't had one in some time. Tell your doctor what your sports plans are so that he can advise you on the basis of your specific physical needs. He'll take into consideration the condition of your heart, your circulatory and respiratory systems, your reflexes — and may suggest proper diet, as well as a rest and sleep schedule.

—Begin by conditioning yourself. Athletes and dancers always spend part of every day's practice by warming up first. You should do so, too. If you plan long hours on the tennis courts or golf course or hiking, begin by taking brisk walks every day. Make them a little longer each day.

Work at increasing your endurance. When you start your sport, limit yourself at first. Nine holes that leave you pleasantly tired are likely to be more satisfying than 18 or 36 that leave you on the point of collapse.

— EAT properly. There's no magic food that will give you all the energy you need for active sports. A balanced diet, including meat and meat substitutes, milk and milk products, vegetables and fruits and breads and cereals, is essential for the athlete.

If you find yourself eating somewhat more than you do when you're sedentary, don't worry about it. Remember that vigorous exercise burns calories. Nonetheless, keep an eye on your weight. Don't let extra pounds accumulate.

—Don't count yourself out of sports if you've had a heart attack or are pregnant. Physicians agree that there are appropriate and beneficial exercises and sports activities for both. But be guided by your doctor.

Have a sporty spring.

Those Unused Books? AAUW Wants Them

Housewives in the midst of spring cleaning who have boxes of unused books or records collecting dust can donate them to a worthwhile cause, a benefit book sale planned by Arlington Heights Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Although the book sale is not slated until November, the branch will gladly accept donations now. "Anything from 'Beowulf' to 'Lady Chatterly's Lover' will be welcome." said Mrs. Francis Egan, chairman of the sale. She may be called at 392-5882 for pick-up service.

PROCEEDS FROM the annual event go to the national AAUW fellowship program, the oldest and largest scholarship program exclusively for women in this country or abroad, according to Mrs. James Rowan, fellowship chairman.

The United States awards are given to women for writing their PhD dissertations and for post-doctoral research. Since the first award of $350 in 1888 to Ida M. Street at the University of Michigan, more than 100 graduate fellowships have been awarded annually to women in all countries.

INTERNATIONAL fellowships go to women in foreign countries for advanced learning to benefit their own people. Last year's emphasis was placed on applicants from Africa, Latin America and Asia where there is a great need for teachers.

The 1964-65 used book fair sponsored by the Arlington Heights branch was a record breaker, providing a $1,500 donation which was the largest made by any Illinois branch.

Homemaker Unit Sets Craft Day

A craft day is scheduled for May 25 by Palatine Homemakers' Extension Unit. Members will be working on felt crafts and aluminum trays and will make plans for learning to etch glass.

Mrs. L. H. Larson, 552 S. Cedar St., Palatine, will be hostess for the all-day meeting. Members are reminded to bring a sandwich for lunch.

The next regular meeting of the unit will be held June 14 in the home of Mrs. G. R. Neal, 109 E. Long Grove Road, Barrington.

Elk Grove Juniors Observe Diamond Jubilee of GFWC

A "Diamond Jubilee" birthday party for the General Federation of Women's Clubs was celebrated by the Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Club at their May meeting held at Salt Creek School. Red roses, the club's flower, imitation diamonds, and stickers which read "Happy Birthday G.F.W.C." adorned white net tree table decorations made by the Hospitality Committee which was headed by Mrs. Harold Potts. The coordinated refreshment table and birthday cake were also decorated with red roses.

"Las Vegas Night", the club's second benefit of the year, netted $506.50 for the Elk Grove Village Junior Woman's Club philanthrophies. Brother Gregory of St. Alexius Hospital accepted a check for $500 to furnish a room in the maternity wing. A $150 check was donated to the Northwest Mental Health Clinic. Chairs worth $700 will be purchased with the check presented to the Elk Grove Village Library.

"MOMENTS TO Remember" was the title given the president's annual report given to the club by out-going president, Mrs. Charles Schultz, who also announced and presented citations awarded to the club in the Seventh District and the State.

In the District, Mrs. Harold Greaves received first place in the sewing contest for daytime wear. Mrs. George Petras was awarded second place in the creative writing contest. Mrs. Petras also received first place award for the press book. The club was presented a citation for being 100 per cent subscribed to the Illinois Clubwoman.

State awards went to Mrs. Greaves for "Woman of Achievement" for Illinois, and an award was presented to Mrs. Norman Jacobs for submitting the best report to the "Woman of Achievement" contest. Mrs. Petras, Mrs. Davis Roller and Mrs. Jacobs together received a second place award for the state for the press book assembled by Mrs. Petras.

AN AWARD FOR community improvement was presented to Mrs. George Mullen and Mrs. Roller; the story of the post office was in the semi-finals in the State. Mrs. James Murray received an award for outstanding service in library work. The Club as a whole received commendation for 100 per cent participation in all areas of Federation and the Shell Oil Educational Contest.

Miss Karyn Kozak, art scholarship winner sponsored by the club, won $100 for first place in the state art contest and $600 for her third place award in the nation.

Chateau Louise in West Dundee will be the site of the Installation luncheon Saturday, May 21. Incoming board members and committee chairmen will be introduced and inaugurated; and outgoing chairmen and board members will be honored at this luncheon which marks the close of the club year.

Rummage Sale

Employes of Goldblatt's department store in the Mount Prospect Plaza shopping center on Rand Road, Mount Prospect, will sponsor a rummage sale tomorrow (Friday) from 9:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The sale will be held in the Civic Auditorium of Mount Prospect Plaza. Proceeds will be donated to the Nathan Goldblatt Cancer Research Fund, a spokesman said. (S

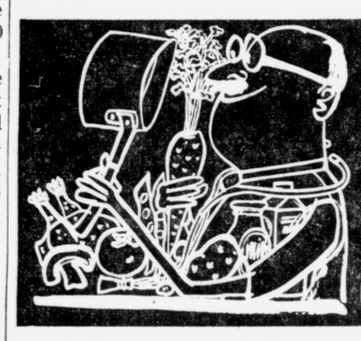
Memorial Day Races Top Agenda of BPW

For members of the Mount Prospect Business and Professional Women's Club, the most important races being held this coming Memorial Day weekend are the harness races to be run Friday evening. May 27, at Sportsman's Park in Chicago.

The occasion will be the BPW Club's fourth "Night at the Races." Members and their guests will cheer their favorite trotters from the club rooms at Sportsman, following a buffet dinner at the park.

Success of this event in the past three years, in terms of both fun and finances, has led to its adoption as an annual project, with proceeds going to the club's philanthropy fund. Mrs. Charles Gardner, chairman of arrangements and ticket sales, predicts that the 1966 affair will offer as much congeniality and excitement as previous evenings at the harness races.

Anyone interested in this or other activities of the Mount Prospect BPW Club is invited to telephone Mrs. Gardner at 965-5161, evenings, or Mrs. Max Hoffmeister, CL 5-1447, evenings. Mrs. Hoffmeister has just taken office as president of the club for the coming year.



Doctor in the Kitchen

YOUR NEED FOR CALCIUM

Among the needs of the human body for mineral elements, one of the most important is calcium. Calcium is a metallic element which occurs in nature generally in combination with other chemicals.

Calcium is particularly abundant in the soil overlying limestone formations. It is utilized by plants, and these plants are eaten by animals, some of which provide man with milk. In this way milk becomes a rich source of calcium; it is, indeed, the only really good source among natural foodstuffs.

It is common knowledge that calcium is important in the normal development of teeth and bones. It is not so commonly realized that calcium is important also in the blood and in the functioning of the nerves, and through them, of the muscles.

CALCIUM UTILIZATION in the body is governed by two pairs of tiny glands situated in or near the thyroid gland, and called parathyroids.

Calcium, like other nutrients, is used in the body and then discarded either through the bowels or the kidney. It must be replaced with a new supply. This is true at all times of life. The need for calcium is continuous throughout life but varies from time to time.

Before birth, when the tooth buds are being formed in the gums, the need for calcium is great, especially since bones are being formed too. The need continues heavy during childhood, when bones and teeth are developing. The pregnant woman and nursing mother also need extra calcium.

CONTRARY TO popular belief, even the aged and aging have a continuous calcium requirement. They tend to suffer from a bone disease known as osteoporosis, in which calcium is lost and the bones are thinned and weakened. The condition may be due to a prolonged inadequate intake of calcium.

While calcium is a major factor in this problem, deficiencies in protein foods also may play a part, thus emphasizing again the importance of maintaining the basic food group structure of the healthful diet. Vitamin D, necessary for calcium metabolism, is furnished for adults by vitamin D fortified milk. Fish liver oils are also a good source.

Another time when calcium demands are heavy is during the growth spurt of the adolescent, when bones, muscles and glands are undergoing active changes. In populations where calcium intake is inadequate, there may be a slowing of growth and a limitation of average stature.

IN PRACTICAL terms, the calcium needs of the body are best met through whole milk and non-fat milk products. Two cups of whole fresh milk supply about three-fourths of the body's daily needs in adult life. Adolescents, pregnant women and nursing mothers need more.

Cheddar and Swiss cheese are good sources of calcium; cottage cheese, though lower in calcium, contributes an important amount. A serving of ice cream in addition to two cups of milk will bring the calcium intake up to the average adult recommendation.

Next to milk products, vegetables are the best sources of calcium. The best of these are kale, broccoli, collards, dandelion and mustard greens. (SSD

Card Party

Royal Neighbors of America, Camp 6114, Wheeling, will stage its 25th annual card party and penny social at 8 p.m. tonight (Thursday) in the basement of the Wheeling Masonic Temple, Milwaukee and Dundee Roads.

MINIATURE BANJO AND SCORE from "Showboat" will decorate tables at Inverness Country Club Saturday, June 4, when Palatine Infant Welfare presents its "Cotton Blossom Ball." The centerpiece gets easy approval from President Mrs. Robert Abate and Mrs. William Meek, whose husband, Dr. Meek, designed the banjo and scroll. Special entertainment for the June evening will include the Red Garter Banjo Band from Old Town.

Sweet Adelines Sing Their Worries Away

By JUDY TREMORE

"You can leave the house tired, worried and tense and after our meeting feel just great," says Mrs. Warren Fromm of Winston Park, Palatine.

She is president of Country Chords Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., and looks forward to the weekly Tuesday night singing session.

Mrs. Fromm is a charter member of the seven-year-old chapter of Sweet Adelines. She said she saw an article in the Paddock newspapers and decided to attend the first meeting. The blonde said she hadn't really done any singing before except in a high school chorus.

She has served the group as bulletin director for two years, junior and senior council member on the regional council and publicity chairman. Her term as president will run till April, 1967.

WITH A one-year-old in the house, Mrs. Fromm has curtailed her activities as Cub Scout den mother and assistant nursery school teacher in Arlington Heights. Her children are Corinne, 14; David, 12; Steven, 10, and Janine, 1.

A family hobby for three or four years now is coin collecting. Mrs. Fromm said the whole family joins in and they have been working mainly on pennies. With David in Little League, they also have ball games to attend.

The Fromms have been in Palatine for a year, moving from Rolling Meadows where they lived for 11 years. Mr. Fromm is with Cummins-Chicago Corp.

A RECENT crisis occurred in the family when Mrs. Fromm was planning to attend the weekend long Sweet Adelines regional competition in Chicago. She said that Corinne came home to say that she was to be confirmed that same weekend. Mrs. Fromm admits her loyalties were really torn.

Her husband and children convinced her to attend the regionals and she left with a list of to-dos and many misgivings. She says proudly of her family, "When I came home, we had a houseful of guests and it went off beautifully. My husband and children had managed to do everything without mishap."

When Janine is older, Mrs. Fromm would like to get back into the nursery school work which she enjoyed. For the present she says she wants to see Country Chords built up to about 50 members. (SSD

WITH A ONE-YEAR-OLD to care for, Mrs. Warren Fromm of Palatine has had to curb her outside activities, but she still finds time to sing with Country Chords Chapter of Sweet Adelines. She is currently president of the singing group. That's Janine on Mrs. Fromm's lap. (Staff Photo)

Cookie Bakers Needed

Last week Mrs. Edward Rodriguez made two dozen phone calls to Wheeling friends and neighbors, and all but a few of them were willing to help with her project. Her project is to supply cookies to a platoon in Viet Nam.

"These women were so enthusiastic that I thought perhaps others would like to help," commented Mrs. Rodriguez. "We can use more cookie bakers and we also need the aid of some local organization to pay postage and supply wrappings for the cookies" she added.

Mrs. Rodriguez received her inspiration for the project after learning of the success of Prospect Heights Woman's Club, which has been baking cookies for servicemen for several years. The Wheeling women have yet to select a platoon to receive their baked goods, and they ask that mothers of area boys in Viet Nam call Mrs. Rodriguez at 537-5983. (S

Home Economist Luncheon Set

"The Consumer and Container" will be the topic of the May 21 meeting of Home Economists in Homemaking of Greater Chicago. Dwight E. Reed, food technologist with American Can Co., will show some of the plans for containers of the future and the effect of consumer reaction on the industry.

The luncheon meeting begins at noon at Stouffer's, Randolph Street, Chicago.

Area homemakers with a home economics degree who wish to attend may call Mrs. E. Upland, 358-0568, or Mrs. J. Page, 392-1737. (S

Richard W. Duenn Married In Easter Sunday Wedding

In an Easter Sunday wedding in Quogue, Long Island, New York, Richard W. Duenn, son of the Walter Duenns of Arlington Heights, took as his bride, Miss Jeanne Marie Petersen, daughter of the Franklin Petersens of Quogue. The double ring service was held in the Presbyterian Church in Westhampton Beach.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white silk organza over satin gown trimmed with baby pearls. As her only jewelry she wore a necklace of pearls, a gift from the groom. A pill box headpiece held her elbow-length veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of calla lilies.

Susan Gudell of Quogue served as the bride's only attendant wearing a blue and white floor-length gown. Her flowers were pink roses and carnations. tions.

BEST MAN was John Heise of Sister Bay, Wis., and ushers were Robert Fromowitz of New York City and Robert Hacker of Oak Park, all of whom were in service with the groom at Suffolk County Air Force Base, Long Island. The groom spent four years in the service, three at Suffolk County. He studied at Arlington High School and DeVry Technical Institute, and is now employed by the Roy C. Ingersoll Research Center, Borg-Warner, Des Plaines.

The bride studied at Westhampton Beach High School and the Wilfred Academy in New York City. Until her marriage she was employed as a beauty operator in Quogue.

The wedding reception for 150 guests was held in the church parlors, after which Mr. Duenn took his bride on a honeymoon to Denver. The newlyweds are now residing at 15 W. Davis, Arlington Heights. (S

Women Voters Make Annual Study Plans

At the annual meeting of Palatine League of Women Voters, held May 1, the membership voted to re-adopt its study of metropolitan planning. This study covers an evaluation of metropolitan needs for coordinated planning and prospects for metropolitan government.

On a local level there will be a continued support of measures to improve Palatine Township government. The league will also up-date "Know Your Town" information for the Palatine Directory.

MRS. HAROLD Brown, delegate to the league's national convention in Denver on May 2-6, reported on the adoption of national study items. Among them ar the evaluation of united States relations with the People's Republic of China and support of national policies on conservation, equality of opportunity for education and employment and peace keeping.

Mrs. Brown stated, "The purpose of the League of Women Voters is to promote political responsibility through informed and active participation of citizens in government. The league may take action on federal measures and policies in the public interest, but it shall not support or oppose any political party or any candidate."

Interested women may call Mrs. Brown at 358-2388 or Mrs. Myron Shaw, 358-0199. (S

Installation to Close Year For Good Shepherd Guild

An installation dinner will mark the final meeting of the club year for the Women's Guild of the Church of the Good Shepherd in Elk Grove Village. Slated for Tuesday, May 24, the dinner will be held at 4 p.m. in the church, with members of the guild board catering the food.

Officers for the new year are Mrs. Wayne Blount, 45 Keswick Road, president; Mrs. George Phillips, vice president; Mrs. Robert Snell, secretary; and Mrs. David Harris, treasurer.

The new president is a newcomer to the village, having moved here just one year ago from San Antonio. She has been active in the Woman's Club and the church choir and served as chairman of the mother-daughter tea. Mrs. Blount has two children, Bruce and Lisa.

Retiring president of the guild is Mrs. Rolland Wolfe. (S

Home and Garden Tour, May 26

Plum Grove Prepares for Visitors

While some over-anxious gardeners, with obviously black thumbs, were mourning the loss of their crops (a few tomato plants), potted geraniums and beds of impatience, all set out a bit too early to survive last week's freak snowfall and freezing temperatures, others with greener thumbs have now sprung into action.

They are readying not only their gardens, but the entire interiors of their homes for the home and garden tour in Plum Grove Estates.

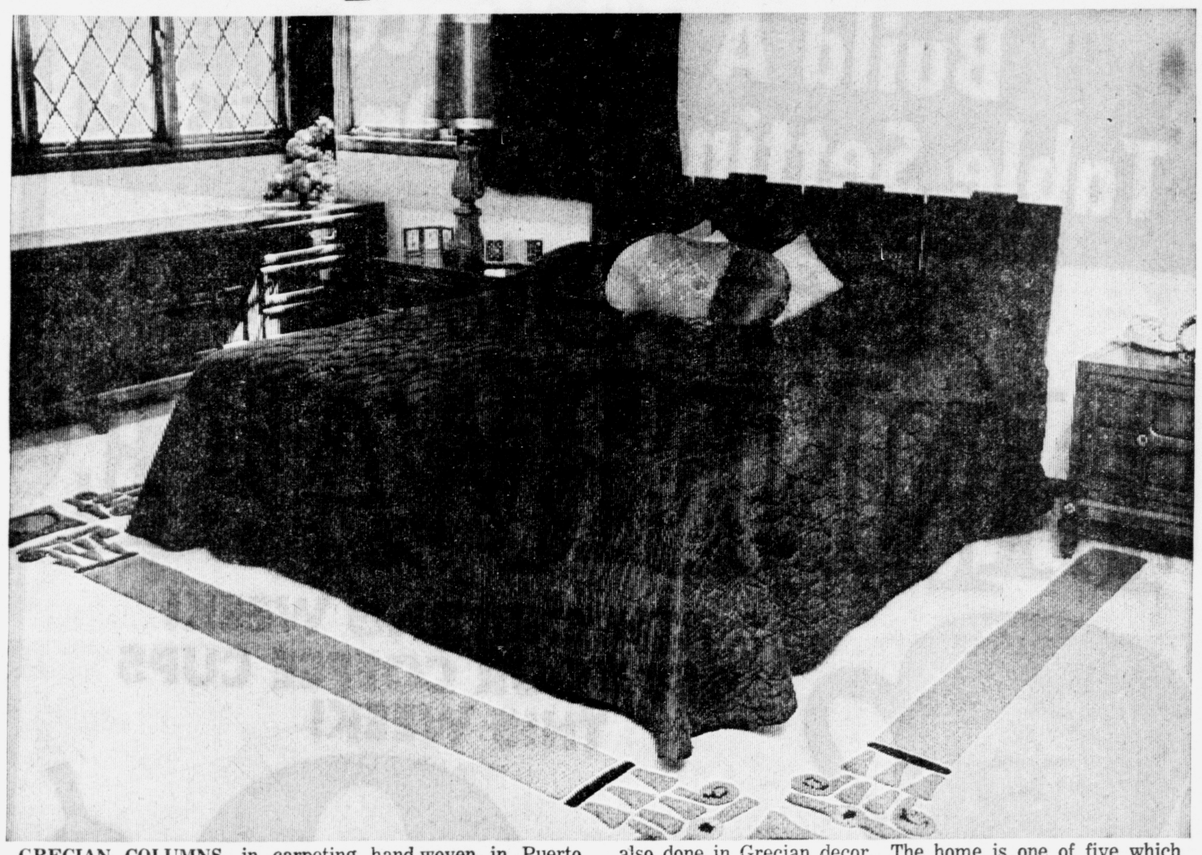
Flats of petunias, marigolds, begonias and other flowers already in bloom, are being delivered, planted and nursed with TLC at five selected Plum Grove homes, and all will be in readiness for the tour Thursday, May 26.

SPONSORED BY the Plum Grove Auxiliary, the tour is the second home and garden walk planned by the women. Their first endeavor was held two years ago when a crowd of more than 1,000 filed through the area which is located in unincorporated Palatine.

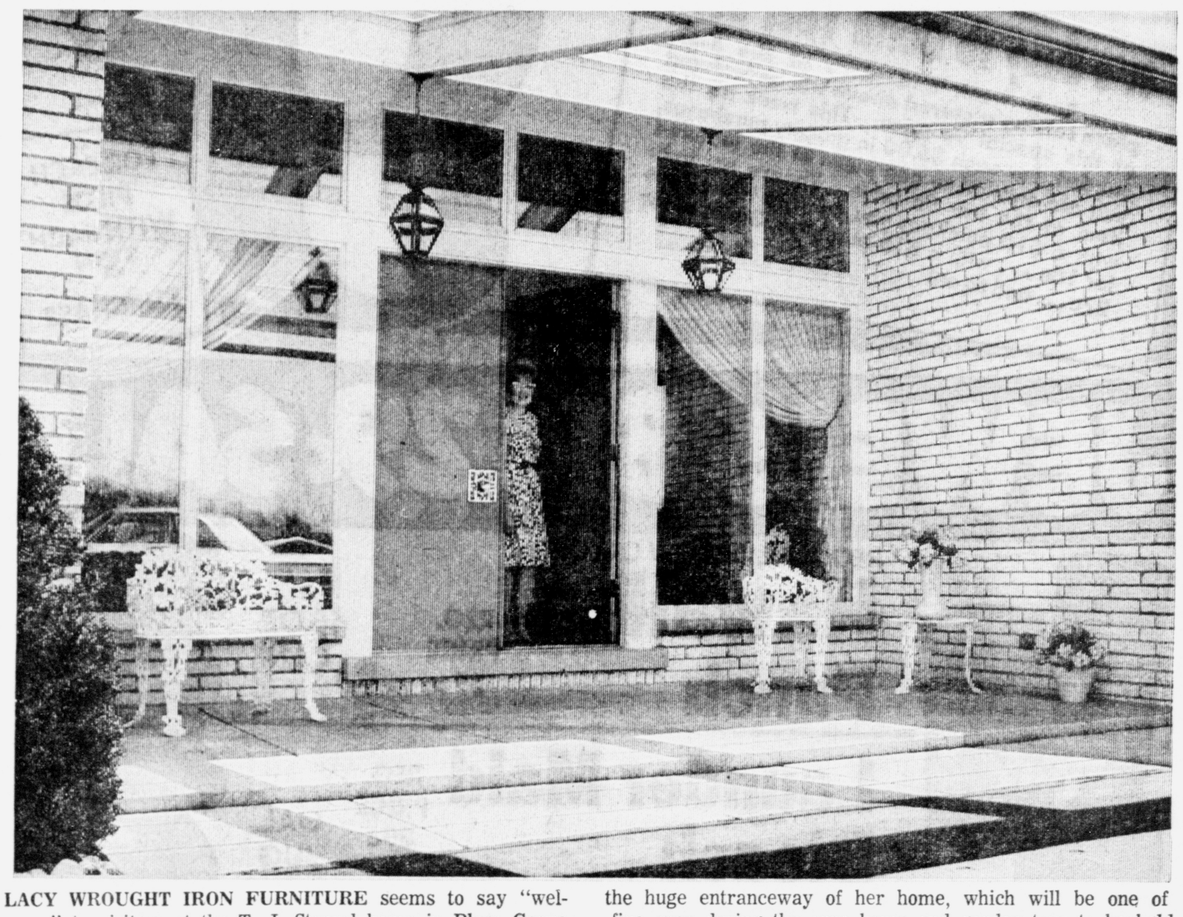
Homes for the tour were selected on the basis of attractiveness of decor, uniqueness of architecture and picturesque settings. Three of the homes, the homes of the Raymond Basaras, the Ralph Niederts and Frank E. Obeids, are split levels, while the homes of the Arthur Gleseners and T. J. Stenzels are ranch homes. All are luxuriously furnished and range from strictly contemporary to Italian Provincial. All have lavish patios and extensive landscaping.

Tours of the homes, open to the public, will begin at 10 a.m. and continue until 4 p.m. Tickets may be purchased for the tour alone or for the combination of tour and luncheon. Luncheon is being served in two sessions at the Plum Grove Club and reservations are requested by Saturday, May 21. Mrs. John Williams, 358-1878, may be contacted for tickets and reservations.

In charge of the tour is Mrs. Walter Block, who extends an invitation to all suburban women. (S



GRECIAN COLUMNS, in carpeting hand-woven in Puerto Rico, skirt the bed in the master suite in the home of the Raymond Basaras. Adjoining dressing room and bath are also done in Grecian decor. The home is one of five which will be opened to the public in Plum Grove Estates home and garden tour. (Staff photo)



LACY WROUGHT IRON FURNITURE seems to say "welcome" to visitors at the T. J. Stenzel home in Plum Grove Estates. Mrs. Stenzel greets friends at this double door at the huge entranceway of her home, which will be one of five open during the area home and garden tour to be held Thursday, May 26. (Staff photo)

St. Emily's To Install Officers

Five women from Mount Prospect-Des Plaines area were elected to office last week by the Altar and Rosary Society of St. Emily's Church, 1400 E. Central Road, Mount Prospect.

They include Mrs. Thomas L. Benge, Des Plaines, president; Mrs. Fred Turner, Des Plaines, vice president; Mrs. Frank Lombardo, Mount Prospect, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Carlson, Des Plaines, recording secretary; Mrs. Edgar Brookhouzen, Mount Prospect, corresponding secretary.

THE FIVE WILL be honored during an Installation Breakfast at Old Orchard Country Club Sunday morning following the 8:45 Mass.

All women of the parish and their daughters are invited to this annual breakfast. Reservations may be made with Mrs. Donald Froehlicher, CL 9-5060, or Mrs. Theodore Burzak, CL 9-1896. (S

Meadows Juniors Hold Banquet

The Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's Club held its annual banquet May 9 at the Old Orchard Country Club with Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Gordon Beckley, state junior director, Mrs. Martin Rauscher, Seventh district president, and Mrs. Daniel Wallner, junior director of the district, as special guests.

Highlight of the evening was the installation of the newly-elected officers by Mrs. Hendrickson. Installed for 2-year terms were Mrs. Gordon Black, president, Mrs. Walter Sergot, first vice president and Mrs. Gerald Fohlmeister, recording secretary.

Mrs. Black then announced her new committee chairmen for the forthcoming year: Mrs. Raymond Sielig, community achievement and public health and welfare; Mrs. Sergot, program and fine arts; Mrs. Sheldon Schulz, revisions and budget; Mrs. Charles Morgan, membership; press and publicity, Mrs. Joseph Hayer; social and courtesy and home and garden, Mrs. Paul Weinberg; ways and means, Mrs. Rudolph Schneider.

Membership pins were presented to the outgoing officers, Mrs. Sheldon Schultz, Mrs. Richard MacDuff and Mrs. Rudolph Schneider.

AWARDS RECEIVED by the Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's Club from the IFWC were: 100 per cent subscribed to the Illinois Club Woman Magazine, 100 per cent participation in Illinois Federated Woman's Clubs Projects.

The Juniors are now looking forward to a summer of pleasant activities with a family picnic planned for June, and their annual garden walk at a later date. Their monthly meeting will begin their new year in September and any women interested in varied and interesting civic, philanthropic and social activities are urged to attend these meetings. Mrs. Charles Morgan, membership chairman, can be reached at 255-7089 for further information.

Churchwomen Set Lunch Date

A salad bar luncheon for all women of the Community Presbyterian Church in Mount Prospect will be held Wednesday, May 25 at 12:45 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

Mrs. Warden Blair, play and book reviewer and dramatic reader, will review the novel about family life, "And Then There Were Eight," by Paul Molloy. In addition, the girls' singing group, The Vocales from Forest View High School, will give a program that was performed at the recent Presbyterian Women's Conference at Purdue University.

House and hostess co-chairmen of the church, Mrs. B. Lockett and Mrs. B. Shaw, are in charge of the luncheon.

Members of the Deborah Circle are making decorations. (S

Packing Advice For Travelers

Mary Gordon, TWA travel adviser, will discuss "The Travel Wardrobe" at a meeting for those who plan to tour Europe this summer. The program, under the sponsorship of the Maine Adult Evening School, will be held Monday at 8 p.m. in the faculty lounge of Maine East High School, Dempster Street and Potter Road, Park Ridge.

Additional information may be obtained by calling the office of Alexander Kruzel, director of adult education, Maine Township, 825-3435.

THE FORMER Constance Jean Beckway, a professional model and daughter of the L. V. Beckways, 421 Bristol Lane, Arlington Heights, was married recently in Our Lady of the Wayside Church to Richard S. Brusko, son of the Stephen Bruskos of Chicago. After a honeymoon in Las Vegas, the couple is residing in River Grove. The groom is a graduate of St. Procopius College and is a research chemist for Magnaflux Corp., Chicago.

SWEET AND SOUR MEAT BALLS

1 large onion, diced
1 tablespoon Spry
1 large can tomato sauce (family-size)
1 large can tomato puree
2 small crystals sour salt
Dash of pepper
2 cups sugar or more
1½ pounds ground beef
1 or 2 eggs
Little bread crumbs

Brown onion in Spry. Then add tomato sauce and puree. Add 1 tomato sauce can of water. Bring to a boil. Add the sour salt, pepper and enough sugar until the sauce gets a tart sweet-sour flavor.

Combine the ground beef, eggs and bread crumbs. Form into tiny meat balls and add to sauce. Cover and simmer over low flame for one hour.

Serves 12 for appetizers.

SOUR CREAM CAKE

½ cup Spry
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 pint commercial sour cream
2 cups cake flour, sifted
1 can shredded coconut
1 jar cinnamon-sugar mixture

Cream shortening and sugar together thoroughly. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition.

Add baking soda to sour cream. Add to the batter alternately with the flour. Blend well.

Grease a 9 by 13-inch pan and spinkle with coconut. Pour in batter. Sprinkle a thick coating of cinnamon-sugar mixture over the top. (You can make your own cinnamon-sugar mixture by using about a cup of sugar and enough cinnamon to get the proper cinnamon flavor and nice, brown color.)

Bake for one hour at 350 degrees. Serves 12.

This Ham Mousse Is Easy on Budget

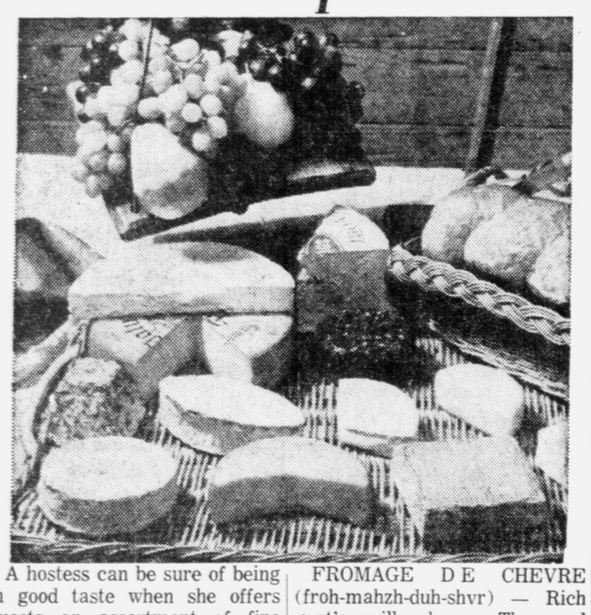
Budgets bother many homemakers when a dinner party's in the offing. With a wise choice of ingredients, plus ingenuity, they can keep the cost down and the enjoyment up. Such a dish is this Ham Mousse—ham zested with horseradish, mustard, and pickle relish. The nonfat dry milk base cuts both cost and calories. Deck with crisp watercress, ripe olives nestled in lettuce cups and tomato wedges.

HAM MOUSSE
(Makes 6 to 8 servings)

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatine
¾ cup cold water
1½ cups hot water
3 cups ground, cooked ham
1/3 cup sweet pickle relish
1 tablespoon grated horseradish
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon dry mustard
½ cup nonfat dry milk

Soften gelatine in ¼ cup of cold water. Let stand 5 minutes. Pour hot water into large bowl. Add softened gelatine. Chill until consistency of unbeaten egg white. Stir in ham, relish, horseradish, 1 tablespoon of the lemon juice, and mustard. Combine remaining ½ cup water and 1 tablespoon remaining lemon juice in 1-quart bowl. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk over surface of water. Beat with rotary beater or electric mixer about 8 to 10 minutes or until stiff. Fold into ham mixture. Oil a 1¼ quart mold. Fill with ham mixture. Chill 4 hours or until firm; unmold. If desired, garnish with watercress, parsley, ripe olives in lettuce cups, or tomato wedges. (SH

Cheese and Fruit— Perfect Companions



A hostess can be sure of being in good taste when she offers guests an assortment of fine French cheeses as a cheese or dessert course, or with coffee as a company refreshment. Crusty loaves of French bread, or the deliciously crisp biscottes from France, are excellent with any cheese tray. And there's nothing more attractive than colorful fruit.

FRENCH CHEESES

BRIE (bree) — A cow's milk cheese, soft, slightly salted.

PORT SALUT (pohr-sah-loo) — A pasteurized cheese, yellow, smooth and buttery. Similar to St. Paulin. Both used in cooking.

ROQUEFORT (rok-fohr) — Made of ewe's milk, streaked with green veins to give a deliciously tangy flavor.

FONDUE AUX RAISINS (fonduh-o-ra-sahn) — Another name for grape cheese, smooth with a delicate flavor. Crust is made from the pulp of grapes pressed for wine.

FROMAGE DE CHEVRE (froh-mahzh-duh-shvr) — Rich goat's milk cheese. The curd is white, with a mild flavor. A thin mould covers the rind.

CAPRICE DES DIEUX (kah-press-deh-duh) — Similar to Brie, creamier and more delicate.

CAMEMBERT (kah-mehm-behr) — Soft and easy to spread, has a robust flavor.

BONBEL (bohn-bel) — Similar to Port Salut. Good for cooking.

COULOMMIERS (koo-lo-m'se m'yeh) — Similar to Brie.

SAINT - PAULIN (sah-poh-lahn) — A cow's milk cheese with buttery consistency and thin rind.

PONT-L'EVEQUE (pohn-l'eh-l'eh-vek) — A square, yellow cheese with a hearty flavor.

CARRE DE L'EST (kah-reh-duh-l'est) — Made from pasteurized cow's milk. Softens on ripening. Has a buttery texture and milk flavor. (SH

Sweet-Sour Meatballs

Guaranteed to Whet Appetites!

by LOIS SEILER

The hors d'oeuvres we are featuring today will not only whet your appetite but will tempt you to make a complete meal of them!

They are sweet-sour meat balls prepared according to an authentic Jewish recipe. It is a favorite of Mrs. Charles L. Newman of 913 Beverly Drive, Wheeling.

"The meat balls are simple to make, yet delicious to taste," Mrs. Newman commented.

She makes a sauce of sauteed onion, tomato sauce and puree and seasons it with two small crystals of sour salt.

"The sour salt crystals can be purchased at Hillman's," she said, "and a little goes a long, long way."

TWO LITTLE crystals sour the sauce to such an extent that two cups of sugar or more must be added to give the sauce toothpicks to serve. Their savory sweet-sour flavor will a palatable sweet-sour flavor. Tiny meat balls are added, and they are simmered for an hour.

Mrs. Newman always makes the meat balls a day in advance to enhance their flavor. They can be prepared weeks ahead and frozen.

Polly Newman re-heats the meat balls in a chafing dish and they are speared with tempt guests to come back for more and more! Mrs. Newman always serves these appetizers for Thanksgiving or a high holiday dinner.

Another of this good cook's favorites is a delightful Sour Cream Cake. Easy to prepare, the batter contains a pint of sour cream which gives the cake a light and moist texture.

THIS RECIPE has two unusual features. Coconut is sprinkled on the bottom of the baking pan before the batter is poured in. Then a heavy coating of cinnamon and sugar is sprinkled over the top of the cake. The coconut is absorbed into the batter to give the cake a delicious flavor, while the cinnamon-sugar mixture forms a crispy crust as a topping and eliminates the need for frosting.

Because it is so flavorful, men as well as women enjoy this delicious cake. Mrs. Newman serves it for coffee parties and as a company or family dessert.

The Newmans moved from Chicago five years ago to their home in Wheeling. They have three sons: David, 17, a Wheeling High School senior; Billy, 14, a freshman, and Allan, 9, a third grader at Eugene Field School. Mrs. Newman works part time at Norman's Womens Apparel Shop in Randhurst.

Week's Best Food Buys

Beef is back as a major consummer value at more stores. Lamb promotions are on a limited basis with leg roasts low at 79 cents a pound, mostly 85 to 89 cents. Pork soars with retails advancing. Center cut chops, for example, are back to $1.09 a pound.

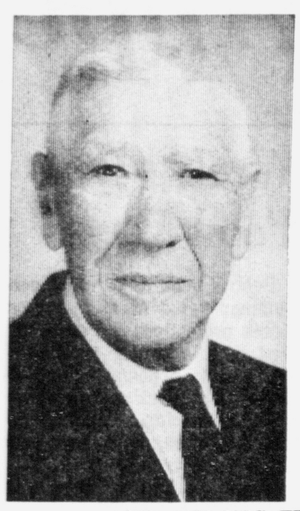
Couple Married 50 Years Recalls Fun of Yesteryear

Riding a horse-drawn trolley would likely be as much fun for the youth of today as it was 50 years ago for Frank and Lillian Peterson. For the Petersons' riding the trolley to the end of the line and back was one of the more popular forms of amusement. Today, the uniqueness of such a ride would surely make great entertainment.

But the Petersons also liked to hike and once trekked all the way to Elgin from their homes in Chicago. "Today's youth need 'wheels' to go around the corner" laughed Mr. Peterson, who also rides more than he walks nowadays.



MR. AND MRS. FRANK PETERSON

The couple recently observed their golden wedding anniversary with their family and all their attendants, including flower girl and ring bearer. Both born in Chicago, the couple met through Frank's cousin, and on April 22, 1916, they were married in the home of Lillian's parents.

DURING THEIR marriage Frank was employed for many years as a deputy regional auditor for the Kimball Piano Company, and for 20 years he was employed by the government. Not exactly retired even at 77 years of age, Frank still works for the government as a dollar-a-year man. Lillian is now 74.

For the past 10 years the Petersons have made their home in Palatine. Their immediate family consists of two daughters. Lorraine Johnson of Arlington Heights and her husband, Edward, and Betty Robinson of Sherman Oaks, Calif. and her husband, Stewart, and two granddaughters, Barbara and Donna Johnson, both college students.

Their anniversary party was held in the Swedish Club of Chicago where 53 guests, including friends from Colorado, Missouri, Michigan and Wisconsin, offered congratulations. (S

Book Review Club Winds Up Season

The final program of the season of the season for Palatine Book Review Club will be presented by Mrs. Merlin S. Berry of Western Springs on Tuesday, May 24. She will review Irving Stone's current best-seller, "Those Who Love," the story of John and Abigail Adams.

The luncheon will be served at 12:15 p.m. at Brandt's Restaurant, Palatine.

NEWLY - ELECTED officers of the club are Mrs. Henry E. Wood, secretary, and Mrs. Donald M. Fyfe, treasurer.

Next year's reviewers will include Mrs. Burton S. Pearsall of West Dundee, Mrs. James Todd of Morton Grove and Mrs. Merlin S. Berry of Western Springs, all returning from this season, and Mrs. Allen Hopkins of Mount Prospect.

PALATINE BOOK Review Club meets the fourth Tuesday of the month for luncheon and a review, next year's location to be changed to Long Grove Country Club.

Palatine area woman interested in membership may contact Mrs. Wood, 358-5064, or Mrs. Fyfe, 358-1117. (S

Ball Is Set for Saturday, May 21

St. Alexius to Hold Dedication Gala

The ground floor of the new St. Alexius hospital in Elk Grove Village will be converted into a colorful, balloon-filled ballroom Saturday, May 21, when the St. Alexius Hospital Auxiliary stages a Dedication Gala. Three adjoining assembly rooms will be used for the dancing as Chuck Cavallo and his orchestra provide the music.

The nearby cafeteria and day nursery will be utilized for serving beverages, and tables will also be set up in these areas.

Brother Gregory, C.F.A., hospital administrator, members of his staff and members of the Auxiliary will welcome the guests, who will have an opportunity to see the $7 million, 220-bed hospital before it officially opens.

ADVANCE SALE tickets may be purchased through Auxiliary members or by contacting the ticket chairman, Mrs. George Hansen at 392-1930. Tickets will also be available at the door.

Appropriate attire for the occasion will be cocktail dresses for the ladies and business suits for the men. Mrs. Robert King, chairman, may be contacted at TE 3-7154 for further information. (SSD

INVITING CAROL CHANNING, star of "Hello Dolly" to St. Alexius Hospital's Dedication Gala are Brother Gregory, C.F.A., hospital administrator, and Mrs. Robert King, chairman of the evening of dancing, which is set for Saturday, May 21. The party is sponsored by the hospital's Auxiliary and will be held on the ground floor of the hospital.

Infant Welfare Anticipates Annual Post, Paddock Party

Members and friends of Arlington Heights Infant Welfare Center are looking forward to Friday, June 3, when the group will stage its annual Post and Paddock Party at Arlington Heights.

Arlington's Infant Welfare was the first area group to whom the Post and Paddock, long known as a posh club for "blue bloods," ever opened its doors. That was back in 1961 and the Arlington Heights charity group has been hostessing its annual fund-raiser in the swank club ever since. Following closely on the heels of the Northwest Community Hospital Ball held last Saturday at the Post and Paddock and the Race track's Jockey club, many of the charity-minded will be making a second visit to the exclusive club.

Already reported a sell-out over previous years, the Infant Welfare has just been advised that facilities of the Classic Club will also be available for the evening. The party will again include an afternoon of racing beginning at 3:45 and viewed from the privacy of the Post and Paddock followed by a 6:30 p.m. cocktail hour, buffet dinner and dancing to the music of George Fanelli's orchestra.

THE 7:30 P.M. buffet will again include all the elegantly-prepared hot and cold gourmet foods for which the Post and Paddock chef, Max Egloff, is famous. The popular dessert table will also be on the bill of fare and three buffet tables will be set up to accommodate the hundreds of guests.

Attendance at the fashionable benefit is by invitation from Infant Welfare members. Dress is optional with many of the party-goers in formal attire and others in less formal ensembles as they attend the races and then go on to the evening party.

Serving as chairman of the party is the Infant Welfare's projects chairman, Mrs. A. N. Johnson, assisted by the Center's president, Mrs. James Mason, and the 20 other members of the group.

All proceeds from the benefit will go to the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago. Purpose of the charity is to provide prenatal care for needy mothers, professional care for children up to school age and to staff the Society's Child Guldance Center.

Besides financial aid, area Infant Welfare members, which also includes Centers in Mount Prospect and Palatine, donate their time to assist doctors and nurses in the stations. They also collect and donate clothing for mothers and children helped at the stations. (S

Arlington Heights Juniors List Years Achievements

Accomplishments in attaining its goals in philanthropy and service were reported by the Arlington Heights Junior Woman's Club at its May meeting.

Mrs. George Behrens, president, announced the distribution of $845 to more than one dozen local philanthropies. Some of the donations were for Northwest Community Hospital, St. Alexius Hospital, the partially sighted, Clearbrook School for Retarded, VFW, Community Council, Northwest Mental Health Clinic, DOOR, Golden Agers, Comas, Peru, Youth Week and a $200 college scholarship.

The club also gave some $900 to General Federation of Women's Clubs philanthropies.

A SUMMARY OF service projects was presented by Mrs. John Rustemeyer, first vice president, and her committee chairmen.

Mrs. Ray Crouch reported that the Senior Citizens Committee devoted its time to projects for the Arlington Heights Over 50 Club. Each month committee members served dessert at the Over 50 Club meeting, and they made favors for special occasions.

In May they gave a luncheon for more than 125 senior citizens. A trip to Don McNeil's Breakfast Club was planned and executed by this committee. Mrs. Robert Martin and the Gourmet Cooking Committee assisted in food preparations for the Senior Citizens.

THE YOUTH Committee, under the direction of Mrs. Robert Fletcher, coordinated the Arlington Heights Youth Week program with the village and the schools. Members also helped a local Mexican family with food baskets, clothing and Christmas and birthday gifts, collected cosmetics and gifts for Christmas and birthday gifts, the girls at Park Ridge School for Girls, presented teaching aids for Clearbrook School and gave tray favors for Little City and cookies for the boys of Lincoln Lodge.

Mrs. Leslie Graham reported that the Home and Garden Committee took cookies to the Arlington Heights Rest Home and made 20 stuffed toys for the ship Project HOPE. The Literature Committee sponsored the weekly Story Hour at the Arlington Heights Public Library, reported Mrs. Paul Kearney.

ACCORDING to Mrs. Larry Hogrefe, the Social Service Committee gave 150 hours of service by working in the Arlington Heights school's partially sighted rooms, manning TB units last summer, sponsoring Clearbrook School Art Exhibit for Countryside Gallery, making 40 bikini scarves for teens of the Indian Center in Evanston and making seven dozen hand puppets for St. Alexius Hospital juvenile patients.

The club now is assisting the village health department in sponsoring the pre-school visual testing program, which is under the direction of Mrs. Robert Nilson.

THE SEVENTH DISTRICT of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs cited the Arlington Juniors for outstanding achievements in service and philanthropy. Mrs. George Behrens was presented with an award for the highest total donation to teachers of exceptional children, award for highest per capita donation to teachers of exceptional children, award for outstanding achievement in stamp for Tubfrim program, award for highest donation to February Flair Project and award for outstanding achievement in the Shell Oil contest.

Mrs. Robert Fletcher, a club member, placed second in the state for her children's story.(S

First Ball Rolls Up Giant Success for Hospital

Formal Affair Draws Crowd Of Nearly 1,000

A black tie crowd of nearly 1000 area party-goers thronged the Post and Paddock Club and the Club House at Arlington Park Race Track Saturday evening for one of the largest and most festive benefits ever staged in the northwest suburbs.

Sponsored by Northwest Community Hospital, the gala affair was the culmination of months of planning, and included a cocktail hour, elaborate buffet, dancing to the music of Lou Breese and his orchestra and special entertainment. Success of the affair, first annual ball presented by the hospital, indicates that it will be one of the suburbs' social highlights in many years to come.

Huge, colorful ribbon balls added to the festiveness of the evening. Hung from the fixtures and decorating each table, the balls were created by Mrs. Robert Rich and Mrs. Edna Campbell and members of their committee.

THREE IDENTICAL buffet tables offered gourmet foods to tempt the appetites of even the most seasoned epicureans. Lobster, shrimp, beef, turkey, ham, cold meats, dozens of salads, cheeses and tables overflowing with the fanciest of desserts and pastries were included in the gourmet menu. All foods were prepared under the Post and Paddock head chef, Max Egloff. Candy stripers from the hospital helped with the serving at the buffet as did other club chefs. Mrs. C. S. Hansen headed the committee working with Mr. Egloff.

One of the highlights of the evening was the appearance of Jimmy "Schnozzle" Durante, an old time favorite of many in attendance. Jimmy's song and dance routines brought a standing ovation from the audience, after which "the Schnoz" led guests in a congo line. His derby hat was later auctioned off for $1000.

ENTERTAINMENT FOR the evening also included betting on filmed horse races with play money. By some co-incidence, the horses had the same names as hospital personnel and Auxiliary members, which added to the fun and excitement. Prizes, donated by area merchants, went to many of the winners.

Heading the executive committee planning the ball was Dr. Constantine S. Soter, who during the evening, presented bouquets of red roses to honorary chairmen, Mrs. William Ball, Mrs. A. C. Buehler, Mrs. Webb Everett and Mrs. William Pailey. Dr. John Brouhard served as vice chairman under Dr. Soter.

Other members of the executive committee were Dr. and Mrs. Robert W. Alfini, the William H. Balls, Mrs. Eugene Barnes, Mrs. Lowell Christy, Mrs. Ralph Clabaugh, Newell P. Crockett Jr., Mrs. Anthony Daley, Mrs. Frederick Hodgdon, Mrs. D. C. Jensen, Mrs. Pailey, Robert Y. Paddock, Mrs. Robert Rich, Earl K. Riley, Arlington Heights Village President John G. Woods and John J. Woods, former mayor of Rolling Meadows. (S

THE GEORGE HARRISES of Arlington Heights are often among the benefit-goers in the area, and were with a large group of friends at the Northwest Community Hospital Ball. A formal affair, the ball was held in the Post and Paddock and Arlington Park Jockey Clubs at Arlington Park.

FOR MAE BALL, THE MAY BALL given by Northwest Community Hospital was another charitable accomplishment. Active in several area benefit groups, Mrs. Ball was one of the honorary chairmen at Saturday's dinner dance. Here she table chats with her daughter, Betty, and Dennis Fitz-Patrick. (S

HAPPY SMILES OF THE Sig Hollingers, Plum Grove, reflect the happy mood that prevailed Saturday night in the Post and Paddock Club as Northwest Community Hospital presented its first annual ball. Nearly 1,000 guests dined on gourmet foods and danced to the music of Lou Breese and his orchestra.

AWAITING THEIR TURN at one of the buffut tables during Northwest Community Hospital's Benefit Ball are Mr. and Mrs. Richard Burkett of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Ralph Anderson Jr. of Plum Grove Estates ladles sauce from a huge ice bowl. Guests, representing all the area suburbs, dined on an elaborate buffet of gourmet foods.

IN A PARTY OF 10 at one of the 98 tables set up in Arlington Park Jockey Club for the Northwest Community Hospital Ball were Warren Lattof and Mrs. Robert Schultz of Arlington Heights. Guests bet on filmed races with play money and enjoyed a personal appearance of Jimmy Durante.

AAUW Conference Stresses Duties of Educated Women

The responsibilities and obligations of the educated woman as well as constructive ends for her unique resources were the dominant concept underlying the 19th Biennial Conference of the Northeast Central Region of the American Association of University Women. The conference was held at the Sherman House, May 6-7, and was attended by nearly 900 AAUW members from Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

More than 35 members of the Arlington Heights branch served as pages for the conference under the chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Toot, and co-chairmanship of Mrs. Charles A. Aldag. A 7-member voting delegation from the branch was led by President Mrs. Paul A. Davis.

MRS. JOHN P. Shannon of Billings, Mont., vice president of the North Pacific Region, established the theme of the role of the college trained woman in today's complex society in her keynote address, "Of Distaffs, Destinies, and Decisions." Continuing from another perspective in Friday's luncheon address, "Equal Before the Law," was Judge Willie M. Whiting, magistrate of the Circuit Court of Cook County, who discussed discrimination against women, both real and imagined, within the legal context.

Dr. Althea Hottel, former president of AAUW and current president of the International Federation of University Women, discussed "The Intellectual in a World of Revolution" at the Friday evening banquet.

CLIMAXING THE list of distinguished speakers was Saturday's luncheon speaker, The Honorable Esther Peterson, assistant secretary of Labor, whose subject was "A Forward Look at American Women."

Other highlights of the conference included special interest sessions held Friday afternoon, covering such AAUW concerns as "Education—An Antidote to Poverty," "The Law and the Citizen," "Revolution in Modern China," and "Science —A Creative Discipline," as well as fellowships, legislation, membership, publicity, program development and creative techniques of implementation. Judith Lundeen of Rockford Is Burkhard Geissler's Bride

In a ceremony on April 9 in Gordon Chapel of Second Congregational Church, Rockford, Burkhard Geissler of Arlington Heights took the former Judith Anne Lundeen as his bride.

The Rudi Geisslers of 1727 N. Rand Road, parents of the groom, were present for the wedding as was the groom's brother, Ulrich Geissler, who served as best man.

Two friends of the groom, Richard Anderson of Arlington Heights and Roger Helser of Urbana were also in the wedding party.

THE BRIDE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene P. Lundeen Jr. of Rockford, was attended by three of her friends, Cathy Thompson as maid of honor and Beatrice Ennett and Mrs. Charles Pycha as bridesmaids.

For her wedding day, the bride wore a candlelight gown of peau de soie with a fitted bodice, bateau neckline and a chapel train, accented with chantilly lace trim. A plateau of English illusion tea leaves held her veil in place, and she carried a bouquet of ivy, white glamellias and stephanotis.

Her attendants were gowned alike in coral colored chiffon over pale jonquil taffeta.

THE NEWLYWEDS both attend the University of Illinois, the bride in graduate school and the groom a senior student. He is a member of Sigma Pi Fraternity.

The bride received a degree in journalism at the U of I and was affiliated with Alpha Omicron Pi Sorority as an undergraduate student. She is copy and continuity chief for WKID radio station in Urbana while doing graduate work.

The couple is residing in Urbana. (S PROUD MOTHER, Mrs. Earl Eaton stands by side of her son, David, as he accepts a scholastic award of $150 from Mrs. Michael Valenza and Mrs. Rodger Chindberg of Meadowbrook Woman's Club, which offered the award. David, a senior at Wheeling High School and one of the Eatons' four sons, expects to study political science and law. First place winner was Steven Groot whose name was withdrawn when he received a full scholarship from another group. (S

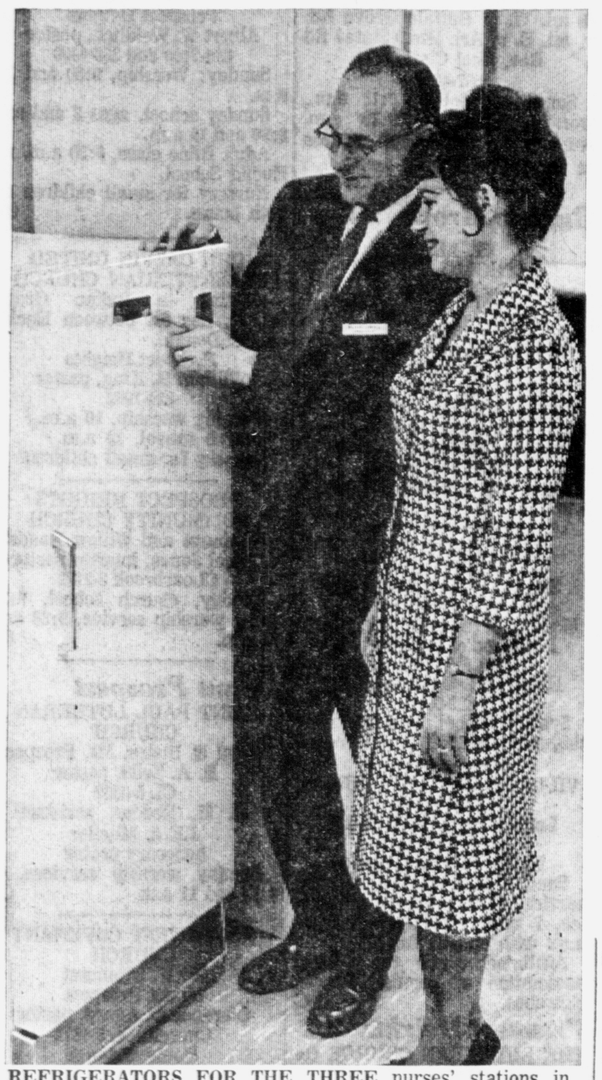
Palatine Juniors Allocate Gifts Totaling $2,100



REFRIGERATORS FOR THE THREE nurses' stations in new addition of Northwest Community Hospital were purchased with donation of $540 from Palatine Junior Woman's Club. The club's contributions to the hospital in previous years total more than $3,000. Alan B. Campbell, hospital administrator, points out donor identification plate to Mrs. William Heise, president of Palatine Juniors.

AUDIOMETER PURCHASED with funds donated by Palatine Junior Woman's Club to Community Consolidated School District 15, is "tested" by Billy Murphy as his mother, Mrs. William Murphy, kibitzes, and Mrs. Martha Loss, director of Health Service for the district, operates the equipment. A $400 gift to the district also included a movie film. The club also allocated $50 to each of the three Palatine parochial schools, which have received funds from the Juniors since 1960. Still another donation of $510 was donated to Palatine Public Library, which was used to purchase 170 records for the Children's Room.

UP THE LADDER, aided by Palatine Juniors, goes Miss Janet Bollinger, who received the club's $500 scholarship. Miss Bollinger, who receives congratulations from Ray Mills, guidance director, and Mrs. Frank Kozlicki, allocations chairman, will study liberal arts at Bradley University. This is the club's third year in awarding a scholarship to a Palatine graduate.

'King for a Day' Banquet Fetes Bethel Adopted Dads

"King for a Day" in huge letters and a paper facsimile of a huge crown decorated the stage of the Masonic Temple in Arlington Heights as Bethel 103, Job's Daughters, Arlington Heights, celebrated "Adopted Dads' Night" May 11. The dads, all members of the Arlington Heights Masonic Lodge, had been adopted at the beginning of the present term, and the "daughters" did not reveal themselves until the banquet.

Greeting cards and surprise gifts had been sent to the "dads" during the term and at the banquet each was presented a carnation boutonniere. The girls wore corsages. Part of the program included a song by the girls.

IN ATTENDANCE was Mrs. Carol Schaetzlein of Arlington Heights, past guardian of the bethel and junior past grand guardian of Illinois. Miss Janet Olsen of Mount Prospect, a member of the bethel choir, was introduced as the state's new grand representative to Arkansas, having received this appointment at the recent annual grand session of the International Order.

The group's next meeting has been set for Wednesday, May 25 when election of officers will be held. Miss Sue Heilig honored queen, announced that Sunday, May 29, will be her "Go to Church Sunday" with members meeting at 10:15 a.m. at Our Saviour Lutheran Church Arlington Heights. For June, a proficiency test has been slated, according to the junior past honored queen, Miss Marva Jean Huizenga. (S

Peter D. Swanson Marries Indiana Girl on April 30th

While working on the editorial staff of the Evansville Press in Indiana, Peter Douglas Swanson of Arlington Heights met Patricia Ann Williams, whose home is Hammond, and the couple's romance culminated in marriage on April 30 in the Covenant United Presbyterian Church of Hammond.

Mrs. Paul Swanson of 121 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, saw her son married there at 4:30 in the afternoon, and the Swanson family's pastor, Dr. Paul Louis Stumpf of Arlington Heights' First Presbyterian Church, assisted the Covenant church pastor in the double ring ceremony.

DR. JOHN EASTWOOD performed the rites, after which 120 guests greeted the newlyweds at a buffet supper in the church fellowship hall.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James O. Williams of Hammond. She is a graduate of Indiana University and is employed at Evansville Press as a reporter and feature writer.

The groom, a graduate of Arlington High School and the University of Illinois, is a sports writer for Evansville Sunday Courier and Press.

FOR HER wedding day, the bride chose a gown first worn by her aunt in 1948 and a veil borrowed from a family friend, who wore it in 1938. The dress was of eggshell satin with an embroidered high neckline, long sleeves, a gathered skirt and long train. The veil of matching eggshell illusion was held in place by a braided satin band.

With her bridal ensemble she carried a Job's Bible covered with a spray of white roses.

HER TWO sisters, Mrs. Paul Kreiger of Indianapolis and Mrs. James Benko of Highland, Ind., were her only attendants, both attired in lime green taffeta dresses which were street length. They wore beige hats and shoes and carried white mums tied with green ribbons. Mrs. Kreiger was matron of honor, Mrs. Benko the bridesmaid.

James Dresmal of Evanston was best man, and Jerry Kouzmanoff of Arlington Heights was the bridesmaid's escort. He also helped Robert Daniels of Elyria, Ohio, and James Benko of Highland with ushering duties.

FOR THE LATE afternoon festivities, the bride's mother wore a green lace dress, bone colored accessories, a flowered hat and orchid corsage.

Mrs. Swanson chose an aqua silk dress with matching accessories, a coral colored hat and an orchid corsage.

The newlyweds went to Florida for a 10-day honeymoon and are now back in Evansville, living at 1920 Washington St. (S

VITIATED (adjective); spoiled; corrupted; rendered invalid. (Pronounce vish-i-ait-ed, accent first syllable). "Years of corrupt government had left the country in a vitiated condition."

ANTIPODAL; on opposite sides of the earth. (Accent second syllable). "Missionaries were sent to several antipodal countries in the Orient."

B'nai B'rith Will Pick Name Tonight

What's in a name? Quite a bit when the name is for the new B'nai B'rith chapter recently organized in the northwest suburbs. The next meeting will be held tonight, (Thursday), at 8:30 in the home of Mrs. Joan Worthman, 397 Glenlake Circle, Hoffman Estates.

The program for the evening includes a contest for the name of the chapter, elections of officers and plans for the installation.

Anyone interested in belonging to B'nai B'rith in the northwest suburbs may contact Mrs. Mrs. Sherwin Spector, 437-4553 or Mrs. Lawrence Graff, 529-4778. (SSD

Arlington Pair Married In Small Family Wedding

A portion of the Easter gospel was the Rev. W. B. Streufert's address to Elsa Christine Rehfuss and Thomas C. Cousins when they were married the Saturday before Easter Sunday in St. John Lutheran Church, Mount Prospect. The wedding was private with only the immediate families in attendance.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Karl Rehfuss of Chicago and the groom is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard A. Cousins of Arlington Heights. The reception was held in the Arlington Heights home of the bridal couple at 623 E. Golf Road, after which the newlyweds left on a flight to St. Petersburg, Fla., for a week's honeymoon.

PINK AND WHITE carnations and glads decorated the church as the bride and groom, together, approached the altar. The bride's choice in wedding gown was an all-silk, white floor-length gown with shirred bodice and empire banding. Rose lace appliques accented the scooped neckline and the lowered waist. The three-quarter sleeves were shirred just below the elbow. Her double-tiered illusion veil was held in place with a princess crown of pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet with a white orchid center.

Miss Linda Rehfuss of Hyden, Ky. served as her sister's only attendant, and Charles Dietz of Racine served as the groom's attendant. Miss Rehfuss wore a floor-length deep chiffon gown and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations. The bride's mother was in a pink crepe jacket ensemble with white gardenia corsage.

The new Mrs. Cousins, a teacher in St. Peter Lutheran School in Arlington Heights, was graduated from Luther High School North and Concordia Teachers College in Seward, Neb. Mr. Cousins was also graduated from Luther High North and Northwestern University. He is an electronics engineer with the Vap-Air Division of Vapor Corp., Skokie. (Arlington Portrait (S Luncheon reservations should be made with Mrs. Andrew, 255-1346. (S

Sorority Spring Activities

BETA SIGMA PHI

Installation of new officers was held at the last meeting of Nu Alpha Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Installed as president was Mrs. James Gillette of Elk Grove Village.

Other officers installed were Miss Mary Lou Hogate of Arlington Heights, first vice president; Miss Zelda Keedy, Des Plaines, second vice president; Miss Debbie Coward, Arlington Heights, treasurer; Miss Marge Herz, Palatine, recording secretary; Miss Ann Schmitt, Arlington Heights, corresonding secretary; and Miss Elaine Kelly, Park Ridge, extension officer.

Among those receiving the Ritual of Jewels following the installation was Miss Carla Ferris of Arlington Heights.

NU ALPHA members served as hostesses to Xi Epsilon Theta, Lambda Delta and Phi Gamma Phi chapters at the 35th Beta Sigma Phi Founders' Day Banquet held at Chevy Chase Country Club April 20. Guest at the dinner was Miss Maryann Ream of the Hope School in Springfield, who accepted a check from the four chapters. The check represented proceds from the sorority's second annual Sweetheart Danc held in February.

Included in the program were resumes of the year given by four members from each chapter, and the celebration concluded with a ritual given to Lambda Delta's newest pledges.

Kappa Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will hold its final meeting of the year today (Thursday) at the home of Mrs. Ramona Nemeth.

The program for the evening will be a review of the chapter's history and a general discussion on Beta Sigma Phi.

Installation of new officers was held May 5 at the home of Mrs. Jeanette Rhoback.

The chapter will hold a square dance June 4 at Northwest Suburban YMCA in Des Plaines. Lloyd Larsen will be caller. Proceeds from this affair and from the recent hat party will be used for Lydia Children's Home, Sequin School for Mentally Retarded and Hope School for the Blind and Handicapped.

Further information about the square dance may be obtained by calling 824-3057.

SIGMA KAPPA

Sigma Kappas will try their hands at unusual floral and fruit arrangements when they meet for a salad luncheon next Monday at 1 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Roy Nelson, 211 Willow, Elk Grove Village. All Sigma Kappas in the area are invited to attend.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. David Crockatt, CL 3-2474.

GAMMA PHI BETA

Mrs. Richard Mueller, president of Northwest Suburban Alumnae of Gamma Phi Beta, will open her Palatine home Wednesday, May 25, at 8 p.m. for the last general meeting of the year. She will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas McGlynn of Palatine.

The business meeting will be followed by a social evening of bridge.

All Gamma Phi Betas new to the area are invited to contact Mrs. Mueller, FL 9-0555.

Summer plans include a golf outing in June and a couples party at Round Lake in July, according to Mrs. John Harpham of Park Ridge, social chairman.

PHI MU

Members of Phi Mu Northwest Suburban Alumnae Club will meet for lunch at the Milk Pail near Elgin at noon Thursday, May 19. Mrs. Chester Davis, Arlington Heights, is in charge of arrangements for the meeting, and Phi Mus new to this area may call her at 392-0237 for information.

The following officers have been elected to serve for 1966-67: President, Mrs. Paul Wallem; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. R. E. Fournier; social service chairman, Mrs. E. H. Cushing; news chairman, Mrs. F. M. Brasch; membership, Mrs. J. R. Diehl; Pan-Hellenic delegate, Mrs. H. D. McLendon Jr.

DELTA DELTA DELTA

The annual pansy luncheon of the Northwest Suburban Alumnae Chapter of Delta Delta Delta was held yesterday (Wednesday) in the home of Mrs. George Wahlborg, Park Ridge. A special feature of the day was the sale and display of pansy plants, the official flower of Tri Delta.

Co-hostesses for the day were Mrs. Edward Dee and Mrs. Charles Dean, both of Park Ridge.

Installation of officers followed luncheon with Mrs. Roger Steele, Mount Prospect, continuing as president. Other new officers for the 1966-67 year are Mrs. Robert Chapin, Park Ridge, vice president; Mrs. Fred Lyons, Park Ridge, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert corresponding secretary, and Mahaney, Rolling Meadows, Mrs. Rodney Antrim, Arlington Heights, treasurer. when you're really free...

You find that nothing can separate you from the love of God . . . that in Him everything is limitless and complete . . . that man in His image is spiritually whole and pure. You find it through prayer and consecration to Truth. It transforms your life. "For the law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus hath made me free from the law of sin and death" (Rom. 8). Hear a public lecture on this subject by PAUL K. WAVRO, C.S.B., member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Title: "How Christian Science Brings Freedom from Limitation."

Suburban Living

Especially for Women

HUGE PAPER ROSES brightened the scene when the Junior Board of Park Ridge School for Girls gathered recently in Maxim's de Paris of Astor Tower Hotel, Chicago, to discuss plans for its June 18 "Bal des Fleurs" to be held at Lake Forest Academy. Local board members involved in the event are Mrs. Lawrence W. Littig of Palatine, Mrs. Robert Hayes of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Alan Appleton of Palatine.

ENGAGEMENTS

Joan Skibbe

Miss Joan Skibbe of Mount Prospect and Carl Stephen Tomoff, son of Mrs. Milan A. Tomoff of Oak Park, Mich., will be married Aug. 27 in St. Mark Lutheran Church, according to Mr. and Mrs. William C. Skibbe of 113 N. Prospect Manor.

The engaged pair received master's degrees April 30 from the University of Michigan. Miss Skibbe is a graduate of Prospect High School and has her bachelor of science degree from Michigan, where she was affiliated with Alpha Xi Delta Sorority.

Carolyn Genevich

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Genevich of 626 S. Highland Ave., Arlington Heights, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carolyn Ann, to Daniel L. Dieter, son of the L. W. Dieters of 2303 Grouse Lane, Rolling Meadows.

The couple will be married Sept. 24.

Both are graduates of Arlington High School, Miss Genevich now employed by Montgomery Ward's in Mount Prospect and her fiance stationed in Laredo, Tex., with the U.S. Air Force.

GATHERING IN OLD ORCHARD Country Club last week for the spring luncheon of the Panhellenic Association were Mrs. Clifford Cooper of Mount Prospect, Mrs. Warren Fellingham, Inverness, and Mrs. D. M. Lee, Mount Prospect. The luncheon ended the club year for the group, who also heard Lillian Budd give a review of her book, "One Heart One Way." (S FLANKED BY HER CORPS of officers, Mrs. Thomas McCormick of Mount Prospect, center, lunched following the installation of Northwest Suburban Area Panhellenic Association officers last week in Old Orchard. With her are Mrs. George Vitoux, Arlington Heights, vice president; Mrs. Richard Swob, Mount Prospect, treasurer; Mrs. Verne Whitnell, Arlington Heights, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. John Bannister, Mount Prospect, recording secretary. (S

A TITLEHOLDER ALREADY is Mary Eileen Flavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flavin of 1924 Rosehill Drive, Arlington Heights. The nine-month-old miss, shown with her mother, was crowned Princess Mary Eileen in a baby photo contest conducted by MacNeal Memorial Hospital, Berwyn, where she was born last Aug. 8. The contest is a part of the program of the MacNeal Babies Auxiliary. Mary Eileen received a $25 U.S. Savings Bond as one of four winners.

Karen Heisig

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Karen, to Jerome T. Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Phillips of Palatine, are Mr. and Mrs. Garth J. Heisig, 365 S. Elmwood Lane, Palatine.

Miss Heisig is a graduate of Palatine High School and Mr. Phillips is an alumnus of Taft High School.

The couple is planning an August wedding.

Missioners Are Lunch Speakers

Dr. and Mrs. John Guyer, Presbyterian missionaries in Thailand for the past 14 years, will speak to the women of Arlington Heights First Presbyterian Church's Women's Association Wednesday, May 25. Their talk will follow the 12:30 luncheon in Fellowship Hall.

The Guyers, active in the growth of McCormick Hospital in Chieng Mai, Thailand, will show slides of their work at the hospital.

Reservations for the luncheon and nursery service should be made by Monday, May 23, at the church office. (S

Diana Schroeder

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Schroeder of Arlington Heights announce the engagement of their daughter, Diana, to Raymond J. Dyba, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dyba, also of Arington Heights.

Miss Schroeder was graduated from Arlington High School and Western Illinois University where she was affiliated with Delta Zeta Sorority. She is presently teaching in Elk Grove Village. Mr. Dyba is a graduate of Lane Tech High School and is employed at R. R. Donnelly in Chicago.

The couple has not set a wedding date.

Evelyn Hood

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hood of Wheaton are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Evelyn Kay, to Steven C. Evans, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Evans of Long Grove.

The couple has set a June 25 wedding date.

Miss Hood attended Manchester College in North Manchester, Ind., and is now a music coordinator for Wheaton elementary schools. Her fiance attended the University of Illinois and is employed by Lyons Band Instrument Co., Chicago. (S

Lesley Wilson

A Sept. 10 wedding is planned by Miss Lesley Rae Wilson and Stephen Charles Yeaton, son of Mrs. Charlotte Lewis of Jamesville, N. Y. The couple's engagement and approaching marriage is announced by Miss Wilson's parents, the Melvin Wilsons, 1257 Carswell Ave., Elk Grove Village.

Miss Wilson and Mr. Yeaton are both employed in the CEPD Division of the Ampex Corp., Elk Grove Village.

St. Thomas Club Sets Communion Breakfast Date

Sunday, May 22, is the date set for the annual spring communion breakfast of the St. Thomas of Villanova Catholic Women's Club. All the women of the parish are invited to the 9 a.m. mass and to receive communion in a group.

The breakfast will be held after the 9 o'clock mass at the Long Grove Country Club. Outgoing club officers will be honored, and new officers will be installed by Rev. Francis Waldron, spiritual advisor of the group. New officers for the 1966-67 club year are: president, Mrs. Edward Zander; first vice president, Mrs. Edward Finlay; second vice president, Mrs. Allen Bell; treasurer, Mrs. Rudolph Starai; corresponding secretary, Mrs. William Ritter; recording secretary, Mrs. Albert Shellander. (S

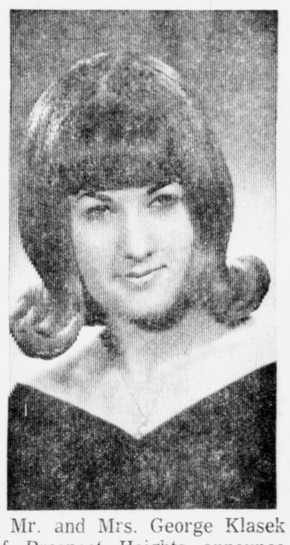
Barbara Pettersen

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pettersen of Inverness announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Ann, to Stephen Burdsall Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Hunter Hicks, also of Inverness.

Miss Pettersen is a senior at the University of Wisconsin and Mr. Hicks is a senior at the University of Arizona.

A July wedding is planned.

Karen Francl



Mr. and Mrs. George Klasek of Prospect Heights announce the engagement of their daughter, Karen Jean Francl, to Julius Anthony Pryor, son of Mrs. Alma Pryor of Orlando, Fla.

An Aug. 20 wedding is planned.

Miss Francl is a '65 graduate of Prospect and is now employed at Charles Bruning Co., where her fiance also works.

SELF ANALYSIS QUIZ

How Wisely Do You ntluence The Man In Your Life?

by Jane Sherrod Singer

Men and women are different! The sexes react differently, think differently and society puts pressures on each which broadens the gap. Since we do live together, an intelligent woman knows how to put her own ideas and needs across in a constructive, peaceful, permanent way.

	YES	NO
1. Do you believe men look at themselves as critically as women do?	( )	( )
2. Are women more prone to apologize and to admit error than men?	( )	( )
3. Has our complex society made life easier for men than for women?	( )	( )
4. Are women more competitive than men?	( )	( )
5. Do men have more opportunities to feel successful than women?	( )	( )
6. Are women more perceptive than men?	( )	( )
7. Do you feel it is effective to "shock" the man in your life with criticism, suggestions or threats?	( )	( )
8. Do you use physical affection as a means to get your way?	( )	( )
9. Can you smile inwardly when he claims one of your ideas as his own?	( )	( )
10. Can you graciously, sincerely give praise when it is due to the man in your life?	( )	( )

DESIRABLE ANSWERS:

1. No. Men, brought up to be strong, tend to feel that any flaw they find in themselves might be weakness. Therefore, they are not as self-analytical as women.
2. Yes. And for the same reason as above.
3. No. Men of today are surrounded by pressures of success, usually of a business and monetary nature. They are haunted by status symbols and the need for better and more, material things. Any failure in his capacity to be a man, e.g. his sexual capacity, job, athletic prowess, is likely to leave him feeling he is a failure.
4. No. Even as children, boys are more dominant than girls. Males tend to be aggressive in order to protect their ego and more resentful of discipline.
5. No. In most societies, a woman has many more outlets in which to find success - housekeeping, civic affairs, motherhood, hobbies - than a man. In the pattern of being a man, his usual yardstick is his accomplishments in business.
6. Yes. Psychological evidence points to the fact that women are more sensitive, more perceptive and intuitive than men. Male intelligence is more systematic, logically and graphic than womans.
7. No. Timing and approach are vital. Pose your ideas wisely - after dinner when there is no great rush, or after a movie that perhaps has the ingredients of the situation you wish to change. Use the positive approach remembering the male psyche with which you are dealing. (Read answers 1 through 6 again.)
8. No. The use of physical affection as a reward - or-punishment is an infantile approach to a problem. Warmth and affection must be natural. You are dealing with a human being, not training a seal to jump through a hoop.
9. Yes. Because men need to be masterful, anything they wish to do willingly they usually think is of their own choosing. When the man in your life, takes your ideas as his own, be pleased. You have been a great artist in your subtle salesmanship.
10. Yes. You know how much praise means to you. For most men it is doubly valued because of their intense need to have their drive of success (with its few outlets) satisfied.

A Day of Fun for 'Y' Volunteers

A BIRD IN A GILDED CAGE brightened each table at the recent Northwest Suburban YMCA Women's Auxiliary luncheon at Old Orchard Country Club. Seen with two of the centerpieces, volunteer chairman Mrs. Kenneth Lovering congratulates Mrs. Alfred Stier of Mount Prospect, who became the new president of the group. Auxiliary members give service in all phases of "Y" activities, such as poor guarding and staffing the locker and health rooms during women's program hours, running the nursery and helping with handicapped swim classes. (Staff photo)

TWO OF THE "Y" MERMAID MAMAS weren't in their usual pool attire when they appeared at the recent Northwest Suburban YMCA Women's Auxiliary annual luncheon. Mrs. Allen Mason of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Harry McIntyre of Palatine are members of the women's synchronized swim group associated with the auxiliary. Their annual water ballet show nets proceeds for the "Y" as does the auxiliary's operation of the Snack Bar and annual Pancake Day. Plaudits went to Mrs. Walter Barnett, Mount Prospect, who is Snack Bar chairman, and to Mrs. Donald Mead, Arlington Heights, who has been ways and means chairman.

Only 3 Hours from Chicago

NOW A REALITY!

A Spectacularly Beautiful Spring-Fed Lake
Conveniently Close...Strikingly Different

Lake Redstone

Where You Can Own Land Now
For The Second Home Of Your Dreams

a development of The Branigar Organization, Inc.

The fragrance of stately pines and hemlocks makes one forget that urban centers are truly only a short drive away.

Nature's Splendid Gift... Lake Redstone

Who Could Believe That Such Natural Magnificence Could Exist In The Heart Of The Chicago-Madison-Milwaukee Playground!

Where else, within hundreds of miles, could you find vistas as clean and unspoiled as these? In the midst of so many overdeveloped lakes, Lake Redstone is a miracle indeed, with natural beauties kept intact.

This can be your homesite! Imagine the joy of waking in the morning to the happy song of birds, then taking a quick dip in the sparkling clear waters of your lake. There's a site at Lake Redstone waiting for you.

Rock formations such as these, pure beauty and grandeur, are a common sight at Lake Redstone. You can choose from land with beautiful craggy formations, or gently sloping land with quiet beach frontage right on the lake.

THIS IS THE YEAR YOUR DREAMS COME OF AGE...THIS IS THE YEAR OF Lake Redstone

SHOULD YOUR FAMILY ENJOY THE BENEFITS AND PLEASURES OF A SECOND HOME?

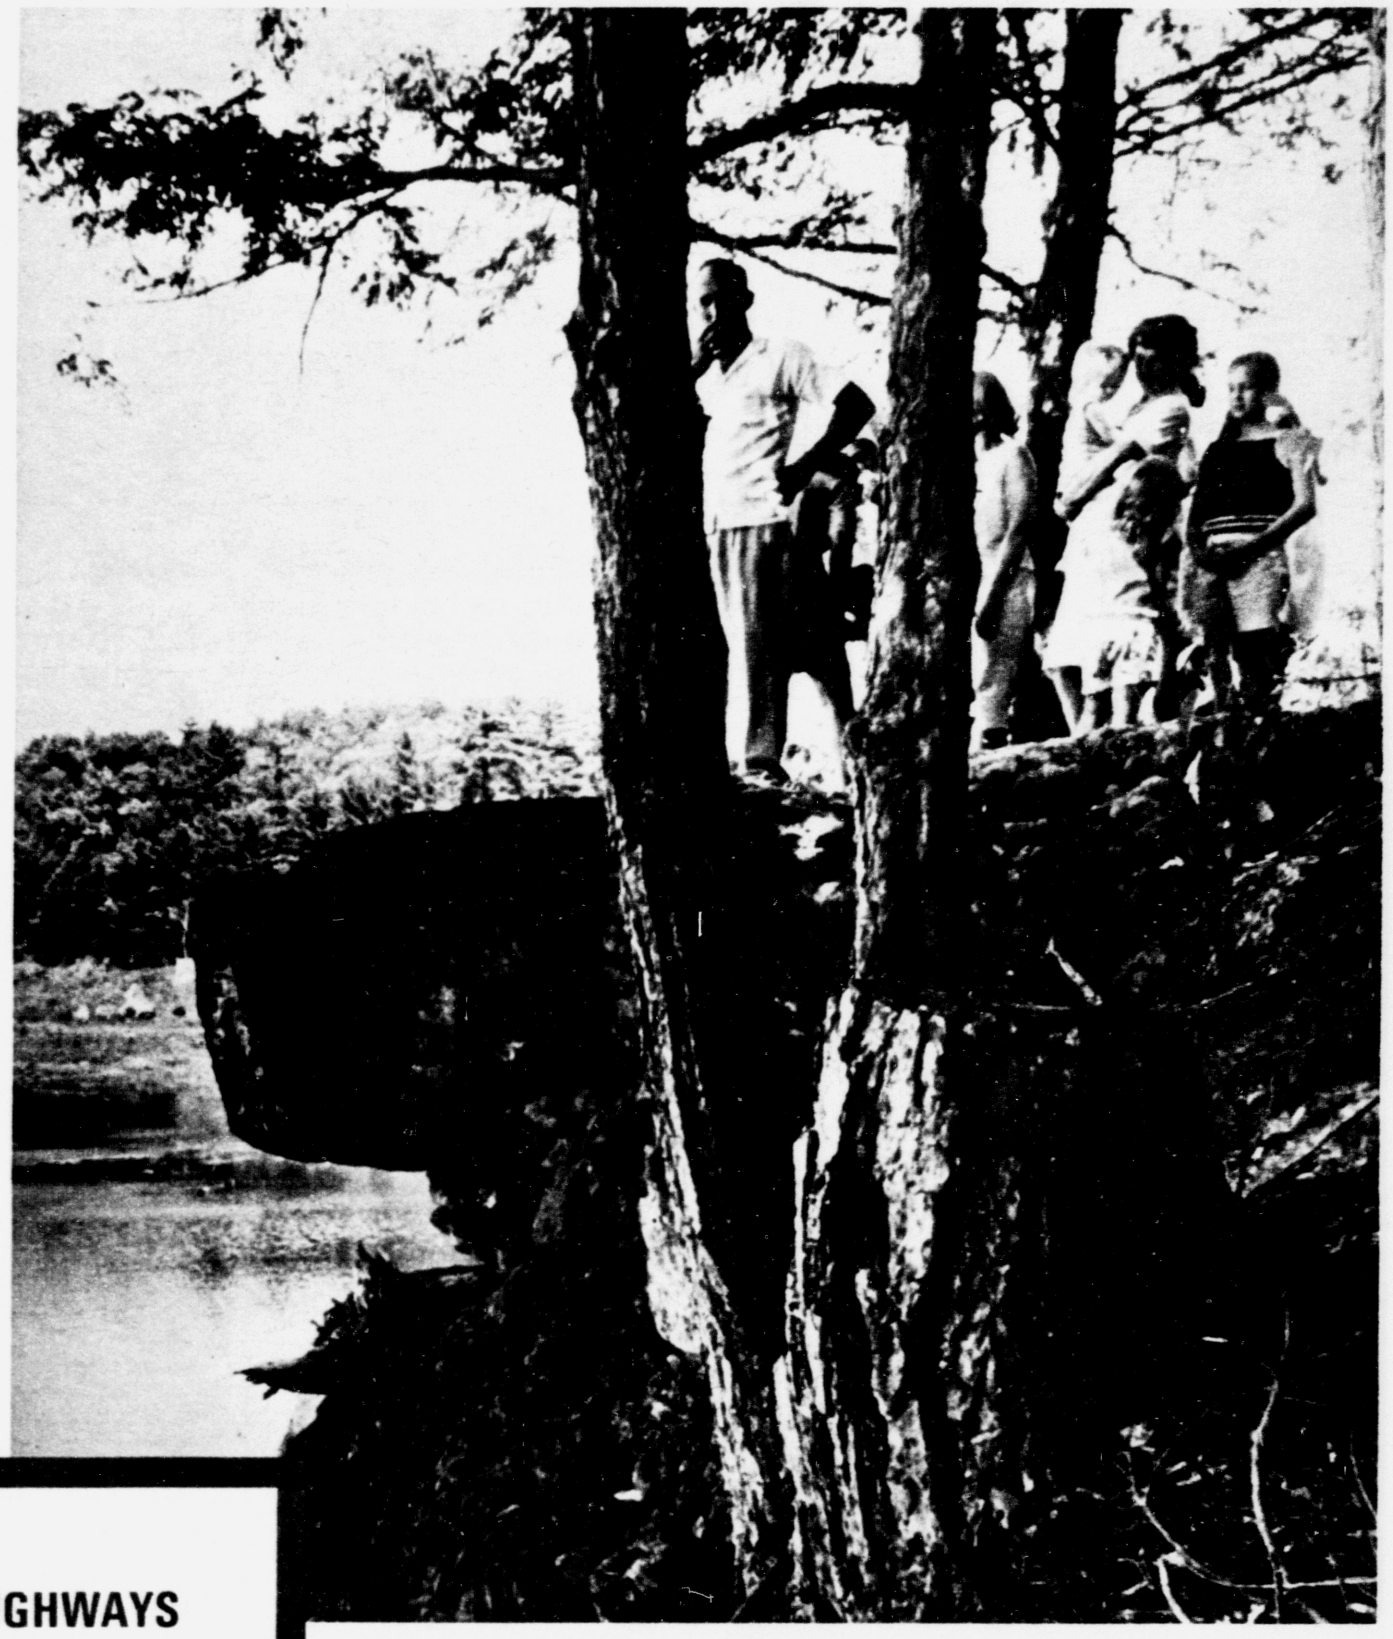
Winter Or Summer

Lake Redstone

Offers You The Enriched Life You Should Have

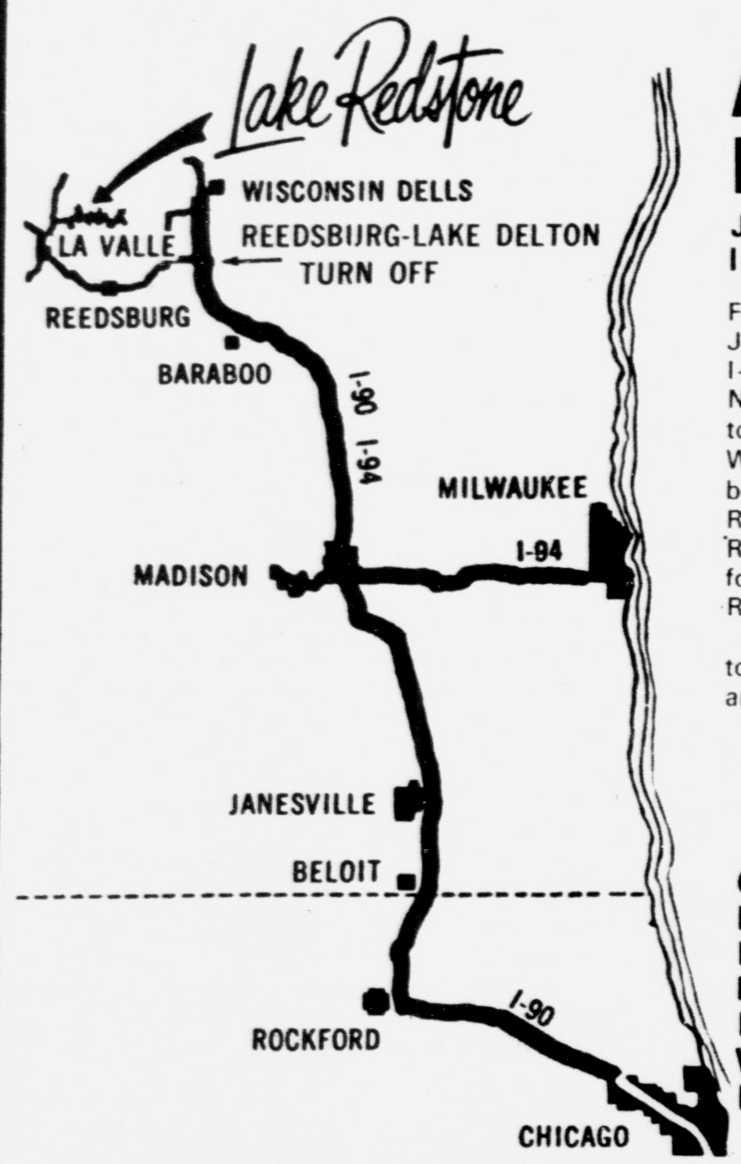
How long has it been since you had a change from city environment—not a hasty and expensive "vacation" which is hardly worth the name, but a second home of your own, where you can relax and unwind?

Lake Redstone is close to you—close enough for an easy Friday-to-Monday weekend, on safe, fast superhighways. But, close as it is, Lake Redstone is an environment that is so completely different and removed from the crowded, dusty city, that you'll truly be astounded that such natural loveliness can exist so close to the city.



Winter Or Summer . . .

A SAFE, EASY DRIVE ON NEW SUPERHIGHWAYS



A PRIME LOCATION

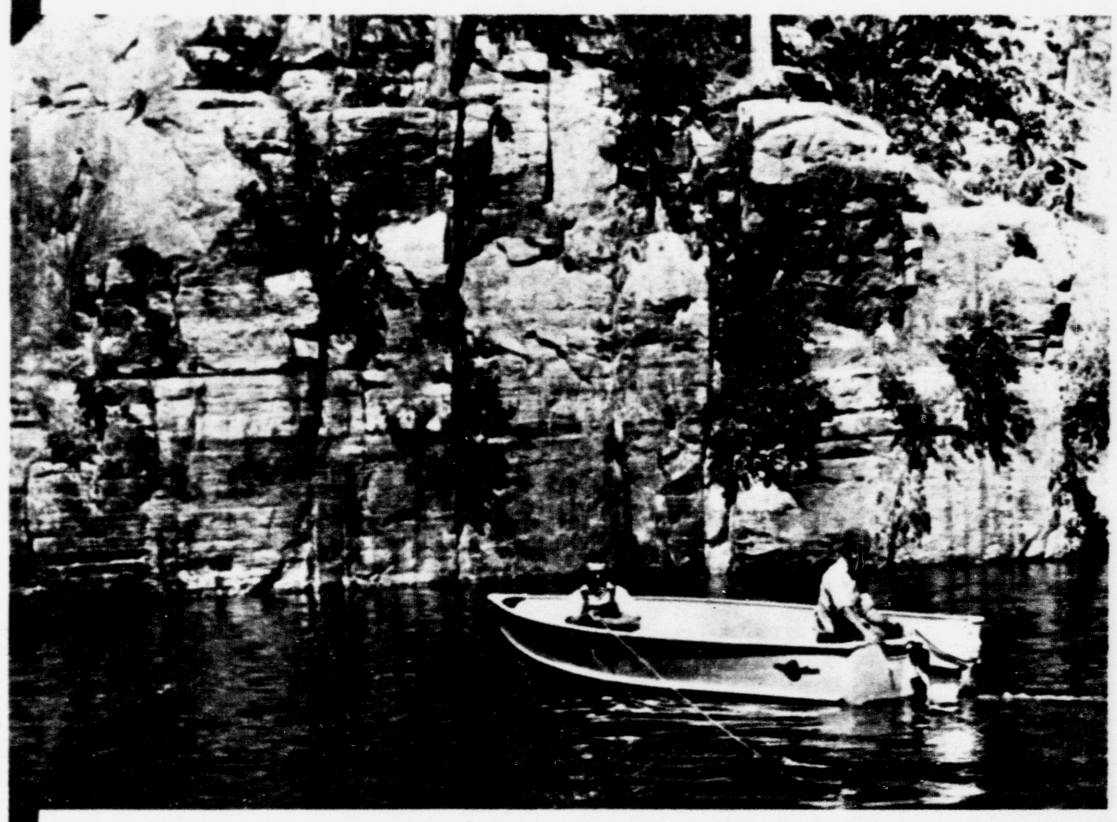
Just Off Superhighway I-90

From Chicago, Rockford, Beloit, Janesville, or Madison, just follow I-90 (which begins as the Kennedy-Northwest Expressway in Chicago) to Wisconsin Route 23 (second Wisconsin Dells turnoff, Reedsburg & Lake Delton). Take 23 to Route 33, then stay on 33 through Reedsburg to La Valle, Wis. Just follow the signs once you reach Reedsburg.

From Milwaukee, take I-94 west to Madison; head north on I-90 and follow the same route as above.

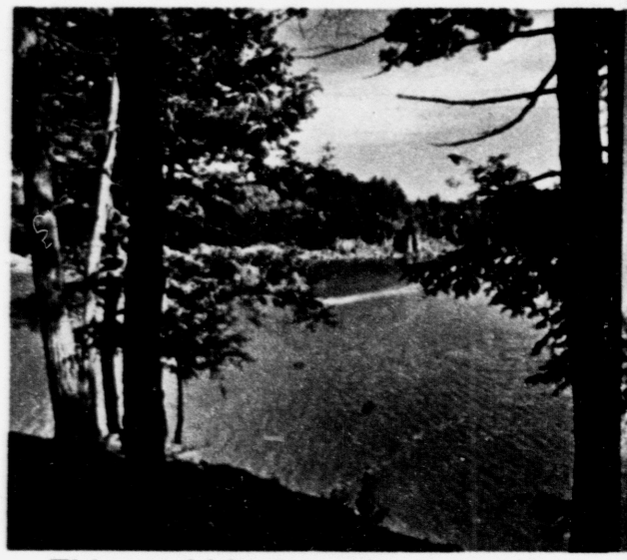
Approximate driving time:

Chicago	3 hrs.
Rockford	2 hrs.
Madison	1 hr.
Milwaukee	2 hrs.
Baraboo	22 min.
Wisconsin Dells	20 min.
Reedsburg	8 min.

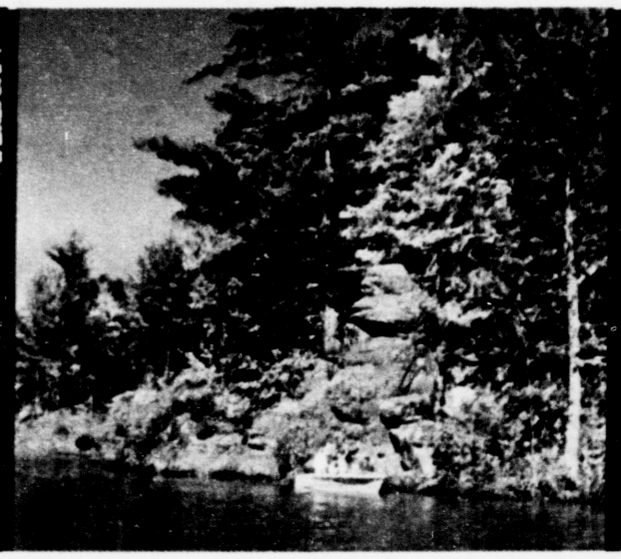


ATTENTION FISHERMEN!

Fish abound in Lake Redstone's quiet waters. Because of the many "pockets" and rock formations in the lake, Lake Redstone will be a fisherman's dream forever; and because of the variety of fish, it will bring joy to the rod-and-reeler's heart.

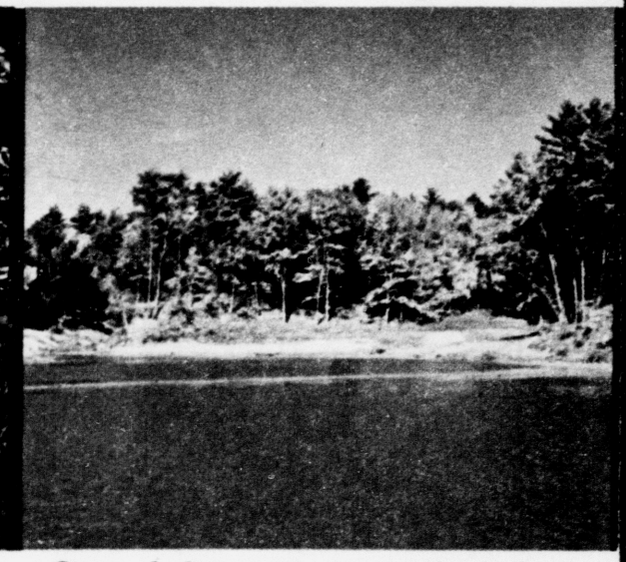


This could be your front yard!

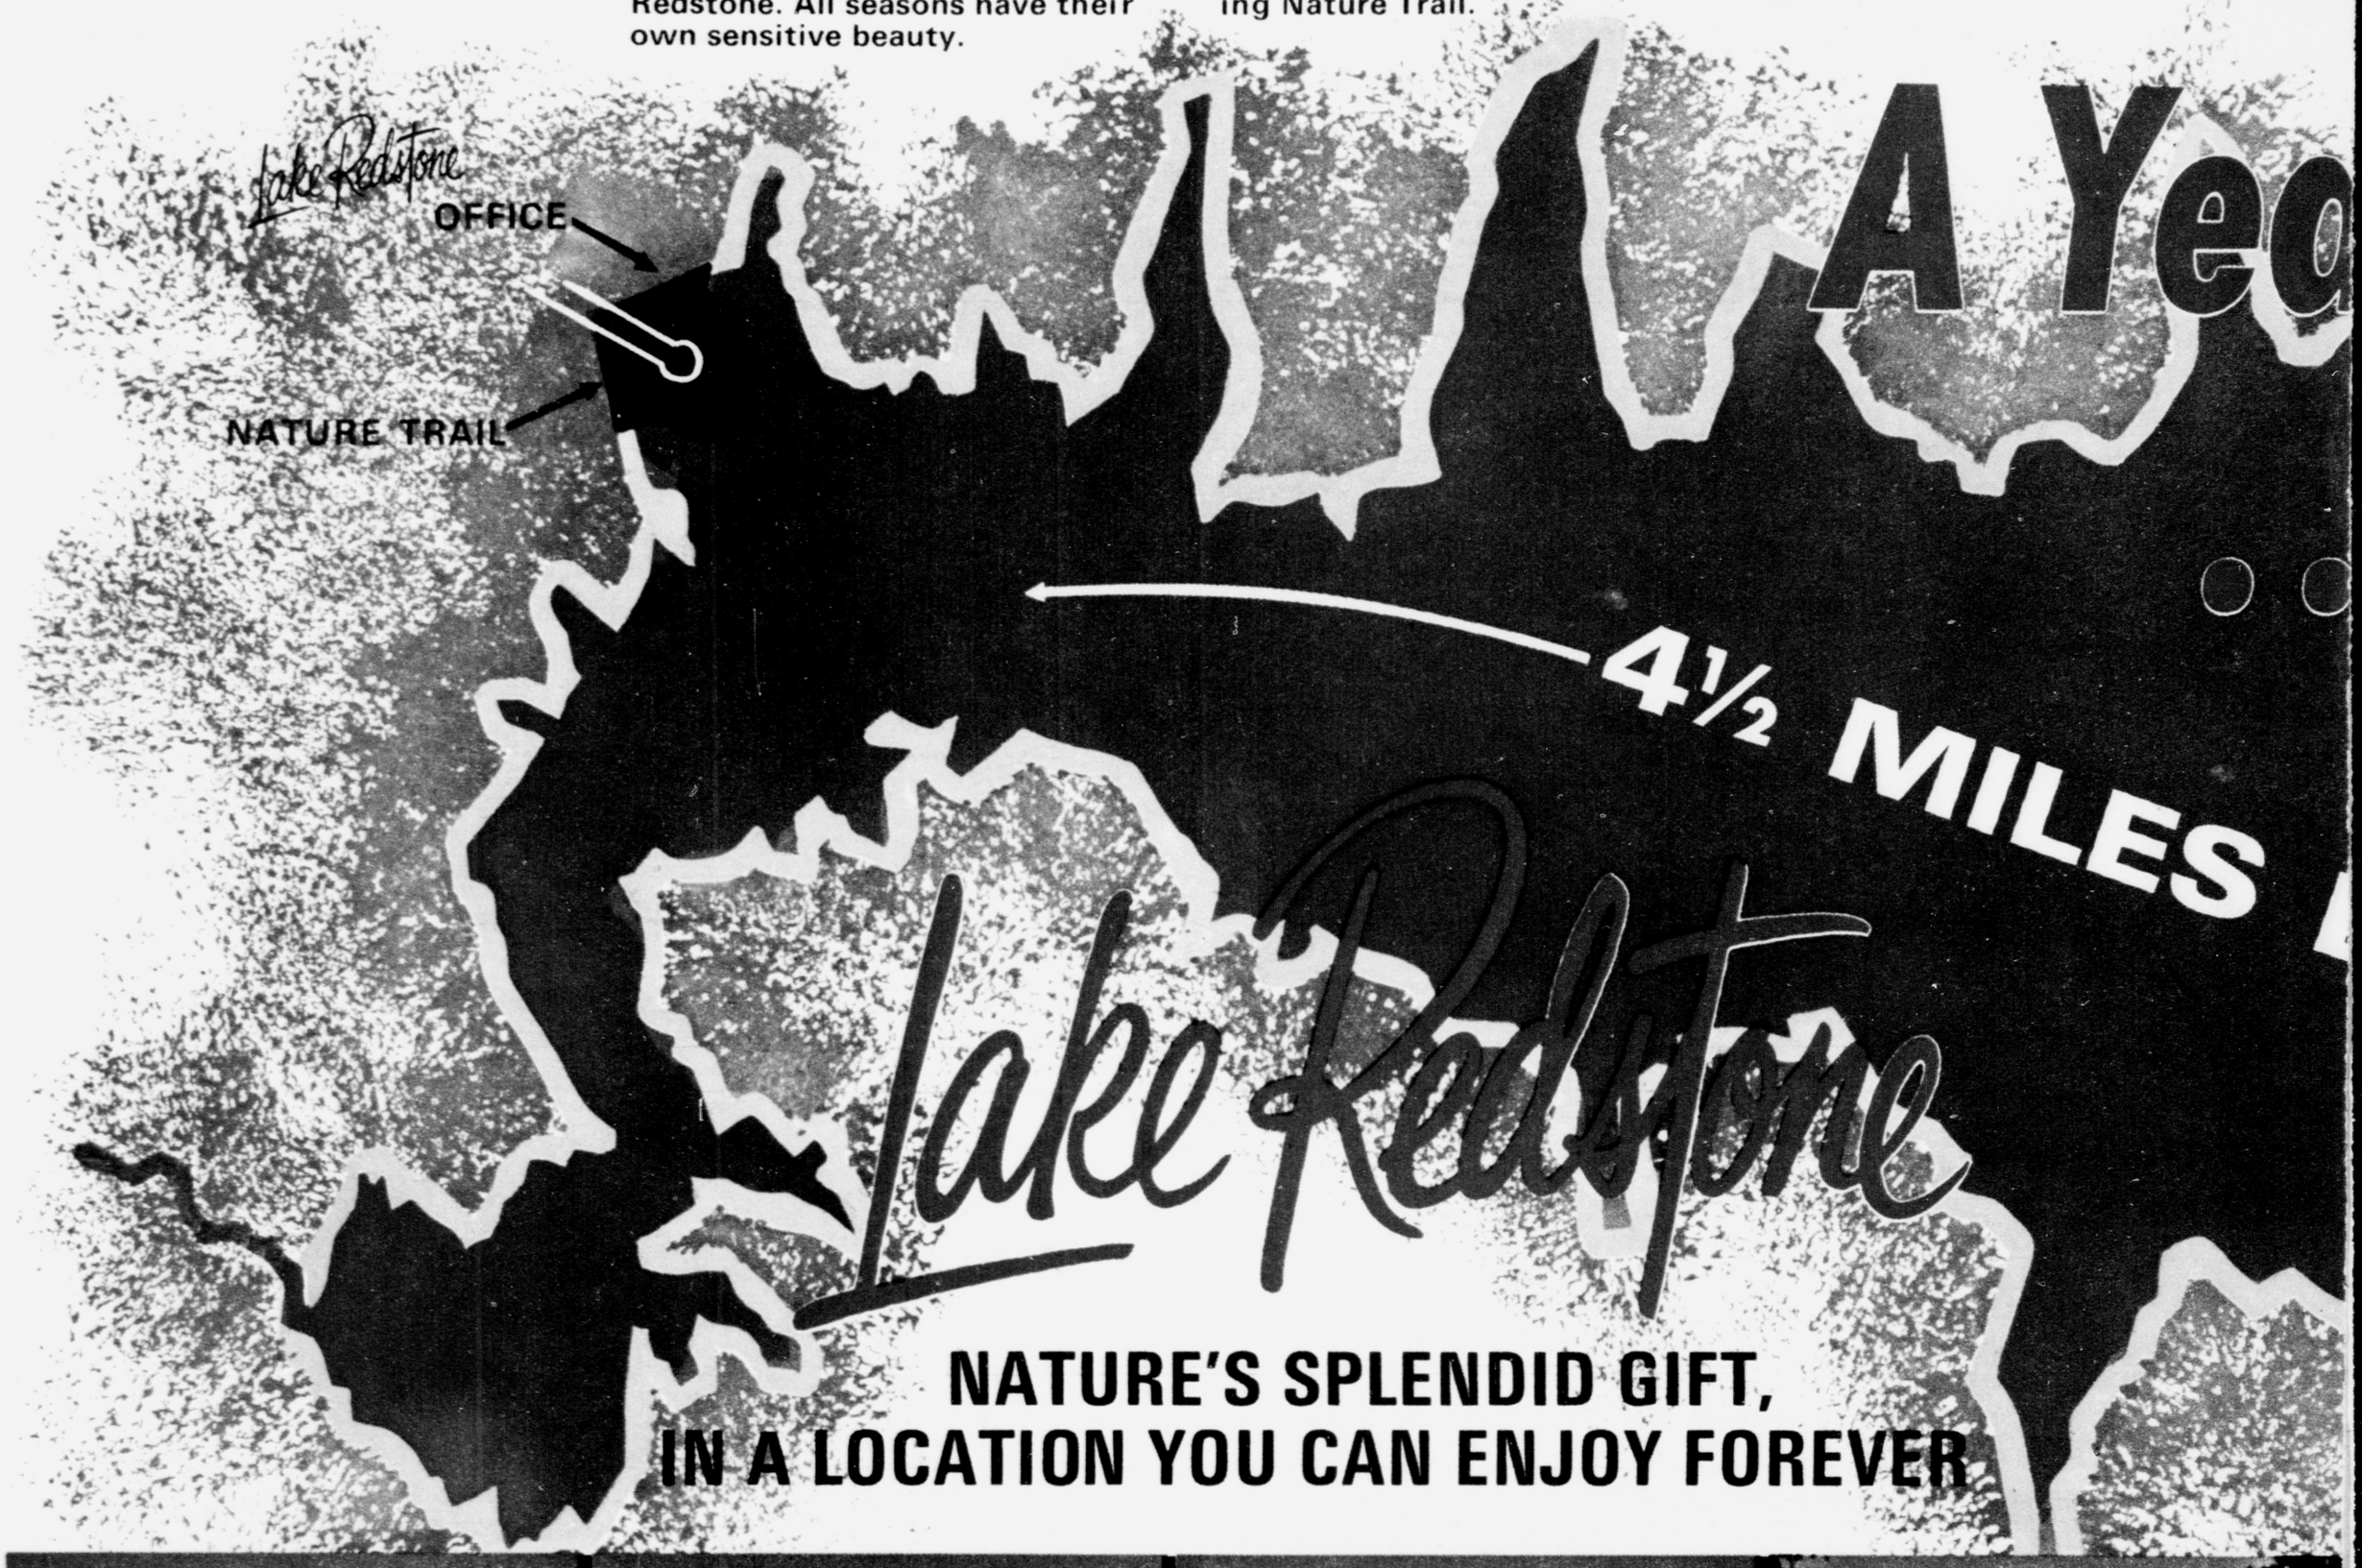


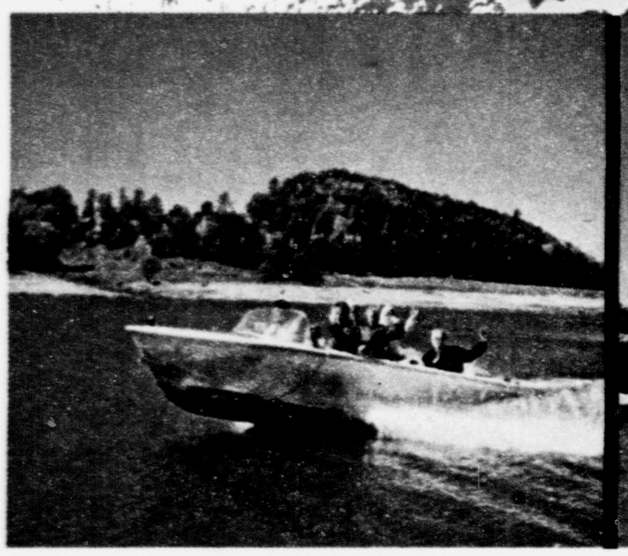
A riotous blaze of colors makes autumn magnificent at Lake Redstone. All seasons have their own sensitive beauty.

Visitors pause during a quiet afternoon stroll down the Talking Nature Trail.



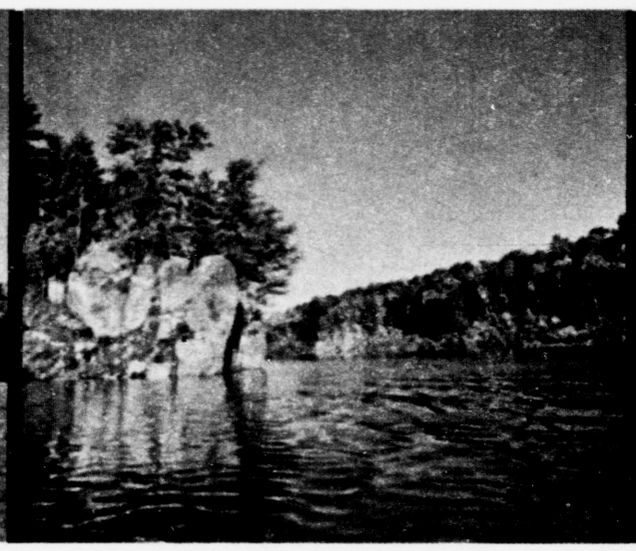
One of the many homesites that slope gently to the water's edge.



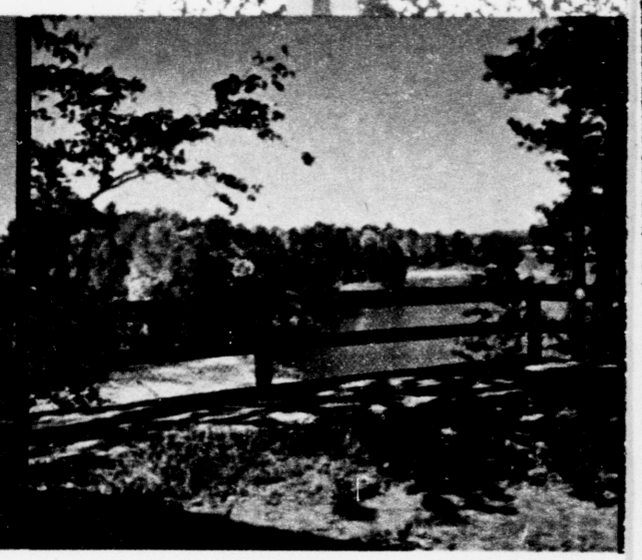


Enjoy sun and water as you ride a power-boat or water-ski.

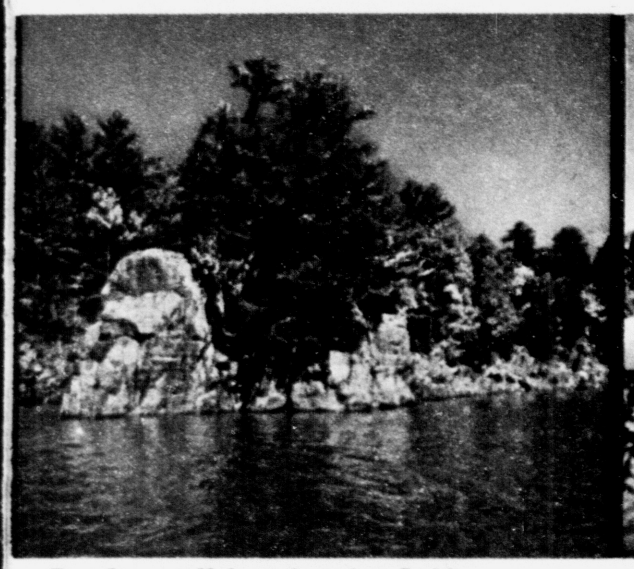
Boat heads for fjord-like inlet in which marina will be maintained.



The Wisconsin Dells? No—Lake Redstone!

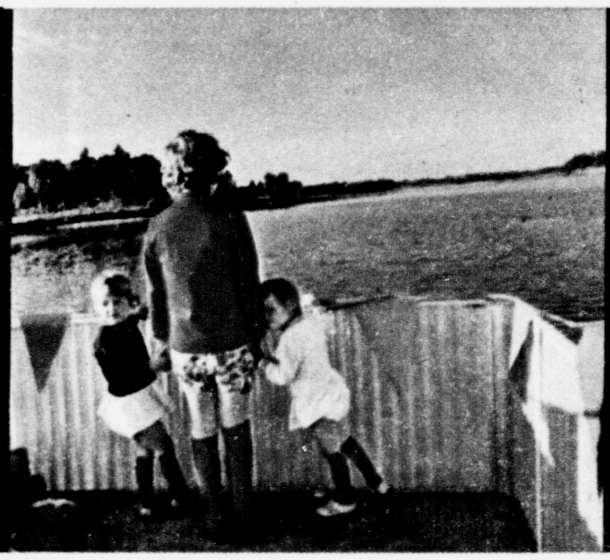


A view from a protected crag on the Nature Trail.



Prefer wild splendor? You can own this promontory.

A clean unspoiled wonderland—for your second home.



Enjoy a pleasant ride on one of the unsinkable pontoon boats.

Interesting rock formations abound everywhere.

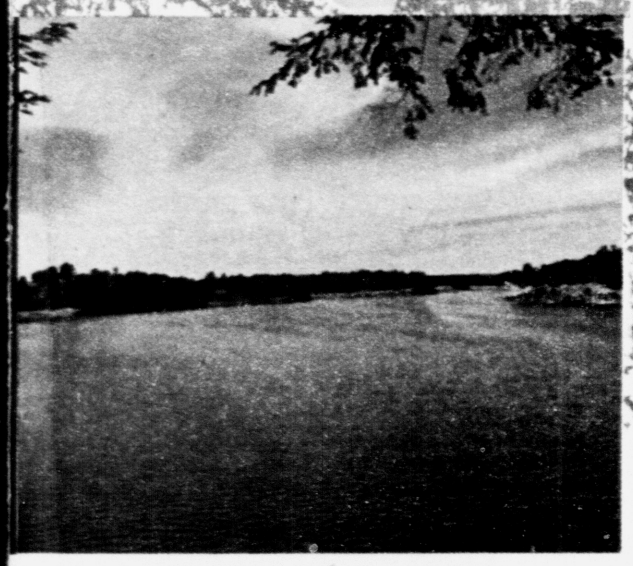
ir-Round Vacationland

Yours to Own!

LONG

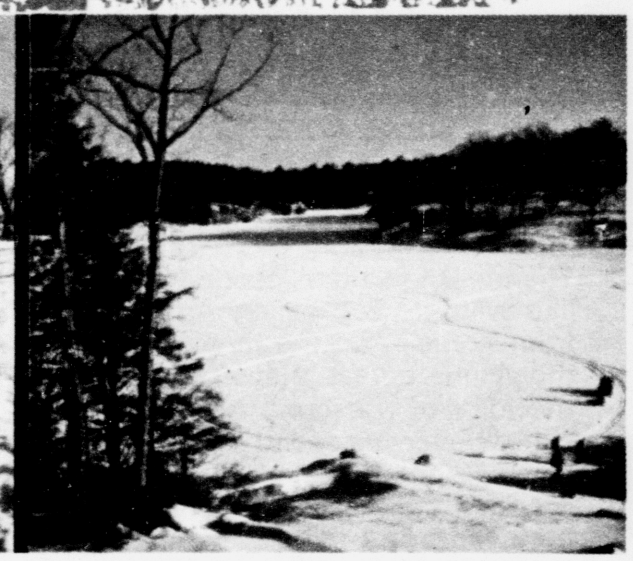
17½ MILES OF SHORELINE
UP TO 42 FEET DEEP

These Are All Unretouched Photos Of Actual Scenes At Lake Redstone



A sail-boater's delight—a tranquil surface with gentle breezes.

Ski on a perfect slope, or tobogган on an adjoining hill.



New pleasures to enjoy, four seasons of the year.

SEE! The Unique "Talking Nature Trail"— Concealed loudspeakers tell you the story of Lake Redstone as you take a leisurely stroll down a level, winding trail carved from the sides of the Lake Redstone Dells. You'll see Nature's wonders that have stood untouched for hundreds of years—enjoy a view that only master engineers with a fine appreciation of Nature could have made possible.

ENJOY! A Ride On The Rustic Buckboard—After your walk down the Nature Trail, you'll be driven back to the property office on a buckboard drawn by a team of horses. It's like a visit to a happy amusement park.

RIDE! The Fun-Filled Pontoon Boats —Want to see how your land looks from the lake? Hop aboard a pontoon boat—they leave every half-hour for a relaxing, pleasant trip around the lake. You'll see that some land slopes gently to the lake; other sites stand triumphantly as craggy cliffs overlooking the lake. Trees and flowers are everywhere, and they look their best from the lake itself. (The ride is free, of course.)

A VISIT TO Lake Redstone IS FUN FOR THE ENTIRE FAMILY!

SPEED! On The Lake Itself—Lake Redstone is 4½ miles long. If you want to see it in a hurry, zip around the lake in a high-powered speedboat. It's an exciting ride over sparkling water.

PLAY! In The Kiddie Play Area—There's a play-park for the younger kiddies, so that Mom and Dad can relax and enjoy Lake Redstone. Lake Redstone is a paradise for children and grown-ups alike. There's something to do for everyone of every age.

VISIT! Scenic Wonders Of The Area— After you've seen Lake Redstone, visit the famous Ringling Circus Museum at Baraboo—the popular Wisconsin Dells—the fine restaurants and resorts that dot the area—the excellent golf courses and recreational facilities that are here. The more time you spend in the Lake Redstone area, the more you'll appreciate this location.

VIEW! A Magical Wonderland— Enjoy a cold drink or a cup of coffee as you stand on the Lookout Platform which adjoins the property office. You can see for miles down the lake—and you'll see why this exciting wonderland has captured the imaginations of so many families.

THERE'S NO PLACE LIKE A (SECOND) HOME!

The trend toward a "second home" is taking The United States like wildfire. 2½ million Americans now have a home-away-from-home—and the rate is rising by more than hundreds of thousands a year. Never was any spot more ideally suited to the idea of a second home than Lake Redstone, where the city-dweller can spend a quiet, wholesome, refreshing weekend any season of the year and commute easily to the city on Monday morning. And what better place could anyone find for a vacation?

HERE'S WHAT THE FUTURE HOLDS AT Lake Redstone

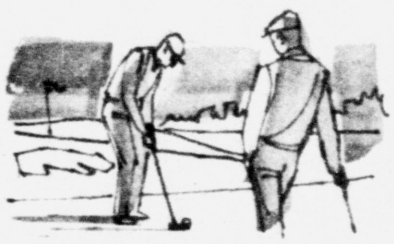
Two Marinas and Supper Clubs already are in the advanced planning stage. There'll be plenty of room for Lake Redstone property owners to moor their boats. And nothing can beat an exhilarating boatride from your lakefront site to the Marinas and Supper Clubs.

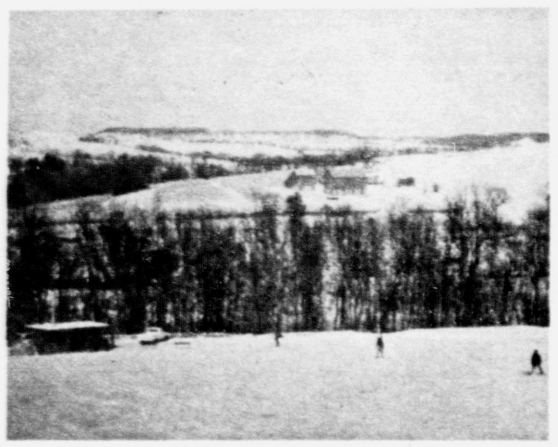


A planned sporty, challenging golf course, right on the property itself, will add another jewel to the recreational crown of the area. Four golf courses are now within a few minutes' drive; this one will be within walking or boating distance.

The 34-foot waterfall already is a sight of breathtaking beauty. Additional landscaping is under way, and the residents of Lake Redstone, and their guests, will enjoy a picturesque scene any painter would envy.

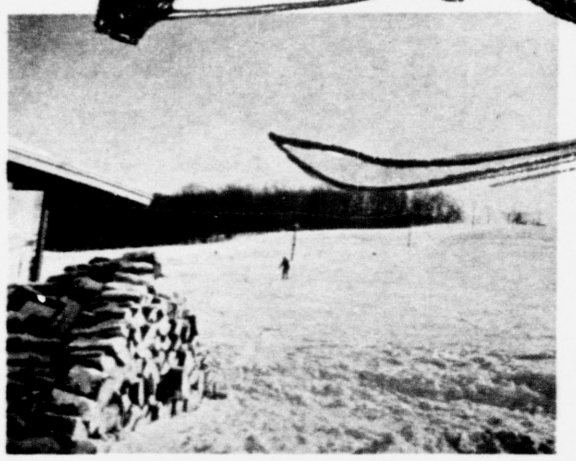
WHEN WINTER COMES...

Many City-Dwellers Have Forgotten The Look Of Clean, Sunswept Snow. Lake Redstone Is A Pure, White Winter Fairyland.



A skier's delight, "Mt. Redstone" is a hill whose inclines are perfect for the beginner or "pro" alike.

The fast, bright-green tow-rope takes you back to the top.



After skiing, enjoy a mug of hot coffee or chocolate by the fire in the warming-house.
